Sunset in Regent, ND on Friday evening March 14

Jenny, a track star - - running, jumping, high jump - - she could do it all. Graceful, elegant - - “like watching a floating angel, they say - - even listed as star athlete for going to the Olympics. What a joy to behold. Spectators started coming from miles around - - then one day - - about to run and an unseen rock - - Jenny screamed in pain - - twisted ankle - - turned out to be broken - - surgery - - now - -.

Laying in hospital bed many visitors came to see Jenny - words of encouragement, next year - time will heal - - you are young, it will be okay. Words - words, words filled Jenny - - but to Jenny they were just words. Eventually released from the hospital, Jenny was allowed to go home.

Felt good- used crutches - come back in 6 weeks, see you - - walking out the door with crutches, Mom and Dad opening doors, giving words of encouragement meant nothing. Jenny tried to smile but in her heart she knew her running days were over.

Jenny's room was in the basement so for now, Mom and Dad had erected a bed by the living room window. Sunshine, brightness, not being alone, they figured would be good for Jenny - help her see the brightness before her - - give her hope.

But all she could see was the house next door. Much activity was going on. First the real estate agent brought people too the house, several until finally someone bought the house.

Moving in day - - Jenny watched. Several teenagers, like herself - - in out, in out, carrying boxes, filled with laughter, happy smiles, joking with each other - - how Jenny longed for those days when she and her friends did the same - - but now all she could do was watch.

Although the people had settled in, there never seemed to be a dull moment coming from the house next door. Jenny would stand and watch - - hoping maybe some day she could be running and laughing as they were.

But all she could do was hope, for she knew she'll never run again.

One afternoon, a knock on the door - - someone from the house next door entered. Been watching you look out the window - want to come and join us - - big question for Jenny - - sorry can't, got crutches - I'll just watch. At least come and watch - you can sit on other side of house - - finally Jenny agreed - - hobbled over to watch the excitement.

“Sara - Sara hurry up - we're ready to start - - out came Sara - - one leg missing, except a wooden peg - - Played basketball - winning score maker.

That night as Mom and Dad readied for supper, Jenny was different - what happened Jenny? They both questioned. She told them about the house next door, how Sara played with a peg for a leg and after the game they went in for Kool-aid - - as I was questioning Sara - I looked up and saw a picture, it reminded me of a picture on the wall at Grandmas house. She would look at it and say - Jenny no matter how tough things get, just remember - he never gave up - so don't you either - -.

Jenny went on to win her gold medal - thanks to the picture on the wall at the house next door.

Ever get that empty feeling - nothing goes right - - join the crowd - - guess thats when the wind blows, dust blows, but tomorrow its always better.

What an opportunity to empty ourselves and add a little prayer or two for our Farmers/Ranchers - - its calving time - - planting decision time - fertilizer decisions to make - - list goes on and on - - and now its time to be full of hope.

Hope that our garbage basket is full - - cuz if you have to take garbage out - you know you had something or the garbage basket would be empty.

Perfect opportunity to be thankful for farmers/ranchers, businesses in Eido Country and for you, cuz without you there would be an empty spot.

Trials and tribulations

By Kathy Craig-Harteis

Trials and tribulations are challenges of life. They often present hard-learned lessons that lead to triumph.

We've all been there at least once. Maybe multiple times.

Hind sight has shown me why certain things happened in my life.

I can see clearly now why I had to journey through hard times of sadness, frustration and despair. There was a greater plan for me. I just couldn't see it during the hard times. At my lowest points I always reminded myself that one year from that time I wouldn't remember the struggle.

Ironically, dislocating three bones in my ankle opened my eyes a bit.

My injury although a big deal and long recovery time to me is a minor inconvenience to far more injured people than me.

I've learned to find a way. I've also learned that anything worth achieving takes dedication and hard work.

One day at a time, we have to keep trying. Truly; no pain, no gain.

I have big plans for things I want to do in coming months. With that said I remind myself daily what it will take for me to do these things. It's all on me now. I have to set my goals and I have to work hard to achieve them.

I've always prided myself on being the tough one. I like being in control. As I said; lessons learned are tough. I've had to learn to move aside and accept help of others. It's a big deal for me to leave my kitchen. God bless Tom. He's learned to prepare some pretty good stuff.

But, one day soon, I'll be back.

Life is good today.

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Who would have thought having your appendix out would become a "family tradition?"

I'm the 6th person in my family to have their appendix removed: My Mom, 2 brothers, our daughter and son!

Breanne our daughter was only 10 years old, we'd had lasagna for lunch at friend's house, by late afternoon she was miserable. Living across the street from the hospital did have its advantages, we walked to the emergency room and they sent her directly to x-ray. She vomited and the doctor asked me, "What did it look like?" I said "Lasagna!" Off to surgery she went, she was sure to tell the doctor, "I want to see that thing!" Following surgery the doctor presented her with the removed appendix, it was in a medicine bottle, about 2 inches long red and nasty looking.

