Joan, Sunday School Teacher, finally landed her dream job - - had come from the cities, just finished getting her certificate of education and wanting a job in a smaller community - - her dream coming true.

Moving into the community was exuberant - - adults helped her move, invited her to their homes and mostly told her how pleased they were that she had accepted the invitation to fill the 5th grade Sunday School teaching position - - pay was good, living conditions reasonable - - and most exciting was the fact that everyone told her how wonderful her students were.

Knowing about students, and how wonderful they were, she presumed they must know a lot about the Bible, about being good - - so her preparation for class was going to be easy. Worked thru the night, praying, asking for guidance, and was all ready for Sunday - the big day.

Good morning Joan, greeted the pastor - - have a good day - blessing. And Joan opened the door - - to - - erasers being thrown, words of profanity - - she slammed the door, took a deep breath and wondered what she had gotten into - - this must be the wrong class - - looked at marking on door - - 5th grade. Another deep breath, she opened the door, walked over to her desk - - and was ready to quit, as erasers flew past her head - - Welcome Joanie, Baloney was written on black board - -.

Thank God class finally ended and Joan, not a quitter, went to church service, frustrated as she looked at people in congregation who had told her kids were wonderful - - had not told her the truth - - all she could do was ask God to help her - -.

The rest of the day was spent walking, running and avoiding any and all invitations to speak to the pastor or any of the church members. Much anger was dealt with, the rest of the day.

What should I do? I'm not a quitter, but how can I justify staying and working with these kids. Then an idea came to her.

That week, Joan went to the newspaper office, asked if they had any left over rolls of paper - - they did. So she proceeded to complete her project.

First she drew one leg, cut it out then another, then another until she had 12 legs, which was the number in her class.

Sunday morning she arrived at the parish hall early, placed a leg on each desk, then waited. Students began arriving, bantering each other but as stealing into the room, quieted down as they picked up the leg and sat in their places.

One by one they entered. When all 12 were present, she began telling them her story about how the community told her that the 5th grade class was wonderful. Students were silent.

Then one by one she invited them to bring their legs to the front, one by one - - when all were in a line at the front of the room, she said - - "Now I want you to know, each person has 2 legs - - one to the walk with, the other to kick with - - when you make a choice - - which leg do you want to use - -.

Joan found out her class truly was the best she ever could imagine.

What would happen if every day, or even every week or month we had 12 people tell us something good - - try it - -. You will be surprised at how good it makes you feel!

So, I was talking to my buddy and asking how his vacation (with his wife) went. He was perplexed because he said, "It was great except when I was driving on the highway in Colorado." He went on to explain that he was driving along, in the left hand lane, so he could gain a little better speed, and cars kept flying up on his tail end, riding his rear bumper and, then, swerving around, passing on the right and, (let's just say) giving him half of a peace sign as they passed. He could not understand such disrespectful maneuvers given the courtesy of our local drivers. Well, I hated to explain it to him because, in Florida or Texas or Missouri, DRIVING along in the PASSING lane can get you shot at by other drivers and, ticketed by the police. He was aghast!

And, folks, in North Dakota, the same actually holds true. NDCC §39-10-08 makes it a 2-point moving violation if you fail to "drive" in the right-hand lane. The most common problem is a 4-lane highway like I-94.

So, if the road you're on has sufficient width, you must drive in the right lane (right half) except when actually in the process of overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction. And, if there's an obstruction making it necessary to drive in the other lane, you still have to return to the right lane after you pass the obstruction. And, of course, no matter what, a driver still has to yield the right of way to all vehicles traveling in the proper direction upon an unobstructed portion of the highway. The rule is simple...stay in the right lane unless you are in the process of passing another car.

I hope that helps and, don't forget, on Friday July 11th, it's Hapkido night at the movies here in Mott. So, if you can make it, we'd be glad to see you at the Playhouse Theater for Karate Kid-Legends. Lets hope it's just senseless, mind-numbing violence and, not another PC Woke extravaganza. Have a great week!

