

Path to Union Email Reading: Lucida and Angel

(Lucida) Your Current and Future Energies: Your current energies on the Path to Union with Angel start with the Hermit crossed by the Empress. Being the hermit, you may feel the urge to distance yourself from your Beloved, as well as others, to stay on your spiritual path. The Empress crossing the Hermit indicates that at times you may strive to be in the receptive, feminine, 'yin energy' that attracts Beloved. However, the masculine 'yang energy' is necessary at times when action is needed. The energy guiding you on your Path to Union with Angel over the next three months, is represented by the Five of Wands. This indicates feeling spiritually unsettled. In the recent past you may felt a sense of Union (represented by the Four of Wands), because of the 3D/physical communication between the two of you. Currently you are tapping into your Magician (Major Arcana) energy which shows that you are 'in your power' and understand how to use your spiritual tools. In the next several weeks, your heart will be overflowing with unconditional love in general, and for your Twin Flame, Angel. You currently may feel that your heart is on offer to Angel (Page of Cups). Others may view you as the Knight of Wands, who is passionately pursuing their Beloved on this Twin Flame Journey. Your wish is that Angel will come to you in King of Cups energy; being able to show unconditional love in all ways. The outcome of your path to union with Angel over the next three months will be a victory (Six of Wands). To manifest this outcome, the key is being energetically balanced (Justice).

Angel's Current and Future Energies: On his Path to Union with you, Angel's energies are represented by the Eight of Cups, which indicates taking time in solitude for soul searching. The World (crossing the Eight of Cups) often serves as a distraction or obstacle to completing the process of soul searching, which is why the process has been lengthy. The overall energy guiding Angel on his Path to Union with you is represented by the Hanged Man. This means that Angel is deliberately allowing the divine to show him signs before he acts. In the recent past, Angel's energy was that of the High Priestess (Major Arcana), which means he was coming into his own intuitive powers. The energy and feelings Angel has for you are represented by the Lovers (Major Arcana). Over the next several weeks, Angel will feel victorious on his spiritual path, and he will want to share what he has learned with you (Six of Wands). Currently Angel feels stable in his own life and on his path (Four of Pentacles). What others perceive is that Angel's energy is becoming more like the Emperor's energy (Major Arcana). This means that Angel may not be confiding in anyone regarding this journey and his feelings for his Beloved (Emperor). Angel hopes that he and his Twin Flame reconnect in all ways over the next few months (Six of Cups). The outcome of Angel's Path to Union with Lucida is represented by the Star (Major Arcana). This means that he will become an illumined twin flame that understands the process and is moving toward his Beloved more faithfully.

By: Lucida of Twin Flame Rx

<https://www.twinflamerx.com/>

Path to Union Email Reading: Lucida and Angel

Path to Union (over the next 3 months): The combined energies that you and Angel bring to your joined Path to Union, are represented by the Nine of Cups crossed by the Knight of Wands. The Nine of Cups represents that each of you sees the other as a 'wish come true'. The obstacle or energy that could bring the two of you together in Union is represented by the Knight of Wands. That means that each of you struggles to 'contain their enthusiasm' at times in the journey so the energy is not too overwhelming. The overall energies that guide you both toward each other on your individual paths to union are represented by the Three of Swords. Both individuals feel the separation and know that healing is necessary so that you do not continue any toxic karmic cycles. In the recent past, you both felt happiness being together. Currently you both are considering all options in your quest for love (Seven of Cups). In the next several weeks, there may be a reunion of sorts (Three of Cups). You both view your counterpart as 'the World' (Major Arcana), meaning that when you look at each other you see all your dreams manifested. Others see your relationship currently as influenced by the Wheel of Fortune. This means that you both are ready for a positive turn of fate. You both hope your Twin Flame soul connection will bring you both together in the physical realm (Six of Cups). The outcome is represented by the Five of Cups. There will be some changes but there is still a sense of not being able to move forward together until past wounds are healed. Spirit suggests remaining stable and grounded like the Queen of Swords while turning around and seeing the Two of Cups (rather than focusing on the other three that have fallen). This will manifest union for you both, in divine timing.

(867 words)

By: Lucida of Twin Flame Rx

<https://www.twinflamerx.com/>