TRUE GOLD TOKEN (TGT)

TRUE GOLD TOKEN

REAL GOLD - REAL REWARDS

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of this token is a hold for rewards in the form of profit sharing. We aim to not only reward with the value of the token itself but also in the form of profit sharing from the mine itself.

The Mine

True Gold Token is a novel project, connecting the crypto world with a real world business.

The TGT gold mine has been running for several years prior to launch and is already fully established & actively being mined

INTRO TO JEFF

In 2004 and 2005, I sustained an injury while overseas with the United States Army. Upon my return home I needed several major spine surgeries. After my surgeries, something was needed to pass the time while recuperating and having to learn how to walk again. I'd pass the time watching videos online about gold panning and saw that you could purchase gold pay dirt online that can be panned at home. There, I started panning in my bathtub as this was the easiest way to do it while I was working my way to full health. Quickly realising this wasn't going to generate the desired return, I decided to explore this further and once my fitness was back to normal, I decided to go up to the hills and pan my own dirt. I came across a place in Orange County that was long forgotten about called Trabuco Canyon and it was there that I was bitten by the gold bug. Panning turned into sluicing, sluicing into dredging and that's where the love story began.

Hiking 7 to 8 miles into the wilderness with a 4-inch dredge, I found my spot and filed my claim. I spent many months moving rocks during the dry season and prepping for the wet season where I could run the dredge. The rains came and the dredging operation began. After moving hundreds of yards of gravel, dirt, rocks and huge boulders out of the way, wahoo I had hit the bedrock!! There, I found the mother load of a pocket and my gold business started.

INTRO TO JEFF

In 2009 the state of California banned gold dredging in all rivers, creeks, and lakes. I had to change tact, I researched lode mining and that's where the love really blossomed between Gold and me. After relocating to Temecula in California, I found myself a mine after a full year of prospecting. Together with two other gold enthusiasts, we pulled out tons and tons of rock. The gold was good, but at the time it wasn't hitting the quota. As the years went by, we worked a few mines, but they didn't produce the amount of gold we needed to maintain the mining. I decided to call time in California and headed back south to a mine that was waiting for me to get started. This particular mine had previously been worked and it wasn't that the gold wasn't there, or wasn't good, it was just that when gold fever takes over sometimes folk want to look for the big strikes that never come. Even though we had something good, paying, and consistently hitting pockets of 20 ounces a ton it just wasn't enough for some. So, we decided to part ways and I have been working the mine independently which continues to run a daily average of half an ounce to 3/4 of an ounce per ton of rock. After I moved through and did some core drilling, I found that I had missed a vein initially. Now I am working this new vein it is producing a solid 1-1 1/2 ounces per ton and I'm still hitting new pockets. It is from this point True Gold Token has been born.

TRUE GOLD TOKEN

UTILITY PROFIT SHARING FOR HOLDERS

45% of the mines net profit will be divided amongst all holders The more $TGT you hold the higher the yield in profit sharing.

The current mine has a 10 to 15 year life with an average of 1 to 1.5 ounces of gold per ton. On average 10-20 tons is pulled from the mine every two weeks (One week to mine, One week to process.)

There are other mines Jeff has the mineral rights to, this is significant for the long term success of the project and to ensure holders always have an incentive to hold, as the rewards will be consistent.