God Bless America

By Katherine Craig Harteis

It's the time of year to stop, think and be grateful for the gift of freedom. The July 4th holiday is about more than grilling and fireworks.

It's about remembrance and gratefulness for those who went before us to pave our way.

I'm a movie buff. I especially like films set in times when life was maybe tougher to survive than now. It reminds me how easy we have it now.

I've never considered myself high maintenance, but I do appreciate the comforts of a hot meal, a good bed and air conditioning or heat as needed.

Yet I'm first in line to sleep in a tent on a camping trip. Some pleasures are acquired.

I'm learning to change my "gotta have" list a bit though.

I only draw the line when it comes to morning coffee. Got-ta have it. In a power outage, I have brewed many pots of cowboy coffee on a bbq grill.

In my life time I've battled weight. Sometimes I've won the battles. Other times I've failed miserably.

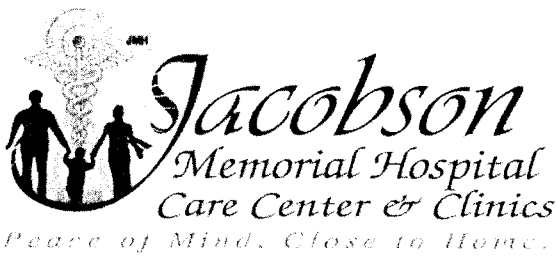

That seems to be a topic of conversation and concern for many people.

In all things moderation. We can struggle, stress, plan and worry. But, once we get in the right frame of mind we make more progress toward our goal.

I'm a believer of moderation. We don't have to finish off every bag of chips we open. But it's ok to have chips. Take a few, walk away and don't make repeated trips to the chip bowl.

With that said, I hope you all enjoyed the holiday. I hope you took a moment to celebrate our Nation, our flag and our freedoms.

Life is good today.

THE OPIOID MENACE!

Opioid dependence treated at JMHCC clinics

Throbbing pain, silenced by prescription painkillers. Then another pain occurs – addiction. And another silence – an unwillingness to come forward for help until it's too late. But help is here, and hope is near, with medications for opioid use disorder.

The Elgin Community Clinic has now joined the Glen Ullin Family Medical Clinic and the Richardton Clinic, all operated by Jacobson Memorial Hospital Care Center of Elgin, in treating the addiction to opioids.

On average, 224 people died each day from an opioid overdose in 2022, according to federal government statistics. The misuse of and addiction to opioids – including prescription pain relievers, heroin and synthetic opioids such as fentanyl – is a serious national and local crisis that affects public health as well as social and economic welfare.

The statistics regarding opioid abuse are staggering, and our local communities are not immune to this nationwide epidemic.

Roughly 21% to 29% of patients prescribed opioids for chronic pain misuse them. In 2023, there were 116 drug overdose deaths in North Dakota, a rise from 4.5 in 2014.

The Glen Ullin Family Medical Clinic and the Richardton Clinic have been poised to help stop this epidemic, with specially trained medical providers who can help patients manage their opioid use disorder. Now, the Elgin Community Clinic is ready to help as well.

Addiction occurs when uncontrollable cravings cause someone to become unable to stop using a drug, even though it leads to harmful results. Dependence happens when the body physically adapts to a drug and becomes tolerant to it. This leads you to need more of the drug to create the same effect.

And it can happen to anyone, says Rhonda Schmidt, a family nurse practitioner (FNP) at the Glen Ullin Family Medical Clinic.

The providers, including Rhonda Schmidt at the Glen Ullin Family Medical Clinic, Jolene Engelhart, an FNP at the Richardton Clinic, and Trevor Stavig, a DNP at the Elgin Community Clinic, offer treatment for those with opioid dependence. Treatments can reduce withdrawal symptoms and drug cravings.

For those who have become addicted to narcotic pain relievers, the providers are experienced in prescribing Suboxone. Coupled with a complete treatment plan, Suboxone is used in the treatment of opioid dependence.

"It's been very successful," Schmidt says. "The patients that have used it said it has changed their life, mainly because they can now function and feel good." Offering this treatment program in rural clinics is also important, with local access to treatment.

