"A Sneak Preview"

Cell phone ringing stopped Mom and Dads conversation - -. "Looks like Josie has another story - - interesting what and how she is loving this class," and mom answered.

"Mom, Mom, you'll love this story - kinda reminds me of what you've been trying to teach me. Last night Professor Joe texted us to see "A Sneak Preview" if we wanted to come. Well we all came.

Put phone on speaker so Dad can hear this too. Here's the story. You use to do this all the time - - remember - - this Little Piggy went to market, this Little Pig stayed home, this Little Pig had roast beef, this Little Pig had none, this Little Pig cried we, we, we - all the way home."

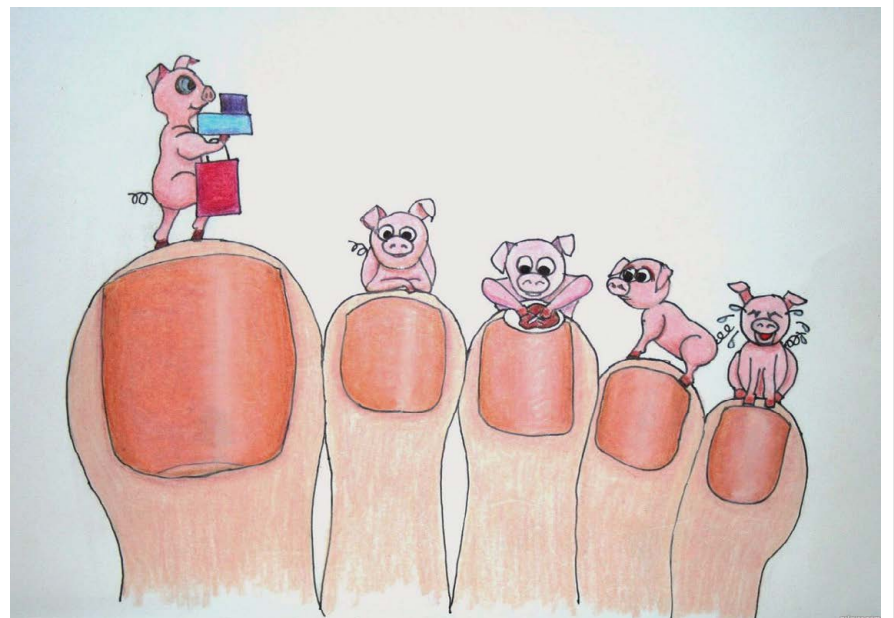

"When we got to school, excited to see what we were going to do - - he made us take off our shoes, look at our feet - - oh my, some of us protested, no, no - - it was either do what he said or leave. Sure stunk for awhile. Smelled like - sorted like dead pigs."

Then he took each little pig and explained why - -.

This little pig went to market because he heard there was more to life then just eating scraps of garbage given to them every day.

The second little pig stayed home because he heard from his cousins, the 3 little pigs, that there was a big bad wolf out there. He was going to take no chances.

The third little pig had roast beef - - because he believed his brother, the first little pig, that there was something better out in the world, besides garbage, and he brought home a delicious roast beef - - it was so good.

The fourth little pig had none - - you know why? Because he was invited to come over for roast beef and he said No - - I've heard so much about how meat isn't good for him so he chose to stay home and missed the banquet.

And the fifth little pig cried We, we, we, all the way home - - almost made us cry when he explained - - we, we, we - - we together can make a difference. But it must be we, who convinces another we, who convinces another we - - Mom - - them Professor Joe made us look at our feet, check the toes and question - - which little pig are we. Then we all agreed maybe we could go out to the market and tell people we are the big bad wolf when we are afraid, when we stay home, when we are invited but decline - - - choice we made.

We want to spread good news and together we can - - it begins with us - - we, we, we - - love you Mom and Dad."

THANK YOU!

The New Leipzig Fire Department would like to thank everyone for their generous support throughout this past year. We would like to send a special thanks to Dakota Community Bank & Trust for donating the money to pay for all the food and supplies to make this year's Oktoberfest fund raiser an even bigger success. We would also like to thank everyone that has been a long time supporter & donor to the department. The funds generated from this year's Oktoberfest are going towards a new fire truck chassis to update our 1975 International prairie unit. The safety of our fire district relies heavily on the support from our community to keep our gear up to date, and we couldn't do it without you. Thea Lee for District 39 Senate

