Eido Connect's
Philosophy for 2025

- Listen - Hope - “The Power”

After working with small children for years and years, Sara, while at prayer, questioned - - How do I reach them, seems like everything, in life, is important, cell phones, AI, games on cell phones. Everything is important to them except knowing how You created them in Your image and likeness - - that means they are unique, special and can make a difference in the lives of everyone they touch.

Sarah continued her prayer then after asking what to do, how to reach the children, she sat back, listened, then prepared for her class.

A bunch of rowdy, screaming fighting children entered, some kicking, some laughing - - but utter chaos - - all Sara could say was - - “Now what?” Fully knowing all her preparation was in vain. Understanding the situation she said, “Okay God, all the preparation I did won’t make a hill of beans of importance to them - - I have tried all I know how - - now it’s your turn. I’ll just allow them to settle down and then maybe I can teach,” - - so just sat.

Noticing her just sitting there, the children fully aware something wasn’t right, eventually took their places and the room became so quiet one could hear a pin drop.

Sara, too, was amazed at the attentiveness of the children - class almost over, thinking maybe I have a chance to let them know how special they were, took out her notes and began class.

In the beginning God created - - these are the words she heard - - No - No - No these are children - - teach them something they can understand - - then a story appeared - - and she began - -.

In the beginning God created this perfect world - it was perfect. Then some crazy disease filled the world. God knew the people could overcome the disease but instead they began fighting, arguing and God watched. Then one day in his sadness at how they were hurting each other he sat, thinking - - I am getting caught up in this fun, loving, exciting and up lifting - - so BINGO - - the word Bingo was so loud, it caught the children’s attention - - now all eyes were on Sara - - and she continued - -.

Because God knew everyone He had created good, were all afraid - - like chickens, he laughed and said - - I’ll create a world of chickens - - and He did - - a whole big world of chickens - - each were beautiful, happy, and God smiled. He also gave them the ability to be good, to help each other and to make a difference in chicken world.

Now the children were listening - all eyes on Sara - - and she continued. Many years went by - - many new baby chicks were born - - also, eventually food was running short - - they needed a little more food - - now what - -.

In the midst of all, there was one little chick who had reached maturity and was learning how to lay an egg - - but was much afraid of the outcome, would it hurt, was it worth it. Knowing of little chicks fear the rest of the chickens gave the little chick encouragement - - you can do it - - you are okay - we will help you - - all good words were told to little chick - -.

Everyday, someone said something good to Little Chick, until one day - - BINGO - - the golden egg - -.

And that my children is who you are - - a golden beautiful child of God, who he created to make a difference --.

Time flies

By Kathy Craig Harteis

Our time in California is coming to an end. We will be back in a few months.
I have really enjoyed our time here in our beautiful little vacay spot.
The weekend was a bonus. Pals Sue and Deb, and sister Ann joined me for a ladies lunch. It was so good to have time together. We have too little time together these days.
We will journey now back to North Dakota and regroup for the holiday season. My kids and grandkids are so important to me. I don't want to miss time with them.
I know we are blessed to have the best of both worlds.
I've faithfully done daily checks on projected weather along our route back to North Dakota. So far so good as to passing through often snow/ice areas. There might be a few iffy places. But, we're old and retired so we can always stop if need be. It wouldn't be the first time I've hunkered down and waited out a storm.

With the ongoing healing (month 8) of my dislocated ankle, I'm dubious about motivating the ice this year. I suspect I'll be housebound as needed. There is a definite fear of falling again.
Don't want to do it!
I'm so pleased to have had time with friends and family here. I'm already looking forward to our return and a longer stay.
We'll have hopefully more time with those folks we missed this trip.
I am just so thankful for my life today.
Life is good today.

Reflections on the Words of Life

by Pastor Paul Ferrie,
Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

After spending several weeks on 1 Peter 2:16 dealing with various aspects of Christian liberty, we move today to verse 17: "Honor all people. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king." This section of Peter's epistle is a practical one dealing with how believers are to live in this world and maintain a good testimony for the Lord Jesus Christ. It should be the desire of every Christian to live in a way that attracts others to Him.

In our verse, Peter explains the believer's responsibility to other people. He divides people into four categories and gives particular instruction about relating to each group in a way that pleases God.

Peter's first category is very general: the believer's relationship to ALL other people. And the specific duty which is required is to HONOR them. Honor has the idea of respect. Christianity does not encourage sinful human pride, yet that does not mean that the Christian cannot give credit where credit is due. One way we can honor others is by recognizing and appreciating their achievements. Of course, the believer's approach to this will be different from the world's way of giving honor. The world does not recognize that all talents and abilities are gifts from God. But when believers honor other people, we should realize and confess that God has blessed them in their accomplishments.

