“My Choice”

Mom excited, yet a little concerned about what Josie was learning - how could she be so excited about a class - - mixed emotions floated around all week. Speaking to Dad about Josie, discussing the situation they came to the conclusion - - maybe Mom could attend one of the classes with Josie. She would tell Josie she would be in town and had a few hours to spare - -. Discussion was held, okay with Josie and Professor.

Day of class arriving, Mom apprehensive entered classroom. Professor Joe welcoming her and he began.

Today you are going to figure out the answer - - this Nursery Rhyme changed my life - hopefully it will do the same for you. Now each of you take your chair, turn it to the wall, sit down, and he handed them a little box - - before you open it, I will tell you this - - Little Jack Korner sat in a corner and pulled out a plum. Your job today is - - what will you pull out? Then he sat down.

Anger, frustration, defiant, Mom just wanted to get up and leave, but didn't want to embarrass Josie so sat - - thank God she was by a window.

Afternoon sun warm, bright made her want to close her eyes and - - but she knew if she did she'd fall asleep and class would laugh, poor Josie would not come to class again - -.

Knew she better open her box, looking around she noticed the rest of the students were already - - eating - -. What dumb thing - thought we had a class to learn - something, this is ridiculous, and Moms thoughts went crazy. How do I get out of this crazy mess - -. Heart racing, anger beyond her own imagination - - taking deep breaths, she calmed down. I'll tell them I didn't understand.

Little Jack Korner, sat in a corner, eating his Christmas Pie, stuck in his thumb, pulled out a plum and said - - oh my God - now I understand and Mom opened her box - - began eating and enjoying her luscious piece of pie - -.

Class dismissed, students laughing, thanking Professor Joe, Mom hugging Josie good-bye and still amazed at words that weren't spoken, Mom headed for home. Amazing was all she could say. She felt like she had gained the whole world and wanted to do it again and again. She could hardly wait to tell Josie's father.

“Well?” as she stepped out the door and he was there to greet her. “Come sit with me - I have so much to tell you.” She told him about the class - - all they did was sit - - and how angry she got for she came to learn something - - instead they were given a piece of pie - -. “What? that's sure a dumb thing to do, maybe we should pull Josie out of that class - we're paying for something with no value!” and his tone of voice reminded her of what she felt like at first.

“But” -- then she told him “eating his Christmas Pie” and I made a choice - - Little Jack Korner - sitting in a corner - - must have been a bad boy - - that's what I always thought - - eating his Christmas - - and it dawned on me I never saw it was Christmas -- a happy time and he was enjoying. Then I realized we as people hear so much of the bad that we can't see the good in any situation - - time to make a choice -- do I always want to be in the corner or do I want to enjoy my luscious Christmas pie - -.”

My Choice.

Please know how thankful we are for your support during the unexpected loss of Nathan. There are days when it all seems unreal and hard to comprehend. It is in times like that when we remember that we are in the hearts and minds of those who may know what we are going through or care enough to understand this overwhelming grief. Perhaps it's a note, a phone call, or the sharing of one of the many memories you have of Nathan, these gestures comfort us and remind us of the importance of community.

Community was important to Nathan, and gives us reassurance as to why we live in our amazing area. We simply cannot list each gesture that has supported us; please know all have carried us through. We will be forever grateful for the Perkins and Ziebach County Emergency Services, Nathan's Fire Department family for the humbling final call ceremony and organizing the many departments that were represented with the processional to the cemetery. The caring services of Evanson-Jensen Funeral Home and our St. Mary's church family allowed us the strength and ability to navigate those first days, and will continue to do.

Thank you to those who supported Bootz & Tires, LLC; a business Nathan and his family were passionate about. Serving you was his honor. To the many friends, co-workers and his Tik Tok family that have helped us in the past few months to organize and figure out what to do with his 'finds of the road', and unending tools and equipment accumulated in building this passion.

May Nathan's memory be kept alive in the stories, photos and Tik Toks we all continue to share. Thank you, sincerely, for your love and support.

Expressions of HOPE

Reflections on the Words of Life

By Pastor Paul Ferrie, Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

We resume today where we left off last time, with King Darius asking Daniel a question: "And when he came to the den, he cried out with a lamenting voice to Daniel. The king spoke, saying to Daniel, 'Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to deliver you from the lions?'" Daniel 6:20.