"I feel that anyone who is dealing with addiction issues, no matter where they are in life, would greatly benefit from addiction treatment here at JMHCC. Providers will listen to your requests and will treat you with dignity and respect. At JMHCC, we will be here for you," Stavig says.

"I like helping people and it's not only about providing them with health care, but also including both their mental and spiritual health. Overall, I enjoy helping patients through different stages in their life," Schmidt says.

That includes caring for patients who need chronic pain management.

"A lot of these patients, I feel, fall through the cracks," Rhonda said. "If they are having pain, someone should be there to listen to them and help them. It may not always be with pain medication. There are other ways that you can help them manage their pain and maybe even decrease the use of narcotics."

"It's an awesome responsibility and privilege to be able to assist someone in whatever level of health care need they have, whether that's for something simple or for something complex," Engelhart says.

"If there's ever developing a relationship with your patients, it's with those with substance abuse disorders. Addiction can be devastating, so it's awesome when they can change things around and you help play a small part in that by prescribing medication to help them," she shares. "It's helping them through their struggles and celebrating their victories."

Physical therapy available

Another aspect of the treatment of those with opioid addiction is managing their original pain symptoms.

Jacobson Memorial Hospital Care Center, has a physical therapist available. Patients may make an appointment with him at JMHCC in Elgin by calling 584-3338.

Finding Time for God

Fr. Greg Hilzendeger, Pastor
Holy Trinity-Hettinger, Sacred Heart-Reeder, Sacred Heart-Scranton

"I'm just too busy to pray." I'd imagine most of us have uttered this thought at some point. We know that prayer is essential to the life of faith-that we need to communicate with God to maintain an intimate relationship with Him- yet we can be often weighed down with so many obligations that it seems impossible to pray every day. Today I'd simply like to offer some tips on how to integrate prayer into our lives, even amidst the busyness.

- Pray in the morning and at night- The privileged moments when we wake up and before we fall asleep can be beautiful times to offer to God. Even if only for a few minutes, we can take time in the morning to offer our day to God and ask His grace to be with us. Taking a few minutes before bed to prayerfully review our day, ask pardon for our sins, and thank God for the blessings He has given can also be a truly transformative discipline.

- Make a brief visit to the church- It doesn't require much time to make a brief stop at your church to spend a few moments with Jesus. This can perhaps be done during a lunch break or before heading home for the day. It can be a powerful gesture of prayer to simply stop in to say "hi" to Jesus.

- Pray during the drive-Many of us spend a lot of time in a vehicle throughout the day. This can be a blessed time to speak with God or make use of a number of great prayer apps, such as the Hallow app.

- Pray during monotonous chores- Doing dishes, mowing the lawn, folding laundry. These necessary tasks typically do not require much mental exertion and can thus be fitting times to commune with God.

- Gratitude-Offer thanks to God for the blessings He gives. This can be done spontaneously as we receive His gifts or intentionally at any other time we find to pray.

- Offer God our tiredness- We may often find ourselves tired or distracted in the moments we technically have time for prayer and so we think, "I can't pray now. I'm too tired. I won't be able to pray well." Our tiredness should not prevent us from prayer. God knows we are exhausted and He doesn't ask for perfection. Prayer isn't about saying the right words or being "good enough," but simply about being with God in whatever state we find ourselves.

- What could be cut out?- I once served with a priest who would often say, "If you're too busy to pray, then you are too busy." If we really have no time for prayer, then we need to examine our lives to see where time can be made. I'd imagine most of us spend plenty of time on our phones which could be used better. Ultimately, even if our day truly is full with good things, we need to remember that nothing should take priority over our relationship with God. Work, hobbies, and even family can become idols if they keep us from that which is most important. God is never outdone in generosity. If we give ourselves generously to Him, He will take care of everything and fill us with His love and peace.

Remember there's no such thing as a small act of kindness. Every act creates a ripple with no logical end.

Youth 1K runners at WRHS Fun Run and Walk on July 4th in Hettinger

Fitch's - Most Pre-Registered Family Participation Champions (24) at 2025 Fun Run and Walk - Yeah!

