Last week Little Birdie told us about "Ideal Farm" at museum in Glen Ullin. Here is a picture of it today.

"Hurry Mom, hurry or we'll miss the magic show. Come on - - hurry," Jill and Dan screamed as they rushed out to the car.

Circus was in town - biggest celebration in years. School about to start the community planned one last celebration before school starting - - and today of all delays Mom can't hurry - - "she's always after us to hurry," sarcastic words spoken by Jill as she climbed into the car. "It will be okay, we'll get there in plenty of time," laughed Dad as he beeped the horn.

"Sometimes we can't be in such a hurry!" laughed Mom as she stepped into the car. "We all have choices to make and sometimes it takes a little thinking Jill - - I heard your remark" - - "Sorry Mom, I'm just so excited."

Circus grounds were covered with confetti - - it was a real celebration. Children, parents, grandparents, teachers everywhere -- big tent - oh my it was the biggest tent they had ever seen. Inside were elephants, clowns, horses, candy cotton, popcorn, ice cream -- you name it - - it was there.

Music - announcer - "Everyone please take your seats, circus about to begin." Ringmaster stood at attention as the whole circus personnel stood, and saluted the American Flag - - National Anthem finished, balloons filled the arena and floated to the top. Cheering nearly blew the top off the tent then- drums rolled - everyone turned, quited down and Jenny and Jeremy, trapeze artists stepped into the ring - -

The big moment had arrived, Jenny and Jeremy, new trapeze artists were from this community. From little on they wanted to fly thru the air, had joined the circus and even though some said it couldn't be done, they were not suited for the job - - they did it anyway.

Now their big moment - - the first time they would ever performed today was in their home town, in front of hundreds - - they always believed they could do it and today they were going to show the children - - believe in your dream and follow it.

Drums rolling, Ringmaster putting finger to mouth, sign of silence -- the two began their ascent to the top. Jeremy grabbed first swing, handed it to Jenny, who climbed aboard, gently swinging back and forth. Second swing, Jeremy grabbed hold and also climbs aboard - back and forth, back and forth. Both ride the swings - - excitement rising below - - drums stop - - silence.

Jeremy and Jenny begin their trapeze swings - pumping, faster, faster, faster the swings fly - Jeremy flips into position - legs hanging on to bar - hands outstretched and Jenny does the same. Back and forth, back and forth - silence - - about to grab hands - - missed - - again they try and all Jenny can remember is how they said it can't be done -- "it can be, it can be" she screamed and let go flying thru the air connecting with Jeremy - -

Scripture offers wisdom for daily living

With so much going on around us today in our families, our communities, and our world, it can be hard to focus. We are distracted by our schedules and our attention is easily hijacked by the barrage of messages screaming at us from a myriad of news and information sources. So how do we stay centered, how to we give our attention to the things that matter—our relationship with God and our relationships with others?

In the fourth chapter of the Apostle Paul's letter to the Philippians, Paul offers us a guide to daily living that helps the peace of God settle on us, over us, in us, and around us. In verse 4 Paul says, "Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice." When we begin each morning with this simple thought—rejoice in the Lord always—we begin the day focused on our relationship with God. Paul goes on to say, "Let your gentleness be known to everyone. The Lord is near." We draw comfort, strength, and courage to face whatever comes our way when we remember that the Lord is indeed near to us all day long. And, when we are struggling with how to deal with friends and family members and strangers around us, Paul tells us our first choice for interacting with others is to do so with gentleness.

And then Paul offers us this encouragement: "Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made know to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus" (v. 6-7). What a blessing to be reminded that we are invited to cast all our worries on God. There is nothing we can't bring to God in prayer! Truly, this encouragement connects prayer and peace for us in a way we can treasure and trust as we bring all our joys and cares before God in prayer.

And then Paul continues in verse 8, offering us solid guidelines for what to focus our minds, our hearts, our attentions, our time on when he writes, "Finally, beloved, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is pleasing, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things." Paul's wisdom will guide us in God-pleasing ways all our days, and he goes on to say that when he writes in verse 9: "Keep on doing the things that you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, and the God of peace will be with you." May these verses from Philippians bless you and guide you today and always.

