- TIME -

The Missing Piece

"Time to Look Back"

"Dan, Dan come look at this picture - amazing," Dan heard Clare but was in no hurry so stopped to check out the pipes under the sink. If they were going to buy this house he wanted to make sure things were not falling apart. Even though the house on the outside, parts they could see, were okay, that didn't mean there might not be other issues. And the house not being used for many years, Dan just wanted to make sure things were okay - - and Clare, well he knew when she wanted something - - he just wanted to be on the safe side.

"Dan, Dan," he again heard her scream - - better run, this time it was more of a stress, hurry call.

Clare sitting at the desk was paging thru the picture book faster than he could flip the TV screen - - "What you doing, did you find money, what's the hurry, slow down Clare" - - then she stopped, looked at Dan, tear stained eyes - - "Dan, Dan, we found the greatest treasure in the world - - Look - - look," and she slowly turned the pages - -

Beginning at the front - - one page after the next - - pointing to one little boy on each picture, tears now running down her cheeks.

"Your dream, Dan, your dream has come true, here in this little house, that we loved the minute we saw it. Dan, that's you." - -. Dan looked at the picture. "Doesn't look like me - - just your imagination," "Remember when we first dated, then you shared a small part of having no family - - then when married and we brought our possessions together, as I was putting them away, in your box of trinkets I found a picture - - you said it was just an old keepsake from when you were little - - not sure anymore who they were, told me to throw it away. Well I kept it - - looked at it - and Dan, I packed it in the small box in our car, before the moving van came to pick up the other belongings.

Tears still streaming down her cheeks, Clare went to the car, brought in the box, took out the picture, continued paging thru the album and - - there Dan - - a picture missing - - took the picture out of the box - - it fit perfectly in the spot where picture was missing. "Look Dan" - - pointing from one to another, "same face, same clothes, same house - - Dan you know what this means?"

Clare took the album, placed it on the table and the two, sat for hours - -. "How can this be?" questioned Dan. For years I've wondered - - now we come to an out of the way place - - see a house - - want to buy it, and now - - how can this be - - how could I find out who I am, where I came from - - how can this be?"

Then Clare remembered the other book in the drawer - - picked it up, brought it to the table - -. Holy Bible was etched in the cover - - flipping thru the pages, they could tell it was very used - - then they found a piece of paper.

Somehow, thru time, FAITH, HOPE and LOVE will conquer all.

Lent is upon us. When very small we were taught to give up something and you will change for the better. I heard thru the grapevine that one family said for Lent before the evening meal they have to say something positive that happened to them today. Maybe that's something we could all do - - might not change the world but could change us. And reading articles this week, "Can't beat them," excellent. So once again thank the Advertisers and writers - - they are what brings you the Eido

North Dakota books

February 28, 2023

Regent Senior Center

Refreshments will be served

Carvel Rescheduled To Speak

Historian Kevin Carvel had been scheduled to speak in the Regent Senior Center on February 15 but a quick and nasty snow storm on Valentines' Day closed many roads across the state for that day. Roads were icy and dangerous so he has now been rescheduled.

His collection may be the largest private collection in the state. It is unique to walk through the aisles according to content. Some books are colorful but most are in black and white. Some are novels and others are historical. The collection covers many years of our state, its beginning and its history. Writers of all ages from across North Dakota are included.

The public is welcome to come to the Regent Senior Center on Main Street in Regent on Tuesday, February 28. There is no charge. He will have some of his books on display and discuss others.

Coffee and refreshments will be provided by the Board of the Senior Citizens' Center. Bring a friend or two and enjoy the afternoon—weather permitting, that is. See you there!

A Little Birdie
Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Tomorrow, and Tomorrow, and Tomorrow Creeps in this Petty Pace from Day to Day, To the Last Syllable of Recorded Time.
And all our Yesterdays have Lighted Fools the Way to Dusty Death. Out, Out Brief Candle.
Life's but a Walking Shadow, a Poor Player that Struts and Frets His Hour Upon the Stage, and is Heard No More.
It is a Tale Told by an Idiot, Full of Sound and Fury, Signifying Nothing."

I memorized this quote from Macbeth in high school English class and still remember it to this day: It seems fitting with Ash Wednesday just over, "Remember that you are dust and to dust you shall return." Macbeth a Shakespearian tragedy describes a life, which "signified nothing." Lent on the other hand gives us 40 days to reflect on our life and choose to live a life of meaning in service to God and others.