Daniel's answer begins in a most remarkable way in verse 21. He starts with an expression of respect: "Then Daniel said to the king, 'O king, live forever!'" Daniel has been unjustly thrown into the lions' den because of the sinful pride of Darius, who foolishly played right into the wicked scheme of his advisors. Yet he displays no bitterness. On the contrary, the first words out of his mouth express his concern not for his own life, but for the king's life. What an example of the attitude commanded by the Savior in Matthew 5:44: "Love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you."

And how it must have thrilled Daniel to be able to say the words recorded for us in verse 22: "My God sent His angel and shut the lions' mouths, so that they have not hurt me, because I was found innocent before Him; and also, O king, I have done no wrong before you." Again, we see here what is most important to Daniel: that God is his God. That night in the den, God had sent an angel to prevent any of the lions from doing Daniel harm. That this was an unmistakable and mighty miracle will be seen unquestionably as the chapter unfolds.

Furthermore, we see that Daniel explains to the king his innocence before God and also that he had done nothing against the king. Surprisingly he had not tried to bring these matters up before. But he realized that Darius had his hands tied by the foolish law he had made. And Daniel had such great faith and confidence in God that he did not feel it necessary to try to defend himself.

Next time, Lord willing, we shall consider the decisions that Darius made as a result of this miracle. But I close with asking a question: Friends, is the only true and living God YOUR God? I fear that there are many people who are deceived about this most important matter. It is a common misconception that there are many roads to God. But the Bible makes it clear that God can be approached in only one way, and that is through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. A verse we often quote is John 14:6: "Jesus said to him, 'I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me.'" The apostle John states later in 1 John 5:10-13, "The one who believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself; the one who does not believe God has made Him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has given concerning His Son. And the testimony is this, that God has given us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He who has the Son has the life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have the life. These things I have written to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, so that you may know that you have eternal life." Please be sure that you are relying only on the Lord Jesus Christ to make you right with God. May each of us be able with Daniel to say that God is "my God."

Expressions of HOPE

Why Are You Worried
Fr. Ben Franchuk
St. Charles - Bowman

I am writing this article on the Catholic feast day of St. Francis of Assisi. I always marvel at the providence of God because the Mass reading for today, along with the saint provide a great opportunity for reflection. The reading for today is Galatians 1:13-24, it is St. Paul marveling at his own conversion from being a persecutor of Christians to a great apostle of Christ. The Gospel today is from Luke 10:38-42, Mary and Martha hosting Jesus with Martha complaining about Mary not working. All three of these set us up for a great reflection.

As I said, I marvel at the providence of God to put this together on the same day. Jesus responds to Martha's complaining saying: "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her." How many of us could hear this statement every day? We are a society who is worried and anxious about many things and forget the great providence and work that God can do in our lives. This is the connection to St. Paul.

St. Paul was the greatest persecutor of Christians in the first century, but God was able to convert his heart. St. Paul talks about how he was beyond many of his contemporaries in his zealotness for the faith, but God, who chose him from his mother's womb, called him through grace to proclaim the Gospel to the Gentiles. St. Paul went from being a great persecutor of Christians to being a faithful apostle who went to the foreign lands to preach the Gospel. All of this happened through the grace of God knocking him off his horse. God can work many great things, we see this in St. Paul, but how often do we doubt that in our own lives? It is funny how well we relate with worries and anxieties but doubt the work of God, even though we have proof of these great miracles.

As Catholics, this is one of the reasons we look to the Saints. We do not worship the Saints themselves but look to them as examples and intercessors in our worship of God. St. Francis is a great example because he was born to a rich merchant family. He could have lived the easy life but gave it up when God called him to rebuild the church. His family tried to prevent him and saw him as a disgrace, but he chose to follow the call God had for him. St. Francis chose to follow the grace of God in his own life and did great things for God. All of us are called to the same mission.

We are called to the mission to give of ourselves to God, trusting that his grace will provide for us in every aspect of life. Worries and anxieties come with life, but we have a God who will ALWAYS take care of us, especially when we need it most. Imagine a world where all people worried less. Let us ask God for the grace to trust Him even more, especially with all the worries and anxieties we encounter daily. God Bless!