What we need

By Kathy Craig Hartels

We don't need stuff as much as we need moments.

In the past weeks Tom and I have been sorting, reevaluating and prepping for our upcoming garage sale.

With each day it has become more and more clear that we need to let go.

We need to let go of so many possessions. Some things we have are taking up space here when they are needed by someone else. Time to let go.

Instead we'll focus on time and relationships.

This week we were honored to be witness to something special. We watched in the courtroom as two of our favorite people became father and son.

It was 13 years coming. Finally they are officially family. What a blessing.

God bless you Scott and Aaron. You are both a piece of my heart.

Again, it is the value of collecting moments with those you love.

I'm as guilty as anyone when it comes to liking 'stuff' and having too much. Over the years I've had collections to which I kept adding more and more. Why? The collections, once so important are long gone. Only a few favorites remain.

As I've gotten older I've realized it's more about people and moments than things.

I have been blessed time and again.

Recently we were blessed by granddaughter Lea's sister Latrice joining our family. It is wonderful to have her be a part of us. It is even more wonderful that the girls are reunited and now are together forever.

Life is good today.

WORDSMITH

I was in the library reading the blurb (arbitrary coinage) on the new books. This whole book was an oxymorism. What it said was not what it meant and I'm not hip enough to figure out what the real story said... or didn't say. An oxymorism is a contradiction in consistency. It is an incongruity ( Latin: incongruous, lacking harmony.) For instance, no means no in every language, but yes can mean any number of things in every language. People say, 'awfully good' or a 'benevolent tyrant'. How can something be awfully good? How can a tyrant be benevolent?

Oxymorism comes from the Greek meaning 'sharp'. How about 'pretty ugly' or 'together alone'? My father was an uneducated carpenter, but he could make an 'accurate estimate' when he cut a 2X4 with a hand-saw that fit 'almost exactly.' How far is a 'close distance? Do you climb down a close distance? It would be 'seriously funny' if you could buy some 'jumbo shrimp'. Did you know that as you age 'you grow shorter'?

A troublesome teenager may be passive-aggressive. (We had a cow one time that fit that oxymorism.) Passive rebellion has two prefixes: pass and re from the Latin passus, that is to step back like one does when he does not want to be noticed, and re. to back up. My mother would say, "that's a double negative'. In passive rebellion, the young person is required to do a specific job such as wash the dishes. She doesn't dislike the job, but she is rebelling against her parent's authority to tell her to wash the dishes. So she stands in front of the sink and plays in the soap suds for as long as she can get away with it. That is passive (no action) rebellion (inactive resistance.)

If a crowd (Old English: crouden) meaning to squeeze, is pressing or squeezing it would have to be more than a few. When the Apostle Paul, speaking about Noah and his family, said they were a few, then a few must be eight which is not a crowd. Revelation speaks of a great crowd so huge that it couldn't be numbered.

The strange thing about the word crowd is that when people are in close proximity it has a negative connotation and is often translated 'mob.' Acts 17:5 & 19:40.

The prefix, di, (Latin, bis) means 'two' or 'twofold' or 'twice'; you know, bi-cycle, bi-ped but ped is a suffix having to do with feet. In Greek, pedon is the ground where feet walk and the walker is a ped-estrian. However, pedestian can also refer to someone who lacks interest or imagination. He can't see himself walking anywhere and he can't afford a car, so he buys a used bi-cycle that he can ped-al. Same difference? That's an oxymorism.

Cloud Seeding Operations Summary for July 25-31, 2022

BISMARCK, N.D. - A cold front moved through southwestern North Dakota at the beginning of last week bringing a brief round of rain and cooling temperatures until the weekend. There were five operational flights for hail suppression, reconnaissance, or repositioning on July 25 in the Bowman and Slope County project area.