If I had a penny for every time someone said to me, "Five years ago I never would have believed what we are seeing in our world today." I would have some extra dollars. The problems we are dealing with in society are terrifying. And yet, many of us have wasted precious time trying to navigate the party politics process in the attempt to steer our state back in the right direction. I do not agree with the works of the Democratic Party in our nation. I have always been a Republican and I absolutely agree with the ND Republican Party platform: Individual Liberty: Our rights come from The Creator; Personal Responsibility; Limited Government; Peace Through Strength and the Rule of Law; Lower Taxes; Right to Bear Arms; Family Integrity and the American Moral Tradition: "We acknowledge the immutable biological reality of, and the differences between, the two sexes, male and female, as well as their unique and complementary functions, to be the foundation for natural human life."; Quality Education: "Parents are ultimately responsible for their family's education and should be able to choose among traditional, charter, home school, on-line, private, or other alternative schools. School children should not be restricted in their rights to voluntary prayer, religious expression, and acknowledgement of God, the American flag, the Pledge of Allegiance, the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution."; and Legislative Integrity. However, I do not agree with what has been going on within the Republican Party lately. There is deep division and conflict within the Republican Party in ND and unfortunately, there are few Republicans that follow and uphold the Republican platform. Having said all of that, I still have hope that the Republican Party can be healed. But, our window of opportunity to deal with our societal issues cannot wait another four years in hopes that things get better. It is for this reason that I have decided to run for the District 39 Senate seat as an Independent. I desire to serve the people, all of the people, in our district to the best of my ability. I believe the best way to do that is to communicate well with the public so that I can be informed on how to best vote for laws that we need, or don't need. I invite all of you to be a part of this process. Feel free to contact me with any concerns, questions, or ideas on how I can serve our district and our state well. It is time the government starts serving the people, so let's stop being politicians and start being public servants.

Reflection

By Kathy Craig-Harteis

We've been home just over a week. After being very sick for a few days I got back into the matter of living in small town rural America.

Sometimes we forget the values of things that truly matter.

This past week I've attended granddaughter Lea's volleyball game, granddaughter Aubree's performance in The Little Mermaid, attended church and a fundraiser hog feed for the local fire department.

Great food and fellowship with friends and family are at the core of it all.

I look around and I see people I've known for many years. There are a few new faces too. New or remembered the look is the same. It's a look of care and pride.

Folks around here support each other. They appreciate the quality lives they live here.

Yesterday after Aubree's play I had opportunity to drive home from Glendive, Montana. It was an absolute perfect fall evening. What sometimes is a tedious drive became a pleasure. I found myself reflecting on just how lucky we all are to be allowed to live here.

Needless to say, I'm happy to be home.

My son, Val (Craig Concepts LLC) has been working on building a new deck at our house. I have to say his skill and workmanship is pretty amazing. It's going to be a great deck. We'll have more entertaining space. The improvement is huge.

Life is good today.

Legislators Meet In Regent

By Marlene Kouba

Rep. Karen Rohr of Mandan represented District #31 and Rep. Keith Kempenich of Bowman for District #39 met with the Hettinger County Farm Bureau and guests on "Meet your Legislator" night on September 28. Hettinger County is divided between the two districts.

The newly opened Black Butte Café in Regent was the site of the event with a meal provided by the Café.

The two representatives spoke of some of their interests and stressed that their areas are mostly rural. They are open to questions and concerns at any time. Energy and agriculture are two of the top issues. With the reorganization, both are up for re-election and are unopposed at this time.

Haley Robison from Amidon is Southwest field representative. She reported there will be a District #9 Fall Roundup at Fluffy Fields and Winery in Dickinson on October 22, a gun raffle with 20 winners selected in January, Route 1000 where high school students may earn $500 cash for driving safely and member benefits that include discounts with John Deere, Ford, Case, several hotels and more.

State director Weston Dvorak of Manning discussed the proposed CO2 pipeline, Land Trust and medical add-ons, such as telemedicine with counseling.

Pete Hanebutt, state policy director said Farm Bureau has members in all 50 states and Puerto Rico with over six million member families. They represent all crops and livestock. Term limits is a bad idea for the state and should not pass.

A new set of bylaws was passed and six resolutions will move on to the District meeting in Dickinson. They included activists in schools, voter ID, ag careers, school lunches, Clean Water Act and Global Diversity Framework which involves converting farmland to save fish and less meat consumption. All resolutions that are passed in Dickinson will be discussed during the state convention on November 18-19 in Bismarck before they become state policy. Trey Fischbach of Dickinson was added to the board.

There were numerous prizes but the winners of the top two were Larry Anderson with free dues for a year and Pery Kirschmann won meals for two anywhere in Hettinger County.

Hello everyone!

My name is Kristy Honeyman. I joined the Slope- Hettinger Soil Conservation back in June 2021, as the Soil Conservation Technician and Manager. Some of you might know me from the FSA side at the Mott office, but for those who might not know me, I grew up on a ranch west of Minot and attended school at Burlington-Des-Lacs. I have competed in rodeo since I was 4 years old, which led me to Dickinson State University where I received a scholarship for rodeo. While in school I worked at Stockmen's Livestock as a Vet Assistant. In 2018 I graduated with a bachelor's and an associate's degree. I have lived in Regent for almost three years. I am married to Jonah Honeyman and have a little boy named Elijah. When I'm not busy with work I enjoy watching my family, fishing, working cows, and playing cards. I look forward to assisting you with all your conservation needs!

