Eido Connect's
Philosophy for 2024

- DECISION -

“Be Careful”

Door bell, Sam at the door caused MeMe to come back to reality - - time to go to Memorial Day Dinner - - once again MeMe felt - - not sure what - lost - out of kilter - something not quite right. But for the moment the decision was made to go with Sam.

People, people everywhere. Many came up to MeMe, expressing pride at what MeMe had done, what was being brought back to the community and what was yet to learn about MeMe's travels. Seemed very trivel, compared to ache in MeMe's heart at not finding Grandfathers story book.

Speaker was informative, enlightening, about War Heroes - - something MeMe had not thought much of before. Years ago Memorial Day was just a day of stores closed - speaker- meal - otherwise - - .

Today, as MeMe listened, it was different - - seemed as though words were being heard for the first time. The speaker had lost an arm and a leg - - but - - would do it again for the freedom of being here at this moment and others wanting to know what Freedom really is - - not just a word but about some, one person believing, so strongly that freedom was about making a decision to do the right thing at that moment - - .

Then the speaker told how he lost his arm and leg - - bombs going off all over - - he in fox hole with other soldiers, his friend. Enemy charges at them, shoots and speaker jumps in front of friend, saving his life but loosing an arm and leg.

MeMe had a hard time understanding how anyone could or would do that. “Why would you?” was the only question MeMe could come up with.

Speaker finished - - leaving MeMe with only questions - - but somehow the questions seemed to resonate with the same questions MeMe carried deep within.

Restless night, tossing, turning, awake, drifting off - - questions but no answers - - what's going on - where do I turn - - finally sunrise - - “I can get up” - were the best words MeMe had ever spoken.

Grandfathers book, Speaker on Memorial Day, Fire - - all kinds of answers, but none satisfying the ache in MeMe's heart - - story remembered about man who Grandfather read about -- all these thoughts led to --.

MeMe threw on jacket and out the door - - maybe, just maybe - and began walking the streets, up hills, down valleys, running, remembering trip in Time Machine - - not noticing - - sign “be careful - - drop off” - - .

Down, down, down, rolling, tumbling - - MeMe lay - - .

NEVER FORGET

Memorial Day celebrations are over - back to work - our lives are centered around each other as our veterans who gave their lives. They never went to war for themselves but for us. They never dreamed themselves more important than anyone else - - they just gave because they were thankful people - thankful for living in America

May we too, just during one moment of trouble, be like them and say I am afraid but the rewards outweigh the fear.

We are a thankful community. We live among believers, friends and family. We have food, lights, heat, and on and on - - .

Again we thank you for allowing the Eido Country of advertisers, writers and readers into your home.

Foundation of faith
By Kathy Craig Harteis

The recent closure of First Baptist Church in Colusa, California was like losing a part of my heritage. A part of my heart. My parents were among the charter members the Church. Upon that foundation they built a home for all of us to grow in life and in faith.

I was baptized there, married there and celebrated my 25th wedding anniversary there. My sister and brother-in-law were married there and celebrated anniversaries there as well. My brother-in-law was licensed and ordained as a pastor there. My dad was ordained as a deacon there.

When the sanctuary was taken by termites and had to be burned in a controlled burn I watched out of respect. Our firemen first allowed me to take one last walk through. I wasn't prepared for the flood of memories that would surround me in those moments. I felt the presence there of people gone from us.

The church was the center of our teen years. The youth group grew to a family of friends. When I did my pre-fire walk that day I noticed that the firemen had fashioned a picture of an angel on one back wall. I appreciated that small gesture of respect and reverence.

I peered into the baptistry and remembered baptisms of myself, my family and friends. I felt them there with me.

Once the building was gone, the church continued to meet in the recreation building there.

My parents were active Sunday School teachers. Likewise they were strong supporters of the church's youth.

When we knew my beloved cousin Tom Bowden would soon pass, my final service attended there was with him. Having him there next to me was a gift without measure.

We were all blessed by the fellowship, the friendship and the love shared so long in that place.

Because I had that foundation and I have those memories; Life is good today.

