Ma Ma Salmon, knowing it was time to go upstream to lay her eggs was fighting a severe breathing problem - only a few days left for the waters to be right for the uphill battle, she herself battled her ability to make the journey.

Then it happened - time ran out and the eggs came early. Poor Ma Ma Salmon - a change in customs - will everything be okay - this isn't the way life is suppose to be - but sometimes life is just not the way she had planned. - Now what?

Unusual circumstance - now two little Salmon eggs were laid in a unforgivable territory - In Salmon land custom was go upstream - lay the eggs in new territory and help populate the waters above.

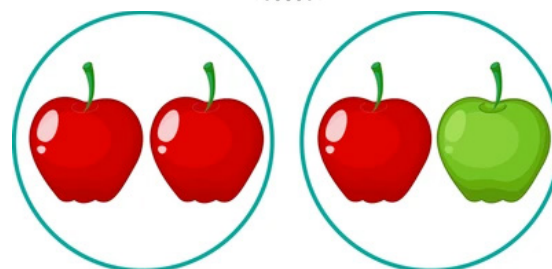

Ma Ma Salmon had changed an old way of living and now had to deal with the outcome - what were her choices.

Not much she could do about it but just try to be a good mother, raise her two children that grew out of the eggs she produced.

First she had to pick names for the two little Salmon - one looked like her and other - she really wasn't sure - sometimes the other shined in the bright waters then other times seemed like there was a darkness she couldn't quite figure out - loved them both equally - but -

So the choice was made - Different and Same - the name was perfect and because they weren't always the same, sometimes different - the older Salmon who never went upstream - enjoyed watching them grow - and grow - and learn they did - for the older Salmon taught them everything they knew.

Due to the fact that Different and Same had opposite personalities - they were both female Salmon and as they grew - so did the stories of them leaving home, swimming upstream and populating new territory.

Alike

Finally the spring thaws - water moving faster - dams flooding - almost time to move upstream - decision time - today - tomorrow - older Salmon said their good-byes wishing them well - water just right.

Ready said Same - sure said Different - said their good-byes to Mama Salmon - Same took the first plunge - uphill she paddled fighting against strong currents - Different just watched - soon Same would be out of sight - Different now it's your turn - ready - and -

Different stayed behind - had her children, faced the outcome of not doing what everyone expected - being different.

Same - went upstream - had her children - the same as everyone else.

Ma Ma Salmon realized - both did the right thing - they made a choice of love - showing the world it's okay to be the Same but Different.

Dear Lord,
So far today, God, I've done all right.
I haven't gossiped, haven't lost my temper, I haven't been greedy, grumpy, nasty, selfish or over-indulgent.
I haven't envied or even cast any blame. I'm really glad about that.

But, in a few minutes God, I'm going to get out of bed, and from then on I'm probably going to need a lot more help for the remainder of the day.

Thank you Lord. Amen

Last week progressive Michigan candidate Abdul El-Sayed said some of the most bizarre things I have ever heard come out of a "doctor's" mouth. And, that includes the COVID by the way, folks. First up...interest on investments is apparently not "earned" according to the commies, so, we should just give a substantial piece of it to them. Seriously? My wife and I rolled coins, ate Ramen noodles and struggled for years to get me through college and law school; paid off our debt (the house) instead of buying every new toy that came down the pike; drove on the rare vacation; raised our kids (and several others); avoided a credit card; and, finally started putting away investment income as we went along the way...and, in your opinion, we haven't earned any of the interest on those investments as we move toward retirement? Oh, and, pay your bloated butt a salary too, right? It's not like you're providing charity! I don't ask for much bucko...just to be left alone by you grifters and, I genuinely do not give a fat rat's backside what you think...about anything!

Second up, this guy actually equated child sex change (removal of their reproductive organs) with circumcision on national TV. Uh...say what now? I know the WNBA and you other folks like Supreme Court Katanji Brown-Jackson can't define what a female actually is but, do we really need another civic leader who equates a religious, ceremonial family decision with a confused, mentally-ill minor who is about to undergo what you call "gender affirming care"? Those of us with a fully-functional brain call it castration and hysterectomy/mastectomy! These are not the 'droids you are looking for? Really, again? Abdul apparently still thinks (as he wrote in 2002) that Colin Kaepernick is a stand-up guy (pun intended—see what I did there?) and the NFL, which is 70% non-white, black, African-American or whatever the current, politically-correct term is; is still racist, toxically-masculine, misogynist, homophobic and sexist. Gee, who knew, right? How about, you just stop watching pro football and, keep your yapper closed there so I can enjoy it? There's a thought.