Pam was a talented woman who accomplished any and every project she wanted. She was often found painting, sewing, decorating, and embroidering. She often made clothes, blankets, and baby items for family and friends. She was always the first one to volunteer to help out another without being asked. Pam spent over 20 years on the Mott Park Board and worked on several community projects during that time. Those projects included the upgrade to the Maercklein Park and the remodeling to the Mott Pool.

Pam also had over a twenty-year career with the Slope Hettinger Soil Conservation District. She loved working outside in the sun planting trees and being in nature. She would also often be found at the Mott Arboretum where she spent many hours planting trees, mowing grass, pulling weeds, and watering. The Arboretum was her place of peace and solitude.

Thank You!

Slope Hettinger Soil Conservation would like to say thank you to all the families that donated to the Pam Meier Memorial Project! We are still working on this special project and there will be something great coming soon!

Tree Planting 2024

If you are interested in planting for spring of 2024. Please contact our office as soon as possible to schedule an appointment to meet at or stop in!

Ground Preparation

Clumpy soil creates air pockets which will cause the roots to dry out and kill the trees.

The best time to start working your ground is the spring, one year before the planting will happen

Till it again in the spring before we come out to plant the trees. DO NOT plant a crop where the trees are going to be planted. It will compete with the trees for moisture .

The ground should be worked 4" to 8" in depth.

Weeds need to be dealt with before we come out to plant and also before we lay the fabric down.

You need to work the ground around the trees to keep the soil loose and weed free for fabric installation.

The better that the site is worked up, the better the chance of the trees surviving.

Planting into sod is not recommended. It is more difficult to do and leaves the trees fighting with the grass for valuable moisture.

Winter and Wind Burn

Wind Burn - also known as wind desiccation. This occurs when trees are exposed to dry, cold, sweeping winds. Moisture from stems and leaves are drawn out of the leaf and the stem tissue, causing cells in the leaves and the stems to break down, resulting in a brown cast on the whole leaf or on certain sections of the leaf. Wind Burn may be worst in exposed areas on the windward side of the plant. In the spring you can cut out the scorched foliage from the broadleaved evergreen trees and shrubs as the growth resumes. Conifers will often regrow from badly damaged shoots and should not be pruned. You might think that they are dead but be patient : many trees and shrubs are actually alive and will bounce back. Many plants that have wind or winter burn need to have their first flush of growth.

Thank you!

At this time we would like to give Adams County, Carson County, Dunn County and Stark County a big thank you for helping Slope Hettinger Soil Conservation while Kristy was on maternity leave and answering all her questions during her first year.

We would also like to give a big thank you to our tree planters and weed barrier help!

Albert Frey, thank you for driving our tractor all of these years, you are such an important part of our team! Jon Wegh,, thank you for being a great team leader and being patient with us while I was learning the ropes. Sarah Whitebean, thank you for all of your hard work keeping up with the building and the arboretum maintenance. Chuck Olson, thank you for your help with planting trees this year!

With these four amazing workers we were able to get all of our tree plantings done before the deadline of May 31st.

We are looking for help for the 2023 planting season.

Get your calves off to a healthy start with the Gain Smart program from BioZyme. The three-step program starts with Vita Charge Cattle Drench, that promotes feed and water intake during times of stress. Step two includes the vita Charge Stress Tub recommended for calves for the first two weeks post-weaning. The third and final step is to feed Gain Smart minerals to your calves to achieve a healthy, efficient gain. Now through the end of October take $5 off per stress tub, and $2 off per bag of Gain Smart Mineral.

PASTOR APPRECIATION (2)

Pastor Ray Sherwood
Bowman Methodist Church

This month we celebrate Pastor Appreciation and just so you know as I am sharing this, I have family who are in full time ministry...so it is something that is very near and dear to my heart. I do not share this to make you feel sorry for myself or any person in ministry...I share this so you can understand most pastor's hearts when it comes to ministering to your family, church family and community.

This comes from a pastor as he posted on FB these words:

It's Sunday morning, three minutes before the service. You hear the sound of the congregation talking, and the worship team begins to play.

People begin to sing and lift their hands encountering God. It's a beautiful scene.

Then there's you, the pastor. And you are not feeling it today. You're still thinking about the fight you had with your spouse on the way to church ABOUT church!

Not to mention 5 minutes before service, someone came and shared with you the latest person to leave the church or the newest church political drama.

All of this is on top of your own personal issues with your health, family, spirituality, finances, and unanswered prayers.

The last thing you feel like you should be doing is stepping on a stage to preach. In fact, about the only time you have spent with God was praying in your office that you don't bomb this sermon.

After service, you rush to a meeting you don't want to attend because you don't feel like being "church you" anymore.

Then at the end of the day, after faithfully serving God through all the stress and drama, you sit down and ask yourself questions like..." Should I even be a pastor? I feel like such an imposter."