Awards at 2025 WRHS Foundation's 37th Annual Fun Run and Walk

Tuhy & Moehring Set the Pace as WRHS 'Fun Run & Walk' Grosses Over $16,000 For Healthy Projects in Our Area Communities

By Ted Uecker
WRHS Foundation

The West River Health Services Foundation's 37th Annual "Fun Run & Walk" witnessed a terrific turnout of over 200 runners and walkers hustling around scenic Mirror Lake in Hettinger on the 4th of July. With cool, nearly perfect conditions, former Hettinger-Scranton Nighthawk and current Minot State University harrier Peyton Tuhy, set the quick pace for the Men's 3K. Bobbi Moehring wasn't far behind, as the first female overall to cross the finish line. They both raced around the lake like they had a fireman's breakfast and a parade to go to! And they did!

Early the morning of July 4th, the Fun Run & Walk race-day registrations got started at 6:30 am sharp, with hundreds of runners and walkers making their way to the east side of The Granary, south of the railroad tracks in H-Town. With over 200 people registered to participate (140+ pre-registered), it all began with a prayer from local Pastor Allen Wickstrom and a sensational rendition of our National Anthem by WRHS's own Tammy Roso.

Then it was off to the 1K Run for boys and girls 11 and under, of which there were over 20 on this fine day. They were all lined up to go at the starting line, but we had to first make sure every child had a racing number. Once we had that covered, they were off -- steering west down the Mirror Lake Road heading toward the Southwest Grain Elevators, where they made a left hand turn going south toward Mirror Lake, then another left hand turn to go east along the lake's paved walking path. Heading east toward Mirror Lake Park, they then made a left turn up the middle sidewalk, to the original rock archway entrance finish line. Maggie Weinert, local ranch girl with hypersonic speed, flew around the course and was the overall fastest youth runner, as well as the fastest 9-11 female runner! Right behind her was Wellington Lamont, the 9-11 male winner. Genevieve Burkhalter and her sister Mary were the fastest 6-8 and 5 and under female runners, while Harrison Meszaros (with the huge Fitch Family contingent) set the pace for the 6-8 boys. Unfortunately, we had no 5 and under boys running.

At the completion of the Youth 1K, each of the youth runners received their Free Hettinger Theater movie passes and their Free Rusty's Ice Cream tokens. What a deal! Thank you Hettinger Theater Board of Directors and Russell and Diane Gonder at Rusty's for your thoughtful incentives for our youth. Next year, we'll do an even better job of marketing, so we have way more youth runners!

Then it was on to the 3K Run around full Mirror Lake. Peyton Tuhy was in a class by himself, as he circled the lake like it was a warmup for the Boston Marathon! He was the fastest 17-29 year old male and the overall fastest runner in Hettinger on this day. Bobbi Moehring also wheeled around the lake with ease, winning the 30-49 female division, in addition to being the fastest overall female runner. Kason Wolf from Bismarck won the 12-16 year old male division, with Justin Burkhalter coming in a close second. Jael Burkhalter was the quickest 12-16 female. Esther Burkhalter paced the 17-29 women. Those Burkhalter's sure can run, huh?! Nick Knutson and Daniel Abe were neck and neck in the Male 30-49 division, with Knutson winning for the 2nd consecutive year; as Tammy Imel and John Morrin were the fastest runners at 50+. Linda Stippich was the Most Senior Walker, followed by Clyde Jesfeld. Thanks for joining us Linda and Clyde! Our Youngest Pre-Registered Walker at 5 months was Boone Wolff. And the Fitch Family had the Most Pre-Registered Family Members with 24! Awesome job Janie Fitch Danielson!

Wow! This was a day to remember. Perfect running weather. Chocolate dipped pretzels for everyone from Grandma's Chocolates in Lemmon. Beautifully designed Fun Run & Walk t-shirts from Graphic Attic. And amazing raffle and bucket draw ticket sales!

This has been a great year in raising funds for our area communities. We will share net numbers and information regarding applications for grant dollars once our numbers are finalized.