Agriculture is the most healthful, most useful and most noble employment of man

BCDC Releases Four New Workforce Programs

On September 22, Bowman County Development Corporation hosted over 25 people for a Workforce Open Forum that was open to any businesses or employee that wished to attend. Signs and ads are seen in most businesses, not only in Bowman County but across the state and nation advertising "Help Wanted." As today's workforce continues to evolve, businesses are having to take creative approaches to filling open positions. The meeting was open to all businesses and their employees to discuss resources available to assist them in their recruitment and retention efforts.

The pre-survey of 18 respondents showed a total of 58 open positions which averages three open positions per business. The survey also identified the top three challenges businesses are facing as attracting to a rural community, inability to offer competitive pay, and lack of needed skill in the area.

"We know workforce is a challenge for businesses nationwide and we hope the programs offered can give Bowman County businesses an edge on recruitment and retention." Doerr mentioned as she prepared to share the new programs.

Due to the challenges the Bowman County businesses have been facing, BCDC released a suite of workforce related incentives and wanted to remind the businesses of additional resources that we have available to assist in recruitment, retention and growth. Already existing services include:

- Bowman County Videos
- Bowman County Guides
- Community Tours
- Online Job Boards

- Welcome Baskets
- Rental Property List
- Business Education Classes
- Economic Assistance Programs
- Childcare Assistance Programs

The new incentives are now available to employers and are designed to make a lasting impact for the business, the employee, and the economy of Bowman County. Businesses can apply for more than one program, however there is a funding cap to an individual business of $15,000.

Career Advancement Program

Assistance for a current employee to pursue a certificate, license, or degree relevant to their role or a new role within the organization.

Workforce Tuition Reimbursement Program

A benefit for new hires to help pay for debt incurred from a certificate, license, or degree needed for their role the organization.

Workforce Relocation Reimbursement Program

A benefit for new hires to pay for moving expenses as they relocate to Bowman County for their career with a Bowman County organization.

Sign-on Bonus Program

Provides direct money to businesses to offer a sign-on bonus for new employees.

After previewing the new workforce programs, attendees discussed additional challenges and potential solutions. There was also reminders of the many great amenities and opportunities that Bowman County does offer our current and new potential residents. "The forum opened up opportunities for more discussion on solutions to workforce challenges. We feel the programs will be a great way to help businesses attract and retain employees." Doerr concluded about the impact and importance of the forum.

Full guidelines, details, and applications are available on the BowmanND.com/economic-development/financial-incentives/website. You may also Contact the Bowman County Development Corporation directly at 701.523.5880 or teran@bowmannd.com with any questions you may have.

Save the Date November 3rd Hettinger's Community Turkey Luncheon is Back!

By Ted Uecker,
WRHS Foundation

A longtime tradition in Hettinger is making a comeback – the "Community Turkey Luncheon" will happen again for the 44th time on November 3rd! A few community members and West River Health Services employees have decided it's time to get back together and get into the swing of things! We've all missed being with the public these last two years – no Giving Hearts Day ballgames or wrestling matches, no Wine & Desert Tastings, no Mardi Gras, no 4th of July Bingo, not even a 70th Birthday Party for the hospital. Now we're back. In full force!

The 44th Annual (you read that right, the WRHS Auxiliary did this for 42 straight years!) "Community Turkey Luncheon" will take place on Thursday, November 3rd, 11am-1pm at the Hettinger Lutheran Church Basement. This could be the most sensational Hot Turkey Meal you've ever had (at least since last Thanksgiving)! With white and dark tasty turkey meat, hot brown gravy, amazing dressing, white and wheat bread, cranberries if you want and all kinds of homemade slices of pie! Twenty-four turkeys have been ordered through our terrific partners at Kennedy's Fresh Foods, the committee is getting back together, other supplies are being ordered and we couldn't be happier! Lots of the same healthcare and community leaders will be there or likely working behind the scenes, including Barb West, Eve Safratowich, Jennifer Seamands, Mary Krein, Carmen Strid, Jill Sailer, Cindy Ham, Cory VanWyk, Christi Schmitz, Erin Timm, Al & Kaye McIntyre, Howard Nelson and more. And if you haven't already, come meet our new CEO at West River Health Services, Alyson Kornele. She'll be rolling up her sleeves like the rest of us!

