- TIME -

"Big Tree"

Little Tree grew and grew, as it was told, into a big tree. When first planted, from a tiny seed, it was told it would never amount to anything of value. Now, today, years later it is big, beautiful and filled with gold - - gold leaves - - bushels and bushels of golden leaves.

Big Tree cherished all it's golden leaves but also knew it was getting colder - - time to let them go so they too could become something of great value. Each day as the temp changed and the breezes turned to wild wind, Big Tree had to release one more leaf. The grounds became vibrant with the fancy gold leaves - - seemed like what Paradise must be like as Big Tree surveyed the grounds.

One by one each leaf said good bye to big Tree and off they drifted. Some leafs would giggle and float slowly down, land and some were blown to another county. Big Tree was happy for them for their journey was changed. Now they had nothing to hang on to, only the direction of the wind. Some thoughts for Big Tree were sadness and some happiness for Big Tree knew he had done his best at raising, growing, teaching the leaves.

One day as the wind was gaining momentum Big Tree felt a tug at the center of his trunk. Looking around at every branch he saw one small leaf being whipped around in the wind, but hanging on.

"Little Leaf, why you hanging on? Wind is whipping you around, you're being torn to shreds, let go and you won't get hurt - it's okay, you'll land on the ground with your other friends, let go!"

"No, no," cried Little Leaf, "I'm afraid, what will happen to me? It's been safe way up here, the birds love us, the rains fall and tickled our bodies, the sun shines and warms us. What will happen if I let go?"

Big Tree had no idea how to comfort Little Leaf. "I don't know, guess you have to figure it out for yourself - - maybe you need to trust - -."

"But I don't know how to trust, I don't even know what it is" and Little Leaf became quiet.

Big Tree thought a little bit and said - - "Little Leaf, trust is - - just then a huge wind came into the yard - blew and blew and Little Leaf was stripped of everything except the stem.

Little Leaf never did let go, winter wind, snow, spring thaw, another year - - he always just remained a tiny stem - - .

And Big Tree - - well because he let go, was blown around, finally dirt covered the tiny seed, he grew and eventually produced millions and millions of beautiful golden leaves - - but only because he could trust and let go - - .

Who are we? - - Big Tree or Little Leaf???

Kenny and Vada Doerr, Hettinger North Dakota celebrated 73 years of marriage on October 9th.

IMAGINE
What would happen if you had the opportunity to have a device that you would need to look yourself in the eye and review the day. You would get an honest overview of you day. There is nothing to compare to, not another person or group, just you. An honest look at you! Just imagine if such a device were available, how many people would be brave enough to sign up for it? Would you?
Imagine knowing at the end of the day how many acts of kindness we did.
Imagine knowing how many times we listened to someone to understand what they were saying and not needing to reply.
Imagine how many times we smiled at others
Imagine how many times we said thank you, please and meant it
Imagine getting a summary of how we did as a spouse
Imagine getting a summary of how we did as a parent
Imagine getting a summary of how we did at being a friend
Imagine knowing how many times we did the right thing without anybody knowing Imagine knowing how many times we admitted when we were wrong and apologized
Imagine knowing how many times we put others ahead of ourselves
Imagine knowing how many times we stretched the truth
Imagine knowing how many times we got angry
Imagine knowing how many times we honestly considered someone else's view
Imagine how many times we accepted responsibility and didn't make excuses
Imagine knowing how many times we gave, without expecting anything in return
Imagine how many times we complimented someone Imagine knowing how many times we went out of our way to help someone Imagine how many times we practiced forgiveness
As a Lion, imagine knowing how much we served others.
JUST IMAGINE!

I've been writing about this cultural phenomenon where malcontents claim victimhood and, then, also claim that whatever their faction does to "even the score" is justified because the oppressor had it coming. Again, I hate to abuse the great Obi-Wan Kenobi but, when terrorists slaughter innocent women and children and, then, claim that these "oppressors" just had it coming, they are lying about the reality of the situation and, therefore, they shouldn't retaliate, it's another case of, "These aren't the droids you're looking for." Now, I'm not an expert on the Middle East because my old stomping grounds were Central/South America and cocaine trafficking. I only learned about the Middle East when my friend Scott and I got hired in 2012 to replace our friend Chris at the local college in town while he was deployed. But, I did get a crash course on terrorism in that region and, how the useful idiots try to cancel you if you object.
Here is what I was taught: behavior comes from beliefs which are the result of the way one thinks. Thinking arises from hearing ideas. Changing behavior is simply controlling the flow of that information. Tell a lie long enough and, lazy gullible people don't vet it, believe it, convince themselves they're right, and ignore the patently obvious to the contrary. Again, what Joseph Stalin called the "useful idiots".