But we must go deeper than this. For not all people have achievements that are worthy of honor. In fact, many people are absolutely wicked. How can we honor them? How can we honor ALL people? The answer lies in the fact that all people are made in God's image and have dignity and immeasurable value for that reason. Of course we do not honor wickedness or pretend to admire one who wastes the talents that God has given him or her. But what we can honor about any person is that he or she is made in the image of God and has the potential to know Him. A human being is one of the most magnificent of all God's creatures. If we truly understood this, it would help us to view people around us in a different light. British pastor Charles Spurgeon was walking down the road with a friend, and they observed a man staggering in drunkenness. Spurgeon's friend commented on the sadness of the scene. Spurgeon replied by saying, "But for the grace of God, there go I." In other words, Spurgeon did not look at the condition of the drunken man as an opportunity to pat himself on the back with pride that he was better. Rather, Spurgeon used the occasion to remember how blessed he had been by God. He realized that if God had not been gracious to him, he might be the one who was staggering down the street. Remembering that all people are made in God's image will also give us the desire to see them restored to their full potential by trusting in Jesus Christ and having their lives transformed by Him.

It is the Christian view of mankind which gives real dignity to man. Evolution treats man as an accident. That people hate and abuse and kill others is the natural result of evolutionary thinking. If people are here only by accident, then they have no ultimate value. But Biblical Christianity sees potential in every person to know and glorify God.

God so loved this fallen world of humanity that He gave His only begotten Son to take on the very nature of man and die to pay the penalty of sin for all who would place their trust in Him. The Lord Jesus is even now seated at the right hand of the Father as a man! And so, brothers and sisters in the Lord, let us seek to honor all men by doing all we can to bring people to Christ through the gospel.

Just when you thought my KC Chiefs couldn't give you any more of an ulcer, they are now 3-3 but, they get wide receiver Rashee Rice back just in time to play the evil Las Vegas Raiders this weekend. And, that should have been the story this week. Rice, the knucklehead that on March 30, 2024, according to NBC News, was driving a 2020 Lamborghini Urus SUV at 119 mph (during rush hour) on Central Expressway in Dallas, Texas, lost control, crashed injuring at least four people before fleeing the scene on foot. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail and five years' probation for his role in this stupidity and given a 6-game suspension this year by the NFL. At least, he had enough class to accept his suspension, didn't appeal, and set out the first 1/3 of the season. And, that was mind boggling enough.

Until...last Sunday. The Detroit Lions appeared at Arrowhead (Kansas City Chiefs Stadium) on October 12th and, Lions safety Brian Branch, who was butt-hurt by an earlier block on a running play, decided to snub Patrick Mahomes when our QB tried to shake his hand at the end of the game. Was Branch upset about losing 30-17? Did Mahomes lay down the offending block? No! So, why did Mahomes and smack Chiefs wide receiver JuJu Smith-Schuster upside his head? Which, of course, led to a postgame melee/bench clearing and, Branch's (a repeat poor sport on at least 4 prior occasions) drawing a 1-game suspension himself. Again, whatever happened to good sportsmanship by players, like Branch, who is making $1.379 million for the 2025 NFL season?

It's exactly why I quit officiating Div. II college and High School football when the COVID started 5 years ago. I've written about this before. I had been an official since 1994 and a crew chief since 2011 when I came to North Dakota. And, honestly, the parents were wrecking the game then for their kids. But, these NFL players are privileged role models for our kids, so, on what planet is it OK to act like a prima donna punk and degrade the game which is a privilege not a right. And, it DOES have an effect on the younger, amateurs. Show-boating and look-at-me-me replaces good sportsmanship, teamwork and love of a game that you only get to play for a few years. In retrospect, my Dad would have simply corrected MY aberrant behavior but, then again, so many of these young men lack that fundamental mentorship. I just hope this weekend, the Raiders mind their P's & Q's and my team can amass an actual winning record. Have a great week and, support your favorite team!

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Good Food The Universal Language Of Love."

It's not everyday we get invited to a party celebrating the Nigerian Independence Day, so how could we refuse? The Nigerian Independence Day was Oct. 1, which marked the 65th anniversary of their independence from British rule.

Fr. Stephen Florunso pastor at St. Pius Catholic Church in New Salem, Almont and Center and friend called on Friday inviting us to attend the party to be held in New Salem on Saturday. Fr. Stephen has been a family friend for over 20 years now; we first met in Bowman when he was the Pastor in Hettinger, Scranton and Reeder. He recently celebrated his 25th jubilee as a priest and we all had plans to attend. With all the busyness of summer and the building project we all forgot! We felt terrible about missing the party and thought we could redeem ourselves by attending the Nigerian Independence Day Celebration.