This week looks mainly dry over southwestern North Dakota with above average high temperatures in the 90s to start the month of August. Smoke will likely be noticeable this week from ongoing fires in the western U.S.

Radar facilities in Bowman operate around the clock during the NDCMP. Radar images can be viewed on the Atmospheric Resource Board's web site at www.dwr.nd.gov/arb.

Participation in the NDCMP was determined through a county-level public process. District 1 is comprised of Bowman County and seven townships in Slope County. The NDCMP will continue through the end of August.

"Treehouses Are GOOD For KIDS"

By Don Taskila - Regent, ND

"Treehouses Are GOOD For KIDS" because they help to uncover the true faces of the unobjectionable live surrounding sounds and signs of Nature! Also, while being outside - The SUN's Vitamin D (exposed responsibly) helps a kid's body use phosphorus and calcium to make strong teeth and bones.

Kids' treehouses, known to some children as their playhouse, fort, or hideaway are commonly wood structures built within a tree or several trees, possibly suggesting at least 9 or 10 feet off the ground, though children's safety always has to be considered FIRST. Treehouses are a natural extension of a kid's love of climbing trees.

It's said that treehouses can help reduce stress in a child's life as they adapt to change; such as moving into a new neighborhood or starting a new school year, or sadly adjusting to illness or death in the family.

Treehouse Air is BETTER, I think! It encourages 'Elementary Aged Kids to play Outside MORE' and- less on their household electrical devices, as in watching TV, playing video games, or using a computer or smartphone (cellphone). It's believed that treehouse play helps to build a child's attention span (American Journal of Public Health), and it's also believed that children who play outside more- have better vision (Optometry and Vision Science: The Journal of the American Academy of Optometry).

"Treehouses Are GOOD For KIDS" because they build strength in children by providing them exercise from running and climbing, and help to increase their coordination skills. Treehouses can help to inspire children with courage, spirit, and hope while enjoying their imaginative play, as well as possibly increase their social skills-should the neighborhood kids be invited over.

Let me add my two cents worth of opinion. Whether your children have a tiny backyard or their living on an acreage, make room for a treehouse; possibly add with it a swing or two- a cautiously safe climbing rock wall and, or a rope ladder along with stairs. Install a slide, or smooth surfaced sliding board if you'd like. All of my suggestions in this feature article are sincerely meant to promote Kids FUN- but put the children's safety consciously FIRST.

Possibly consider letting your children help you build the treehouse... because doing so can be 'Great Fun' and memorable (pictures/video) for all of you to collectively take part in. Likely, they have not yet constructed anything that could be considered a permanent childhood structure. Allow their young minds to go safely wild, and let their creativity be unleashed to learn new skills as you directly supervise them. The power tools necessary to build a treehouse are dangerous and kids need to learn how to properly use them. You literally can make a real mess of things. Kids can get seriously injured. Kids do not have the skills until (perhaps) later in their teen years to build it. However, there can be no better father-son/daughter time. "Don't forget to include Mom." This is an excellent way to help your children develop some building skills. It teaches planning and precision and will help them build self-confidence. Remember this is a teaching moment and keep both a positive attitude and let them do as much of the work as they are able.

Iona Baumeister Rites Held

Iona Baumeister, age 88, of Lemmon, SD, passed away on Thursday evening, July 21, 2022 at Monument Health in Rapid City, SD.

The Rosary for Iona was held at 10:00 a.m. followed by the Mass of Christian Burial at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 30, 2022 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Lemmon, SD. Fr. Dan Juelfs officiated with burial following in the Greenhill Cemetery at Lemmon.

Iona was born in Esmond, ND, to Roy and Geneva Haley on February 22, 1934. After the death of her father, the family moved north of Lemmon, SD. In her teen years Iona met the love of her life, Gene Baumeister, who worked on a family farm north of Lemmon.

Iona and Gene were married in 1952. Gene served in the Korean War while Iona taught at the country school north of Lemmon. After Gene was discharged from the military he was hired by Pete Ginther on a ranch south of Morrissetown, SD, close to the Grand River. Iona said that living there were some of the happiest days of her life.