My grandpa Luther was a yellow dog Democrat...a union man all the way with the GM assembly plant in Leeds, Missouri. He retired there, after a lifetime on the assembly-line, as a foreman. On April 15, 1988, that plant closed to go overseas (I heard) and, grandpa had passed during my first year in law school—back in 1983. I remembered something he had said in 1976 when I got to vote for the first time. He was complaining, some 50 years ago, about the ever-broadening grift that he saw coming. "I didn't take these folks on to raise." That sounded cruel at the time he said it because I was a teenager and didn't have any skin in the game. But, he wasn't talking about the "poor", he was talking about the grifters like Mr. El-Sayed. When you grow up poor, you learn about the grift—tricking people into giving up their money or property thru cleverness or deceit. What we are seeing from these "progressives" is what we called the "long-grift". It's like the old frog in the hot water story...slowly take the grift and it's painless and, then we get distracted by the next thing as we get boiled alive. Hopefully, folks wake up and smell the coffee. Have a great week.

Dajavu
By Kathy Craigo Harteis
Back in the day my teen-aged son Val drove a 77 Trans-Am.
This week my newly drivers licensed grandson Vaughn took me for a ride in his 79 TransAm. Both of them worked for the cars.
It was a blast from the past riding with Vaughn. How many late nights did I sigh a sigh of relief when I heard the rumble of Val's 77 pulling into the driveway? Many!

It seems like yesterday the grandkids spent time playing video games in my basement. Now two of them are driving. We increase prayer time praying angels around all of them.
I'm impressed with the work Vaughn and his dad have put into the rehabilitation of the classic car. It's a great father/son project. It's also a strong bonding experience for both of them.

Vaughn has worked for us this summer helping with yard work and handyman projects.

It pleases me to see Vaughn's willingness to work for what he gets. Another well learned lesson from his dad I assume.

I like it when young people are willing to earn things they want. It's more appreciated when you work for it. It's a sense of pride.

I grew up working for things I wanted. Early on I picked walnuts earning a whopping $1 per burlap bag full I picked.

I've waitressed, provided childcare, worked as bookkeeper, evolved into a newspaper journalist and finally business owner (publicist) before retiring.

Just as my parents before me, I've worked most of my life.

These days we see so many people begging and living on the street. It occurs to me that it must take more effort to live that lifestyle than it would to put in an honest days work to pay your own way.

I'm proud to see my kids and grandkids are eager to do just that. You want it; work for it. Life is good today.

STRUCK DOWN BUT NOT DESTROYED

*The Story of Rudolph Heupel,
A German Russian Immigrant*

Dr. Ron Baesler

Rudolph Heupel was not the first nor the last pastor to serve Trinity Church. But he led this congregation longer than any other pastor and had a remarkable impact far beyond the bounds of this rural parish.

Rudolph was born near Odessa in the Ukraine in 1893. In 1912 he moved to Germany and trained as a deacon in the Lutheran church. During the horrors of WWI and the chaos that followed he tended wounded soldiers and served those who suffered.

In 1923 he emigrated to the US with his wife and daughter. After doing seminary work in Minnesota, in 1926 he accepted the Lord's call to serve as Trinity's pastor. He would faithfully serve this congregation for the next twenty years.

He and his wife Ida raised eight children and extended their care to many others. Along with their parishioners, they endured the economic chaos and dust storms of the 30's and the tumult and heartache of WWII.

Rudolph's impact spread far beyond the bounds of his congregation. He was gifted with 'healing hands.' He had the ability to ease aching muscles through massage, realign spines and adjust painful joints. This gift drew people from throughout the region. During his time at Trinity, he attended tens of thousands of people who came to him for help. Some called him Doctor, Healer, and even Saint. But to the end he insisted he was but a humble servant doing the Lord's work.

Rudolf's grandson, Dr. Ron Baesler has written the story of Rudolf's amazing life. STRUCK DOWN BUT NOT DESTROYED: The Story of Rudolph Heupel, a German-Russian Immigrant is based on extensive research, family memories and a grandson's imagination. It has been the basis for Ron's presentations at two national Germans from Russia Heritage conferences.

Cloud Seeding Operations Summary for August 24-30, 2026

BISMARCK, N.D. – Near normal high temperatures in the 80s and scattered weekend thunderstorms characterized southwestern North Dakota's weather last week. The upper-level ridge over the western U.S. held firmly for most of last week and then became flattened out by low pressure systems moving across the northern plains.

In the District 1 operations area, which includes Bowman and part of Slope Counties, four operational flights (two hail suppression, one reconnaissance, and one reposition flight) were flown last week.