Fr. Stephen said to arrive no later than 1:00 PM: We left around noon with a trailer and pickup to drop off in New Salem.

We arrived at 1:30 to find no one at the church; I called Fr. Stephen and he was at home still cooking. Fr. Raphael was on transport duty, as Fr. Stephen finished another entrée Fr. Raphael carried it across the street; By the time others started arriving around 2:30 the buffet table was filled.

I'm not very adventurous when it comes to foods but I knew it would be rude not to try everything. The jollof rice was very spicy and so good I did have a second helping. As more families arrived more food arrived as well. I was told, "Nigerians don't like their meat tender they like to chew it." That proved to be true.

Most of the families live in the Bismarck/Mandan area and find North Dakota very similar to the Nigerian farmlands and communities they lived in: It was like a family reunion and we were welcomed with smiles and laughter, it was time well spent.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Many stories matter. Stories have been used to dispossess and to malign. But stories can also be used to empower, and to humanize. Stories can break the dignity of a people. But stories can also repair that broken dignity." (Chimamanda Adichie – Nigerian Author)

The Sickness And The Cure

Pastor Corey Jenkins
Bowman Methodist Church

The last time we talked, I said, "Where there is free will, there can be peace!" In Philip-pians 4.6, Paul says, "Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and sup-plications with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God." Faith deals with prayer, and true prayer is void of worry. Peace and worry cannot walk hand in hand – worry causes us to doubt God's plans! When we let worry capture our thoughts, in effect we're saying, "God, I'm not sure You can handle this, and I'm not sure Your plans in-clude this mess I've made, so I'm gonna have to figure this out on my own." In other words, worry equals unbelief – and un-belief is the core, root sin of all other sins! Worry is a denial of God's will for you. But God is not the Author of chaos, God is the Author of peace! So, "Cast all your cares upon Him, for He cares for you!" [1Pet. 5.7] If your cares are worth worrying about, they're worth praying about; and if it's not worth praying about, it's not worth worrying about!

Paul said, "Then the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus." [Philippians 4.7] Peace is a matter of fact for Christians – you will only find peace in a daily walk with Jesus. In John 14.27, Jesus said, "Peace I leave with you; My peace I give to you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled, and do not let them be afraid." You can-not have peace from God until you have peace with God; real peace is found only in the per-son of Jesus!

Horatio Spafford lost his son to pneumonia [scarlet fever?], and in the same year he lost his business during the great Chicago fire of 1871. In 1873, his wife Anna, with their 4 daughters, sailed on a ship to England. Within sight of land, another ship collided with them, and 226 passengers died that day, including the 4 girls. Anna was saved, and later wired a message to Horatio saying, "Saved, alone, what shall I do?" He booked passage on the next available ship, and when they were over the place where his daughters had drowned, he wrote the words to this hymn,

"When peace like a river atten-deth my way, when sorrows like sea billows roll; whatever my lot, Thou hast taught me to say, it is well, it is well with my soul!"

Unbelief is the core, root sin in our lives, but the way forward is complete faith in Jesus, our Peace. The 7 Deadly Sins show us where those enticements are in our lives, how they draw us away from God, and how they are based in unbelief. If these 7 are the sickness, the cure is God's perfect will for us!

Bowman, ND – More than 500 students from southwest North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana participated in the annual T4 (Tools, Trades, Torque, Tech) Summit held September 24–25, 2025, at the Bowman County Fairgrounds.

Each day opened with a gen-eral session featuring remarks from the Bowman County De-velopment Corporation and stu-dent emcee Jackson Fischer, a senior at Bowman County High School. Eugene John Peters Rites Held peacefully in his sleep on Tuesday, October 7, 2025 at Augusta Place in Bismarck, North Dakota.

Eugene John Peters, 97, of Bowman, ND, passed away

Eugene was born on December 20, 1927, in Iowa City, Iowa, the sixth and youngest child of Oscar and May (Smith) Peters. His first years were spent in Iowa and Minnesota, where he lost both his father and mother at an early age. His oldest sister moved the remaining family west to North Dakota and through hardship and hard work, Eugene forged a lifelong attachment to the area.

In 1950, Eugene married Laura Soderstrom in Bowman ND. Together they raised their family of four sons, Larry, John, Wade and David. For a few years they lived and worked in various areas of the Midwest as Eugene worked in rotary drilling and long hauling lumber. Eventually they returned to Bowman where Eugene founded Peters Drilling in 1972, working until he retired in 1992. Along the way he mentored many future drillers.