Nate on the other hand had a long battle with his appendix. It started when he was 4 years old. Our first trip to the ER in Bowman had a sent to Dickinson for further tests. I remember it well it was our 10th anniversary and Dave brought me a dozen roses, everyone at the hospital thought they were for Nate. As it turned out he was constipated once that was resolved they sent us home. For the next 8 years he would have these bouts and every time they'd give him enema and send him home.

Finally after 8 years of this I was planning a trip to Oregon with my parents, my cousin her husband and young daughter were killed in a car accident and we were going to the funeral. Early that morning Nate woke me up with severe abdominal pain. This time we drove him to Hettinger and he was admitted and schedule for surgery. When the doctor brought his removed appendix in I was expecting to see the same as Breanne's. Nate's appendix was about 8 inches long, infected, scared and nasty: It was snaked through his bowels and was very difficult to remove.

Fast forward to Sunday of this week. I was up early getting ready for church, not feeling great but went to church. I felt fine throughout the afternoon, but by 5:00 my stomach was very unhappy. Thinking it was something I'd eaten, I drank a kombucha and hoped for the best. I slept fairly well but by 5:00 am I was miserable. Throughout the night I wrestled with waking up Dave and going to the ER, but waited until 7:00 to wake him up, he went out to start the car only to find our we'd had freezing rain over night. The car was covered in ice, as was the road. Thankfully our daughter's car was in the garage so we drove that instead, on the way to town a school bus had slid off the road. We arrived safely at the ER; lab work came back fine so I was sent for a CT scan. The surgeon said my appendix was enlarged but it did not appear to be the problem. They sent me home with a laxative and pain meds, I was to come back if my symptoms did not resolve.

The pain meds allowed me to sleep until about 2:00 am, I took another pain pill, but as soon as the pain med wore off my pain returned: Always in the same place, just to the right of my belly button and nowhere else. My daughters decided to take matters into their hands, and called the ER charge nurse. She said I should either return to the ER or see my doctor. An appointment was made with him in Beulah.

I was immediately taken to a room, labs drawn and x-rays taken. The laxative had not done its jobs and I was full of well you know what! My blood pressure was very high and I had a horrible headache to add insult to injury. The only thing I could do was cry. After 2 ½ hours my labs came back, my infection level had doubled from the day before. My doctor spoke with the surgeon who fully expected me to be back for an appendectomy! We were sent back to the hospital in Hazen to be admitted for surgery.

Following surgery and barely awake the surgeon came in to tell me my appendix was everywhere: Similar to what Nate's must have looked like. All's well that ends well and we were home by 5:30 to rest a recover.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Our Scars Tell A Story, They Remind Us Of When Life Tried To Break Us, But Failed."

We want to thank everyone that came to Edith Crevier's 90th birthday open house at South Main Lane on March 15. Thank you for all the hugs, cards, birthday wishes and visits. What a wonderful community Edith lives in!

Greater Lemmon Area Gifts $3,790 at KBJM Farm & Home Show for West River Healthcare!

By Ted Uecker,
WRHS Foundation

Wow! The Greater Lemmon Area came out to the Annual "KBJM Farm & Home Show" in droves to support West River Health Services Foundation on Friday, March 14th at the Beeler Center on North Main Street. The crowd was sensational, especially from 11am-2pm, and we can't blame them -- the food was sensational! As was the giving! A grand total of $3,790 was given to the West River Health Services Foundation, for improvements to West River Health Services, on this windy, glorious day in Lemmon, SD.

Families, individuals, businesses and organizations all attended the terrific Show and gave for healthcare like they never have before! Usually about $1,500-$2,000 is the normal gifting at this Annual event, but the people decided to give double that this year! Maybe it had something to do with the terrific partnerships we've formed with awesome pie baker Sylvia Engle, local Pharmacist/Clothing retailer Eric Sonsalla and restaurant entrepreneur Corey Deutscher.

Sylvia supplied us with a dozen of her tasty homemade pies for the 9th straight year -- apple, banana cream, blueberry rhubarb, sour cream raisin, pumpkin, pecan and of course, lemon! Every one of the 12 pies were spoken for, with a $100 or more gift to the WRHS Foundation, within three hours of the 10:00am starting time! 12:50pm to be exact! Eric Sonsalla, owner/operator of Smith Drug & Clothiers on Lemmon's Main Street, provided $250 of incentives with ten, $25 gift cards, which Show-goers received if they gifted $50-$99 toward our WRHS Foundation. And Corey Deutscher, owner/operator of the Powder Horn Restaurant on Highway 12 in Lemmon, gifted $100 worth of incentives with ten, $10 gift cards, if people gave $10-$49 to our Foundation. Now that's community support if we've ever seen it. Scratching each other's backs -- so we continue to have a restaurant, drug store, clothing store and healthcare services. A quad-win if you will.

