

JENNIFER BADALAMENTI

North Carolina's 'Triangle' region is anchored by three stunning cities: Chapel Hill, Raleigh, and Durham. The towns within this region offer a high quality of life, with good schools and many job opportunities. REALTOR® Jennifer Badalamenti knows the area well. She moved here from New York over a decade ago, seeking a better quality of life. With her roots firmly set in the city of Apex, she finds joy in helping others reach their real estate goals in The Triangle. Jennifer decided to enter the field after working as a teacher for two decades. "A friend of mine was showing me homes, and while I was walking through properties with her she suggested I become an agent," Jennifer explains. After realizing her skills as an educator would translate well into this industry, she decided to earn her license. Today she works with brokerage Dash Carolina, where she is also part owner.

"This area is the peak of good living," Jennifer says. "There are so many great communities, and people continue to relocate here." Passionate about where she lives, she provides expert advice to those she serves and is happy to guide them along the way. Buyers and sellers appreciate her teaching background, as she prioritizes keeping them informed. With exceptional listening and communication skills, she knows how important this transaction is in her clients' lives, and goes above and beyond to ensure their needs are met. She offers unparalleled advice and support, only wanting what is best for them. "What I love most is educating my clients on the process of purchasing or selling a property. When going through a house, I point out all the things I see as potential issues, or that might come up during inspection," she explains. Jennifer isn't afraid to get into the details, even looking at the crawl-space and exploring the attic. "I do all of this so that I know my clients are making the most informed decision. This is one of the largest investments they will ever make. So it's incredibly important they know what they're getting into."

Clients love to tell others about their time with Jennifer. One recently said, "We had the pleasure of working with Jennifer Badalamenti to both help us purchase our house and to sell our old house. I can say that she and the entire DASH team are top of the industry. Jennifer was always available to us when we needed her, gave us great advice, looked out for our interests, and was pleasant and honest. I don't think we could have asked for a better advocate and advisor. We are extremely happy with the outcome of both our purchase and our sale and would recommend Jennifer and DASH to anyone and everyone who needs an agent who is direct, friendly, and helpful. I consider Jennifer a friend and I am glad that we had the opportunity to work with her."

When Jennifer isn't working, she's giving back to the community through her church. She also enjoys cooking, kayaking, walking her dog and going to local events. But much of her time is spent with her clients, and she wouldn't have it any other way.

"My goal is to keep growing and expanding my ownership percentage," she explains. "I'm so excited about where the company is headed, and I can't wait to see what the future holds."