Being the healthcare leader in the area, we are encouraging people to consider 1) calling in for a delivered meal or 2) coming to the Lutheran Church in person and loading up their own to-go meal. We do plan to have limited seating, depending on the community's health over the next four weeks. If we start seeing a number of sick folk, we will not offer seating. If you want to order a Hot Turkey Meal as take-out, we'll have people deliver it right to your doorstep! Yes, we will provide take-out ordering by calling the church at 701-567-2598 the day of the event on November 3rd. Better yet, call Barb at 701-567-2736 the day before on November 2nd and your order will be one of the first meals built and delivered. We'll provide you with white/dark turkey, dressing, white/wheat bread, whether you want gravy or not, cranberries, plus whichever type of pie you'd prefer (depending on availability of course). Kind of a full-service operation here! In fact, if your local business or organization would like to pre-order a group of Hot Turkey Meals (great idea for employers to build employee morale), just contact Ted at 701-567-3666 and he'll get you an order form for you to fill out and return to us by November 2nd. Or maybe you'd like to volunteer and help us make this the most terrific Community Turkey Luncheon yet? Call Ted at the same number above, if volunteering for a terrific cause gets you going. We need you.

This year we plan to offer the turkey lunches for a "Good Will Donation." We plan to utilize most all of the net profits from this Community Turkey Luncheon to bolster our "WRHS Foundation Academic Loan Program," as we need more staffing. We believe that academic loans provide college upperclassmen pursuing healthcare degrees, a chance to sign on the dotted line that they will apply for a job with us in return for a significant loan (which is forgiven within two years of employment). Not only does this program provide more staffing, but it also has the ability to bring more young families to our community. In addition, the West River Health Services Foundation will be making a gift from the net proceeds to the Hettinger Backpack Program, which helps provide needed food on weekends for area youth. Thank you in advance for supporting our 44th Annual Community Turkey Luncheon and these local needed programs – for our patients and our rural community. Onward!

My Wild Animal Adventure...

by geno sloan

Let's go to the Black Hills for a few days and look for animals. Steve, Penny, Ida (the dog), and I headed out for an adventure.

HAWK! I won the first animal call-out. It's very good to be the FIRST one to call out an animal. The game is on!! We reviewed the rules - no tame animals - no cows, horses, cats, or dogs, unless they are out of their natural environment. We are out for Wild Stuff!

Our first travel adventure happened just turning south from the Reva Store. It is a very straight highway. We can see miles ahead. An old jeep came at us bearing a large wooden sign on its front bumper - COWS ON ROAD. Even without the sign, as far as the eye could see there were cows! A very long line of Black Angus wandered the highway plus ditches on both sides. They were moving north slowly, being herded along by several cowgirls on horseback. We commented that women were finally taking over the ranching business. Good for them! Bringing up the rear was a fellow on an ATV. We sat watching the cattle drive for over 1/2 hour until they had all passed. The highway was again open to traffic. Let's go!

ANTELOPE ON LEFT! ANTELOPE ON RIGHT! These animal calls were frequent for the next hour. After a snack and fuel break, we were finally in the Black Hills, one of my favorite places. After a beautiful and colorful drive through Spearfish Canyon, we headed for Custer State Park. From now on, our eyes would be searching for Bison, more often called buffalo. And see them, we did! Hundreds! They wandered the ditches, took over the roads (who would argue with a buffalo?) and enjoyed grazing their way through mountain meadows.

FYI - this was the 57th annual Buffalo Roundup in Custer State Park. It occurs each year on the last Friday of September. For 2-3 weeks prior, they nudge the animals closer to a huge grassy basin where there are corrals ready to check the animals for health problems, vaccinate them, and possibly relocate many around the country. The park can sustain a herd of between 1000 and 1400, and so must cull some out every year. This is the second time I have been privileged to view the beginning this outstanding event.

For two nights we stayed in a lovely log cabin, feasted on buffalo burgers by day and marshmallows at night, roasted over an open fire, while exploring the beautiful Black Hills. The planet of Jupiter also sparkled above the forest for us on the super-clear nights.

Wild turkeys! Deer! Elk! Prairie Dogs! Coyote! And to top

it off we drove through Ghost Canyon Road.