On Saturday Auxiliary Bishop Dave O'Connell was murdered in his home in Los Angeles California. Bishop Dave as he was fondly called was an immigrant from Ireland and served the people of Los Angeles for some 45 years: Bishop Dave ministered to the poor, victims of gang violence and immigrants. Archbishop Jose H.
Gomez of Los Angeles said of Bishop Dave, "He was a peacemaker with a heart for the poor and the immigrant, and he had a passion for building a community where the sanctity and dignity of every human life was honored and protected."

Bishop O'Connell's life ended in tragedy, the life he chose to live was one of sacrifice, gratitude and Charity – Christ Like Love. We all have a choice to make we can live a life which "Signifies Nothing" or live a life with our eyes fixed on Jesus. In the end our names will be forgotten but the love, kindness and generosity we showed to others will live on for generations.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "I Place Before You Life and Death, Choose LIFE."

Thanks You

The family of Dorothy Kibbel would like to thank everyone for your kindness, cards, and memorials given in the passing of our Mom and Grandmother, Dorothy.

Thank you to Pastor Ed Zimmerman and Gary Wood for the beautiful service, Lyle Zimmerman for the music and Mona Hands for playing the piano. Thank you to the Hope geous flowers, Evanson Jensen

Reflections on the Words of Life

by Pastor Paul Ferrie, Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

Our study today resumes in Jonah chapter 2, continuing with the prophet's prayer from the belly of the great fish.
There we read in verses 5 and 6, "The waters surrounded me, even to my soul; the deep closed around me; weeds were wrapped around my head. I went down to the moorings of the mountains; the earth with its bars closed behind me forever; yet You have brought up my life from the pit, O LORD, my God." None of us would like to have followed Jonah in this dismal part of his life. Yet there was one Man who did. He went all the way to death. God poured out His wrath for the sins of all His people upon Him. The stone enclosed Him in the tomb. And for three days He remained silent in the grave. Yes, our Lord Jesus Christ endured things far worse than Jonah—and not for any sin of His own, for He had none. But He endured these horrors for all who would ever place their trust in Him to make them right with God. He drank not a mouth full of water, but the cup of God's wrath against sin. He paid in full the penalty for the sins of His people.

When Jonah's despair was the deepest and all possibility of deliverance seemed gone, the Lord intervened. As we read in verse 5, "You have brought up my life from the pit." "Pit" here refers to the grave. In the place where death usually reigns, Jonah found life, and his worst fears of dying as a prisoner at the bottom of the sea were not realized.

Why did God rescue this disobedient prophet? Why not just send another man to preach to the people of Nineveh? God did this so that Jonah might be a sign for us of Christ's rising from the dead. The Lord Jesus Himself used Jonah as an example when He said in Matthew 12:40,
"For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth." As Jonah did not remain in the depths of the ocean, trapped in the belly of the great fish, so Christ did not remain in the sealed tomb but was gloriously raised to life.

Jonah illustrates the fact that man cannot lift himself out of the miry pit in which he is helplessly stuck and headed for eternal condemnation because of his sin against God. Only the resurrection power of Christ can bring deliverance, provide forgiveness, and create life out of death. The psalmist says in Psalm 40:2, "He also brought me up out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my steps." This verse is actually the testimony of every believer in the Lord Jesus Christ. God has brought each one out of the miry pit of the kingdom of darkness that leads to eternal condemnation. And God has transferred him/her into the Kingdom of the Son of His love (Colossians 1:13), destined for an eternity of blessedness in heaven.
Friend, have you experienced this transfer? Are you relying on Christ's payment for sin—and that alone—to make you right with God? May it be so, by God's grace.

Love it or hate it. . .

By Kathy Craig-Harteis

The annual lutefisk and meatball event was today.

Lutefisk is an acquired taste at best. It's a Norwegian dish.
Lingcod prepared in several stages including soaking in lye and cold water before cooking.
It is served up with lots of melted butter and salt and pepper. It kind of jiggles on the plate.

Tom's first try today was a winner. He loved it. I took a tiny taste just to assure myself I still hate it. I do.

The meatballs are always delicious. We also had fresh warm lefse (potato flat bread).
It's definitely a winner.

North Dakota has introduced me to many delicious Scandinavian foods. I can say it doesn't include many low carb/low sugar options. It's delicious nonetheless; maybe excluding lute-fisk.