Later they were hired by Tom Lyman and moved to a ranch north of McLaughlin, SD, where they lived and raised their family for 18 years. During those years they were blessed with 8 children and made many special friends. They moved back to Lemmon in 1980 where they became partners with Tom Lyman on a ranch south of Lemmon.

After Gene's death, Iona moved into Lemmon where she became active in her church, the VFW Auxiliary and was a strong advocate for Fight to Life. Iona loved dancing and playing cards and marbles. Many school house dances were enjoyed with friends and family. She especially loved playing pinochle with her sons where many heated conversations occurred, with her always winning the argument. After a short illness, Iona passed away while in the company of her family. She always maintained a deep faith with the Lord, the love of her children, and has now rejoined Gene in Heaven.

Iona is survived by her six sons, Rene Baumeister, Ridge (Nancy) Baumeister, Ross Baumeister, Royce (Sandy) Baumeister, Rik (Rhonda) Baumeister and Ryan (Ashli) Baumeister; two daughters, Ruth (Nick) Holzer and Rae (Hal) Bless; 22 grandchildren; 26 great-grandchildren; one great-great grandchild; sister, Millie (Ron) Roland; sister-in-law, Lorraine Moser; and numerous nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Gene Baumeister; grandson, Cassidy Baumeister; great-grandson, Morgan; four sisters, Bernice, Bonnie, Rosemary and Kay; and two brothers, Larry and Jack.

Condolences may be sent through our website at www.evansonjensenfuneralhome.com.

Nathan C. Bootz Rites Held

Mass of Christian Burial for Nathan C. Bootz, age 31, of Lemmon, SD, was held at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, July 28, 2022, at St. Mary's Catholic in Lemmon, SD. The sanctuary of the church was reserved for family, first responders, classmates and city employees and council members. The public was asked to gather at the Beeler Community Center where the service was livestreamed. The procession left St. Mary's Church and proceeded north to Main Street in Lemmon where those gathered at the Beeler Center joined in procession to the cemetery. Additional instructions was given the day of the service. Fr. Adam Hofer and Deacon Mike Mellmer officiated with burial following in the Greenhill Cemetery at Lemmon.

Nathan Charles Bootz, "Bootzee", was born May 2, 1991 in Hettinger, ND, completing the Bootz family for Patrick and Connie Bootz. Nathan joined his older siblings Wayne and Melissa.

The community of Lemmon lost this faithful servant due to a vehicle accident as he was returning home from a repair job early morning of July 23, 2022. Nathan was baptized, confirmed and later married in St. Mary's Catholic Church, where he was a current member. In 2013, he proudly brought home this sweet Catholic girl he knew his parents would love, Stephanie Woodley. They were married September 14, 2019. Nathan and Stephanie were blessed with son, Ryatt Charles, Nathan's 'mini-me' and his pride and joy born June 18, 2020.

Entrepreneur from the time he had his mom take his training wheels off his bike at 4 yrs old; before she was done he already had a jump ramp built. This was the start of his passion for Motocross, where he collected several 1st place trophies from SD MX, ND MX and Tri-State MX. Knowing this hobby kept him busy, (and on the road), his mom knew Lemmon needed a Motocross track. They, along with the local Motocross community built the first track in town. He loved his MX family. By age 10, he learned from his dad how to train a good hunting dog, serving a passion shared with his dad. He and Sadie were a great team. Labs are a family favorite, and later Tiffany the Tire Dog was Nathan's well-known mascot. With a mission and focus on being a millionaire from early on, Nathan's work ethic and stubborn determination were the perfect match to make this happen. He was well on his way, peddling the Finder to every house in Lemmon, saving his money to buy his first dirt bike, then buying a mower, trimmer and a trailer to haul it in. Nathan had a love for the lake and spent as much time as possible at his family's cabin. Nathan graduated from Lemmon High School in 2010, and gave a good college try at UND for three years for engineering, where soon he knew that sitting in a classroom wasn't for him. He needed to keep busy. A natural motor head, Nathan had the opportunity to put his skills to work at Jerry's Repair. Seeing and understanding the local need for large equipment tire repair, Nathan and his mom put together a business plan the bank was impressed with and in 2014 Bootz & Tires, LLC was found. When business slowed for the winter, Bootzee bought a Bobcat to do snow removal, often the first one to hit the streets on the cold winter mornings. Most recently he expanded his business, buying a roll-back and started towing as well. Nathan was truly a 'Jack-of-all-Trades'. People would often say he could figure out a way to fix or do anything, and he loved serving his customers in over a 100-mile radius of Lemmon.