There's no doubt that people want this top-quality healthcare "close to home." And West River Health Services plans to keep supplying just that. Whether in Lemmon, Hettinger, Scranton, Bowman, New England or Mott, our providers and nurses are ready to travel and give you the most terrific experience. Of course, people from all across the region are invited to call 701-567-4561 to make an appointment at any one of our healthcare clinics. And our West River Ambulance and top-notch ER Team are always on call 24/7—just in case you need us!

If you'd like to support our drive to continue improving West River Health Services and Western Horizons Living Centers, please send gifts via check written to: WRHSF, 1000 Highway 12, Hettinger, ND 58639. You can also go online at wrhs.com/giving to make a credit card gift if you'd like. Either way, we will place your gift wherever you'd prefer -- Grateful Givers Club, Ambulance, one of our satellite clinics, one of our three endowment funds (Physician Recruitment, Healthcare Heroes, General), Western Horizons Living Centers, Surgery Center, Scholarship or maybe somewhere else. Call Ted Uecker direct at 701-567-3666 if you like to visit about our giving options. As always, we're here to help you, as it's still true -- our rural residents deserve the same top-quality care as our urban counterparts. Onward!

Flasher Farmers Union Grain and Oil ("Seller") is inviting the public to place bids for the purchase of a grain elevator site and underlying real property owned by Seller located at 110 South Main Street, Flasher, North Dakota 58535 (the "Elevator"), with the following specifications:

- A) "Farmers Union" Elevator (wood)
- B) Butler 140'x50' Steel Building
 - a. 60'x50' Cold Storage (12'x12' overhead door)
 - b. 80'x50' Insulated Shop (16'x14' overhead door)
- C) 72'x32' Wood Frame / Steel Sided Cold Storage Building
- D) 45' x 72' All wood cold storage building with 6 bays (was fertilizer storage facility)
 - a. 8 ton fertilizer blender and conveyor system

The Elevator site shall be sold AS-IS, WITH ALL FAULTS, AND WITHOUT ANY WARRANTIES, WHETHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, subject to separate written purchase agreement between the winning bidder and Seller, which shall include the leaseback of the Elevator to Seller or its assign for a period of not less than Eighteen (18) months. Seller may terminate the sale of any of the Elevator at any time prior to the actual transfer of title to the property, for any reason or no reason, in its sole discretion.

All bids must be accompanied by a letter of credit from a financial institution for the total proposed bid price, or a cashier's check in the amount of 10% of the proposed bid price, together with a summary of the proposed use of the Elevator by the bidder in the event such bid is selected.

Bids must include, at a minimum, the bidder's: (i) name, (ii) address, (iii) phone number, (iv) email address (if available), (v) the letter of credit or cashier's check noted above, and (vi) if the bidder is a business entity, the name(s) and addresses of the officers/agents who are legally authorized to contractually bind the bidder must be provided.

SELLER RESERVES THE RIGHT TO REJECT ANY AND ALL BIDS FOR ANY REASON OR NO REASON IN SELLER'S SOLE DISCRETION, AND SHALL UPON REJECTION, RETURN ANY CHECK OR LETTER OF CREDIT TO THE REJECTED BIDDER(S). SELLER ALSO RESERVES THE RIGHT TO FURTHER NEGOTIATE TERMS OF POTENTIAL SALE WITH ANY ONE OR MORE BIDDER.

The deadline for bid submissions is 5:00 p.m. CST, on 04/04/2025, 2025. All bids must be delivered to the following address, whether (i) personally, (ii) via U.S. Postal Service, or (iii) other reputable third-party courier service:

Flasher Farmers Union Grain and Oil
110 South Main Street
Flasher, ND 58535

Please contact Chris Heidrich with your request for any additional information regarding this purchase opportunity by calling 701-754-2252 or emailing cheidrichdfo@bektel.com, or to request a physical inspection/walkthrough of the Elevator. Please note that the provision of certain information will be contingent upon the execution of a Confidentiality and Non-disclosure Agreement by the bidder.

Please be sure to comply with all bidding procedures to ensure your bid is considered. Thank you for bidding!

Our stranded astronauts came back to earth from space Wednesday. So, what actually happened up there? On June 5, 2024, NASA sent astronauts Suni Williams and Butch Wilmore, via a Boeing Starliner spacecraft, on what was supposed to be an 8-day trip to the International Space Station. Instead, prior to docking with the ISS, the Starliner experienced helium leaks and several of the thrusters overheated and quit working. Astrophysicist Jonathan McDowell summed it up as the $4.2 billion spacecraft was "acting like my old, cheap car that I used to have...you'd have to sort of coddle it to make it do its thing." In other words, the spacecraft malfunctioned and, NASA had to inquire—was this a sign of bigger problem(s) that could endanger the astronauts' lives? End result? The risk of trying to return, on time, was not worth the danger to the astronauts. NASA's next plan was to modify a September flight to allow Williams and Wilmore to return with that crew.