It was - Boo-tiful!!

Tell one Farmer/Rancher this week. THANK YOU!

The most beautiful attire

Back in the USA!

By Kathy Craigo Harteis

It's great to be home. Sadly, I was pretty sick when we got here. A visit to the doctor and good meds are pulling me out of it. I can swallow today. Good news is I haven't been able to eat for two days so the vacation pounds are gone.

I am feeling so blessed to have had this wonderful adventure with Velvet. World traveler that she is, she was great at figuring things out and leading the way.

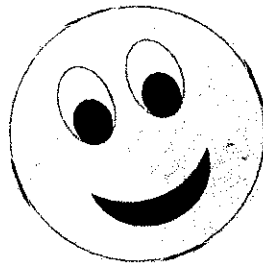

I'm kinda proud of myself for keeping up with her.

We shopped, we ate and explored. We put many, many steps on our fitbits. We saw a lot of beautiful things and learned a lot of history.

Now it's back to reality. I may have come home with a bigger bag than I left with. It seemed a necessity at the time. Our flights were smooth and on schedule. Prayer paved the way.

The bonus was when I got home my sweet husband had repainted and decorated my bathroom. It's beautiful. I'm a lucky woman.

Life is good today.

Every once in awhile, someone will call me requesting one of the many books I have written. They are all paperbacks; 5X8. I put the book in a big manila envelope, fold it over so it is double, tape it closed and address it with a black Sharpie. I go to the same post office all the time. They know me by name. I'm going to try to mail the book without a SWAT team rushing in with a robot to check it out.

It's a book. The package is the size of a book. It weighs what a book weighs. It feels like a book in a manila envelope. It isn't sealed or stapled shut. By the way they look at it you'd think it is a block of plastique blasting substance.

She says to me, "Does this contain drugs or fluids or munitions or caustic chemicals?"

If it wasn't such a stupid question I wouldn't have said what I said. I tell her this every time. "It contains four Hummers, 100 sniper rifles, a million rounds of ammo, a Howitzer cannon, three fighter jets, a thousand gallons of jet fuel and ten kilos of heroin."

It's a book. It isn't on the scale yet. Six people are in line listening, ready to run.

Wake up! If there was anything in that package that was toxic, explosive, corrosive, illegal or addictive, do you think the sender would tell the clerk what is in the package?

It's a book. The pen is mightier than the sword.

Consider this: Pontius Pilate was governor in Jerusalem and Harod Agrippa was King of Judea. Of course their ambitions brought them into a political collision. But when it came to the subject of Jesus Christ who was not a King as they thought of a King, they agreed and became friends'. Let's us use that word loosely. After this collision wherein they successfully had Christ executed, Pilate got a letter from Caesar requiring him to return to Rome. There he was forced to commit suicide.

So...guess who wrote the letter to Caesar accusing Pilate of crimes that constituted a death sentence?

Come to think of it, Judas Iscariot committed suicide, too. Read between the lines...Maybe that's where the word 'underhanded' came from.

Family is the most important thing in the world.

David C. Jensen Rites Held

Graveside services with Military Honors for David C. Jensen, 47 were held at Greenhill Cemetery, Lemmon, SD at 10:30 a.m. MT on Friday, October 7. Pastor Randy Eisenbeisz officiated with Brattvet Green American Legion Post #66.

Following the graveside service, all were invited to meet at the Legion Hall for a time of fellowship, sharing, and a luncheon.

David C. Jensen was born to Eldon and Mary Jean (Steinheuser) Jensen on January 5, 1975, in Rapid City, SD. He spent his early years keeping up with his brothers, Derek and Greg, and sister Kari along with all the neighborhood friends in Lemmon, SD.

Dave attended Lemmon Public Schools and was proud to be on the undefeated Lemmon Cowboy Football team in 1993. He also qualified for the SD State High School Track Finals in four events his senior year. Many summer days were spent at the Jensen Cabin on Shadehill Lake. The "Jensen Water-Ski Training" taught many friends and family the art of enjoying being on top of the water.