PsyOps is simply seeding a false narrative to gullible people who are not inclined to check out the truth of the claim and, decide to act violently on the lie to right the perceived wrong, collaborate with others who hold the same false beliefs and honestly believe that the ends justifies the means. In the Middle East as in the United States, Puerto Rico, Britain, Brazil, Israel, Somalia, Japan, ad nauseum; the "enlightened" few attack and terrorize the majority to force-feed their narrative. The response? The victims had it coming and the greater good demands this act of outright terror!
My part of our training program was a critique of Islamic Shariah Law and how it did not jibe with Western justice. Curious, as I was also tasked circa 2012 with writing an article for my superiors which dealt with that topic. Imagine my surprise when the article was vetted, re-written and published resembling nothing that I had researched. In fact, the Obama Administration's official pronouncement was that "Israel is one of the 36 nations which exports terrorism to the rest of the world." I'm sorry but, the slaughter of the innocents to achieve a political purpose is never justified and, if we can't agree on that...have a great week and, pray for those lost souls who died on October 7th and continue to die.

Reflections on the Words of Life

by Pastor Paul Ferrie, Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

Last time we noted Ruth's example of faith that works, as she sought Naomi's permission to glean in the barley fields. Ruth demonstrates another admirable quality here in that she doesn't expect Naomi, an older woman, to go out and work, but sees herself as a daughter who needs to help both herself and her mother-in-law.

Ruth's use of the term "glean" reveals that she was familiar with some of the teachings of God's Word. One of the instructions of God's law was what we might call a divine welfare system. God built into the agricultural society of Israel the system of gleaning—a way for widows, foreigners, and other poor people to be provided for. This is mentioned in Leviticus 19:9-10: "When You reap the harvest of your land, you shall not wholly reap the corners of your field, nor shall you gather the gleanings of your harvest. And you shall not glean your vineyard, nor shall you gather every grape of your vineyard; you shall leave them for the poor and the stranger: I am the LORD your God." In other words, the harvesters were to leave the corners of the fields and bits of grain that were left behind after the initial harvesting for the poor to be able to come and gather.

Surely we can see the wisdom of God's plan here. It was a true welfare system without encouraging people to be lazy. It provided for the poor—not by giving them a handout, but by giving them an opportunity to work hard and get enough food to live on. Gleaning exposes what is wrong with America's contemporary welfare system. Instead of providing a way for the able poor to work for their necessities and feel a sense of accomplishment, it simply gives them things—virtually promoting a sense of entitlement rather than a sense of appreciation. The Bible is full of commands for people to be generous, but it never encourages anyone to do so in a way that actually hurts people by removing incentive to work. The principle we see in 2 Thessalonians 3:10 is directed toward people who are able but unwilling to work: "If anyone will not work, neither shall he eat."

Many people think that work is a curse and the result of sin. But even in the Garden of Eden, before sin had entered the world, God gave Adam and Eve the assignment of tending the garden and taking dominion over the rest of the creation. God gave them something to do. Work is not part of God's curse on man, but part of His blessing to man. The fall and sin have made work painful and difficult, but work is honorable. It involves people using the minds and bodies God has given them to do productive things.

Lord willing, we shall go on to see more about Ruth next time, but I must remind us in closing that there is one area of life where work is not acceptable. And that is in the matter of the salvation of a soul. Most people erroneously think that they must do something to earn God's favor and the right to go to heaven, but nothing could be further from the truth. We read in Romans 4:5, "But to him who does not work but believes on Him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is accounted for righteousness." All the work for our salvation has been done. Some of the last words of Jesus on the cross were, "It is finished." He had accomplished all the work of salvation by satisfactorily paying for the sins of all who would ever believe in Him. All that is left for us to do is to place our trust in Him alone. Have you done this, dear Friend? It is the most pressing matter that involves eternal consequences.

Farm Bureau Holds Annual Meeting
By Marlene Kouba

For the first time Hettinger County Farm Bureau held their annual meeting in conjunction with Adams County Farm Bureau this year. They met in the Enchanted Castle dining room of Regent on September 28, 2023.