Eugene's interests and energy knew no bounds. His quest for knowledge was fed through engaging others, reading books, and traveling.

He will be remembered as an honest and straightforward hardworking man, and a steadfast supporter of family and friends.

Eugene was predeceased by his parents, Oscar (1932) and May (1937), sisters Doris (2011) and Helen (2013), brothers Emery (1971), Darel "Tom" (2005), and Paul (2014), son Wade (2002) and by Laura S Peters (2023). He is survived by his sons Larry, John, David and their spouses Virginia, Roberta and Tresha. He is survived by and was a proud grandfather of eleven grandchildren and twenty-eight great-grandchildren.

Eugene will be dearly missed.

Eugene's family would like to thank the health care team at Augusta Place in Bismarck for their outstanding care and compassion.

Family and friends are welcome to attend the Funeral Service on Saturday October 18 2025 at 1 pm at Krebsbach and Kulseth Chapel followed by interment in the Bowman Cemetery. A Celebration of Life will follow at the Sweetwater Golf Course Clubhouse from 2 to 4 pm.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to the Bowman County Activities Complex.

Marvis L. Miller Rites Held

Marvis L. Miller, 95, of Bowman, ND, passed away on Tuesday, October 7 2025 at the Southwest Healthcare Services in Bowman.

Mass of Christian Burial for Marvis was held on Monday, October 13, 2025 at 10:00 am at the St. Charles Catholic Church in Bowman. Fr. Ben Franchuk officiated with a burial that followed in the St. Peter and St. Paul Catholic Cemetery, Amidon, ND. There was a Rosary and Vigil Service on Sunday, October 12, 2025 at the St. Charles Catholic Church beginning at 6:00 pm. Visitation for Marvis was on Sunday from 12-5:00 pm at the Krebsbach and Kulseth Funeral Home Chapel and from 7-9 at the St. Charles Catholic Church.

Marvis L Johnson Miller was born March 28, 1930 to Ole and Mabel (Paulson) Johnson. She was the second of three children. Marvis was raised on the family farm south of New England, ND. She attended grade school near her home at Strehlow School #1 and then graduated from New England High School in 1948. After high school, Marvis attended Dickinson State College and earned a Teaching Certificate. She then taught school for one term at Coalbank School in Hettinger County, and one term at White Lake School #1 in Slope County. Her term at White Lake School #1 was the last year for that school. The former school building is now located at the Slope County Fairgrounds, where it can be visited as a one-room school museum each year during the Slope County Fair.

Marvis married Roland J (Buster) Miller on October 16, 1950 at Saints Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Amidon, ND. They were married for 64 years and had eight children; two sons and six daughters. For the first four years after they were married, Buster and Marvis lived in a trailer house at the family farmstead west of Amidon where Buster's parents also lived. Buster farmed and ranched with his father. In 1954, they built their own house on another location where they raised their family. In time, they took over and farmed and ranched for over 30 years and were active in the community. In 1979, they bought a house in Bowman, and later retired from the ranch in 1988. Marvis lived in that house until 2023, when she then moved to the Sunrise Village. She was warmly welcomed by the community up there and thoroughly enjoyed being surrounded by wonderful people.

Buster and Marvis enjoyed their retirement. They took several trips around the United States and one to Canada. They also enjoyed spending time with neighbors and friends having coffee and visiting. They were able to enjoy spending time with their kids and grandkids, many of whom lived close to them.

Marvis was active in the communities in which she lived. She was a member of several groups, including Saints Peter and Paul Catholic Church, St Charles Catholic Church, the Amidon Homemakers, Saints Peter and Paul Alter Guild, St Charles Alter Guild, and Catholic Daughters of America. She enjoyed several activities throughout her life. Her favorite pastime was reading. She loved reading all different types of stories and was a frequent visitor to the public library after moving to Bowman. For a number of years after she retired, she and a group of ladies would make an occasional day trip to Deadwood to have lunch and play slot machines. She limited herself to nickel machines, but still managed to win a jackpot or two. She also enjoyed going to play bingo with her friends and was a frequent winner at that as well. Buster always said he never worried about getting into a car accident with her, because she was the luckiest person he ever met. She was on a bowling team for several years and also enjoyed gardening and going to watch her grandkids sports events.