Dave met the love of his life, Amber Christine Beld, in his teens and they began dating during high school. Their first official date was her invitation to the Bison prom. In the fall of 1993, Dave enlisted in the U.S. Army. He reported for basic training at Fort Benning, GA in August of 1994. He was named the Honor Graduate of his class in November and graduated from Jump School before leaving Ft. Benning. He was transferred to the 75th Ranger Regiment, Fort Lewis, WA. While with the Ranger Regiment he received advanced training around the world.

Dave and Amber were married in Washington on June 17, 1995. Their children, Jaleigh Bliss and Colten David were born on December 1, 1995, and April 8, 1999, while the family was stationed at Ft. Lewis.

In 2000, Dave graduated from West Virginia Assessment and Selection Operator Training Course and was assigned to

B Squadron at Ft. Bragg, NC, where he served with distinction with the U.S. Special Operations Command. The family relocated to Fayetteville, NC, and then soon after to Whispering Pines, NC in 2001, where they lived the rest of their lives. They loved their neighbors, crossing the street to go down to Thagards lake, and their big backyard full of pine trees. Recently, they purchased an Airstream camper and enjoyed camping and traveling together, mostly up to Jordan Lake, NC, to jet ski on weekends in the summer.

Shortly after the 2001 terrorist attack on 9/11, Dave and Amber heard the following scripture in their church in Southern Pines, NC. Isaiah 6:8-9 "Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" And I said, "Here am I, send me!" They knew the Lord was speaking to them both and, in a few short weeks, he left for the War.

Dave felt a huge calling to defend America, the country he loved so much. In October of 2001, he participated in the first military operation in Afghanistan. He was aboard the USS Kitty Hawk between deployments behind enemy lines. He completed several combat deployments while supporting Operation Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan) and Operation Iraqi Freedom while on active duty and as a civilian advisor.

After he was honorably discharged from the Army in 2004, Dave continued to consult with the U.S. Military joining the Wexford Group, Inc. serving with the U.S. Army Asymmetric Warfare Group. David later worked in Operations for the Joint Special Operations Command at Ft. Bragg. He excelled in everything he did while serving in the military and as an advisor.

In 2012, David was deployed to Afghanistan as an operational adviser for the Warfare Group alongside the 82nd Airborne Division. On September 10, 2012, David and Company C were set to fly out of Bagram Airfield with Afghan National Security Forces to conduct a partnered air assault operation in Parwan Province. During preflight, their Chinook helicopter was struck by an enemy rocket which set the fuel tanks on fire. Despite the high risk of danger and personal harm, David immediately began evacuating the wounded from the wreckage, saving the lives of four fellow soldiers. For his actions that night he was awarded the Medal for Valor, the highest civilian award given by the Department of Defense. He was recognized for his bravery in an awards ceremony at the Pentagon's Hall of Heroes on April 14, 2014.

Dave passed away at his home in Whispering Pines, NC on Tuesday, September 6, 2022. He is survived by his children, Jaleigh Bliss Jensen (partner Alex) of Sandy, UT, and Colten David Jensen (girlfriend Dina) of Raleigh, NC; his parents, Eldon and Mary Jean Jensen of Lemmon, SD; brothers, Derek and Mitz Jensen of Marion, IA (Mackenzie, Whitney, and Jacob), and Greg and Tonya Jensen of Hettinger, ND (Ella, Laela, and Jaeda); sister, Kari Jensen and Kyle Thomas of Woodbury, MN (Olivia and Zachary) many cousins, aunts and uncles and extended family and friends. Also, his mother-in-law, Beth Hulm of Bison, SD; brothers-in-law, Jason (Wendi) Beld, Ryan (Raven) Beld, Jared Beld, and Kirk Hulm; and sister-in-law Kendra (Pete) Theobald.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Amber Beld Jensen, his beloved chocolate miniature Dachshund, Greta Bean; grandparents, J.P. and Ida Jensen, and Milton and Sylvia Steinheuser; uncles and aunts, Volmer Jensen and Dale Ingalls, Edwin and Aithier Jensen, Edythe and Karl Dexheimer, Margaret and Ray Burnett, special cousin, Duane Ingalls, and too many military brothers.

Memorials have been established.

