

YAMZ

YOUNG ARTISTS AND MUSICIANS ZONE

ABOUT US:

Young Artists and Musicians Zone (YAMZ) is an innovative program that uses the arts to foster a love for learning, leading to improved academic performance and positive youth development. This school-based initiative focuses on enhancing creativity by encouraging students to build upon skills and knowledge and get into a "creative zone". We enhance instruction by placing a special emphasis on culturally relevant lessons in music, spoken word and poetry rooted in the Black American experience.

OUR APPROACH:

YAMZ is centered around three core pillars of culture programming: storytelling-style lessons that inspire and encourage the use of art, music, and creativity for social good; ensemble assembly performances that showcase poetry, music, and movement to captivate young audiences; and a culminating semester youth showcase where students produce a spectacular exhibition of their acquired skills and talents.

OUR TEAM OF ARTISTS:

YAMZ is led by a team of seasoned professional artists at Her Dreams Productions. Founder and Creative Director, Tamara Wellons is a recording artist, songwriter and vocalist with a passion for culture enrichment and education. Former classroom teacher and entrepreneur graduated from Bowie State University where she received a degree in Elementary Education before pursuing a long standing career in the Music Business.