It's all in the taste of the diner though.

Yesterday I watched grandson Kohen's team compete in a basketball tourney. I'm kind of blown away by the talent of these fourth grade players.
I love basketball. It's great to watch these kids improve with each season. If they are this good now I can only imagine what their high school years will bring.

Speaking of high school, I'll soon attend a high school reunion. We will celebrate classes 19?? - 1966. My class was 66 so for the first time in a very long time I'll be among the youngest in the group.

The older we get the more important these gatherings become.

Life is good today.

In our Mott martial arts program at the Armory, the first tenet is "courtesy". Most people think that studying combatives is some sort of sport or, self-esteem fitness program. A tenet is a guiding principle, whereas, in sports it would be good sportsmanship or in a fitness program, according to personal trainer Jerry Diaz, it would be individuality. I started studying karate in 1963 at age 5. That was 60 years ago and a lot has changed both inside the dojo and in our country. We were taught the code of Budo—self-discipline and interaction with others in a constructive manner. Think of it like the Chinese saying, "There are no secrets only Kung Fu". Not to go all DreamWorks on you but, Miyamoto Musashi (17th Century Master) said there are different personality types for all potential students and, only one will stay to learn the truth about the foregoing riddle.

First, the lazy pupil—he/she only scratches the surface of the training and, never really dedicates themselves to eradicating their own bad habits and gaining wisdom—they soon quit and move on to the next shiny thing. The second is the abstract thinker who prays to the riddle, writes it on a banner and declares it unknowable and, therefore, the great secret of life. That student inevitably starts at the end, moves backward and, quits to start their own cult—never really mastering anything except signaling their own virtue. Finally, the logical thinker who understands that without knowing the definition of the phrase "Kung Fu", he/she cannot even begin to learn. Pull out the old Chinese-English dictionary and "kung fu" means "hard work." There are no secrets only hard work. The latter adept becomes the true student and, over the course of their lifetime, tries to perfect "courtesy"—politeness toward others through discipline and hard work and, matures to add what they learned to the long line who has gone before them. Not because the other folks in the community "deserve" it but, rather, because it is the "right" thing to do. Pay back that which you have received.

Unfortunately, back in the late 1970's, the "competition" mentality in open hand fighting began—winning awards and, the mindset that punching & kicking, not good character, was the point of all dojo training. "Dojo busting"—showing up at a competitor's school and "challenging" the lead instructor not understanding that immature bragging does not replace kung fu—the hard work the other fellow was putting in training gakusei (students) to be the next generation of soke (founders). I fell prey too until the early 2000's when it dawned on me that the respect and courtesy that was drilled into my head as a child had been replaced with that chest-thumping, arrogant all-about-me mentality that was infecting every aspect of American life, particularly, disrespect toward your mentors. Today, if your neighbor disagrees with you or complains, he is the enemy to be defeated at all costs. Words are Violence? The contemptuous "OK Boomer" mentality trumpeted by social media. Forgetting, as I forgot, that my grandfather and father WERE wiser than me—until I became a senior citizen myself! They seem a lot smarter now. So, I'll end this column with what my first law enforcement mentor taught me in 1980, "Don't make it worse when you get there." Every day try to make the world a little better by embracing the ethos, "might for right...not might makes right." Try it...you'll like it!

Transmission Line

By Marlene Kouba

Last November there was an article in the Hettinger County Herald about a new transmission line coming through southwestern North Dakota. On February 3 there was more information in The Bismarck Tribune with Public Service Commissioner, Julie Fedorchak as they issue the permits.

What is this all about? A group of land agents have been meeting with land owners to get their permission for a survey and are getting paid for it. Gatherings of land owners have been held and a public meeting will be held later. One was held in Mott at the Knights of Columbus Hall on October 27. It consisted of several posters with agents beside them to answer questions but there was no speaker. A lunch was included.

The proposed transmission line would be about 385 miles long from Colstrip, Montana to St. Anthony where a substation would be built and then north to Square Butte Substation at Beulah. It is estimated to cost about $2.5 billion to connect three regional electric markets. Allete Inc. of Duluth is working with Houston-based Grid United on the North Plains Connector line. It would create 3,000 megawatts and could support 10 typical-size wind farms in the state or equal to about three-fourths of the electricity consumed by all of the customers in North Dakota at any peak time. This project is supposedly an important step toward a more reliable energy grid that ties transmission projects being developed in the Upper Midwest and the Western Interconnection.