Rusty Foster and his mules gave wagon rides all day on Saturday

24th Annual Coal Springs Threshing Bee Wrap Up

Another Coal Springs Threshing Bee and Antique Show has come and gone. We had a great weekend with pretty good weather and great crowds. A big thank you to all who took part in the event. We truly do live in a GENEROUS community. We do not charge admission and yet through the generosity of friends and neighbors we continue to be able to put on our threshing bee year after year. We are excited to have finished pouring concrete in the main building this year. It has taken awhile, but it is done and looks great and makes for a less dusty environment for our vendors and guests.

This year Case tractors were featured, and there was quite an impressive array of Case tractors on display. The Flatmoe family had there early cross-motor steel wheeled Case tractors.

The highlight of the show may have been Jake and Bryant Schauer's collection of the complete 30 series Case tractors. 430, 530, 630, 730, 830, 930 round fender, 930 square fender and a 1030. They were beautifully restored as well. Another unique Case tractor on display was a Case model D-Orchard. You don't see too many of those around.

Thanks to the Coal Springs Wagon Train for rolling into our show to kick off our parade on Saturday. They are hoping to have a lengthy wagon train next year. For more information on that, contact Jim Englehart.

Plans are in the works already for next year which will be our 25th annual threshing bee. One of the big projects is a 70' x 20' addition to the east side of our main building. The addition will provide additional vendor space and best of all bathrooms with running water and flushing toilets! Other uses for the space are yet to be determined. If anyone is interested in donating to the building project please send your gifts to John Lemke, PO

Box 13 Lantry, SD 57636. Or you may send your donation to Dacotah Bank in Lemmon, SD.

A Little Birdie Told Me

By: Vivian Hernandez

A Little Birdie Told Me: "There's More to Medora Than the Musical." Medora has been a favorite day trip of mine since I was a kid. We seldom got to enjoy the Musical as money was tight but we always took a drive through the Badlands and had a picnic at the Burning Coal Vein. Back then the coal vein was actively burning and Mom would put her kettle of fried chicken on the vein to warm. We'd hike around the campground while our lunch was heating up. After lunch we'd head north on East River Road and count the cattle guards as we went to our next stop, the ice cream shop. Sometimes we stopped along the Mile Wide and an Inch Deep, Little Missouri River and spend hours splashing around. The day wasn't complete until we drove through the park and stopped at the Painted Canyon Visitor Center.

In my recent travels to Medora I had lunch at the Cowboy Café, owned for 42 years by Kevin & Beth Clyde. The Cowboy Café could easily be featured on Diners, Drive-Ins & Dives, with its western décor and fabulous homemade food. If you're a Liver & Onions fan the Cowboy Café is the place for you! Other favorite menu items are: Tomato Mac Soup, Chicken Fried Steak and for dessert Sour Cream Raisin Pie. For a donation of $1 to their Grandchildren recipes are available: if you got a copy from the Eido Connect last week of the Tomato Mac Soup winner of the 2007 Beef Challenge, send $1 to Beth Clyde, P.O. Box 487, Medora ND 58645.

I was planning to visit the Billings County Court House Museum; since school had already started the director was back teaching. I moved onto the Harold Schafer Heritage Center featuring The Capital Gallery West & Gift Shop. Harold Schafer owner of the Gold Seal Co. took the patriotic pageant known as "Old Four-Eyes" under his wing and made it into the musical, historical/variety show we know as the Medora Musical. "In the summer of 1942 Schafer saw a young woman, Jean Lierboe, wearing a costume pin in a café in Mott, ND. He immediately bought it from her for $10 and designed his Gold Seal emblem after it. Later he sealed a lifelong friendship by giving her a "look-alike pin"... but re-created in gold and diamonds."

The museum is full of Gold Seal memorabilia and good old Mr. Bubble. The Capital Gallery West displays a variety of western art.

I couldn't pass up a chance to stop at the Painted Canyon Visitor Center and take in the view of the Badlands in all its glory. The parking lot was full of visitors from around the country I counted over 20 state license plates and one Canadian. The most interesting was a pickup camper from New York with bumper stickers from all the brewers they had visited: That's my kind of vacation!

Time to hit the dusty trail and head home with more memories of Medora and the Badlands.

A Little Birdie Told Me: "Medora is Still a Family Friendly Day-Cation!"