November 5th is still 23 weeks away and, to say that I'm already sick of politics would be a GROSS understatement. The mailbox has a flier in it every day (before it hits my trash can) and the television is barraged with claims that a candidate is the 2nd coming while their opponent is the spawn of Satan. It's been a tough election year these past 5 months and, it doesn't look like it's going to slack off any time soon. But, the most annoying thing is, the omnipresent contempt that the big city folks seem to have for us rural ones. Every snarky comment and ad which seems to be geared (like modern Hollywood movies) to the premise that us "regular folks" are simply morons to be slickered into giving up our freedom for a little peace of mind as we march to the politically-correct dirge.

Remember the "pandemic"? "Mainly peaceful protests" (while the store burned down), squeals of "racism" or "sexism" if you dared to disagree with the mainstream media hype, "vax denier" if you questioned the self-professed "experts" on the medical implications of the COVID response? All of this nonsense now when, in my humble opinion, if you could just get off the old iPhone long enough to actually talk to your neighbors, you would find that most people are just regular Joes, like you, trying to make ends meet and, they don't like being called fly-overs, clowns, despicable, deplorable or hillbillies either. And, by the way, who appointed these elites to talk down to the rest of us? I guess we just don't know what's good for us but, what objectively makes them smarter?

And, I have another theory! These "woke" folks actually only comprise 1% of the population but, with the advent of social media, they seem to be foisted as a majority of our citizens by the media moguls. And, folks, based on what I've observed, it just ain't true. Misery likes company goes the adage but, I don't recall ever being taught to listen to the miserables. In fact, my dad always asked, "And, if they jumped off the bridge, you jumping too?" So, as this election cycle drags on, can we just demand that, at least, our politicians TRY to be civil and stop intoning that their only qualification for the job is "I ain't the other guy/gal?" Seriously, is that too much to ask? Because, at the end of the day, the rest of us are just sick and tired of spending +/- $800 more dollars each month just to get by. Shouldn't we be focusing on that right now too? Have a great week.

VOTE!

To the voters of Bowman County,
My name is Jerry Jeffers, and I am running for re-election to the Bowman County Commission. I have done my best to serve the great people of Bowman County during by past terms as your commissioner. Along with the other commissioners, we have done a large variety of projects to enhance the lifestyle of Bowman County residents. I have been part of the efforts to help our town's residents with opportunities, also building and improving our roads and bridges out in the county. We don't have districts in Bowman County, so I have the privilege and responsibility to serve all residents throughout the entire county. Because I live in the far southwest part of our county, I have the need and chance, often, to travel roads in the area. So as not to reduce my responsibility to all, my wife and I take drives throughout the county to see how our infrastructure is in all areas. My sole focus is on OUR county and what the needs are here, and I want you to know that I take that to heart. We have some major projects ahead, and I would like to continue to be part of the Bowman County Commission going forward to see that those projects help our citizens to enjoy a fulfilling lifestyle in their county. So again, I would like to ask for your vote of support in the upcoming June 11th election and then again in the November general election. I realize some voters may have voted already, and I want to thank them for supporting me and also, to thank all of you who will support me in the upcoming June 11th election. I want to continue keeping Bowman County the great county it is.

Golf Leagues for Everyone at Hettinger Public Golf Course!
By Ted Uecker,
Hettinger Public Golf Course

The Hettinger Public Golf Course (HPGC) hosted an "All-Leagues Meeting Night" (Women's, Men's, Mixed) on Wednesday, May 15th, 6:30pm, at their 19th Hole (or 10th hole if you only have time for nine, or the clubhouse). Nearly 30 determined people showed up and the discussions were lively. If you could not attend on this night, you can still sign up for our golf leagues by calling 701-567-2339 anytime.