Heather Kouba was the featured speaker as she explained some of the many loans available at Farm Service Agency. Darcy Torpin reviewed some of the many options available for grain bins, livestock and more. Folders of information were distributed to members.

"Farm Bureau is working on a new nationwide health insurance as an added benefit for membership," said Area Director Weston Dvorak.

Southwest Field Representative Haley Robison explained some of the activities coming up this fall. Some of them are the District 9 Fall Roundup in South Heart, the state convention in Fargo, a Young Farmers & Ranchers Conference also in Fargo. She will be conducting Route 1000 classes for high school students to encourage their safe driving. She reviewed some of the benefits that have discounts for many products now offered with membership. Student memberships are new.

"The state has plenty of money at this time", reported lobbyist Pete Hanebutt. He reviewed four major bills he had worked on during the legislative session. Waters of the U.S. (WOTUS) and what designates navigable waters was a hot topic. Property tax is an issue in all parts of the state. There are about 6 million members nationwide and in Puerto Rico.

After the meal, the group split into the two county groups to take care of their own business. Hettinger County approved seven resolutions that were then presented on the district level and all those that passed at that time will be sent to the state convention for further discussion.

Kelly Kouba of Regent was re-elected to the Hettinger County board of directors.

Delegates to the convention are President Alex Nielsen and Trey Fischbach, both of New England. Marlene Kouba of Regent volunteered to be an alternate.

Winners of prizes included free dues for a year by Marlene Kouba and meals for two anywhere in Hettinger County went to Jim Erickson of New England. There were also numerous flashlights, tote bags and other prizes awarded.

A gun raffle had been sponsored to raise money for the county Farm Bureau. Winners of a Stoeger Condor shotgun were Jake Hering, a Ruger American Rifle by Kent Maersbeker and a Canik pistol went to Sarah Mueller.

Wars and rumors of wars

By Kathy Craig Hartels

We (most of us raised in Christian homes) have heard it all of our lives.

Signs of the end will include
wars and rumors of wars.

It had happened and will happen. Some of them may be a part of God's plan for the End Times.

However, Jesus urged his people to focus on being good servants who know he is coming soon, not guessing games.

This said; I have to pray that me and mine are ready.

None of us truly know the time the end will come. Our best bet is to be ready and act accordingly.

There is a lot of hatefulness going on in our world these days.

The atrocities happening in Israel are difficult to comprehend. It more than saddens us to see the terror and destruction happening in war there.

Watching the news (never a good thing) we see that conflict and hatred spilling over into our own country as well with demonstrations in the streets.
That never solves anything. It just stirs the pot of anger.

Pray!

My answer as in all things is to pray. Pray for courage. Pray for peace.

End of time? Who knows?

I have no doubt where I'm headed if it is the end here on earth. That is the peace of it all.
Regardless of where you stand on the Christian aspect of it all.

Regardless of whether you believe in End Times we all recognize the devastation of recent days happenings.

If you pray, pray for Gods hand to be on it all. Pray for these victims and families of victims. Pray that peace will prevail.

As long as we have faith; life is good today.

Run the Race!
Fr. Ben Franchuk - St. Charles - Bowman; St. Mel - Rhame; St. Mary - Marmarth

I have been reflecting lately on the spiritual battle that we are involved in. In the world we fight this battle by making decisions whether a thing is right or wrong. Do we choose to do what is right because it is right or do we choose to do something wrong because it is easier, or for some other reason. This falls into our spiritual battle and do we put our faith in front of everything we do. This is never perfect, but always something to fight for. I recall the words of St. Paul to the Corinthians: "Do you not know that in a race all the runners compete, but only one receives the prize? So run that you may obtain it. Every athlete exercises self-control in all things. They do it to receive a perishable wealth, but we an imperishable." (1 Corinthians 9:24-25) Do we run the race of life well?

I was visiting with a friend recently and we were talking about business. He said a profound statement that I will always remember. He said: "In business, you are either moving forward or moving backwards. You can enjoy the place you are but if you don't have a vision for the future, you will not be moving forward but backwards. Standing still is not an option." I was shocked to hear this statement and I couldn't help but also take it a step further. In faith and in our relationship with God the same applies. We must consciously make the decision to follow the will God has for us each day to keep moving forward. There is not a person in the world who deep down does not want to go to heaven. What are we going to do about it in our own lives?