We begin to water down the path of "I don't feel equipped, gifted, or holy enough to be doing what I am doing. I don't even know if I want to do this anymore."

But it's understandable to feel that way because, honestly, it's exhausting always showing up as "the pastor" and always having to be "on."

I used to feel this way so often. Like there was a church me and an authentic me. Not that they weren't congruent, but I couldn't be my entire true self and show my weakness to the people I led.

People put us on a pedestal and hold us to impossible and unbiblical standards. People who don't pastor don't understand how that feels! It feels like pressure. It feels like a fraud, and most of all, it's confusing.

Then one day, God showed me I had been making a critical mistake that was causing me to feel this way. I had allowed people and society to impose an identity based on what I do, not who I am.

Being a pastor is not who I am. And it's not who you are, either. It's what you do. It's a calling and assignment.

We have to take ourselves off the pedestal. We do that by being genuine and authentic and admitting our shortcomings, and not trying to be perfect for church people. You either climb down off the pedestal for yourself...or, eventually, you'll fall off.

That's the scariest and most disturbing question pastors ask themselves..." What would they think if they knew _____???" We all have something to write in the blank we feel disqualifies us. If we don't think we do, we may need to write pride.

Many pastors live in constant fear of people's judgments about them. Maintaining people's opinions of you is not worth your emotional and mental health. It's also not worth your marriage and your family!

It's God's opinion we should be most concerned with. If you haven't noticed, His opinions and the people He uses are far different than what we as humans would think.

Yes, when you begin to be authentic, some people will act offended. It will make them feel uncomfortable. But it's not who you are that's making them uncomfortable it's your utter freedom in being vulnerable that makes them uncomfortable...because it is calling them to a deeper place of authenticity, they aren't ready to give.

And when you still feel like an imposter at times, I want to know the surefire way to remind yourself you are not an imposter:

- Imposters don't show up when they feel defeated.
- Imposters don't encourage people while their own heart is breaking.
- Imposters don't sacrifice what they have to pastor.
- Imposters don't pray for the sick while in declining health.
- Imposters don't fund the mission when they can hardly pay their bills.

You are the real deal! You show up and you serve God. Most importantly is you haven't given up yet. Despite all the setbacks, burnout, discouragement, and heartbreak, you still are preaching the gospel and serving people.

Rewrite the story you are telling yourself. You are not an imposter. You are a human being who has gone through hell to be faithful to a God-given calling.

The imposters leave when it's hard and don't even know they are fakes until trial by fire reveals it to them and everyone else. You may not be perfect; you may struggle with sin issues. But you are here reading this anyway.

You have had to pastor in person, on zoom, you've been told that the thing you gave your life to was nonessential and had to close and have no services.

You have watched the church dwindle but keep giving it your all and best. You uncomfortably stood and preached to a camera with zero training.

That's why God called you and used you even with your flaws...because He knew He could trust you in this season we have been living in.

So, what makes you different? What qualifies you to lead even though you're messed up? You're after His heart...that is the difference!

Don't give up yet. You are doing better than you think you are!

Written by Rev. Chip Dan-drige.

I would be lying to you if I said that everything in my 29 years of ministry have been smooth sailing because it has been anything but smooth sailing. There have been some high waves and a couple of tsunamis as well!

But through it all as I look at the twilight of my pastoral ministry it has been so worth it! To see people's lives transformed by the power of the Holy Spirit, to see the reconciliation of marriages that have been torn apart, to feel the Presence of God and to know you are in His perfect divine will for yourself... yeah, it is worth it all!

I remember an old hymn called It Will Be Worth It All and I would like to close with some of the lyrics:

At times the sky seems dark, with not a ray of light;

We're tossed and driven on, no human help in sight.

But there is One in heaven, who knows our deepest care;

Let Jesus solve your problems, just go to Him in prayer.

It will be worth it all when we see Jesus!

Life's trials will seem so small when we see Christ.

One glimpse of His dear face, all sorrow will erase.

So, bravely run the race till we see Christ.

Clint Ehret Rites Held

Family received friends for Clint Ehret, 65, of Plevna on Friday, October 14, 2022 from 4:00 – 8:00 pm at Stevenson Funeral Home in Baker.

On Wednesday, October 5, 2022 Clint found his eternal peace in Billings, Montana surrounded by loved ones.

Clinton Ralph Ehret was born on December 11, 1956 in Miles City, Montana to Jake and Olga (Hempler) Ehret. Not only was he their blessing, but he brought joy and pride to Jake's brothers as well. Clint was always the apple of their eyes. As he grew up on the farm south of Plevna, he learned the value of hard work, family, and commitment. The family endeavor was a labor of love as they all worked side by side, something that he would later share with his wife, Daryll. Though he didn't want to, Clint's dad pushed him to attend college; first in Bozeman then finishing closer to home in Miles City. During that time he still continued to come home nearly every weekend to help on the farm.