North Dakota currently produces more electricity than we consume and exports it to other states. Allete, which owns BNI Energy in Bismarck and Grid United, have signed a memorandum of understanding with plans to finalize an agreement early this year. They expect to pursue at least a third of the land owners and would oversee the line's operation. Building could start in late 2025 and the line could be operational by 2028.

How would this be done? The company is taking a landowner-first approach. To do this they studied plat maps to search for landowners and where they lived before contacting them. About 350 landowners will be involved in North Dakota and Montana. There would be four to five towers per mile constructed through the middle of Slope, Hettinger, Grant and Morton Counties. The towers will be self-supporting steel monopoles with wide conductors on top and the company would have an easement of 100 feet on either side of them along the line. No eminent domain is involved. About 300 to 500 temporary construction jobs as well as permanent jobs will be created.

The Hettinger County Zoning Board changed their height regulations since July to accommodate this line.

Each landowner would get paid a one-time amount for each tower on their land. The towers will be 120 feet to 195 feet tall with a base of 8 to 25 feet in diameter. They will be buried up to 50 feet deep, depending on terrain. They will have a life expectancy of 100 years. Some landowners are strongly against it while others want it-maybe for the payments. Renters and nearby neighbors have had no say in the proceedings.

After the route was planned, there have been numerous changes. The company claims they chose this route versus going along Interstate (which they said would be too expensive but no one explained how) and that a line along our southern border would interfere with habitat of an endangered species. One agent said they chose it as it was less populated. The present route would be a few miles north of Amidon and about 3 miles south of New England. It would continue east to one mile north of Black Butte before crossing the Enchanted Highway near the Pheasant Family and meander east into Grant County and Morton County. A route map can be seen at the County Auditor's office.

There are wind turbines in Adams County, Hettinger County and Stark County and now it seems there will be huge transmission lines in the area, too. Good or bad? You decide.

Bowman
Community Chorus
Distributes Funds

At a recent meeting of the Bowman Community Chorus Scholarship and Steering Committee, funds from the 2022 Christmas Concert were distributed to local entities. Very generous donations from many area businesses and sales of DVDs of the concert made this possible this year. During tis 64 plus years of Christmas Concerts and various other performances, the Chorus has always had great support and it is with so much gratitude that the chorus is able to fund musical activities in our area!

The Chorus has always welcomed high school students from the three area schools. To support their music program, the chorus has given Bowman County High School, Scranton High School and Harding County High School music departments funding that they can use for music camp scholarships or whatever the needs they have to keep their departments going strong.

The Chorus also gave to the Bowman Lutheran Church for allowing the Chorus to perform there for so many years. The Bowman High School Dollars for Scholars also received funding.
The Bowman Community Chorus has a Music Scholarship available to graduates of Bowman County High School, Scranton High School, and Harding County High School who are entering at least their sophomore year of college and enrolled in performing arts or music education programs. Applicants should have a history of musical performance and community volunteerism. This scholarship is offered annually and can be up to $500 if funding is available. It is a one time award and the chorus has been proud to award it to three area students in the past years. Guidance Counselors in the three area schools have information and how to apply for it. Applications must be filled out and returned by May 1st of the current year. Mail applications to: Bowman Community Chorus, 14902 86th St. SW, Bowman, ND 58623.

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

The Groundhog on February 2nd of this year predicted that there would be 6 more weeks of winter. It's kind of amazing that since it is February and North Dakota which is in the northern climes, we would even consider that spring would be early. And since Mother Nature is not a fan of being called a liar, we are experiencing some normal winter weather as in snow, cold and wind. Amazing, right? Just about the time for calving as it seems to happen pretty much every year.

Just wondering about this Global Warming thing because I seem to remember this happening a lot of the years that I have been around and if you talk to the older generation, they will most probably tell you that it happened back then as well. I do believe that there are a few pictures around of some mighty deep snowbanks in Mott's past history to prove it as well.

Speaking of calving season, of course the weather will be bad. Why should it be any different from being cold and snowing and entirely miserable during the time they have to be outside. I wager that there has not been many years when calving season is easy on them and if it was not the weather it probably would have been something else causing problems instead. Hats off to every rancher that is in the business as if they did not love what they do for a living they most probably would not be doing it anymore. But like every farmer and rancher, they do like what they do and they will keep doing it for as long as they can. So when they are watching out for the cows and calves, and checking them every 2 or 3 hours to make sure that everything is working right, they get to see the miracles of life in the birth of a newborn calf and the affection of the Cow for the newborn. Such is the way of life that they have chosen.