Whether we look at the analogy from a business perspective or as an athlete, faith and following God becomes a very important aspect in our daily lives. One that involves sacrifice and focus to the point of being very willing to make the right decision even if it is not the easy decision. Why does a businessman spend all his time on the job? For a crown of wealth and prestige. Why does the athlete constantly practice? For the crown of achievement. Why do faithful people follow God? They know of their ultimate goal to be in heaven with God. I know I am creating stereotypes in this reflection, but I also find it very thought-provoking analogy and an idea that most people can relate to. I encourage all of us to reflect a little more on why we do the things we do and ask God to help us keep Him in the center, just like we do in our athletic pursuits and business endeavors. Amen!

Three things in human life are important. The first is to be kind. The second is to be kind. And the third is to be kind.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Two Mott Businesses Have New Owners."

Seth Forster took over ownership of the Pheasant Café and Lounge now the "Pheasant Bar and Café: Mott Holdings oversees the Pheasant Bar and Café which is co-owned by Seth and his finance Jaylea Schaille

Seth grew up on a ranch north of Richardton and has worked in the oilfield since he graduated from DSU in 2011. Seth is also the co-owner of two oilfield service companies located in Dickinson. Having worked as bouncer, server and bar tender while in college, Seth got a taste for the food service industry and the Pheasant Café seemed like a good fit.

Norm Raab the previous owner has been a great asset to the community and Seth plans to carry on that tradition. Norm still works a few days a week along with the two full-time and five part-time employees.

The Pheasant Bar and Café is now open Monday – Saturday 6 am – 8 pm, and Sundays 6-12:30pm. Sundays will feature a lunch buffet from 11am – 12:30pm. The bar grill will be open at 8pm after the café closes to serve steaks, on Sunday the bar grill will be open from 11am – 10pm. The prime rib buffet will continue on Friday nights during hunting season and the buffet will also be available on Saturdays. New to the Pheasant Bar will be five beer taps: gaming will continue with the Mott Volunteer Fire Brigade.

The former Scorpion Bar is also under new ownership: Bill Schmidt and co-owner Angie Smith renamed the business the Oasis. Renovations and a much-needed facelift are in progress. Bill has replaced flooring, ceilings and is presently working on updating the kitchen. The Little Birdie will have an update as the business completes its remodel.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Mott is Still the Spot to Live, Shop and Own a Business."

Smile

A Little Push

I was sitting in my car the other day when an old clunker stalled nearby. The driver was unable to start the old car, and traffic quickly started backing up behind him. Horns sounded and angry drivers shouted their unpleasant words at the embarrassed man. After a while, car began to pull around the old car. Finally, one person drove up behind the stalled vehicle and gave it a push. Soon it began moving under its own power and traffic got underway again!

How like life that is! Someone is halted by circumstances. Most people shout their disgust at the unfortunate person and leave him to his fate. All he really needs is a little push to get started again.

Sometimes a little smile or kind word is all the push we need to make someone happy.

Leadership is the challenge to be something more than average.

SOLDIER FOR THE AGES
By Francis Martin

"Surely, he knew from reading the papers that you'd be called up."

"This is just supposition, James, but I think he planned to hide them until the Army came and took me away in chains."

"Didn't your mom know?"

"I learned a long time ago not to tell her anything that he could twist around and use for another beating. No, I didn't tell her."

"Well, she's seen what he did to you, hasn't she?"

"Some things are better left unsaid, and in this case, unseen."

"Well, where have you been staying?"

"I've been sleeping in that old station wagon that's down there in the junk pile. In the day-time, I've been going to town with Mom."

"You could have come here, you know."

"Yeah, sure, and bring him over here? I don't think so."

but James did, in fact, tell his parents what was going on and where Dan'l was stashed. Dan'l's mother came to Martins' one day and asked Caroline if she had seen Dan'l lately. And Caroline, who hated a lie, turned her head as she took a pitcher of iced tea out of the refrigerator and said with her back turned, "No. Is he still working for Rummel at the junk yard?"

"I never thought of that," Marilyn said.

Paul seldom came home for lunch. Caroline packed him a thick sandwich and a quart of coffee that he took with him. When she saw him coming back mid-morning, the first thing she thought was, "Oh no. He's broke down again."

She left the house and met him halfway across the field. "Are you broke down?" she called.

He put his arm across her shoulder. He smelled like diesel fumes. "I just got something on my mind. Do you know of any good psychologists?"