Ted Uecker, Hettinger Public Golf Course Board of Director, welcomed everyone and started off by thanking the volunteers (and especially leaders Christi Schmitz and Erin Timm) who helped HPGC raise $8,500 gross via their "Seafood Feast" back on March 22nd. This Seafood Spectacular event, with the most amazing decorations and food maybe ever, netted over $5,500 toward our new Fairway Mower! Next, Uecker wanted everyone in attendance to be aware of the New $20 Hettinger Public Golf Course Raffle Ticket - with $6,150 worth of the mostly gifted, six prizes including: a $2,500 Travel Voucher from Drolc Travel Agency (DTA gifted $250 of voucher to HPGC); $2,450 for a set of new Mizuno irons, driver and putter donated entirely by Hettinger's own Jeremy Galbreth; $500 HPGC gift card from Kim Erickson, Farmers Union Insurance Agency; $250 Case IH Snap On Socket Tool Set gifted by West Plains Inc.; $250 Family Swimming Pass from Hettinger Public School; $100 HPGC gift card from Rochelle Shirek and the Pastime Steakhouse; and $100 gift card from Matt Schneider at The Gutter. The hope is to sell all 1,000 tickets and raise $17,750 toward the New Fairway Mower! Tickets are available from all nine Board Members (Heather Ebert, Ted Uecker, Alissa Fitch, Kim Erickson, Sam Johnson, Tyler Watashek, Tyler Erickson, Rick Jacobson, Leonard Bjerklie), as well as HPGC's 19th Hole, The Gutter and Prairie Rose Floral.

In addition, Uecker thanked everyone for their paid membership dues, Mother's Day Brunch support and hopefully, their youth's golf participation via Better Life's Summer Youth Golf Program, beginning with Youth Golf Camp on May 30-31.

Prior to going into their individual women's, men's and mixed golf league meetings, Uecker recommended they consider three ideas: 1) Monday-Thursday nights for league, 2) offer some type of two or three-person scramble format to build confidence and overall happiness with less experienced golfers and speed up play, and 3) offer some type of food on league nights.

The Women's League attendees, almost twenty strong, met with their fearless leader Cassie Dick, who was prepared as always. They pretty much agreed on the following: Wednesday Night Women's League, June 5th start; must be a HPGC member to play in league (although subs might be able to pay green fee and play in league, if Board agrees at 5/21/24 meeting); $20 per person league dues; two-person handicapped scramble format; forward tee on #3; drop zone for shot in water on #5; have hamburgers/brats available, with members possibly bringing salads; sign up for Women's League by May 29th. There will also be a Women's Scramble Night on May 29th, teeoff at 5:30pm sharp.

The Men's League members attending met as a group of ten and visited about a number of areas including: Men's League to be on Thursday nights beginning June 6th; must be a HPGC member (post high school) to play in league; $20 per person league dues; two-person, score your own ball, less handicap format; have pre-ordered the night before steaks/hamburgers available, with men's league players to grill their own steaks, then consider someone to provide a form of potato and maybe a dessert, all for a set steak/hamburger meal price; sign up for Men's League by May 30th.

The Mixed League (one male, one female) met thereafter, deciding: Monday Night Mixed League Night with a hopeful start date of June 3rd; must be a member to play in league; $20 per person league dues; two-person handicapped scramble format; hopefully have a few couples provide theme and plan food for league nights; sign up for Mixed League by May 27th.

The key to all three leagues will be participation! Can we get enough people signed up in each of the three leagues to make it worth our while? It was agreed that everyone needs to be an ambassador for HPGC and talk up our golf leagues with friends, family and work associates. At press time Monday, May 20th, we had 9 women's two-person teams; 5 men's two-person teams; and 6 mixed two-person teams signed up. We'll need more within the next week to move forward with further planning of league division standings. Please call 701-567-2339 to sign up for either women's or men's and hopefully mixed golf leagues. Thank you for considering joining one or more of our golf leagues. Hettinger Public Golf Course, where everyone is welcome.

GRASS CLIPPINGS BLOWN INTO THE GUTTER

It is once again time to remind all residents it is an infraction of Bowman City Ordinance 3.0201.1 to blow GRASS CLIPPINGS into the street. The mowing, raking or placement of grass clippings, leaves or other vegetation onto the street or other drainage into the city storm sewer system is prohibited. If heavy rains occur, buildup of the clippings in the sewers restrict the flow of water and can cause flooding in the storm sewer locations. Infractions can result in fines not less than $25 up to $500.

Please refrain from blowing clippings into the streets.

Spiritual Life

Father Ben Franchuk
St. Charles - Bowman, ND
St. Mel's - Rhame, ND
St. Mary's - Marmarth, ND

I recently read an article on Dietrich von Hildebrand's 5 categories of spiritual life. It was fascinating as he described the categories how relatable they are in our lives. We all know people who fall into each category. As you read, reflect upon those people and honestly ask the question, "Which of these categories honestly describes my spiritual life?"