For the rest of the farmers that raise grain, their minds right now are on the new season that is coming up. The decisions that they need to make as far as what crops go where, what the fertilizer that they need will cost and how much they need to get, where they will get it at the best price and what equipment they need to fix or purchase to get it in the ground at the right time. Then there are the other decisions such as finances and if they need to get help to get the crop in the ground. Gone are the days when you could get help easily just by putting an ad in the paper or hiring a neighbor's boy. That went away when large families lived and worked on the farm. Today, since most people live in urban areas, they are very unfamiliar with farm labor and even if they were looking for a farm job, it doesn't pay what people want to earn and certainly not the 9 to 5 hours, 5 days a week that they are used to working, if they want to work at all.

So what do we expect when we go to the store to purchase our food and find that prices are not the same as the last time we were there. First of all, how many children really know where their food comes from, let alone grown people. It's like the politician in office said, 'Why do we need dairy farmers - we can just go to Wal-mart and get all the milk we want' so this is the reality that the farmer and the rancher need to deal with. Rural America is a minority in this day and age, as the majority of the population live in urban areas. Schools no longer talk of farming as a lucrative endeavor, in fact farming and ranching is a post script. They speak more of the plight of the farm worker who is paid a low wage to harvest the crop, but little of the hours and effort of the smaller farmer to make a living in a rural setting. And never do they speak of the amount of money it costs to put in the crop versus what the farmer actually gets in payment when they take their crop to the market. There is more emphasis on keeping prices down than there is to pay a fair price for a product. But such is the history of the farmer and most likely the future for years to come. Yet the farmer and the rancher continue to provide food for the world, despite every obstacle placed in their path. God Bless each and every one of them and God Bless you all that support them in their choices.

The two most powerful forces in the world are love and prayer. Use them!

Robinson, Andress, Mellmer & More Receive West River Health Services Scholarships!

By Ted Uecker,
WRHS Foundation

West River Health Services Foundation, the fundraising and development arm for West River Health Services and Western Horizons Living Centers, has made their selections for their annual "College Upperclassmen Scholarships." This year, the WRHS Board of Directors approved $6,000 from the General Fund, to be distributed to the top-scoring and most compelling "College Upperclassmen," applicants, pursuing a healthcare-related degree.

Local Hettinger High School graduate, Brianna Robinson topped the list of all sixteen applications and received a $1,500 scholarship. She is currently pursuing her Doctorate of Occupational Therapy at the University of Mary - Fargo Campus, where she hopes to be finished April, 2024. Another local Hettinger High graduate, Alyssa Andress, received a $1,000 scholarship from the WRHS Foundation. She plans to utilize those funds toward her Dickinson State University Nursing degree, which she will receive in May, 2024. Quinn Mellmer, a former Scranton High School graduate, also received a $1,000 scholarship toward her Nursing degree studies at the University of Mary. She plans to complete her studies in April, 2024.

Other area "College Upperclassmen" receiving $1,000 scholarships from the WRHS Foundation included: Hailee Kuske from New England High School, who is working on her Radiologic Technology degree at Minot State University. She will be completed shortly in May, 2023. Emily Dinius, also a New England High graduate, is pursuing her Nursing degree at University of Jamestown, where she plans to be finished May, 2024.

Our last "College Upperclassman" to receive a $500 scholarship was Amber Johnson. She attends the Paramedic Technician Program at Bismarck State University, where she plans to complete her degree soon, in August, 2023.

All together, the WRHS Foundation received 16 terrific applications. Five current WRHS Foundation Board of Directors scored all of these applications via a 100 point scoring system based on their completed application, a copy of their transcripts, two letters of recommendation and a 300-500 word essay. The applicants GPA/Academics accounted for 40 possible points; letters of recommendation and school/community involvement up to 30 points; and their essay, up to 40 points.