A new opportunity was always around the bend for the Ehret family, and that was no exception when they had the chance to join in a partnership with the Wellenstein family owning the Bank of Baker. Jake pushed for Clint to begin working at the bank, and it was a move that changed Clint for the better. Working his way up from teller to loan officer, Clint built relationships in the community that would last throughout his life. If you asked him, he would say that he never would have made it as a loan officer without his trusty secretary, Debbie. The family always knew in their hearts that nothing came before Ehret Land Company, so in 1983 they sold out of the bank to start another chapter. While Clint did continue to work there for another couple of years he was still devoted to the farm more than anything else.

After losing his dad in 1986, Clint threw himself into full time operation of Ehret Land Company. He married Dawn Case in 1987, and in 1992 another opportunity fell into his path when, together, he and Dawn started C&D Cattle Company. Starting from the ground up, they built it into a successful business and it was yet another way that Clint could serve his community as he had done tirelessly throughout his adult life. In 1997, Clint and Dawn were blessed beyond measure when they adopted their son Chance. Just like Clint was to Jake and Olga, Chance was the apple of Clint and Dawn's eye.

Clint and Dawn later separated, eventually divorcing in 2003. During that time he made a good friend who would eventually become his partner in life, Daryll Smith. Working side by side, Clint and Daryll carried on the legacy left to Clint by his parents and uncles. Their devotion to each other was evident to everyone around them as they rarely went anywhere without each other.

Clint loved to visit, and he never met anyone who he couldn't strike up a conversation with. He was very involved in the community, but he never needed any recognition for anything he helped with. He also loved animals and took the loss of every pet like a loss of a family member. Clint had a passion for equipment, regardless of whether it was new or used. Whatever Clint did, whether it was in business or his personal life, he went all in and gave everything 100%.

In the fall of 2019, Clint was blessed beyond measure when Dawn introduced him to his loving grandson Tate. After the tragic loss of Tate, a part of Clint never recovered. His love for that little boy was so great, and he just couldn't overcome the heartache of losing Tate.

Clint is survived by his loving wife and lifelong partner, Daryll; his son, Chance Ehret (financé Dani); very special friend, Shawna (Derek) Arnell of Baker; friend, Dawn Ehret of Baker; good friend, Curt Williams; numerous other lifelong good friends in various communities; and his two favorite cats, Jack and Gus.

He is preceded in death by his beloved grandson, Tate; his parents, Jake and Olga; his uncles, Bill, Emil, and Ed; and numerous pets.

Stevenson Funeral Home, Baker

Susan May Rites Held

Susan May, 70, of Scranton, ND, passed away on Thursday, October 6, 2022 at the Southwest Healthcare Hospital in Bowman.

Funeral Services for Susan were on Wednesday, October 12, 2022 at 1:00 p.m. at the Peace Lutheran Church in Scranton. Pastor Mary Wiggins officiated with a burial that followed in the Haley Cemetery, rural Scranton, ND. There was a Family and Friends service on Tuesday, October 11, 2022 at the Peace Lutheran Church beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Susan was born on May 17, 1952, in Bowman, ND, the daughter of L. Charles and Ardele (Nelson) May of Scranton, ND. When Susan was young, she loved spending time with her dad outside. She attended 1st grade at the Hammond School and then the next year and a half she went to Gascoyne School. She started her 3rd grade in Gascoyne for the first half and finished in the new Scranton School in which she graduated from in 1970. Susan furthered her education in Dickinson and later going to Minneapolis to the University of Minnesota where she also worked in the Research Lab. Susan lost her parents at a young age so the surrounding friends, neighbors and the people she worked for had great influence on her life. Susan loved the ranch way of life and especially loved her cats. One of Susan's past times was reading, in which she would read anything and everything, especially non-fiction. For a short time Susan raised hogs and sheep. After leaving the farm, you would find Susan helping friends and neighbors with ranch work, farming and harvest. She was a very supportive sister to Gene. Always willing to help with whatever needed to be done. Susan was very compassionate with animals, never wanting them to be hungry, hurt or sick. She would definitely let know they needed to be taken care of. She also had compassion for her friends and would be willing to help in any way she could. In her early years she worked for the Sale Barn in Bowman and in later years she worked at Stockman's in Dickinson. She loved to tell stories about those days. Susan's summer activities always included helping with and enjoying the Bowman County 4-H activities, which she truly loved. She also enjoyed going to the Home on the Range Saddle Bronc match with her friends. She really looked forward to those activities. Susan was a member of the 4-H Club Stateline Lads and Lassies for 10 years along with the Range Riders Horse Club. Susan didn't have any children herself, but "loved" helping them with their livestock projects. She was an avid sports fan and other local activities. She really enjoyed kids. She was an active member of the Scranton Lions Club and she loved the weekly Burgers in the Park where she would visit with everyone and would make sure everyone had what they needed. She loved what the Lion's stood for and loved helping people that needed the help.