Nathan believed in community, serving as a member of the Lemmon Volunteer Fire Department, alongside his dad and many friends. He was also a member of the Lemmon City Council, Lemmon Tractor Pull Association, Sons of American Legion, Legion Riders, and assisted the local EMT with back up help. Few have the friend base like Nathan Bootz. He never met a stranger, and if he did, they were friends by the time he left, a quality he was given from his dad. He was always willing to help others. This network of friends will help carry Stephanie, Ryatt and the Bootz family in the days ahead.

Loved and left with cherished memories are Stephanie, Ryatt and Tiffany the Tire Dog; Patrick and Connie Bootz, Wayne Corcoran (Saydee), Belle and John; Melissa Dillman (Edward), Jase, Owen, Ezra; Grandmother, Dorothy Chase, Aunt Nola (Bob) Dietz, Aunt Betty (Glenn) Hoyle, Uncle Bill (Leigh Ann) Corcoran, Aunt Mary Kay (Brad) Hauge, several cousins; In-laws, Monty and Carrie Woodley, Matthew (Heather) Woodley, Noah and Zachary; Grandparents-in-law Kenneth (Verna) Woodley, Richard (Sharon) Schaefer.

Nathan was preceded in death by his Grandparents Dr. William C. and Margaret Bootz; John R. Corcoran, Uncle Steven Bootz, Cousin Kali Grace Coffey.

In lieu of flowers, a memorial has been established.

The funeral service was livestreamed and a link was available on Nathan's obituary at www.evansonjensenfuneralhome.com and can be viewed by clicking "Click Here to View the Mass for Nathan".

Ted and Jean worked on his family's farm building a legacy of raising fine cattle and some of the best crops in Perkins County. He took great pleasure in working the land and seeing the fruits of his labor. ## Thoughts for the week

by June Schmidt

According to news outlets, 2022 anticipates as many as 2.6 million weddings to take place, up from 2.2 million in 2019, prior to the pandemic. The big events will also be much bigger, and likely more expensive amid record levels of consumer price inflation. The most popular wedding date is October 22, it is predicted that according to the Knot Real Weddings Study, around 90,000 U.S. couples will marry on this date.

This got me thinking about what makes a good marriage and since I have been married for a significant number of years and have seen a lot of married couples in that time, I think there are a few things that make it more likely to be a successful one. I know there are a lot of people that go into a marriage with preconceptions of rainbows and unicorns and stardust in your eyes, and at first maybe a lot of that is true. There is obviously something that draws a couple together. Common interests and the idea of what their future will look like together I think is a good start. I do remember when we were first dating, the hours spent on the phone discussing what we liked and what we didn't and what we planned to do eventually. Some of that came true and some didn't since things change over time. Yes there are always bumps in the road, and a heck of a lot of compromise on both parts. But overall we weathered some storms and I think became stronger together.

It saddens me to hear that statistics are against marriages. Currently almost 50% of marriages end in divorce and I wonder if it is because people sometimes have the wrong idea of what a marriage really is. Two people get together in various ways in current dating. Whether it's online or on a blind date a party or some other way, they meet a person that they are attracted to, spend time together and decide that they want to plan a future together. Sometimes the marriage is after a period of living together without a commitment and only after there are children is there a marriage. Sometimes it's a huge blowout wedding and a price tag with a huge ring, dress, venue and all the trimmings that put the couple in debt before they even start their marriage with months and maybe years to pay off the price of one day of celebration. What a strain that can make on a future that is only starting out.