Why that didn't happen is about as clear as mud. NASA claimed that in order for the ISS to be "fully staffed", bringing back the two stranded astronauts in September would leave the ISS short-handed. Then prompting the usual talking heads to claim that being "stranded" for right at 9 months is no big deal because it's "overstating" the problem. Huh?

You invited your family over for Christmas week and, now, they're staying until Labor Day next year? No big deal? Well, I guess, except for Boeing and NASA. McDowell concedes, this debacle amplifies "all the other embarrassing things that have happened to Boeing aircraft and spacecraft in recent years," i.e., 737 Max crashes, the Alaska Airlines jet, and, their satellite that recently blew up. McDowell continued, the Starliner malfunction "just adds to the sense that this aerospace giant has lost its mojo."

And, NASA (those wacky feds)? Embarrassing incompetence at a time when the vast majority (72%) of Americans are sick of government spending too much with too little return on investment. And, although Boeing's Starliner has not actually managed to get an astronaut to AND from space, Elon Musk and SpaceX have certainly filled the bill. As McDowell puts it, SpaceX is "looking like the safe and reliable space Uber." And, the old administration's claims (as well as their supporters) that this is NO big deal is just...annoyingly tone deaf. If the astronauts weren't stranded, why did it take so long to get them back? And, if you nay-sayers won't admit the truth, take a lesson from the pod of dolphins that welcomed our astronauts home on March 18th. If they can be happy, can't you? Have a great week.

Reflections on the Words of Life

by Pastor Paul Ferrie, Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

Today as we begin chapter 2 of 1 Peter, we should realize that Peter is dealing with the same subject with which chapter 1 ended: the Word of God and what it will do in a person's life. We have seen that God's Word is instrumental in causing a person to be born again and in purifying his or her soul. Furthermore, unlike the constantly changing words of man, the Word of God lives and abides forever.

In the passage before us today, Peter is concerned to show us the power of the Word of God to keep making the believer more and more like Christ. The point at which a person believes the gospel and becomes a follower of Jesus Christ is just the beginning of the role which the Word of God plays in the believer's life. From then on, the believer must continue to read and study the Word in order to keep growing spiritually. And that is Peter's point in the first three verses of chapter two: "Therefore, laying aside all malice, all deceit, hypocrisy, envy, and all evil speaking, (2) as newborn babes, desire the pure milk of the word, that you may grow thereby, (3) if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is gracious."

Peter begins in verse 1 with the negative side of spiritual growth: those things which a believer in Christ seeks to eliminate from his or her life. The new birth is a radical and fundamental change in a person. As we read in 2 Corinthians 5:17, "Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new." The believer is a new creation because God has put an entirely new nature in the one who is born again.

Now in the opening verse of chapter 2, Peter is showing us that the new birth produces a radical change which begins on the inside and will eventually become observable on the outside. And one of the main changes which the new birth brings into the believer's life is conviction of sin. The believer is no longer content to live with sin. Conviction is the first step of getting rid of sin and is evidence that the Holy Spirit is working in a life. Such conviction will make believers uncomfortable with wrong attitudes, actions, and words. Lord willing, next time we shall look at the specific sins which Peter lists as those which must be put away.

Though it is not easy to go through life constantly being convicted of sin, it is proof that a person belongs to God. We read in Hebrews 12:6-8: "For whom the LORD loves He chastens, and scourges every son whom He receives. If you endure chastening, God deals with you as with sons; for what son is there whom a father does not chasten? But if you are without chastening, of which all have become partakers, then you are illegitimate and not sons." The unbeliever may appear to go blissfully through this life, getting away with sins and not bothered by them. But the writer of Hebrews says that this proves that he is not a child of God. Friends, it is not worth breezing through life, unaffected by sin and not caring that you have a soul that will spend eternity somewhere. Much better to place your trust in the Lord Jesus Christ to make (Lemmon, SD) The Grand River Arts Council is pleased to present Missoula Children's Theatre's (MCT) adaptation of PINOCCHIO. Community youth audition on the Monday of show week and learn songs, staging, and lines for a full musical in only 5 days! Everyone is invited to cheer on local youth and enjoy the show!

Public performances will be held April 4th at 6:00 pm and April 5th at 1:00 pm at the Lemmon Beeler Community Center. Watch as Missoula Children's Theatre collaborates with local K-12 students to bring to life the beloved tale of a wooden puppet whose greatest wish is to become a real boy. Admission fees: $10 for Adults, $5 for K-12 Students, with free admission for kids 5 and under.