The last day of the 2026 North Dakota Cloud Modification Project will be dry and breezy with a high topping out around 80 degrees. Operations for this season conclude at midnight (MDT) tonight.

Radar facilities in Bowman operate around the clock during the NDCMP. Radar images can be viewed on the Department of Water Resources' web site at <http://www.dwr.nd.gov/arb>.

Perseverance in Prayer

*Fr. Greg Hilzendeger, Pastor
Holy Trinity-Hettinger, Sacred Heart-Reeder, Sacred Heart-Scranton*

Last week in the Catholic Church, we celebrated the feast day of St. Monica, the mother of the extraordinary St. Augustine. Famously, St. Augustine underwent a dramatic conversion before becoming the saint and theologian he is known as. Around the age of 16, Augustine fell away from the Christian faith, joined a heretical group known as Manicheism, took a concubine, and fathered a child out of wedlock. Monica long persisted in prayer for Augustine's conversion, weeping and crying out to God. Finally, at the age of 32, Augustine was baptized and eventually became a bishop and one of the most well-known figures in Church history. Augustine wrote of his mother's prayers: "Graciously You heard her, and you did not despise her tears when they flowed down from her eyes and watered the earth beneath, in whatsoever place she prayed. Graciously you heard her."

Monica's example demonstrates the power of prayer, especially for our loved ones, but I am most struck by her tireless perseverance. How many times during those 16 years must she have been tempted to give up, growing discouraged as Augustine seemed to drift farther and farther from God? Yet, she persisted. We can often get discouraged when our own prayers do not seem to receive an answer. It can be very tempting to give up, perhaps even justifying doing so with pious language saying, "I guess God doesn't want to give me this, so I'll just surrender to His will. My prayers don't work, so I'll give it to God." Such words sound holy on the surface, but they don't have a basis in Scripture. Certainly, we must always surrender to God's will, but nowhere in Scripture does Jesus tell us, "Pray for what you need, but if it doesn't happen after a little while, then give up because that means I don't want to give it to you." Rather, again and again, Jesus exhorts us to persevere with radical trust and fortitude. Reflecting on my own life, I can see many graces that I felt moved to pray for that I eventually just gave up on. Perhaps you can recall many examples in your life. What might God do in our lives if we persevere in bringing these desires to Him with childlike trust? Today, take some time to reflect on prayers we have given up on, perhaps a sin we are struggling with, a grace we desire, or the conversion of a loved one. Let us renew our confidence in God and persist in prayer after the example of St. Monica.

North Dakota Facts and Figures

Rich Wardner
WHAT IS A MILL?

A mill is 1/1000 of anything. Examples: 1/1000 of a meter is a millimeter, 1/1000 of a gram is a milligram, and 1/1000 of a dollar is 1/10 of one cent (0.1 cent). One mill is written as a decimal as .001. Dealing with mills is the same concept when you deal with percentages.

Fact #1: When you convert 26% to a decimal you drop the percent sign and move the decimal point two places left. Example 26% = .26 and 73% = .73. When we multiply by a percent you always drop the % sign and move the decimal two place left.

Fact #2: When you convert 26 mills to a decimal you drop the word (mill) and move the decimal point three place left. Example 26 mills = .026 and 73 mills = .073.

Fact #3: Mills can be converted to percentage. Example: The mill levy in a town is 219 mills and when converted to percent it looks like this 21.9%. Move the decimal point one place left, drop the word mill and add the percent sign.

Fact #4: A home has a taxable value of $9,000 and the mill levy of that community was 234 mills. You can multiply $9,000 x 234 mills = Dollars or you can multiply $9,000 x 23.4% = Dollars. Convert and Mult. $9,000 x .234 = $2,106 or convert and Mult. $9,000 x .234 = $2,106.

Question: Why not just use percentages? I personally do not have a real good answer however I think in the beginning those figuring out tax bills wanted to go three places rather than two places to help make the tax in dollars more precise and accurate. Plus, you do not start out with digits behind or to the right of the decimal such as in 16.3%, because this would be list as 163 mills.

The Concept of "Equal Effort"
Every year, each local taxing district submits in dollars the amount they need for their operational budget to the county treasurer. The county tax director calculates the mills needed to apply on each tax payer's taxable valuation. This ensures every citizen contributes fairly to the budget; a uniform mill rate is calculated to guarantee an Equal Effort.

Think of it like a biblical tithe: if Johnny makes $450 a week, his 10% tithe is $45. If Judy makes $1,900 a week, her 10% is $190. The dollar amounts are drastically different, but the effort (10%) is perfectly equal. This same concept applies to property taxes: two neighbors with different home values will pay different dollar amounts, but they are the exact same mill rate "effort" to support their community.