"Not in this county," she replied, "At least not anyone very serious."

"Well....maybe not, but on the other hand, it's best we talk about this."

There was an old bench built next to the shop under the shade of the elm tree where they sat down together.

"It's James....."

"What about James? Didn't we have this conversation before? What else is there that I don't know about him?" (Kadee is pregnant?)

"You might, but then you might not. See he talks about wars and battles all the time."

"Not to me, he doesn't."

"No, I don't suppose he would."

"It never interfered with his studies, did it?"

"No. He's the historian's historian. Nothing like getting an A in history term after term. It's not that."

"Then what is it?"

"He's obsessed about war."

"That's not all he talks about, is it?"

"To me, it is," Paul said grievously.

"But he works outside all the time when you need him. Doesn't he talk about the farm or the crops or the cattle? This place is going to be his, you know."

"He knows that, but no, he can be repairing an engine with his hands but he's talking about war and death and heroes and battles.....and all that stuff. I wonder if I caused that by telling him about being in the service."

I guess I wouldn't know since he doesn't talk to me about such things," she reminded him, "Do you really think he's obsessed or is this just another phase of being a teenager? I mean he's obviously obsessing over Kadee, but he doesn't say much about that, either."

"This is different, Carol. He imagines himself another Ulysses Grant or....and this is his idol....General George Custer. Custer graduated from the West Point, the military academy in 1861.....lowest grades in the class, yet because of lore he is counted as a hero. James reads, no, not reads, he absorbs everything he can find on this man. He's made him into an idol, and he imagines himself Custer's confederate."

"Is that why he went to all that trouble to try to get into West Point?"

"It must be. By 1823, Custer was given a temporary assignment of Brigadier General. He was only 37 years old at the time of his death. I don't think that the Military Academy is the same as West Point, is it?"

"Yes, James says it is."

"When I mentioned....casually....that Custer died at 37 years of age, James said, 'Yeah, but look at the legacy he left.' James also read in one of his many volumes on Custer that it was his wife who saw him as a hero. She wrote long columns for the papers back east about his life as a general, all the wars he had fought, all the adoring people he had gathered. So, I actually looked it up. Most of the stuff she wrote about him was from the point of view she wanted people to see of her, you know, being the wife of this hero. She even wrote about his horse. General Grant became a president, and he was considered one of the worst ever. Military heroes do not great presidents make. She even wrote that he would be the next president. Ask anybody about Eisenhower. Military men want everyone to salute and call him 'sir'. He was considered a hero when he won the Civil War. Custer's life, however, has become a legend."

"Are you saying that James wants to become a legend? I personally think he'd be a better farmer than he would a legend."

"He is a good farmer, but it's not what he wants to be. He wants to be a soldier and have his name on a headstone."

"It's my opinion that your father Nicolaus had something to do with this.... obsession," she said bitterly.

"I'm sure he did but I don't know what to do to change his mind. It's like that song, 'Live fast, love hard and die YOUNG and leave a beautiful memory.'"

"The way he threw himself into sports made me wonder if he wasn't going to make his mark there."

"Naw, that's where he uses up all that energy he has. This other thing is deep seated, and it scares me to death."

"Well, I guess time will tell."

"Yeah, but it's what it will tell that concerns me."

MOTT HEALTH CARE CENTER

PROVIDING EXCEPTIONAL CARE TO EVERY PATIENT EVERY DAY WITH A SPIRIT OF WARMTH, FRIENDLINESS AND PERSONAL PRIDE!

Progress Being Made At The Mott Health Care Center

Volunteers and board members continue to work at the Mott Health Care Center to prepare it for opening. The board met with Roosevelt Regional Council on October 18 to discuss the remodeling plans for the north wing. The remodel will allow West River Health Services to relocate their Mott Clinic to the Mott Health Care Center. This will provide more and larger exam rooms for patient care.

Volunteers have been working many hours to clean the east and south wings. Several high school students volunteered their time to help with the cleaning. Cosmetic improvements continue to be made throughout the building, including an update to the solarium lighting, and painting walls. DuraClean Restoration and Cleaning Services will be in Mott the week of October 23 to clean the carpets and furniture.

Consolidated completed the installation of new phone and data lines this week. Approximately 8.5 miles (45,000 feet) of phone/data lines were pulled. This will allow for internet computer connections and TV in the resident rooms. We want to thank Consolidated for their in-kind donation to the nursing home and their commitment to the community of Mott.