The first category Von Hildebrand introduces the denier of the spiritual universe. This person knows only what the physical world can teach him. He may have a moral code, but only in as much as it benefits his survival and well-being. His primary goal in life is to eat, drink, and be merry.

The second category is the acceptor of the spiritual universe but only to his own utilitarian benefit. This man says, I believe in God so much as it benefits me. My eternal salvation is on the line, so I'll do good only to gain this prize, not out of love for my Lord. I dodge the crosses I receive. I give to the poor only from my excess. I pray with my lips, but not my heart. Jesus loves me, so clearly He wants me to be comfortable all the days of my life.

The third is the man who accepts the spiritual universe and believes that he has attained perfection already. The man successfully reasons that his very existence is contingent upon God's power and focuses all his energy on bathing himself in God's perfect light. He spends 11 hours a day in prayer and publicizes his spiritual insights to all the pagans on social media when he is on his bathroom breaks. He's memorized the Summa and reads three books on Christian spirituality per week. Like osmosis, this man's constant contact with perfection makes him believe he is perfect, saying like the Pharisee to the tax collector in Luke's Gospel, "O God, I thank you that I am not like the rest of humanity—greedy, dishonest, adulterous—or even like this tax collector" (Lk 18:11).

The fourth man is an interesting case. He accepts the spiritual universe as well as the physical world that surrounds him. He has a moral code and a quasi-understanding of metaphysics. But instead of accepting his limitations as a human, he allows the natural to be a direct translation of his spiritual favor. This man puts the cart before the horse. His natural state dictates his spirituality. Only Christ can dictate such things. A man like this cannot transform himself into Christ for he has already filled himself with his own nature—there's no room for Jesus.

There is a final contestant. He is fully aware of his imperfections and strives to limit any and all imbibing of sins that keep him inebriated. He knows this is impossible and calls upon the Lord to take his human nature and replace it with the divine, to fill him with the life-giving water of mercy, God's forgiveness, the elixir of true spiritual perfection. He hungers for holiness, empties himself, and lets God replace his earthly drunkenness with holy sobriety, "satisfying his longing, good measure, and flowing over" (Divine Office). He knows he is human, but he also knows he is destined to become like God, a partaker in the divine nature (2 Peter 1:4). This holy man knows that "Only by developing along the proper lines in the framework of earthly life can [he] mature for eternity" (Von Hildebrand, Transformation in Christ, Holy Sobriety, p.472). He "relies more on factual evidence than on inner voices and feelings" (VH 476). And he "is free from the obsession that his needs must be something unique and extraordinary..." (VH 477).

Hopefully at this point, you can see people in your lives who fall into each category. You also recognize your own spiritual life in these categories. Spiritual life, and God, are essential in the Christian life and knowing our faults, helps us to see him more. We must turn to him as the person in the 5th category does. The others are creating an illusion which is not reality. My encouragement is to ask God for the grace needed to grow in your spiritual life to the point of knowing human weakness, and the greatness of God. Know of my continued prayers.

 Build Dakota is a highly competitive full-ride scholarship offered to the best and the brightest students attending one of South Dakota's four technical colleges. It is made possible by a generous donation from T. Denny Sanford, a commitment from Governor Kristi Noem, and support from our outstanding industry partners. The scholarship was originally established in 2015 by T. Denny Sandor and Governor Dennis Daugaard.
 The program pays for all the expenses required to complete a program in one of Build Dakota's approved high-need workforce areas. It includes tuition, fees, books, laptop, tools, and any other requirements of the program. In return for the full-ride scholarship, this student has agreed to share his talents with South Dakota by working there for at least three years following graduation. The value of this award, depending on the program's length, is up to $35,000.
 It is with great honor that we present this full-ride scholarship to attend Western Dakota Technical College for Diesel Technology.

rallied around your families, and we honored you. But today's different.

Instead of cheers, you might hear laughs at the military's expense. Instead of waving flags, you might see movies or the media degrade, denigrate, and disrespect your service.