If Albert Johnson has a home in a small town with a true and full value of $450,000 and the county mill rate is 235 mills. His property taxes would be calculated as follows.

$$450,000 \times 9\% \times 235 \text{ mills}$
 $2 = \text{Tax Dollars}$
 $$225,000 \times .09 \times .235 =$
$4,758.75 Property Tax Amount

John Jones has a home in small town with a true and full value of $180,000 and the county mill rate is 235 mills. John's property taxes would be calculated as follows.

$$180,000 \times 9\% \times 235 \text{ mills}$
 $2 = \text{Tax Dollars}$
 $$90,000 \times .09 \times .235 =$
$1,903.50 Property Tax Amount

Albert's property tax bill is $4,758.75 and John's property tax bill is $1,903.50 the dollar amounts are not equal but effort of 235 mills is equal.

Anyone who serves on the city commission, county commission, township board, school board or state legislature needs to know and understand the information in this article if they are going to make good decisions. That also applies to the voters.

Schneider Brothers' Journey to the Western ND Honor Flight

Four Brothers. One Incredible Journey.

In October 2025, while visiting with one of Marlin's pheasant hunters, the subject of Honor Flights came up. The hunter asked Marlin if he had ever been on an Honor Flight.

Marlin's answer was simple: "No, but I would like to go—and I have three brothers I could convince to go with me."

The pheasant hunter, who lives in Minnesota and is part of the North Dakota/Minnesota Eastern Honor Flight, knew exactly who Marlin should contact. About a week later, he sent Marlin an email with information about the Western North Dakota Honor Flight and said he had already contacted them to let them know Marlin was interested.

Marlin contacted Western ND Honor Flight and was told that, for this particular flight, no one under the age of 80 would be accepted.

Marlin's response? "No problem. No one is under 80."

Marlin then contacted his brothers—Earl, Harry, and Ervin—and asked if they would be interested in making the trip of a lifetime to Washington, D.C.

Their answer was an enthusiastic yes!

Each brother completed an application, and all four applications were submitted together to Western ND Honor Flight. They were hoping to travel together on the September 2026 Honor Flight.

Then came the exciting news: all four brothers were accepted!

Each brother was contacted individually for additional information, but the four of them were determined to experience this journey together.

A Chance to Go Sooner

In early March 2026, Western ND Honor Flight contacted Marlin with an unexpected opportunity. There was an opening on an April 2026 flight for all four brothers.

It was tempting—but other plans had already been made. After talking it over, the brothers agreed that they would keep their September 2026 Honor Flight as originally planned.

Waiting—and Talking About the Trip

Over the following months, the brothers had plenty of opportunities to talk about their upcoming adventure.

They discussed the Honor Flight during their yearly gathering in Arizona in January, while celebrating a milestone birthday in May, at a family wedding in June, during the Schneider Family Reunion in June, and many other times by phone.

With four brothers involved, there was never a shortage of conversation, anticipation, jokes, or laughter.

August 22, 2026 — It Becomes Real

On Saturday, August 22, the Western ND Honor Flight held a meeting for the veterans who would be making the upcoming trip.

Naturally, the four Schneider brothers arrived together, bringing their usual excitement, jokes, and laughter.

At the meeting, they received their Honor Flight duffel bags. Inside were an agenda, two shirts, a cap, a jacket, and a purple name badge identifying them as travelers on the "Purple Bus."

The brothers were thrilled.

In fact, they were so well prepared that there was no need to buy a new bag or new clothes for the trip.

They joked that all they needed to pack were their "skivvies."

And just like that, the reality of the journey began to sink in.

Four brothers who had spent a lifetime serving, working, raising families, and making memories together were about to embark on a very special journey to Washington, D.C.—together.

Four Brothers. Four Veterans. One Honor Flight.

Their military careers span more than a century of combined service. Their ranks and years of service may be different, but they share something even more important: they are brothers.

What started with a simple question from a pheasant hunter—"Have you ever been on an Honor Flight?"—turned into an unforgettable opportunity for four Schneider brothers, sons of Harvey and Zermill Schneider to make a journey together.

Their September 2026 trip to Washington, D.C., will be more than a visit to our nation's capital.

It will be a celebration of their service, a tribute to their military careers, and a chance to honor the sacrifices made by generations of veterans.

Most of all, it will be another chapter in the story of four brothers who all joined the National Guard in Mott, ND—have spent a lifetime making memories together.

And this one is sure to be one they—and their families—will never forget.