Show Synopsis: Geppetto fashioned the puppet in the image of a small boy. Even as the lonely and kind wood carver worked far into the night, old Geppetto was not aware that the wood under the chisel had come from the trunk of an enchanted tree. But the Blue Fairy was aware, as she watched from afar and gave to that puppet the gift of life. Thus, begins the Missoula Children's Theatre adaptation of one of the most beloved of all children's stories-PINOCCHIO. Join our wooden-head as he dances with Geppetto's charming toys, travels the road to Pleasure Isle with Candlewick and his Crew, and is swindled by the unsavory Fox and Cat. After escaping the clutches of the evil puppet master, Stromboli, Pinocchio finds himself in trouble once more-this time swallowed by a monstrous whale. Very scary stuff! As Geppetto and the friendly Urchins spin their magical tale, we learn with Pinocchio that there are no shortcuts on the road to becoming a real, live boy.

Missoula Children's Theatre is a non-profit organization based in Missoula, Montana. This coming year more than 65,000 cast members across the globe will take to the stage to the delight and applause of their families, friends, community, neighbors and teachers!

The Grand River Arts Council (GRAC) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that exists to promote arts and culture in the communities surrounding the Grand River in Northwest South Dakota and Southwest North Dakota. Find the Grand River Arts Council on Facebook and Instagram or visit their website grandriver-artsCouncil.art

National Agriculture Month

By Marlene Kouba

March is National Agriculture Month while National Ag Day is March 21 during Agriculture Week.

National Ag Day was founded by the Agriculture Council of America in 1973 to promote agriculture and the first National Ag Day was celebrated in 1979 in Washington DC. The organization is now over 50 years old. Most people don't understand the contribution of agriculture to our lives. Everything we eat, use, or wear every day is provided by agriculture as well as offering many employment opportunities. Less than 2 million people in our country are directly employed in the ag sector but about 22 million are employed in the industry.

American farmers produce abundant, healthy, nutritious and safe food for their families and the world. U.S. farmers are among the most productive and are proud stewards of our land, water and air while leading the way in conservation and preserving our nation's lands. One U.S. farmer now feeds 165 people annually in America and abroad. In 1960 it was just 26 people.

North Dakota leads the nation in producing dry edible beans, canola, flaxseed, honey, oats, rye, durum, spring wheat and oil and non-oil sunflowers—the kind you like to eat! We are second in producing sugarbeets, peas and barley with much of that made into cattle feed or beer.

Our state annually produces enough wheat for 15.5 billion loaves of bread; soybeans to make 483 billion crayons; potatoes for 171 million servings of french fries; beef for 100 million hamburgers; wool for 421,500 sweaters; milk for 894 million glasses; pork for 41 million pork chops; sunflowers to fill 726 million bags of seeds to eat; and corn to sweeten 45 billion cans of soda. If you ate pasta three times a week, it would take 70 weeks to eat all the pasta made from one bushel of durum.

The crops in North Dakota generate over $9 billion annually. It leads economies in at least 48 other states as well. Over 26% of our state are farmers and ranchers or are employed in agriculture-related businesses or industries.

Beef cattle and wheat are raised in every county in North Dakota and the state has 10,000 dairy cattle with most in Morton County.

Each year less of the money for your food goes to the farmer. The farmer's share was 23 cents in 1997. It dropped to 15.9 cents in 2023. In 2001, the farmers only received 7.4 cents of every dollar spent on food, which was down .5 cents from the previous year. Where does the rest of the money go? It goes to food services, food processing, retail and wholesale trade, finance and insurance, transportation, energy, advertising, packaging and other sources.

Prices for your foods are increasing but there is less than a nickel's worth of wheat for a farmer in the price of your loaf of bread. The cost of equipment, fertilizer, seed, chemicals and insurance has increased much more than the price of the grain. A new tractor or combine costs much more than most houses yet are used only a few months of the year.

Here are a few little known facts about things related to agriculture: Lasagna originated in Greece. There are 4,500 species of bees in North America. Bananas are technically berries. A baby mouse is called a pinkie. There are 3,000 varieties of pears and they date back to about 1,000 B.C. Pop-Tarts were trademarked in 1965. Peppers are fruits as they have flowers and seeds. A bee has 6 legs. The largest earthworms are 8 feet long and are considered a delicacy in Australia. Soybeans originated in China. Barbed wire was invented in 1867. The elephant is the only mammal with 4 knees but cannot jump. All cheese is naturally white as it is made from milk but yellow food coloring is added. Roosters cannot crow if they cannot fully extend their necks. No two spots on a Holstein cow have the same pattern as they are like fingerprints. Chickens are the only bird with a comb. Jell-O was introduced in 1897. The fuzzy coating on sheep is called fleece while goats have hair. The orange is a berry. Pigs cannot look up into the sky. Tuna can swim up to 27 mph. Canada thistle came from Eurasia, not Canada. Licorice helps stomach ailments. Each eye of a duck has three eyelids. The holes in Swiss Cheese are called eyes.