The most treasured thing in Marvis's life was her family. Nothing meant more to her than her kids, grandkids and great grandchildren. Holiday gatherings at her house got bigger and bigger over the years as the family grew, but there was always plenty of fun and laughter and she somehow always managed to make sure there was plenty of food, even enough for leftovers. She was a wonderful cook and loved baking goodies to have on hand for anyone that stopped by. No one ever left her house hungry, even if it was just a short visit. Her chocolate chip cookies were legendary. Numerous family members have the recipe today. Although a few have come close, NO ONE has ever gotten them to turn out exactly like hers! Just one of many memories of her that will always make her family smile. Marvis always kept close track of everyone in the family and was an active part of all of their lives. Over the years, she attended countless sporting events, concerts, school programs, weddings, and other events for everyone in the family. Later in life, when her eyesight kept her from traveling on her own, she spent countless hours on the phone at home talking to her kids and grandkids making sure everything was going well. In her calm, caring way she was the rock of the family. Through good times or bad, she was always there for everyone, even in her final days.

Marvis is survived by her children: Michell (Warren) Flath, Bowman, ND; Gary (Stacey) Miller, Amidon, ND; Karen (Wayne) Gerbig, Amidon, ND; Rene (Bob) Whalen, Hamilton, MT; Rhonda Buer (Joe Hoffman), Huntley, MT; Brenda (Chris) Palczewski, Bowman, ND; and Shad Miller, Bismarck, ND; son-in-law Aaron (Peggy) Allen, Bowman, ND; her brother Willis Johnson, Dickinson, ND; 23 grandchildren, 45 great grandchildren, and many extended family members, neighbors and dear friends. She was preceded in death by her husband Buster Miller, daughter Janet Allen, her parents Ole and Mabel Johnson, her sister Ardelle Kovar, brother-in-law Hank Kovar, and sister-in-law Inez Johnson.

Clifton Nelson Varner Rites

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

As we enter another week of the 'government shutdown' does anybody else feel like it's a tennis match and our heads keep bouncing back and forth with every newscast? And what does it mean when they say that they are shutdown in the first place.

A government shutdown occurs when Congress fails to pass or the president refuses to sign a spending bill to fund the federal government's operations. This results in a funding gap that can cause several government functions to be temporarily disrupted. Government shutdowns are often resolved by Congress passing continuing resolutions, which provide short-term funding while negotiations for a long-term solution continue. Every shutdown since 1990 has been ended with a continuing resolution.

During a government shutdown, Members of Congress, the President, and some federal employees whose positions are funded through sources other than annual appropriations continue to be paid. Most federal employees, including military personnel and essential workers have their pay delayed, but are guaranteed back pay once the shutdown ends. Federal contractors, however are not guaranteed back pay.

The salaries of the President and members of the House and Senate are funded through permanent appropriations and are protected by the U.S. Constitution so they continue to receive paychecks.

During a government shutdown, Social Security and Medicare benefits continue, but some services may be slowed or suspended. As mandatory programs, they are funded by existing laws and do not require annual congressional appropriations to operate.

So basically, what it means is that all essential services continue, but anything that is not considered essential or not provided for by separate appropriations is on hold until the government shutdown is over. Maybe if the Senators and Representatives had their paychecks suspended until they sit down and hash this all out, we would be better off and it probably would end a lot sooner. It appears to me that some people are holding the government hostage to get their demands and since the initial resolution that was supposed to 'kick the can down the road' for an extension of the current plan had no changes to it, I wonder who it is that is causing this problem for the rest of us? Hmmm.

The sad part of this is that we are the government, we the people, yet we have little say in what the government does. We are the ones that pay the bill for the entire government – it doesn't make money, it simply operates on the funds raised from taxes and tariffs. Nothing the government does creates funds for its operations, yet it is the first one to create spending and expect the people to pay for the bill and as was said on one occasion – 'to find out what's in the bill, you have to pass it'. No matter how much debt we are in, the spending doesn't seem to stop, and whenever there is some noise about cutting spending, it pretty much is agreeable to everyone, but 'not for their project' so there we are. In most instances nothing gets cut because everybody fights for their own special project.

As we all know, this shutdown will end and some people will be happy and some people will not. It's like any business, some people benefit and others will have to go elsewhere to get the funds to continue. But none of this will probably change the minds of those that are constantly complaining as it appears that they cannot be satisfied. I think there is a phrase out there about 'sugar' and where it goes that maybe some of you can remember. I know I used to hear it all the time when I wanted something and my parents said it wasn't possible. Hmmm, maybe if the government had to justify their expenses rather than just spending like a 'drunken sailor' they might be more responsible with the monies that they have control of. But then again, knowing some of the people that are in office now and their track records...maybe I'm just 'whistling dixie'. God Bless you all.