Employment interviews will begin shortly. We continue to work with the state on licensure requirements with the goal of having a November 1, 2023 opening date.

Donating To the Mott Health Care Center

We have created five levels of giving for the nursing home facility.

Platinum	$50,000 and above
Gold	$20,000 to $49,999
Silver	$5,000 to $19,999
Bronze	$1,000 to $4,999
Friend	$10 to $999

Will you please consider becoming a supporter of our local care center by donating, and helping continue a legacy of support for our aging population?

Donations may be mailed to Mott Health Care Center, PO Box 32, Mott; dropped off at Commercial Bank of Mott; or given to a board member.

Note: A sponsor board will be located in the interior of the facility.

"Have A Possibility Mindset"

By Don Taskila
nd.featurewriter@gmail.com

You only get one chance at life. Will you later regret the choices you made that affected your life's patterns? I have several times. Choose the good benefits from "Your LIFE" and pursue the dreams inside of you. "HAVE A POSSIBILITY MINDSET"... Consider the possibilities.

Maybe concentrate on your life's realities as they are Today-but allow yourself to consider your life's potential. As long as you're prepared to step beyond the norm or beyond the status quo to get there, it's acceptable to "DREAM BIG". These "HOW" questions are for you to ask yourself. How could I make my dreams happen? How could I manage my spending differently? How could I make better use of my time? All possibilities.

You have dreams for "Your Life", but you feel trapped in 'Today's Reality' and are unable to see a clear path out to pursue your dreams. Think about not letting your present circumstances determine your future. Focus on possibilities instead of limitations as you look to the future. Live "Your Life" by exploring possibilities; go beyond what might actually be your current reality. "HAVE A POSSIBILITY MINDSET"...

Like myself, you have choices. If one thing is no longer possible, that does not mean that "Nothing" is possible. When you hear yourself say, "I can't," that is the moment you need to start controlling your thoughts. Always work to cultivate a "CAN-DO" attitude "FIRST." Develop an upbeat personality. Be flexible and open to possibilities. "HAVE A POSSIBILITY MINDSET" ...

A personalized financial approach based on your values.

Rites Held for Harold Louis Schneider

Harold Louis Schneider, 88, of Bismarck, passed away October 5, 2023, at St. Vincent's Care Center, Bismarck, ND.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 11:00 AM on Wednesday, October 11, 2023, at the Catholic Church of the Ascension, Bismarck, ND, with Rev. Nick Schneider as celebrant. Burial will take place at a later date.

Visitation was held Tuesday, October 10, 2023, from 5:00-7:00 PM at Weigel Funeral Home, Mandan, ND, with a Rosary/Prayer Vigil at 7:00 PM. Visitation continued at the church one hour prior to the service on Wednesday.

Harold Louis Schneider was born June 8, 1935, in Rhame, ND, to Frank and Pauline (Kruzich) Schneider. He attended St. Mary's boarding school in New England, ND, where he graduated high school. On October 16, 1954, Harold married Norma Maas. From that union came six children.

Harold worked for the South Dakota Wheat Growers in Aberdeen, SD. From there he went to work for Wilson Freight which later became All American Freight where he worked as a dock foreman. In 1974, he was transferred to Bismarck as a terminal manager. In 1980, he became an owner/operator of the American Freight Agency. In 1988, all the agencies of the company were closed. Harold then worked for Northern Improvement until his retirement in 2000.

Harold was a member of the Elks Club and the Optimist Club. Upon retirement, he did woodworking projects until his Alzheimer's prevented it. Harold loved spending time in his garage puttering or sitting watching the trees. Harold's faith was extremely important to him. He never missed Sunday Mass, went to Adoration, and frequently prayed the rosary.

Harold will be missed by his wife, Norma, Bismarck; son, James Schneider, Northwood; daughters, Roberta Schneider, Minot, Antoinette Schneider, Bismarck, and Tina (Jack) Eagon, Rhame, ND; three grandchildren, Rev. Nick Schneider, Douglas Eagon, and April Eagon; and two great-grandchildren, Sloane and Nathan Eagon.