News for the Senate

Senator Don Schaible
District 31
dgschaible@ndlegis.gov

Data centers have quickly become one of the most important issues facing North Dakota. They bring a lot of potential to our state, but they also bring some real concerns, and I have heard both sides from folks across District 31. Because of this, there have been many town halls held around the state, and the Legislature has now formed a new interim Artificial Intelligence and Data Center Committee. This committee was announced in late June by Senate Majority Leader David Hogue, who chairs Legislative Management, and it is chaired by Representative Jonathan Warrey of Casselton. It is made up of ten legislators from both the House and Senate, along with citizen members with expertise in this area, including former University System Chancellor Mark Hagerott. The committee held its first meeting in July to a standing-room-only crowd of more than seventy people, which tells you how much interest there is in this issue. It met again on August 13 and plans to meet about five times before the regular session begins in January, including some field trips to communities around the state. The committee is also accepting written testimony, so if you have thoughts on this issue, there is a way to be heard even if you cannot make it to Bismarck.

I look forward to seeing what is learned in that committee, because there will be many bills related to data centers and artificial intelligence next session. It will be helpful to know what has worked in other states, and what has not, so we can find the right balance for North Dakota. I also feel there is a lot of bad information, or at least outdated information, floating around about data centers that needs to be rooted out. Water usage is a good example. Much of what people have heard is based on older facilities, while many of the newer designs use far less water than folks assume. Whatever the facts turn out to be, we need to make our decisions based on facts and not on rumors, and that is exactly what this committee is set up to help us do.

Now a few points from where I stand. I do not want the state to take away all local control on this issue. Many of these decisions should be made at the county level, within a state-wide framework. The state can paint with too broad of a brush, and townships can be too granular, since the impacts of these facilities often extend well beyond the borders of a single township. The county seems to be the right level to address most of these siting questions, with the state setting the overall rules of the road.

Within the right regulatory framework, data centers can be a real boon to the North Dakota economy. They can help offset some of our declining oil revenues and further diversify our state's economy, which is something we have worked toward for many years. As we keep working to lower income and property taxes, data centers provide another mechanism to help make that possible. At the same time, we need to make sure consumer electric rates do not go up because of these facilities, and I will fight for that. We will explore ways to make sure that is a reality, whether that means requiring these facilities to bring their own power or through other mechanisms. We also need to have a plan for what happens to these facilities when they reach the end of their useful life, so our counties are not left holding the bag with an empty building and no one responsible for it. And we need to make sure they are good neighbors, doing what is possible to mitigate noise and light pollution for the folks who live nearby.

All in all, data centers can be a huge boost to North Dakota if this is done correctly. I am confident we will get the information we need out of the Artificial Intelligence and Data Center Committee to make sure we can achieve that outcome, and I will keep you informed as its work continues.

As always, I am happy to hear your concerns and questions that you may have.

Bowman Area Chamber Wraps Up "Shop Chamber, Earn Local Rewards" Promotion

BOWMAN, N.D. – The Bowman Area Chamber of Commerce recently wrapped up its August Shop Chamber, Earn Local Rewards promotion, encouraging residents and visitors to support local Chamber member businesses throughout the month.

Three participants were selected to receive $50, $100 and $150 in Chamber Bucks. The Chamber sends a big congratulations to the winners and extends its appreciation to everyone who participated in the promotion.

Throughout August, shoppers who spent at least $15 at a Chamber member business could submit their receipts for a chance to win. Participants could also earn bonus entries by submitting receipts from three different Chamber businesses at one time, while purchases made on Wednesdays were counted as double entries.

The promotion generated over $4,800 in local spending at multiple Chamber businesses, helping keep dollars close to home. The initiative made shopping locally even more rewarding while highlighting the businesses that help strengthen Bowman County's economy and communities.

28th Annual Coal Springs Threshing Bee is Just Around the Corner

Just wanted to give a brief heads up as to what will be happening at the Coal Springs Threshing Bee this year. The date of the big event is September 25-27th at the show grounds located 3 miles south of the Meadow corner on highway 73. Just keep your out for activity and you can't miss it. We look forward to seeing you all there.

International Harvester is the featured tractor manufacturer this year. There always seems to be a good turnout of red tractors when we feature IH. Several of the club members have Farmall and IH tractors in their collections so there should be a lot to look at. Some rather rare ones too, I expect, including a gold demonstrator model, a couple beautifully restored Farmall Regulars, and IH TD-14 crawler. You don't have to be a club member to bring your tractor or equipment. If you would like to show it off or just be involved a little more with the event, bring it on up to the show. Of course all makes and models of tractors are welcome and we hope you bring them. Remember, just because you use it on your farm or ranch one day doesn't mean you can't bring to the threshing bee the next.