The final scores for each applicant were compiled and reviewed by CEO Alyson Kornele, Dr. Mark Kristy and Ted Uecker, Fund Development Officer. "This year, we had a deep and talented group of applicants. We always wish we had more scholarship funds to give out, as there were definitely more terrific candidates than scholarship dollars. But in the same light, four years ago, we did not even offer 'College Upperclassmen Scholarships.' So we are feeling really good about our selections. We hope these bright young students will consider applying for jobs with us upon graduation. In fact, they might even want to consider an internship or part time job with us this summer," said Uecker.

Ernest T. Bentz Rites Held

Ernest T. Bentz, 80, of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho went home to be with His Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on February 8, 2023, in the early hours.

Ernie was born in rural Heil, North Dakota to Jacob and Emma (Hintz) Bentz, in a community where he spent his early years and moved to Leith, North Dakota where his parents operated several businesses.

He leaves behind his devoted wife Rose Marie (Flitsch) also of Leith, North Dakota. They were married on September 5, 1965 and were devoted for 57 years.

Ernie joined the U.S. Navy at the age of 17 and served a four-year commitment and was in the Navy Reserves for two years. He then rejoined the Navy for another four years, serving several tours in the Vietnam War, and proudly served as a Radar Operator on the Admirals Fleet, ending his service in 1969.

He worked for I.B.M. as a service technician until his retirement. He enjoyed building our home near Rathdrum, Idaho where he had a hobby farm. He moved to Coeur d'Alene when the upkeep on the acreage became burdensome! While he had his farm our three children were involved in the 4-H program and Ernie and Rosie were involved leaders, receiving 4-H Leader of the Year for Kootenai County in 1996.

Ernie enjoyed fishing and going back to North Dakota for our annual trips to pheasant hunt. If there was something to be done, Ernie was usually in the middle of it.

Ernie is survived by his wife, Rosie of 57 years of Coeur d'Alene; daughter, Heather (Bentz) Rigby; son-in-law, Richard; granddaughter, Christina; grandsons: Donald, Ryan, Liam, and Andy Bentz; and great granddaughter, Avery. He also leaves behind three sisters: Twyla Schock, Ruth Mund, and Karen Kapla, numerous nieces and nephews. He is preceded in death by sons, Larry and Richard Bentz; brothers, Erhart and Lawrence Bentz; sister, Abby; and his parents, Jake and Emma Bentz.

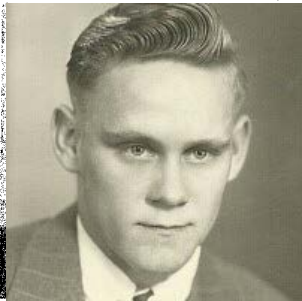

A memorial service was held at 11:00 a.m., Friday, February 17, 2023, at Maple Street Community Church (9485 N. Maple St. Hayden, Idaho 83835).

Ashley Stanhope Rites Held

Memorial Service for Ashley Stanhope, 93, of Baker was held at 11:00 am Tuesday, February 21, 2023 at Stevenson Funeral Home Baker. Military was presented by American Legion Post #35. Private burial will take place.

Please feel free to wear your best "Stanhope" plaid and jeans in honor of Ashley.

Visitation took place one hour prior to the service.

Ashley passed away February 15, 2023 at Fallon Medical Complex in Baker.

Maurice Ashley Stanhope was born on November 18, 1929. He was a home birth on the prairies of Cabin Creek northwest of Baker. Ashley was the first born of Robert and Betty (Thomas) Stanhope. He moved to Baker with his family when it was time to enroll in school and attended Washington School often cutting across frozen Baker Lake to get there. Ash started working early in life. As a young lad he went to work for a farmer south of town, harnessing the work horses. He had to climb the stall walls to throw the harness on them as they were twice as tall as he was. Ash and his lifelong friend (Herb Varner) would often ride for Avon Lester gathering horses that were on the open prairie. They would corral them and pull their tail and mane hair to sell. During this time he also worked for John Bechtold. As a teen he worked for Wally Hufford unloading box cars, hauling the loads to various merchants. Ash dropped out of school at 16 and went to work for Wally trucking full time. When Ash turned seventeen he asked his mother to sign for him to join the Army. She finally agreed to sign if he would wait until after Christmas. He enlisted in the Army Air Corp on January 6, 1947 and attended basic training in Biloxi, MS. While in the Army he completed his GED. That year the Army split off the Air Corp into the U.S. Air Force and he was given the choice to stay in the Army or go into the Air Force. He chose Air Force and was sent to B-29 school at Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, IL. Ash finished his training June 1, 1948 and was stationed in Alaska. He was given a letter of commendation for his work there, developing a wire harness that could be swapped out of the planes upon landing in the time it took them to refuel. Ash was honorably discharged November 29, 1949 as a Sergeant. Returning home he did many different jobs, including driving the mail bus between Baker and Lemmon. Ash started pipelining for Ross & Powers operating the ditching machine. He made many lifelong friends and memories pipelining in the Dakota's, Wyoming and Montana. He attended welding school with his brother Lyle in Oklahoma. In 1956 he began his career at Farmers Union Oil Company in Baker. He was a successful businessman giving many a job opportunity until retirement on September 30, 2008.