Your food, clothing, fiber and fuel do not start in a store. Thank a farmer for their contribution to many things in your life.

Frank Anton Kraft Rites Held

Frank Anton Kraft, 96, Mandan ND, died March 1, 2025, at St Alexius Hospital, Bismarck, after a brief illness (and frankly, ice fishing season had ended).

Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10:30 A.M., Monday, March 10, 2025 at Spirit of Life Catholic Church, Mandan. Inurnment with military honors followed in the North Dakota Veterans Cemetery, Mandan. Followed by a luncheon in the church fellowship hall.

He was born in Walker, SD on August 23, 1928, living on the farm, northwest of Selfridge with his parents Jacob and Anna (Mosset) Kraft, big brother to 5 brothers and 3 sisters, the youngest sister born when he was overseas in Korea. After finishing 8th grade, he stayed home to work on the farm. He continued his education by taking many correspondence courses, including Taxidermy. He mounted two pheasants at the request of his mother, which she proudly displayed in their home for many years.

He was drafted into the US Army Feb 21, 1951, and was stationed at Ft Worden & Ft Flagler WA for 10 months for Winch Operator training with the 369th EASR, Company D Shore Battalion and was moved to Camp Desert Rock, Nevada. After 45 days he received his overseas orders, was sent to Ft Lewis to process. He enjoyed a short leave at home and left Seattle on the ship Hugh Gaffie for 9-day voyage to Tokyo. There, he had several weeks of Tank Maintenance School. Then on to Korea with the Tank Co 223 Infantry Regiment. They maintained M4 & M46 tanks in the Punchbowl area; his camp 3 miles from the front line. The M46 Patton was a 50-ton tank with the ability of 55 mph, but they were in poor shape. Out of 21 tanks only 3 didn't need work. Four tanks were always on the front line, using 30-ton tank retrievers to move them back and forth to their camp. He had more training for four weeks in Seoul.

He had a few close calls: a fire in a tank needed to be extinguished by scooping snow into the tank while avoiding shelling from the enemy; being overcome with carbon monoxide while the crew was towing a tank with the retriever, his crew discovered he was in danger and pulled him out to revive him in fresh air. Another time he left his helmet atop the tank while he worked inside only to discover a bullet hole in it when he retrieved it later!

Once when moving a tank, his Sgt decided to drive it instead but really had no idea how to do it, so Frank had to hit the brakes before they crashed. The Sgt then told him to drive!

"I found out what COLD was like sleeping in a tent with no heat at 12 below!" Ever since he could take any kind of hot weather but hated being cold, except for his lifelong love of ice fishing in his hut!

He received his discharge orders; he was sent to Japan to wait for a ship home. The one night he could go shopping to buy gifts for family back home, Frank was put on fire duty patrol in the barracks. Sleeping in bed was a court-martial offense, but when he caught an offending officer, he made a quick decision not to report it because he did not want to stay 2 more weeks for a subsequent court martial. He was ready to go home!

He sailed back via San Francisco, then flew to Seattle to process out at Ft Lewis on Feb 21, 1953, having been overseas 10 months and 9 days. He traveled back to Selfridge with sister Ann, brother-in-law Leroy and baby nephew Tommy. The heater in Leroy's car did not work well and the baby was crying from the cold. They stopped in Montana; Frank used his Army earnings to buy a car with a working heater so they could go the rest of the way home in comfort.

After getting to know new baby sister Arlene, he worked at the Mandan Creamery for 2 months, enjoying new friends with frequent butter fights until a surprise inspection put an end to it when they were almost caught with butter all over their backs.

He went to Spearfish, SD, and worked in masonry construction until November when he enrolled in Radio and TV repair at Coyne Electric School in Chicago, IL. He liked working part-time in an electric fan factory and as a cab driver. The cabbie stint ended when a cabbie who had traded shifts with Frank was shot and killed.

When his course was finished and no jobs were available in the repair trade, he went back to masonry work in Spearfish. Sometimes, sleeping in his car to afford food & washing his face in the cold Spearfish Creek or staying in a boarding house with a kind lady feeding him well.

In Sept 1953 at a dance in Reeder ND he met Frances Poljansek, introduced by her sister Agnes. Their first dance together was "The Blue Skirt Waltz," instantly Frances liked him for warm, friendly demeanor, and he was a great dancer. They married June 28, 1955, in Hailley ND, beginning a life together raising a family of 3 sons and 3 daughters. Living in Spearfish, Aberdeen, McIntosh, Mobridge and settling in Watertown, SD, buying their small hobby farm of 9½ acres NW of town.

Frank's masonry career continued becoming a bricklayer apprentice in March 1960 until 1963 when he became a Journeyman Bricklayer for a career spanning 51 years, working in six states and even volunteer bricklaying in Mexico at a children's dental clinic after retirement.