Things will start of Friday, September 25. We are hoping to have several teams of horses and mules on the grounds to demonstrate some old horse drawn haying equipment and to give wagon rides. Vendors will begin arriving Friday as well and we hope to run the threshing machine. We've yet to make any bundles as the binder needed a new canvas. That has been replaced so we need to cut wheat now. Grand Electric and West River Cooperative Telephone company will once again be providing and serving our appreciation supper at 6:00 pm. So come and join us. Following supper will be a presentation by Betty Olsen on the history of the Slim Buttes. This promises to be an interesting program.

Saturday will be the busiest day with the most activities going on. Kids activities, car show, threshing demonstration, horseshoeing demonstration, blacksmithing, tractor pull, parade, auction and much more. We are hoping to have an old belt driven rock crusher operational by showtime as well. The Saturday evening gospel entertainment will be provided by Tracy Buer.

The fund raising auction will begin at 5:00. We appreciate all those who donate and bid on the items for sale. All money raised goes towards regular show expenses and ongoing projects we think will enhance the threshing bee. Once again this year we are asking for only new, gently used, or antique items for the auction. We have a limited time for the auction and need to wrap it up so we can enjoy the evening's entertainment. Thanks for your consideration.

Sunday morning starts with our threshing bee church service at 9:00 am. Our speaker will be Luke Rech from Lemmon. He is an energetic young man that loves Jesus and God's word. So join us if you can. Following the church service there will be activities throughout the morning and into the afternoon. A parade and threshing demonstration will wind down events. The raffle item winners will be drawn at 3:00 pm. This year raffle items are as follows: Mossberg 12 gauge shotgun, Heritage 22 / 22 mag. Revolver, Quilt, $100 beef certificate, (2) $50 beef certificates and a table runner. Raffle tickets cost $5 per ticket and can be purchased from club members ahead of time or at the threshing bee. You do not have to be present to win, but you must be over 18 years old to win the firearms.

We will have a quilt show again this year. So bring any quilts you would like to display.

We are aware that we were a little short on bathroom facilities last year and apologize for the inconvenience that caused. We will have additional portable toilets this year to help things go smoother. Our merchandise will have a new look this year as well, so come and check that out. We will have many of our regular vendors and some new ones to add to the fun of the weekend.

Camping sites are available but need to be reserved by calling Trig Clark. They fill up fast so don't wait. If you don't need electricity, there is nearly unlimited space.

The Coal Springs Community church ladies will once again be running the food counter at the threshing bee. That is something to look forward to.

So come to the Coal Springs Threshing Bee and Antique show September 25-27 and have a ball. Check us out on Facebook too. If you have any questions call Wade Hofer at 788-2854, Brian Flatmoe at 788-2881 or Jens Hansen at 788-2229.

you love and live for the Lord Jesus Christ. As Paul says in Romans 8:31, "If God is for us, who can be against us?" In this life Satan and those who are blinded by him appear to have their wicked way with God's people. Unless they repent and place their trust in Christ, they will be eternally condemned at the last judgment. And though our Father may allow them to afflict His people now, He will see to it that His children are ultimately more than conquerors when they die and go to be with Him. This day of affliction is very short compared to what is ahead. An eternity of endless joy is waiting for those who are trusting in Christ alone for salvation. They have great comfort of the promise given by the Lord Jesus in John 5:24: "Most assuredly, I say to you, he who hears My word and believes in Him who sent Me has everlasting life, and shall not come into judgment, but has passed from death into life." Friends, be sure you are among them.

Peter continues the subject of accountability in verse 6: "For this reason the gospel was preached also to those who are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit." Basically, this is saying that not only will God hold unbelievers accountable for slandering and persecuting believers, but He personally will reverse their evil judgments. The verse is referring to believers who had faced the very things Peter has been describing. They heard the good news of the gospel and placed their trust in the Lord Jesus Christ. Afterward they were judged according to men in the flesh. This means that they were condemned by the unbelievers around them. They were slandered and persecuted. But, says Peter, that is no longer the case. Now they are living according to God in the spirit. They are now in a new realm of existence. Though absent from the body, they are face to face with the Lord.

