

Frequently Asked Questions

What do I need to do before reaching out?

Don't worry—you don't need to have it all figured out just yet. Flowers are our specialty, and we're here to guide you through the process. Most of our clients come to us with a general idea of the floral style they like, and that's a great place to start. We do recommend having your date and venue confirmed first, and having an idea of your guest count is always helpful too. From there, we can start bringing your vision to life!

What if I don't know my flower style?

We've got tools to help you with all of this, but in the meantime, take some time to scroll through Instagram and Pinterest. Look at real weddings and see what resonates with you. Take note of what you love—and what you don't. What inspires you? Jot it all down!

Do you have a favorite color or flower? Think about where your wedding will take place and what kind of aesthetic fits that setting. Let your vision start to take shape from there.

What is included in the proposal?

- A detailed and customized presentation that brings your vision to life in an easy-to-visualize format
- A clear look at your color palette, design style, and selected floral varieties
- Inclusion of any chosen rental items (vessels, candles, arches, etc.)
- Itemized pricing, including a breakdown of all elements and any additional fees

How soon should I reach out?

We recommend at least 6 months prior to your event date. Remember during wedding season (May-September) earlier the better to create a stress free planning process

What is your typical pricing?

- No two events are exactly alike, so we don't offer a standardized price sheet.
- After we've had a chance to learn more about your vision and budget goals, we'll provide a fully customized proposal.
- We do have minimums for larger events, which we'll discuss with you during the planning process.