Frank was always busy in their three gardens, caring for farm animals: cows, chickens, ponies, and sheep. After all their children graduated from WHS, they moved back to Mobridge in 1996, enjoying retirement, traveling, and spending winters in Texas for 13 years. Frank enjoyed volunteering hundreds of hours at the South Tx Natl Wildlife Refuge Complex. Frank enjoyed many hobbies: year-round fishing (after catching his 1st fish at age 7, his favorite was catching walleye), hunting, gardening, woodworking (he once built a small wooden speed boat in an extra bedroom during the winter), restoring small engines, skeet/trap shooting, camping, boating, beer and wine making, Amateur Radio (participating in events communicating with other Hams all over the world).

He was an active member in several fraternal organizations, frequently serving as an officer in: JayCees, Moose, Eagles, VFW, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and the Bricklayers Union.

The greatest joys of his life were his family. He loved his wife of nearly 70 years, taking immense pride in his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. He loved playing games with them, walking along the shorelines, sharing his love of camping and fishing. Never wanting to miss being there for special milestones of those little ones. He was already ready to share his wit and laughter. There are memories we will treasure for eternity of the fun we shared with him.

Most recently, at his 96th birthday celebration, Aug 24, 2024, he was the surprised recipient of the first Honorary High School Diploma for Selfridge High School, being awarded by former Superintendent Jim Gross. He became a celebrity overnight when his story was told by KFYY's Jody Kerzman's Good News spotlight two days later. It was quite a fitting honor for a veteran and life-long learner.

Frank is preceded in death by his parents, sisters: Anna Nielsen and husband Leroy, Edith Flohr and husband John; brother: Tony and wife Jean; sisters-in-law: Karen (Willy) Kraft; Agnes Peterson and husband Tollof; brothers-in-law: Russell Walch, Anton Poljansek and wife Paula; Dan Poljansek; Sam Poljansek and wife Sandy; Michael Kinnard, Paul Besselievre; nephews: Dennis Kraft, Kevin Kraft, Wade Donner, Mark Besselievre; niece: Marilyn Nielsen Crombie; daughter in law Becky Smith Kraft; Great Grandson AJ Wiblishouser.

Del Kenitzer Rites Held

Funeral Services for Del Kenitzer, 92, of Baker were held at 11:00 a.m. Thursday, March 20, 2025 at Stevenson Funeral Home in Baker.

Family Receiving Friends took place 4:00-6:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 19, 2025 at Stevenson Funeral Home in Baker.

Del passed away on March 14, 2025 at Fallon Medical in Baker.

Born on September 20, 1932, in Adams County, North Dakota, Delwayne Ray Kenitzer was the cherished son of Herman H. Kenitzer and Lila Oleson Kenitzer. As the younger sibling of his sister Marvis, he grew up on the family farm, a place he loved dearly. Del and Marvis attended school in Bucyrus, North Dakota. Upon completing his education, Del fulfilled his duty to his country by joining the United States Army and was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. It was during a blind date that he met the love of his life, Janice Glenn. The couple married on August 31, 1957, in Reeder, North Dakota, and together they welcomed three children: Delenna (DeeDee), Wincel, and Kenneth.

Following their marriage, Del and Jan moved to Dickinson, North Dakota, where Del worked for Montana Dakota Utilities. A few years later, the family relocated to Hebron, North Dakota, where Del took on the role of lineman. He dedicated countless hours to maintaining utility services, famously working tirelessly for 72 straight hours during the blizzard of 1967 to restore power to surrounding communities.

Del was an active member of the Hebron community and contributed generously of his time and talents. He participated in various organizations, including the Lions Club, Elks Lodge, Jaycees, and the park board. His commitment extended to volunteering with the local 4-H Club and serving as a Boy Scout leader. In recognition of his contributions, Del was awarded the Distinguished Service Award. He was instrumental in enhancing community sports by helping to bring lighting to Hebron's football field and tennis courts after studying the lighting infrastructure in Baker, Montana.

In 1972, Del's career brought him from Hebron to Baker, Montana, where he once again immersed himself in community service. He served on the Chamber of Commerce Board, the Fallon County Fair Board, and the American Lutheran Church Board, as well as contributing to the Lions Club. Additionally, Del held the position of vice president on the Fallon County Economic Development Board.

In 1976, Del and Jan took an entrepreneurial leap by purchasing the Star Rest Hotel and renaming it the Sagebrush Inn. They dedicated themselves to rebuilding and remodeling the hotel, taking immense pride in offering quality lodging to their community.

After retiring, Del and Jan enjoyed many adventures together, including a memorable three-month motorhome excursion to Alaska with friends, creating stories and lasting memories along the way. They spent their winters in Casa Grande, Arizona, where they forged numerous friendships and cherished experiences. As Jan began to struggle with dementia, the couple sold their home in Arizona and returned to Montana, eventually settling in Spearfish, South Dakota, to be closer to family and medical care. When they needed more assistance, they moved back to Baker, where they lived until their passing.