The message here is this: Believer take heart! Do not worry about those who would slander and persecute you because

Expressions of HOPE

Reflections on the Words of Life

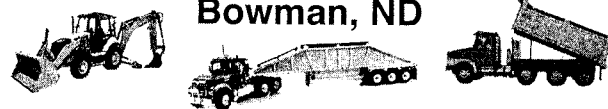

by Pastor Paul Ferrie,
Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

We concluded our study last time with a solemn warning to those who made light of the importance of living a holy life and mistreated their former companions for leaving their ungodly lifestyles behind. 1 Peter 4:5 tells us, "They will give an account to Him who is ready to judge the living and the dead." This is referring to the last judgment, when Christ returns and all human beings will stand before Him. Peter is making an important and sobering point here. He is saying that those who had the witness of godly believers around them and remained in unbelief are going to be held more accountable in the day of judgment.

Scripture teaches the principle that the more light a person is given in regard to the truth of God, the more accountable he or she will be. We see this in what Jesus said regarding those Israelites who had seen His miracles firsthand and yet rejected Him. Jesus warned in Matthew 11:21-24: "Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. But I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you. And you, Capernaum, who are exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades; for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. But I say to you that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day

Richard Lyle Harwood Sr. Rites

Richard Lyle Harwood, Sr., age 77, passed away peacefully surrounded by his loving family on August 21, 2026, at Monument Health in Rapid City, South Dakota.

Richard was born on December 25, 1948, on the family farm in Orange Township, North Dakota, to Lyle and Doris (Davis) Harwood. He attended North Lemmon School through the eighth grade and then worked various jobs for area farmers. In 1969, Richard was drafted into the United States Army and proudly served in Vietnam from 1969-1970.

After returning home from Vietnam, Richard drove a school bus for the McIntosh School District for several years before meeting his wife, Susan Genoff. They were married on August 9, 1974 and had 2 children (Richard, Jr (Rick) in 1975 and Kathi in 1977. He purchased and settled on the land north of Lemmon that had been owned by his parents and grandparents in 1979. There, he farmed and raised a small herd of cattle while also working at the Lemmon Equity until 1989.

In 1989, Richard began his own tire repair business, a career he continued for many years. His shop and field service truck were an important part of his work until a fire destroyed the shop and truck in 2009. Never one to sit still, Richard continued repairing tires from his new shop afterward, although he no longer had his field service truck.

Richard was a man who loved his community and especially enjoyed working with children. He taught Hunter Education for 39 years teaching kids from across ND and SD and was honored as Instructor of the Year in 2010. He also served as a Scout leader and rifle club instructor, and he served for many years as president of the Orange Township Board. Richard shared his love of the outdoors, safety, and service with generations of young people.

For nearly 40 years, Richard also drove school buses for students in McIntosh, Lemmon, and Hettinger. He took great pride in the relationships he built with the children and families along the way.

One of Richard's favorite traditions was playing Santa Claus. Whether appearing for the City of Lemmon or at private parties, he took great joy in bringing smiles and Christmas magic to children and families. His generosity, humor, and willingness to help others will be deeply missed.

He is survived by his wife of 52 years, Susan, two children, Rick (Liz) Harwood of Mantorville, MN, Kathi (Todd) Olson of Lemmon, four grandchildren; Cody Olson of Rapid City, Brady Olson of Lemmon, Kylie and Trevor Harwood of Mantorville, MN, and one brother-in-law, Charles Abell of Rapid City, along with numerous nieces and nephews.

Richard was preceded in death by his parents, Lyle and Doris Harwood; his parents-in-law, George and Rose Genoff; his sisters, Alice (Marvin) Timm, Betty (Art) Hartwell, and Ruby Harwood; and his sister-in-law, Dianne Abell.

Richard leaves behind a lifetime of memories and countless lives touched through his work, service, friendship, and love of family. His legacy will live on in the generations of children he taught and transported, the young people he mentored, the community he served, and, most of all, in the family he loved dearly. He will be greatly missed and lovingly remembered.

Service of Remembrance will be Sunday, September 6, 2026 at 2:00 p.m. MT at the Prince of Peace Chapel of Evanson Jensen Funeral Home in Lemmon, SD. Burial with Full Military Honors will follow at Greenhill Cemetery in Lemmon. Visitation will be one hour prior to the service at the Funeral Home. A gathering of family and friends will be Saturday, Sept. 5, 2026 from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. MT at Evanson Jensen Funeral Home in Lemmon.

Beverly "Dee" Kohn Rites To Be Held

Beverly "Dee" Kohn passed from this life at CHI St. Alexius Medical Center in Bismarck, ND on Thursday, July 9, 2026 with her family at her side.

Rosary will be at 10:30 a.m. MT Saturday, September 5, 2026 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Lemmon, SD. Memorial Mass of Christian Burial will follow at 11:00 a.m. MT at St. Mary's. Burial of Dee's urn will follow at Greenhill Cemetery in Lemmon.