Ashley gave back to the

Believe in the Magic of Love

community throughout his life. He served on the Baker Volunteer Fire Department from 1961 through 1982, the school board from 1970 through 1979, and the Fallon County Fair Board from 1975 through 2006. Ash was instrumental in building the indoor arena and sponsoring the indoor rodeos. He very much believed in Baker and his life was a tribute to his community.

Ash married Nina D. (Fisk) Bailey on February 23, 1952. Three children were born to this union, Steven E., Barbara R., and Robert W. Stanhope. They later divorced. On November 6, 1975 Ashley married Elaine (Maychrzak) Williams. She brought two children to the marriage, Curt and Lora, whom he adopted, completing his family of five children. Ash loved his children and made sure they were taken care of in every way. He was completely won over by each grandchild as they came into his life and lived for visits, calls, cards etc. Ash was very proud of them. He really loved sitting on the patio with family having a beer or two and telling stories. As the grands grew and had families he was excited with each great grandchild as well. Ash was very close to his siblings having five brothers and two sisters. Many card games were played and many stories told around the table.

Ashley is survived by his wife Elaine; his sons Steve (Julie) Stanhope, Robert (Kristie) Stanhope, and Curt Williams; his daughters Barbara Stanhope and Lora (Kent) Ketterling; his grandchildren Lauren (Josh) Celander, Lisa (Samuel) Cavado, Lexi Stanhope, Tanner Fischer, Jamie (Ty) Tescher, Nate (Val) Stanhope, Kalli (Jeff) Allen, Blake (Rachel) Stanhope, Chase (Anna) Ketterling, Trace Ketterling and Kayla Ketterling; great grandchildren Logan, Bentlee, Maddex, Challahan, and Walker Ash Stanhope, Olivia and Hadley Allen, and Aurora Celander; his sisters Jean Hanratty and J.C. Stanhope; brothers Roger (Judy) Stanhope and Lane (Robin) Stanhope.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his brothers Lyle, Merlin Dale, and Robert Neal Stanhope; brother-in-law Walt Hanratty; sisters-in-law Joann and Mary Lou Stanhope and great grandson Wilder Tescher.

Ashley will be thoroughly missed and his memories cherished. Memorials may be made in his memory to the Community Cupboard, PO Box 1025, Baker, MT 59313.

Grant County/Mott/Regent Girl's Basketball Team Receive Honor

The North Dakota High School Activities Association, in its continued interest in education, is proud to announce the continuation of the "North Dakota Team Scholar Award" program. Every member school in North Dakota is eligible for the award.

The Team Scholar Award program is designed to recognize those athletic teams/groups that achieve excellence in the classroom. This program is also meant to motivate students toward academic excellence and to promote academic encouragement from teammates.

The principal in each school shall compute each athletic team's Grade Point Average at the end of each activity's season and submit the application if a team has a 3.20 or better GPA.

The 2022-2023 Grant County/Mott/Regent Girls' Basketball team has achieved that excellence. The 13 members that make up the team had a combined Grade Point Average of 3.73 for the 2022-23 season.

The team consists of: Seniors: Zoey Heid, Merissa Meyer, Anna Schatz, Jenessa Zentner. Juniors: Jazlyn Ottmar, Ameerah Rosin, Madison Zimmerman. Sophomores: Samantha Greff. Freshmen: Allison Grist, Emily Manolovits, Summer Meyer, Jada Ottmar, Natalie Wiesinger.

Congratulations to Head Coach Sara Seidler and the Grant County/Mott/Regent Girls' Basketball team for their excellence in education on and off the court.

3rd Grade created their own books, while learning how to become authors and illustrators. They enjoyed presenting them to the kindergarten class.

The 1st graders had a blast for Valentine's Day!