Normal married life is not all rainbows and sprinkles. It consists of work each and every day whether its the normal gripes of wet towels on the floor or dirty dishes in the sink or the big things like one spending more money than the other without discussing it. Possibly its one working at a job harder or longer hours or even one not having a job and the other supporting them that makes it difficult.

Or maybe they don't spend enough time together and they really don't have as much in common as they think or they try to make things happen that aren't practical or maybe they just grow apart. For whatever reason, the fights begin and they forget what brought them together in the first place. One day it becomes too much and one or the other can no longer find any reason to work at the marriage. Then comes the cold reality of an ending. Hopefully it ends with some sort of friendship especially if there are children involved but that doesn't always happen either. That is the sad part and what now makes them part of the statistics.

Then there are the marriages that have weathered the storms, the trials and tribulations. The ones that you look at where they are still holding hands after all the years or still worried about their spouse if things aren't going well. The ones where both are still working for the future together no matter what and forgiving the long hours and bad moods knowing that they end and then they can celebrate. I see that in many marriages, they have love and respect, they do not belittle each other but can joke with each other. If they have to get up in the middle of the night to help, there they are. They are the ones that stand beside and comfort each other when things get hard and go wrong, knowing that together they are stronger than apart. The ones that are there to share joy and happiness just as much as sorrow and pain. They are the ones that last into old age where you need your friend beside you. How blessed those marriages are. This is what I wish for those young couples that are getting married now - the kind of marriage that stands the tests of time and life, and God Bless those that are still working at theirs. Try not to give up because with love and faith all things are possible. God Bless you all.

Southwest Healthcare Services seek input from area residents about community's health needs

BOWMAN - In an effort to gauge the overall health needs of Bowman County, Southwest Healthcare Services with Southwestern District Health Unit will survey area residents during an approximately three-week period beginning on August 1st. Results of the survey will provide guidance to local health organizations on ways to improve community health and provide better services. The survey is part of a community health needs assessment initiated by the local hospital and public health unit. They are receiving assistance in conducting the assessment from the Center for Rural Health at the University of North Dakota School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

The local health-related organizations strongly encourage all area residents to participate in the survey. Surveys will be distributed to area residents through various channels, including social media, and at local businesses. Additionally, written copies are available by calling the hospital at (701) 523-5555 or the public health unit at (701) 523-3144. All survey responses are anonymous, and there is no way to track responses back to individuals. Survey responses are returned to the Center for Rural Health to help ensure anonymity. A postage-paid return envelope is included with each written survey. Residents may access an interactive, online version of the survey at www.tinyurl.com/CHNABOWMAN2022. It can also be accessed on Southwest Healthcare Services homepage: www.swhealthcare.net.

The survey will allow local health organizations to learn about community health concerns, learn of the community's perceptions about local health care services being provided, hear suggestions to improve health in the area, learn about community assets and collaboration, and determine preferences for using local health care versus traveling to other facilities. In addition to specific questions, the survey also seeks general, open-ended input from residents about the community's health needs and the delivery of local health care. Completing the survey takes about 20 to 25 minutes.

"This is a great opportunity to give input on what you want to see for your healthcare in the community," said Dennis Goebel, CEO of Southwest Healthcare Services. "Being able to give your input helps the community participate in molding the healthcare they want."

A periodic community needs assessment is one of the new requirements of the Affordable Care Act. The new regulations require non-profit hospitals such as Jacobson Memorial Hospital to assess the community's health needs periodically. A health assessment is also part of accreditation requirements for local public health units.

For more information, please call Cole Benz, Marketing Director of Southwest Healthcare Services, at 701-523-2862.