Susan was preceded in death by her soul mate, Marguerite Huber and her parents, L. Charles and Ardele May. She is survived by her only sibling, Gene and Susan May of Scranton, her step nieces and nephews along with numerous great nieces, nephews and cousins.

James Roland "Jim" Oberfoell Rites To Be Held

James Roland "Jim" Oberfoell, 96, of Bowman, ND, passed away on October 6, 2022, at Southwest Healthcare Services Long-Term Care. A celebration of life service will be held on November 5, 2022, at 10 AM at Pioneer Trails Regional Museum.

Jim was born November 4, 1925, in a sod house near Scranton, ND, to John and Dora (Nichols) Oberfoell. He was the youngest of seven children and grew up on the family farm in Woodberry Township. After finishing eighth grade, he worked for a neighboring farmer tending a sheep wagon in the badlands, living a solitary life with the natural world as his companion. He developed a deep appreciation for butterflies that became a life-long passion.

He was drafted into the Army in February of 1946, serving in Manila, Philippines, as a mechanic and road grade operator. Following an honorable discharge in 1947, he purchased a farm north of Bowman and worked winters off the farm to make the payments, including time in a SD mine and on an AZ cattle ranch. He married Louise Mueller on August 13, 1957. Together they raised their three children on the family farm: Sandra, Becky, and Tim.

Jim made a living on wheat, sheep, and cattle, but his real joy was finishing the farm work and going camping. He always had a pickup camper and a butterfly net, and many family outings were spent in the badlands by Amidon, the Cave Hills, and the Slim Buttes exploring nature and picnicking. Jim accumulated an extensive butterfly collection that was later donated to NDSU.

Professors and students alike visited the farm to gain from Jim's vast knowledge of butterflies.

As a grandfather, Jim went back to school and earned his GED in March 1987. He embraced technology and used a computer into his 90s. Jim served on the township board, rural school board, and was a member of the American Legion, Badlands Conservation Alliance, and a lepidopterist society.

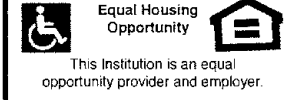

Jim was preceded in death by his parents and siblings. Jim is survived by his children: Sandra Dingfelder of Bowman, ND; Becky (Don) Oakland, Tucson, AZ; and Tim Oberfoell, Bowman, ND; grandchildren, Lee (Amber) Dingfelder, Fair Oaks, CA; Kristi (Eric) Shanenko, Valley City, ND; Jonathan (Kat) Oakland, Tucson, AZ; Heather Oakland, Tucson, AZ; and great-grandchildren.

The two most powerful forces in the world are love and prayer. Use them!

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Slope County has the Longest Running County Fair in ND and the Smallest County Seat, Amidon and is also home to Linda & Butch Clendenen, Black Powder Gun Enthusiasts.

Butch & Linda got their first taste of Black Powder at the Mathew Quigley Buffalo Rifle Match in Forsythe MT. The Quigley Match started in 1991 while Al Lee and Earnie Cornett were traveling home to Forsythe from Miles City after seeing the Tom Selleck movie Quigley Down Under. Forsythe already had an active gun club with several members shooting single shot black powder cartridge rifles, organizing a Black Powder Shoot seemed like the thing to-do. The "Quigley" has become the largest of its kind in the world, with over 600 competitors from 46 states and 9 countries. "The Forsythe Rifle & Pistol Club has the exclusive honor of using Tom Selleck's image for anything concerning the Quigley Match."

When Butch called and asked me to visit and do a story I was sure it would be about his accomplishments, it turns out Linda is the deadeye when it comes to shooting. The number of awards Linda has taken home in her 30 years of shooting is staggering. Linda & Butch displayed plaques on the lawn, lined the deck with silhouettes, belt buckles and other trophies honoring her accomplishments.

Linda competes against women as well as men and more often than not comes out on top. Linda shoots a .45-70 Rolling Block Rifle weighing in at 11 pounds: Linda is a small framed woman and it's quite impressive to see her holding the gun. According to Butch, women have a lower heart rate, giving them an advantage on the range. Both Linda & Butch enjoy the sport greatly; Linda loves competing in what would be traditionally a man's game.

The tradition has been passed onto their Son, Bill and Grandson, Cash both of Spearfish SD: The Clendenen Family has won the 3 Generation Trophy 6 times.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Black Powder Shoots are Fun For All, Competitors and Spectators Alike."

The things that empower you - the possibilities - come from within

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmitt

It is said that you cannot judge a person until you walk a mile in their shoes. This is certainly a true statement since we never know what someone is going through in life and just because they don't act or talk the way we think that they should, we need to be a bit more understanding some days.