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

What is an idea? It is defined as a thought or a suggestion as to a possible course of action. It is by those thoughts or suggestions that the world as we know it operates upon. Ideas are often the beginning steps of inventions, of businesses and of future accomplishments. Every day, there are those that take ideas that most of us would think are just random thoughts, see what the benefits of those ideas are and find the necessary elements to make those ideas become more than just a thought. Sometimes these ideas are initiated by necessity and sometimes they are upgrades to items that already exist in the world, an idea that makes something better.

We all have ideas, every day we think of things that we must do, or what we could do better. Sometimes those ideas work out and sometimes they do not. We as a thinking, breathing people are full of ideas and implement some of them, and some are just random thoughts that once we consider what is involved with them, we discard them and think of something else. Writers and inventors spend their whole lives thinking of ideas, sometimes converting them to best sellers or products and sometimes they just become the pile of papers in the corner or bound for the shredder. In today's world, it is probably a file that gets deleted and overwritten with a new and better idea.

Right now the current idea is to reopen the Nursing Home that was closed by Sanford Health Systems and deeded back to the City of Mott. There are people that have the idea to reopen it as a basic care facility and they have been working diligently to accomplish this. It was once done by the City when it was originally built and it was successful at the time, run successfully for a number of years by the Good Samaritan Society and sold as a going venture to Sanford. These people have looked at the past, considered the future and have decided that it can be done again, and they have found others that think the same way. Despite the people that say differently, they have found support in local donations and are now looking for staff to fill positions for the startup of the Home once again. They have gotten the West Riv-

The greatest treasures are those invisible to the eye but found by the heart.

Wordsmith

There's a phrase in Latin that goes, "Men sana in cor po re sans. "It means, a sound mind in a sound body." Mens has to do with things mental. It's where the word 'Mensa' comes from. They are this group of young people who win all the spelling bees. We get such words as sanitation, sanitary, sanatorium, sanity, (insane) from the Latin word san. In French it is 'with-out'. "I'll have vodka, sans ice."

Cor po rey is where we get the word, corpse, or body; dead, that is. Isn't it interesting that a collection of laws is called corpus Juris? Dead laws. A BODY of laws enacted by an elected body (corpus) that nobody knows about accept the one who enacted it.

There was a sign on the dentists' wall (to distract you from the drill) that said, "Bodies (corpses) are no longer embalmed because it is unnecessary. There is so much preservative in the food we eat that we are embalmed before we are dead."

My sister, the politician, came home from a meeting in a frenzy. What she said is probably the only thing we ever agreed on. She said, "The problem with this government is that they are a body (corpse) of old men. They are suffering from necro-tis. Or maybe they are just fulfilling Dan. 11:27 where it says, 'They will sit around the same table and tell lies.' Only a third of those in congress are able to use the computer." (That's why they all have Aides). All old people have AIDS. They have hearing aids, chewing aids, walking aids, digestive

The Apostle Paul said, "The scene of this world is changing." I Corinthians 7:31. While most of us are delighted with change (if it benefits you) most people do not like nor want to change. People talk about the 'good old days.' Well, let's see, I can remember the II Word war, Korea and Vietnam, the polio epidemic, bird and swine flu the corona virus, AIDS, the depression, the recession, the dry years, the grasshoppers, and the dust bowl. And these were 'the good old days'

This is like the cartoon of the old man sitting on a bench with his gray beard to his navel and a cane in his hand. It says, 'This is the young man who was waiting for the price of land to go down.'

An Aide de corpse (now called Aide de camp. It's not so gruesome.) He's the medic that goes on the front line to pick up the corpses.

What would you do if you had to choose between losing a limb, or losing your mind? "Of all the things I have lost, I miss my mind the most."

Whereas, corps, has to do with a body (corpse) of people under diplomatic direction for a common purpose. In military- speak, it is a tactical (a military maneuver) composed of two or more divisions, plus auxiliary (helpful) complements.

When Jehovah God gave Eve to Adam, he said she was a complement to him. That is where we get the word complete. Adam was not complete until he had a wife. My, how word meanings have changed!

No matter how much you nurse a grudge, it won't get better.

Halloween Art Show Features Local Artist, Ethan Thom

The show is free and open to the public offering an opportunity to purchase unique art, including a special piece that will be sold with the proceeds being split between the Lemmon Fire Department and ABLE, Inc.

The show will be open for viewing at the Kokomo Inn Gallery from 1-4 pm on October 29 and 30. The Artist's Reception will be held from 4-7 on October 31, 2023. It is free and open to the public, with the artist interview at 5:30 p.m.
