Supervising a School Counselor's Journey to Licensure

Come join us at the farm for a fun and fresh approach to continuing education.
No riding involved. No prior horse knowledge required.

Workshop Description and Information: This workshop is designed for school counselors who are considering becoming Licensed Professional Counselors. Current supervisors who may want to provide supervision to school counselors will benefit. Material will be presented that will enlighten participants about educational requirements (including practicum/internship), hours and years required in supervision prior to licensure, and what exams will be necessary. How directed experience and clinical supervision coincide will be explained. In addition, discussion about ethics, scope of practice, and documentation requirements during supervision will be conducted. Finally, the process and advantage of becoming an LAPC will be presented. All the information will be based on the current LPC Board Rules. Participants will join in an equine assisted activity that will provide insights into challenges they may encounter during their journey to licensure, and what support is available along the way.