Believe it or not, in some circles today, professional athletes, actors, and social media influencers are thought of more highly than the men and women who wear the sacred uniforms of America's armed forces.

Thankfully, there are still some of us who cherish your name, who hold hands over hearts, who pray for your family left behind with only tears and folded flags.

So whichever your war, please know some of us will never stop thinking of you.

Whatever your rank and no matter your medals, we will never stop loving you.

Whether you died in combat or in training, on soil belonging to us or to a foreign enemy, or on your first tour or your fifth, we will never stop fighting for your legacy.

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

As we all have a bit of down time because of a National Holiday, I got to thinking a bit about it. This is Memorial Day weekend and on Monday, instead of the original Memorial day, designated as such which was May 5, 1868, and then was changed in later years to May 30th and again in 1971, changed to the last Monday in May in order to create a 3 day weekend for federal Employees. So what is the true message of Memorial Day?

Every year on the last Monday of May, the United States observes Memorial Day, a day dedicated to remembering the brave men and women who were deceased serving the country in wars and military conflicts. It's a day of solemn remembrance, but also a time to reflect on the sacrifices made to preserve freedoms. Since Memorial Day is a reminder of the brave men and women who served our country and gave their lives for our freedom, it's not just a day off. It's a time to think about why we remember these heroes. For Veterans, it's a chance to honor those who are no longer here.

We have gotten into a habit of saying 'Happy' in preface to Memorial day. What we really should do is take a few minutes to observe Memorial Day. At 3 pm local time, Americans are asked to take part in the National Moment of Remembrance, a time to pause in a moment of silence to honor those who have died serving the U.S. If you wish to say something instead of that, wishing someone a blessed Memorial Day or a beautiful Memorial Day is more appropriate, since we are thanking those that have died, rather than those that are currently serving.

By the time you read this, the day will have passed and hopefully those of us that have had members of our family who have served and who are serving their country will take the time to remember. I do know that there are many Veterans who will never forget those that served with them who are no longer here. Most of the Department of Veterans Affairs national cemeteries display an Avenue of Flags on patriotic holidays and special events. The Avenues consist of burial flags donated by the families of deceased Veterans and provide a unique visible tribute to all of our Nation's Veterans.

In any case, despite what some may think of wars and soldiers, I found this on social media, written by Jason F. Wright, an Author, Creator and Speaker which I think says it all.

Dear Fallen Soldier, It's Memorial Day again, and the world sure has changed since you gave your life in the cause of freedom.

I'm sad to share that society is more divided and chaotic than ever. Some even seek to diminish your service and sacrifice.

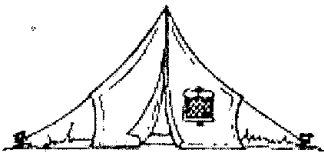

In seasons past, we revered brave men and women like you as heroes.

We lifted up your names to heaven, we looked up to you, we took care of your needs, we

This Memorial Day, no matter what our changing world might say, I want you to know just how thankful we are for you, your spirit, and your courage. You are America's heart. And we will never, ever forget.

Respectfully,
A Grateful American
I cannot say it better than this. God Bless you All.

Small acts of kindness will make a difference in your community.

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Lest We Forget."

Scott Nelson is farmer/rancher living on farm his Grandfather homesteaded in 1908: in Southwest North Dakota north of the Cannonball River near Flasher. In his "Spare Time" Scott is an artist/illustrator, he started drawing as a small child as soon as he could hold a pencil.

Scott works in several mediums: pen and ink, watercolor, acrylic and oils. In addition to painting he has illustrated several books and has been published in a number of magazines and contributed to the North Dakota Cowboy Hall of Fame Chronicle.

Scott has a deep respect for "The Greatest Generation" and anything related to World War II with a special interest in WWII aircraft: This lead to many interviews with WWII veteran aviators and eventually illustrating their stories on canvas.

Each painting tells a story of an actual event during the war, once completed the paintings were inspected for details and upon approval signed by the pilot. These paintings are on display in Minot, North Dakota at the Dakota Territory Air Museum. The Air Museum is just north of the Minot International Airport and worth a visit.

Scott will be speaking at the Fargo Air Museum on June 4, History Night: Illustrating WWII. For more information on Scott's art go to www.scottnelsonart.com