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Henandez

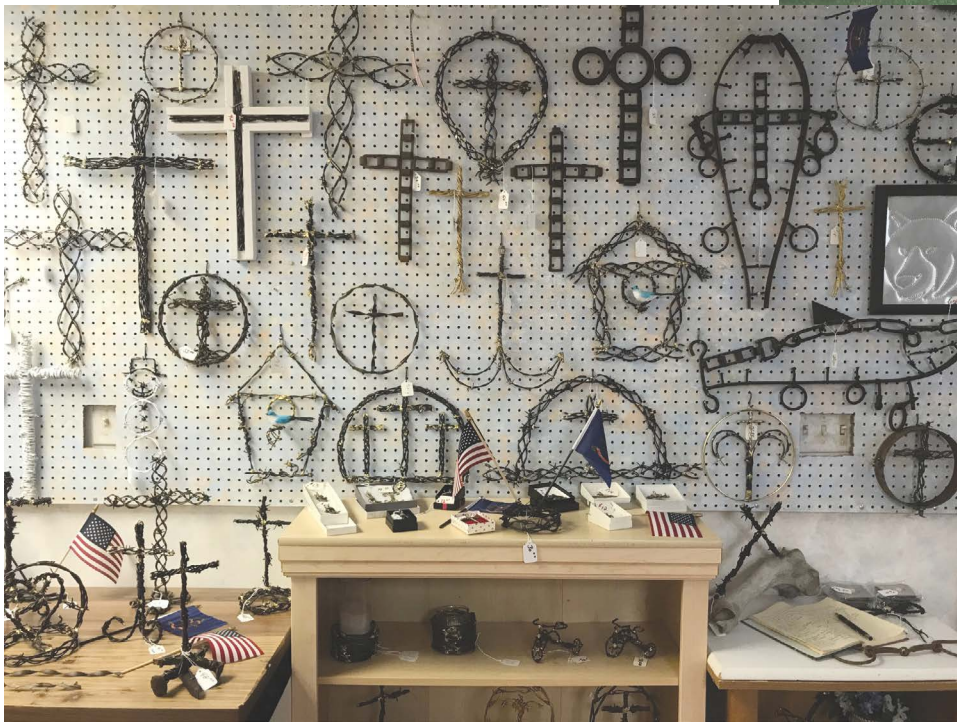

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Unique Barbed Wire Art Makes a Great Gift." The Unique Barbed Wire showroom is located 10 miles south of Glen Ullin ND on the Jerome and Joan Hoerner farm. I was greeted by Jerome and welcomed into their home and showroom. The showroom is in the basement of their home and filled with the handy work of Jerome. All items are individually made from genuine range-worn barbed wire. Living in ranch country access to old barbed wire is not a problem: Jerome has over 2 miles of barbed wire to work with. Working with old brittle barbed wire is definitely a challenge: Jerome has worn out many pairs of leather gloves and wire cutters. Jerome uses an acetylene torch to weld the pieces together.

His first project would be a fancy barbed wire heart, a Valentine's Day gift for his wife Joan: This was in the early 2000's. Prior to this Jerome had never done anything artistic in his life: From that humble beginning Jerome now has a showroom full of interesting barbed wire art. The artwork has been featured in several magazines resulting in calls from around the country for custom art pieces. Jerome incorporates odds and ends into his pieces: such as parts from old farm equipment and the like. "Jerome's studio is a 12-by-24 foot unheated lean-to attached to the side of the first building erected on the farm: made of stone, mud and straw. The building once served as both the barn and family home." The farmyard is decorated with old farm implements with the centerpiece a large cross, crafted by Jerome.

The next time your traveling down Highway 49 south of Glen Ullin stop by and visit with Jerome and Joan and see for yourself the amazing things Jerome has done with old barbed wire.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "It's Never to Late to Try Something New!"

The 2022 baseball season in Mott has come to a close. There were 41 players in T-ball, 25 in Coach Pitch, and 14 in Little League. The Mott Park Board, the coaches and the players wish to thank the communities for their AMAZING support attending the games and supporting the meals. It makes us proud to have such wonderful support for our players!!!!