Del is survived by his daughter DeeDee and her husband John Geving, his son Wincel and his wife Stephanie, as well as his son Kenneth and his wife Cheryl. He leaves behind nine grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his beloved wife of 67 years, his parents, his sister and brother-in-law, one nephew, and several aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Delwayne Ray Kenitzer's legacy is one of love, service, and community involvement, leaving a lasting impact on all who knew him.

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

St Patrick's Day is celebrated annually on March 17 and is a global celebration of Irish culture and commemorates the death of St Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, who was born in Roman Britain and is believed to have died around 480 A.D. Most of us here in the US are not Irish, but on this one day of the year, we can all pretend to be, just for the enjoyment of it.

St Patrick, while widely associated with Ireland, was actually born in Roman Britain near the end of the 4th century and was taken to Ireland as a slave at the age of 16. The day is a religious and cultural holiday that commemorates the life of St. Patrick and the arrival of Christianity in Ireland. He is believed to have returned to Ireland after escaping slavery and dedicated his life to spreading Christianity through the country. Though he is venerated as a saint, St Patrick was never formally canonized by the Catholic Church because there wasn't a formal canonization process during his lifetime. The shamrock, which is a three leaved clover is a symbol of Ireland and is often associated with St. Patrick's Day, which is celebrated worldwide, with parades, festivals and cultural events taking place in many countries. The first St. Patrick's day parade took place in Boston in 1737, while Ireland's first parade was held in Waterford in 1903.

St Patrick's day is a time to celebrate Irish heritage and culture, with many people wearing green, enjoying traditional music and food and participating in festivals. Many of these celebrations often include parades, parties and drinking green beer with corn beef and cabbage for a meal. In Boston, they also celebrate Evacuation Day on this date as in Boston and all of Suffolk County, it is the date which ended the Siege of Boston, the date in 1776 when British General William Howe evacuated his men and ships from Boston early in the Revolutionary War. Holiday music courtesy of bagpipes and marching bands, will fill the streets of Boston. It pays respect to troops and veterans of the US military and the route weaves through the city on its famous streets across a roughly 3.5 mile span. In 1941, it became a legal holiday in Boston.

The 'wearing of the green' refers to the tradition of wearing green, particularly on St. Patrick's Day, which is a symbol of Irish pride and nationalism, often linked to the Irish rebellion of 1798 and the Society of United Irishmen. This was a revolutionary group seeking to overthrow British rule in Ireland, who adopted green as a symbol of their cause. The color green became closely associated with Irish identity and resistance, and the phrase 'wearing of the green' signifies Irish pride and a symbol of resistance. There is an Irish street ballad of that name that dates back to that rebellion, launched by the revolutionary republican organization that launched the rebellion. As the ballad bitterly says, 'They're hanging men and women there for wearing o' the green.

While the Irish flag includes the color orange, wearing orange on St Patrick's Day is often seen as insensitive or disrespectful as it is associated with Protestantism and the Orange Order, which has historical ties to conflict with Irish Catholicism

Whether you are Irish by birth, or just Irish for the day, the celebration is observed by 62% of the American population. Although, other than in Boston, it is not a national holiday, it is highly observed by a large number of people. Children spend time drawing and coloring shamrocks and reading about leprechauns and parents look for green clothing for them to wear to school. Corn beef and cabbage is cooked in many households and quite a few adults enjoy a 'green' beer in celebration. For most of us, it is a bit of fun and a break from cold weather and dreary grey days and we can see spring on the horizon. So if you claim Irish heritage or just want a break from the everyday, pull out that green, put a jig in your step and go for it! We can all use a bit of an uplift in our days. God Bless you All.

RECIPE OF THE DAY

BBQ GREEN BEANS

4 slices bacon, chopped

1/4 c. onion, chopped

1/3 c. ketchup

1/4 c. brown sugar

1 Tbsp. worchestershire sauce

(2) 16 oz. cans french style green beans, drained

Brown bacon and onion in skillet. Add ketchup, sugar and worchestershire. Simmer for 2 minutes and place beans in casserole. Pour bacon mixture over top but do NOT stir. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes.

The WILDFIRE
Sponsored and Coached by Brad Greff spent the weekend traveling to Rapid City to compete in the Park Bench Pizza Ranch FunZone Classic! The 6th & 7th grade boys rallied hard early Sunday morning to overcome an 11 pt deficit against the SD Heat to put them in OT play. The Wildfire ended the game 45-43 to come out with an exciting 3rd place VICTORY!
Other action included - Saturday morning's game where the boys came together for a huge win over WYO Elite, but was defeated later Saturday afternoon by Kadoka to put them in the 3rd place game.

Back row: Brad Greff Coach, Blake Weisinger , Jayce Ottmar, Lane Landis, Daniel Fischer, Josh Ehls, Brayden Weisinger Asst Coach