TOGETHER we are making a difference for our local area communities. Of course, there will come a time when you'll need some healthcare. We, at West River Health Services, would like to be given the opportunity to help you. And your family. And your work associates. Everyone.

THANK YOU to all who participated with this year's Fun Run & Walk. Whether you're one of our outstanding partners, runners, walkers, volunteers, ticket buyers, sellers, etc. WE ARE GRATEFUL. And we are so proud to give back to our regional communities for healthy projects and activities. Onward!

Cloud Seeding Operations

Summary For June 30-July 6, 2025

BISMARCK, N.D. – Thunderstorms over the July 4th holiday weekend provided parts of southwestern North Dakota with ongoing beneficial rains. High temperatures last week soared into the upper 80s midweek; however, a late week cool down brought a return to comfortable highs in the mid to upper 70s.

In the District 1 operations area, which includes Bowman and part of Slope Counties, aircraft conducted two seeding flights, two flights for reconnaissance, and one flight for repositioning last week.

This week's weather forecast for southwestern North Dakota looks hotter and drier with high temperatures climbing back into the mid to upper 80s and more isolated chances for showers and thunderstorms late week.

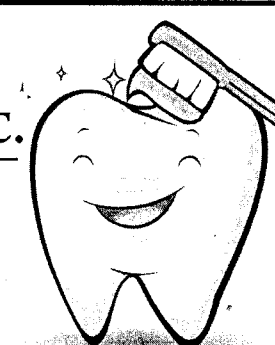

Radar facilities in Bowman operate around the clock during the NDCMP. Radar images can be viewed on the Atmospheric Resource Board's web site at <http://www.swc.nd.gov/arb>. The NDCMP will continue through the end of August.

Carla Faye Zich Rites Held

Carla Faye Zich, age 71, passed away peacefully on July 4, 2025, in Mandan, North Dakota.

Born on January 30, 1954, to Edwin and Mathilda "Tillie" Weickum, Carla lived a life filled with love, laughter, and deep devotion to her family. She shared her life with her beloved husband Dale, building a home that became the heart of many cherished memories.

Carla was the middle of 5 sisters. She attended school in Mott graduating in 1972.

On July 20, 1974 she married Dale. They built a home in Mott where they were blessed with 2 children, Stacy and Justin. The home remains a gathering place for family.

Carla and Dale enjoyed camping together as well as with family and friends. They also enjoyed traveling to warmer weather during the winter, taking trips to Las Vegas and Arizona.

Carla was a devoted mother to her daughter Stacy (Shannon) Lovelace of Fargo, ND, and her son Justin (Mary) Zich of Bismarck, ND. Her pride and joy were her grandchildren: Abigail and Brayden Lovelace of Fargo; Ethan, Bella, and Lilly Zich of Bismarck. She delighted in their accomplishments and never missed an opportunity to offer guidance-often with her signature phrase: "Don't do stupid shit," delivered with equal parts humor and heartfelt care.

She is also remembered by her sisters Sandra (Reed) Chernenko of Surprise, AZ, and Linda Keene of Delray Beach, FL, along with many nieces and nephews who held a special place in her heart.

Carla was preceded in death by her parents, Edwin and Mathilda "Tillie" Weickum; and sisters Donna Weickum and Rhonda Weickum.

A woman of many interests and talents, Carla found joy in crafting—her creativity evident in the projects she lovingly made. She enjoyed camping trips that brought her closer to nature and golfing outings that blended fun with friendly competition. Time spent with family and friends was always treasured. Even at the end of each day, she made sure everyone was safe—checking her phone's location app before going to bed to ensure all were where they should be.

A private memorial service was held on Wednesday, July 9, 2025.

Carla's warmth, wit, and unwavering care will be deeply missed by all who knew her. May her memory bring comfort to those she loved so dearly.

Sometimes things happen in our lives that wake us up to the truth, about how short life is. It's then we wonder why we spent so much wasted time looking too far into the future.