It's really easy to decide that someone is unfriendly if they don't appear to notice you or smile at you or as we do in our little rural town, wave and say hi, but do you really know that they are unfriendly for sure? Maybe they have just moved to town and they come from somewhere that if they called attention to themselves they could be listed to be attacked. People who come from bigger residential areas often do not know their neighbors and only associate with family or people that they have known for years. One of the benefits of living in a small town is that many of us have grown up together or been in town for such a long time that we know each other. When you are new in a town that you did not grow up in, it is very hard to make friends as you can always feel a bit left out if you cannot share all those years that the people you are talking to are talking about. Yes you may share times with your children and theirs at games or school events, and eventually you will have memories together, but it takes time to make those kind of memories. And if you don't have children in school in order to make friends you may have to step out of your safe family bubble to make them if you want people to accept you. Even then, it's a harder proposition than people think to overcome that kind of situation. But there is always hope to find friends if you really want some if you make the effort. We who live in the small town do notice new people who move in and most of us are open to a visit or a cup of coffee if you just ask, but we are hesitant to put ourselves out there about as much as you are.

Then there are those that are in a situation that they do not know how to handle so in order to protect themselves, sometimes they just seem to want to be left alone. Is it because they want to or is it because they just have a hard time sharing their problems? Some people have emotional or family problems and for them it is very hard to let on when they are in the middle of a situation. People may think they know what is going on, but trust me you don't know if they don't tell you and sharing is probably harder for them than just keeping it all secret. Your guess as to what is happening to them may or may not be right, but the best thing to do is be there for them if they want to talk to you.

Maybe they have some medical issues that they are being treated for and don't want to talk about. It's very hard for some people to tell others what is happening in their lives. Some just don't want to talk about it as it makes it more real and scary and they feel that others asking about it are being a bit snooty just so that they have something to talk about to someone else. Sometimes they just need a break not to talk about it, but they still want the people that they know to treat them like they don't have some medical issue, but normal so that for a little time they can feel normal too. We all have a tendency to offer advice and solutions, but that isn't always the right thing to do. Most people that have medical problems already know what to do and they either are doing them or working it out for themselves with their doctor. Even if we have read all the social media posts and gone on WebMd, we are not qualified to diagnose or treat others, so if you see someone you know who has a problem, treat them the same as if you didn't know. You may be surprised to find out that they just want to have an every day chat with you about the weather, the cost of things or where the next great deal can be found. If you can't do that, give them a big smile or an encouraging wave so at least they know they are not invisible or that you are being unfriendly to them. It is North Dakota after all.

The whole point of this is to remember that we are in this world together and sometimes we need someone just to be there. No judgments, no recriminations, just listening and sharing a few laughs can mean more than anything else. Still thinking that the phrase Do Unto Others as You Would Have them Do Unto You is a real winner. God Bless you All.

City, ACDC Seeking Feedback from Residents for Comprehensive Plan
Online Survey Open Oct. 10 - Nov. 4

In May, the City of Hettinger and the Adams County Development Corporation (ACDC) were awarded a $30,000 grant as part of the ND Department of Commerce Main Street Initiative "Partners in Planning." The grant funds are being used to develop a Community Comprehensive Plan to provide a road map for future community growth and success.

Over the next several months, the planning process will include community engagement, data collection, inventory and analysis of infrastructure in the community, future land use planning and future growth area identification. Once complete, the plan will outline and provide tactics for achieving the City of Hettinger's goals and policies regarding community development, infrastructure and community facilities/services. It will also incorporate the City's previously established economic development goals of workforce development, business retention/expansion, livability and tourism.

Residents Invited to Take Survey

One of the first steps in the planning process is a comprehensive Community Survey. To help identify needs, issues, challenges, successes and opportunities, all Hettinger residents are encouraged to take the survey (link below), which should take approximately 15 minutes to complete. Survey responses will remain anonymous.

Community Survey:

Stay informed of future community engagement and planning progress by following the City of Hettinger on Facebook or by visiting www.hettingernd.com.

ABOUT ACDC

McIntosh Day Care

In July of 2022 during the McIntosh High School annual Alumni celebration, the class of 1972 passed the hat around to their classmates. They collected money for the McIntosh Community Daycare, INC. Sunday July 17th, the daycare served a meal at city hall to the public. With these two events, the daycare was able to purchase 4 new windows for the daycare. A large picture window was donated by Steve and Mary Nehl. One graduate from the class of 1972 took it upon himself to install the windows for the daycare. McIntosh Community Daycare will go through this coming winter a little bit more energy efficient.

McIntosh Community Daycare, INC is a 501c nonprofit. They opened their doors a year ago and have been offering daycare services to all children of the community. They average 7 to 8 children in their daycare on a given day and have had up to 11 children attend.

We greatly appreciate the class of 1972 and their donations as well as Joel Mattern who installed the windows. This is a great improvement over the windows they had. Never less the daycare is still in need of some additional repairs.