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt
One of the biggest problems that has existed since forever in schools is bullying. Sometimes it is pretty subtle as one kid snubs another by just walking past when they could say hello, but choose not to. Other times it is much worse by actually causing mental or even physical abuse to someone. Why does this happen and can it be changed?

Amazingly enough it is not inherent in a child to dislike another. If you put little children together in a group they will play together as long as they are small enough. They do not see color or whether the other child is wearing the right clothes. They may squabble a bit over a toy that they each want, but with a little guidance from an understanding adult, they can be given direction to share and play nice with each other. This only changes when they observe someone treating someone different or are told that they are not to play with a particular child or are told that they are special in some way. Children repeat what they hear, sometimes to the dismay and embarrassment of their parents, usually in a social situation.

Since no one likes to be the person that gets picked on and we are supposedly taught to be kind to others, why does it continue to be such a problem? There are so many books and programs that are out there now to teach children what is right and how to appreciate each other for the people that they are. We are told on a daily basis on television programs and social media how wrong it is to judge others by what they have and how they act, so is this a case of do as I say and not as I do? Where does it start if it is not part of a child's normal attitude and how do we change an attitude once it is a part of the child? Who has the answers to these questions? What is missing when children hurt other children just because they can. I wish that I knew the answer to these questions because it appears that if children become bullies in grade school, they often just get worse instead of 'growing out of it'.

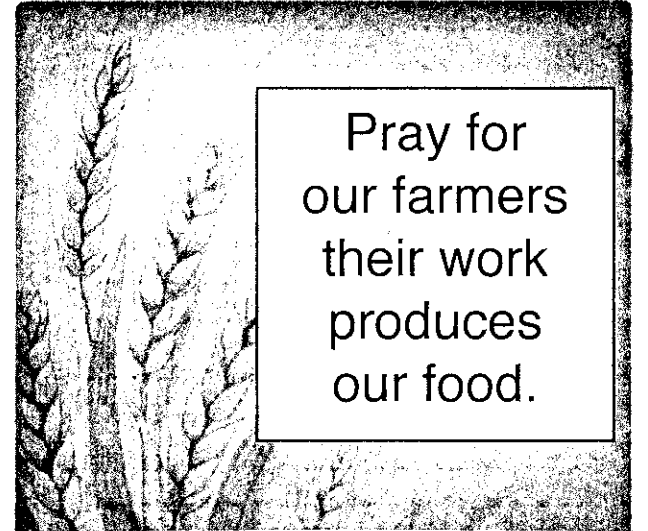

Money is often blamed for creating a privileged child in life. Sometimes that is the case as a child that is told that they have money or hear their parents talk about how much money they have, they seem to think that that equates to them being special. They get the idea that when they can get whatever they want out of life just by asking for it means that they are somehow entitled to do whatever they want and someone else will fix it if there is a problem with what they did. How wrong this can be and sometimes they never get fixed always thinking that what they do is acceptable no matter what. If they have enough money, people have been known to fix almost anything for their children. This does not do the child any favors in life.

So how does this end? The moral of this story is that none of us are any more special than anyone else except by our accomplishments in life. If we treat others badly how do we expect others to treat us nicely? If we are badly treated, do we then treat others badly? We all need to take a good look at what we do in life and see if it is how we really want to be remembered. When we look back at our lives do we want to be known as a good person or the class bully. When our family remembers us do we want to be known as a person who took from others or rather be remembered as the one that did things for others just because it was a good thing to do. Do we really need people on television or social media telling us how to act or should we know what is wrong and what is right? The Golden Rule says Do Unto others as you would Have them Do Unto You. If we tried to live our life that way each and every day, I truly think there would be a lot less bullying and a lot more happy people in this world. Just a thought, and you never know I might be right. God Bless you all.

Laureen Stuber, 2022 Farmer/Rancher of the Year, was born in Bowman and grew up on the family farm south of Bowman with her parents Lawrence and Frances Faris and brother Lowell Faris. Laureen graduated from Bowman High School in 1961, and attended the National School of Business in Rapid City, SD.

Laureen married Richard (Dick) Stuber on May 4, 1963 and they raised two children, Wendy and Duane. They lived on a ranch north of Bowman where Laureen continued to live after Dick passed away in 1998.

Laureen has been very involved in 4-H, ND Jr Hereford, and served as a board member for Cottage School.