Reflections on the Words of Life

by Pastor Paul Ferrie, Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

We have spent a good while in 1 Peter 2:9-10: "But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light; who once were not a people but are now the people of God, who had not obtained mercy but now have obtained mercy." So far we have touched on various aspects of this passage which describes the church, God's new Israel. But I have purposefully saved one section until now, and that is what Peter tells us is the assignment of all those who have received His mercy and become a part of the chosen generation, the royal priesthood and the holy nation of God's new Israel. He tells us that assignment in the second half of verse 9: "that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

Please note what Peter does not say. He does not say that the first and greatest assignment of a believer in Jesus Christ is to tell others how they might be saved. Nor does he in the first place tell us what work we are to do for God. Those things are important, but they are not primary. The great assignment of believers in Jesus Christ is to praise the Lord for taking them out of the darkness of sin and the grips of the devil and for bringing them into His marvelous light! This is what Peter is saying: Let your praises to the God of grace abound! Just think of it, believer: You are one of the special, the chosen, the royal family of God. Doesn't that make you want to praise the Lord? He deserves all the praise. None of the dignities God has heaped upon believers are deserved. We were in utter darkness, estranged from God, but He rescued us and brought us into His marvelous light. Our greatest work is to praise Him all we can.

Charles Wesley at the end of his hymn entitled "Love Divine All Loves Excelling" speaks of believers being "lost in wonder, love, and praise" because of what God has done for them. Indeed this is what we should be. Our highest and greatest work, brethren, is to begin to do now what we will be doing for all eternity. The apostle John tells us of what it will be like when believers surround the throne of God in heaven. In Revelation 5:13 he tells us that all creatures will praise God saying, "Blessing and honor and glory and power be to Him who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb, forever and ever!"

Christians, do you find yourself praising God? I encourage us to think much upon what God could have given us if He gave us what we deserved. Let us think much upon that fact that instead of eternal hell, He has given us eternal glory with Him. Think much upon what He was willing to give in order that we might be His own. And may such thoughts fill our hearts with thankfulness and praise.

For those who have not trusted in Christ alone for salvation, I ask you to think much upon something else. Think much upon where you are headed for all eternity unless, by God's grace, you are brought to see your sinfulness and flee to God through Jesus, who is the only way of access. We do not know how much time is left for each of us. Please do not delay. May this be your day of salvation.

The greatest treasures are those invisible to the eye but found by the heart.

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

"A Little Birdie Told me, a lot can happen in three years."

The Dash's Touch A Truck has gone from one block to five blocks, added multiple inflatables, snow cones, hamburgers and face painting.

When we first set out, it was to celebrate the 5 year anniversary of The Dash and how far we had come, as a business, family and in our community. Doing it more than once never crossed our minds, but the reception from the community, and participants spoke for itself. The Touch A Truck was officially a summer staple of Hazen ND.

The greatest treasures are those invisible to the eye but found by the heart.

cook for everyone throughout the day. Accompanying the hamburgers we will have hot dogs, free snow cones, cotton candy, root beer floats, icees, and popcorn. Anyone wondering, YES the hotdogs and hamburgers are dye free, as well as the cotton candy, the snow cone & icees stands will have dye free offerings as well. Speaking of tasty treats, Eden Barbot has graciously agreed to set up her Daily Bread Bakery pop up stand for one and all to enjoy.

The Dash and its volunteers have worked tirelessly to bring this community together far and wide for a day that can be enjoyed by all. In no small part to the generous and kind spirit of its people and businesses, we have been able to curate a fully free day for one and all. Everything from the meal provided down to the rock painting, and piles of Tumbling Tootie's inflatables. Touch A Truck 2025 is completely free to attend, and all activities are free to partake in.

Each year, The Dash thoughtfully considers how to make this greatest, most lasting impact on its members, and people across the country. This year the Touch A Truck will be making donations to the newly founded Dodge Library to help them solidify a long-lasting impactful future in our area. We will also continue our support to YouthWorks, and their fight against homeless, at risk, and trafficked youth. Last but certainly not least, the hunger crisis in America, North Dakota, and the world is a problem that is not going away anytime soon, so we will also be making a donation to the area food pantry.