This summer, we had an entity pledge a furnace. The furnace in the daycare is 27 years old and is fueled by fuel oil. When this donation fell through, we were devastated. With the high cost of fuel, we are concerned about our heating bills this winter as well as the dependability of this unit. Last year during a very cold spell, the furnace went out and we had to call someone from 100 miles away to come fix it on a Saturday.

Even though the community came together a year ago and fixed up the inside to make it usable for the children, there are several other things that need to be done to the building. The roof is bad and need to be re-shingled. After a furnace is secured and the roof is replaced, the next item on the wish list for the daycare building is new siding.

We can be reached at McIntoshdaycare@yahoo.com

if anyone has any resources available to help us with these projects. McIntosh Community Daycare, INC is looking forward to several more years of enhancing the community with our services.

Never lose a chance of saying a kind word.

"For it is in giving that we receive."

Expressions of HOPE

Reflections on the Words of Life

By Pastor Paul Ferrie, Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

We arrive today at the response of King Darius after learning that God had rescued Daniel from the mouth of the lions. We read in Daniel 6:23, "Then the king was exceedingly glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no injury whatever was found on him, because he believed in his God."

King Darius makes a series of decisions, the first one being to deliver Daniel. The law, unjust as it was, had been satisfied. Daniel had received the punishment, and there was now no reason to detain him. So Darius immediately gave the order to remove him from the lions' den. As the king and his servants carefully checked Daniel over, they did not find so much as a scratch on him. And what is given as the reason for this? Our verse tells us: "because he believed in his God." Oh, the power of Biblical faith! The writer of Hebrews, speaking of Old Testament men and women of faith, says that there were some, "who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions" (Hebrews 11:33).

Many people claim, "I am a person of faith." But faith in and of itself is not the important thing. In fact, it would be next to impossible to function in life without some type of faith. Even something so mundane as sitting in a chair requires faith. A person who sits in the chair believes that the chair will hold his or her weight. It requires faith to believe that George Washington was the first President of our country. But those examples are different from the kind of faith that Daniel displayed. The important thing about faith is the OBJECT of that faith. It is crucial that faith be placed in the right object. Eve placed her faith in the lie that Satan told her: If you eat this fruit, you will become like God. The result was disastrous. In order to become a Christian, a person must place his or her faith in what the Lord Jesus Christ accomplished on the cross to pay the penalty for his or her sins. From that point on, the Christian grows in faith by learning and believing God's Word (Romans 10:17). Faith is powerful when it is placed in God's Word because it links the believer with God and taps into His power. May God grant us this kind of faith. Like his three friends Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego had done so many years before, Daniel simply committed himself to God, fully trusting that He would do what was best, and God sent an angel to shut the lions' mouths.

For centuries, many have viewed this deliverance of Daniel as a picture of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. For Daniel's deliverance from the lions' den wonderfully foreshadows the victory Christ would accomplish over death and the kingdom of darkness by rising from the dead. The apostle John writes of Jesus' crucifixion, "Then the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and of the other who was crucified with Him. But when they came to Jesus and saw that He was already dead, they did not break His legs.... For these things were done that the Scripture should be fulfilled, 'Not one of His bones shall be broken'" (John 19:32, 33, 36). After spending a night in the lions' den, Daniel also emerged without one broken bone "because he believed in his God."

Lord willing, next time we shall consider more of King Darius's decisions. But I close with some beautiful lyrics written by Louisa Stead in 1882: "'Tis so sweet to trust in Jesus, Just to take Him at His word; Just to rest upon His promise, Just to know, 'Thus saith the Lord.' Jesus, Jesus, how I trust Him! How I've proved Him o'er and o'er! Jesus, Jesus, precious Jesus! O for grace to trust Him more!"

Wordsmith

From the Greek unter, underhanded is defined as 'sly, secretive, a condition of insubordination or low down. Or in Latin the prefix word is 'infra' that you find in words like 'infra-structure' which is the UNDER-lying foundation of a building.

And infra-sonic is a sound from underground that is so low that human ears cannot hear it. When a storm is brewing, even though you can't hear it, your livestock and your pets can. When the underground plates begin to grind against each other, animals can hear it. It is an UNDER-tone.

The under-sized under-taker was under-staffed. The under-achiever under-stood that if he was to be hired, he would be an under-dog as long as he was under-educated. To be anything but under-employed he knew he would have to buckle-under. So he went to under-taker school so he could rise above those who treated him as an under-dog. He studied so hard he over-did it and when he applied for the job of over-seer with the under-taker he was over-qualified.

Under is a preposition until it is before a root word. Then it is a prefix.

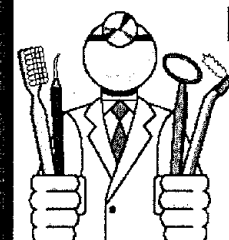

If you are an under-study, you are not the star. You have to look like the star, be able to act like the star, remember all the lines the star is going to say for less than half what the star will be paid and may end up sit-