I am humbled, grateful, and thankful for the outpouring of support and generous sponsors we have for this year's event. Yes, I can make phone calls, send emails, and paint a face. Without the generosity of people like Heather Stromme Century 21, W.A.R.C., Hazen Cenex Co-Op, (and the list goes on and on), this event would not happen. These people, these businesses, and their donations of both time and financial support are the only way an event like this succeeds.

"A Little Birdie Told Me, The Dash's 2025 Touch A Truck in Hazen ND on July 17th - 10am-4pm (ish), will help us all remember that a little goes a long way if we all do our part." -Do Good Recklessly

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

Following up on my last article about our trip across the state with friends, there are a couple of other places that we went to see that I would like to tell you all about. The reason being that there are a lot of things to look at in our state and just because we don't advertise all of them is no reason to forget about them. I often hear these comments like 'there's nothing to see here' and that people need to go to some famous site that costs a lot of money to visit just to show their friends or children something to remember. I would like to point out that it doesn't matter how much money you spend on a trip, but the time you spend with your children as to what they will remember. Yes, those places are special, but if you don't have buku bucks, don't let that stop you in spending time closer to home for a good memory.

After our trip to the International Peace Gardens, we went westward and spend a night at Four Bears Casino and Lodge. The trip across country from Rugby to New Town again is a variation in landscape. We went from moderately flat to moderately hilly. Mostly farming country changed to areas of mostly grazing and of course we entered the area of the Fort Berthold reservation. Leaving the next day and going south the terrain changes to extremely hilly for North Dakota and is bordering on uninhabitable and there are many curves that have been straightened out due to the high concentration of oil production in that area. Gone are the 30 mph curves that I remember as a child and it's a much more even drive with well maintained roads, again much different than my memories tell me. However, the scenery is quite beautiful, especially at this time of year with greenery covering most of the hills, so the drive is very enjoyable, although I would not recommend getting out of the car and wandering around if you don't have someone that knows the territory. Upon leaving the reservation territory, we entered Dunn County and finally got to Killdeer which is the junction of that road and highway 200. This was familiar to me as it is where I attended middle and high school and 7 miles to the east is Dunn Center. We did take a drive around that area and it has greatly changed from when I was there almost to the point of being unrecognizable. Still a nice bit of memory lane to visit.

The next part of our trip was south to Dickinson where we spent some time picking up a few necessities and then moved onto Medora. If you have not been there, and I am sure many of you have been, but in any case it's a beautiful little town that was saved by the influx of money from Harold Schaefer, the creator of Mr Bubble. Over the years, since my sister worked there in the 70's, I have been there several times, and this year happens to be the 60th anniversary of the Medora Musical. I do remember going to the musical back then before there was the beautiful amphitheater with the elevators and escalators and the stadium seating. My first memory of it was imbedded railroad tie type steps in rocks and metal bench seating fastened into the dirt and rocks. It was much less elaborate in those days, but as a child, it was still a wonderful site. The stage with the entertainers and the story lines may have changed, but the excitement is no less today than it was then. The musicians are just as great, maybe a little more polished and the dancers are more professional with a bit less gingham and square dancing. They still involve the children who attend and pay tribute to Theodore Roosevelt and his Rough Riders as well as the Veterans who are in attendance at every performance. It's a bit more pricy than it used to be, but well worth the cost to see and a lot less expensive than a few other things that some people think they have to take their kids to. Even if you don't go to the musical, there are so many things to see in the town of Medora, it's worth the trip just to walk around and look and of course, you must save room for an ice cream cone.

As I continue our trip, I just want to repeat what I said, in that it's not the cost of the trip that matters. It's taking the time to spend with your children that counts. My memories of going to Medora, taking a drive in the park and stopping for a picnic lunch there before driving home, of course stopping to see my sister, which was not on her list at all, are part of what I look back on as great times. We didn't have a lot of money, and we didn't go many places, but we did spend some great times that will live there forever. I wish that for each and every one of you, since that is what you will look back on one day. God Bless you all.