Beverly "Dee" Moore was born on October 20, 1944, at Campbell County Memorial Hospital in Gillette, Wyoming, to Norman "Sonny" and Nellie "Nell" (Wenande) Moore. Four years later, her younger sister, Pat, joined the family. They raised cattle and sheep on the family ranch approximately twenty-five miles west of Devils Tower in Crook County, Wyoming.

As a young girl, Dee learned many valuable life skills from her dad. At an early age, Sonny had her riding horses, driving anything with wheels, backing up trailers, and working in the hay fields. Riding and rodeo became an important part of Dee's life, and she and Sonny competed in many rodeos together over the years. Dee loved to ride fast and won numerous buckles, purses, spurs, and other awards throughout her youth. During her senior year of high school, she won the Wyoming High School Rodeo Championship in goat tying as well as the rodeo queen title. That same rodeo, she also placed in breakaway roping, barrel racing, and pole bending. She later won the horsemanship portion of the National High School Rodeo Queen Contest. Dee was especially proud of this accomplishment because she competed on ranch-raised, self-trained horses rather than the expensive, professionally trained horses many of the other contestants rode.

Her mother, Nell, also played a significant role in Dee's early life as both her mother and teacher at the Hulett Creek School, a one-room country school. Dee often shared fond memories of recess, when the students would spend their time ice skating and sledding. During high school, Dee lived in Gillette, sixty-five miles from the family ranch, while attending Campbell County High School, where she graduated in 1962.

Dee attended the University of Wyoming in Laramie for one year before transferring to Black Hills State College in Spearfish, South Dakota, where she majored in elementary education. It was there that she met Bill Kohn, and the two were married in 1965. In 1967, they moved to Lemmon, South Dakota, where Dee taught second grade for two years.

Family was always Dee's greatest priority. When she and Bill began raising their family, she chose to stay home with their children during their younger years. Tina was born in 1970, Ryan in 1975, and Toni in 1977. Dee treasured those years, teaching her children countless life skills and creating lasting memories with family vacations and weekends at their cabin on Shadepill Lake. Her children truly were the center of her world.

As her children grew older, Dee returned to work. She often talked about the fun she, Bill, and Mel & Dee Maxon had while managing the country club for two summers. She later owned and managed a clothing store, helped Bill operate Kohn's Sport Shop, and worked at Gregorian and Wheeler's. In later years, Dee found great fulfillment working at Five Counties Nursing Home, first in assisted living and later in the activities department, where she enjoyed caring for and spending time with the residents. Dee was also a lifelong member of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

If there was one phrase that best described Dee, it was "all in." Whether she was cooking, crafting, or collecting, she poured her whole heart into everything she did. She loved visiting with friends and family and never passed up an opportunity for a good conversation. Dee was especially proud of her eight grandchildren and spent countless hours on her bleacher seat in stadiums, gymnasiums, football fields, and track venues across South Dakota and North Dakota, cheering them on. Dee was selected as the Lemmon Sports Booster's Fan of the year in 2023. She was overjoyed to welcome the newest member of the family, her great-grandson, who was born in March.

Above all else, Dee cherished her family. As a young woman, she was always there when loved ones faced illness or difficult times. Whether sitting faithfully beside a hospital bed or helping keep things running at home, she could always be counted on. That same compassion and servant's heart remained with her throughout her life. Whenever family or friends needed help, Dee was there without hesitation, offering her time, love, and unwavering support.

Dee will be greatly missed by her children Tina (Vance) Trostad, Ryan (Jeanna) Kohn, and Toni (Tracy) Hoffman; her grandchildren Chloe (Jake) Kolb, Talon Trostad, Tayte, Allie & Jordyn Kohn, Lyric, Jet and Scout Hoffman; great-grandson Banks Kolb; and many beloved cousins and their spouses, especially Debbie (Arlyn) Anderson, Marianne Wenande and Ron McCartney. She was preceded in death by her parents, Sonny & Nell Moore; sister, Pat (Moore) Ellis; brother-in-law, Ralph Ellis; former spouse, Bill Kohn; in-laws Bob & Kathleen Kohn; uncle and aunt, Bob & Bonnie Wenande, and cousins Bill Wenande and Dianne Wenande McCartney.

Thoughts for the Week

by June Schmidt

One of the Legends of the Grand Ole Opry, Dolly Parton passed away at 80 years old, still in control of her various charities and foundations with provisions to continue them into the future. She was inducted into the Grand Ole Opry at the age of 23, 10 years after her first appearance at age 13 when she was introduced by Johnny Cash. She has asked to be interred with her husband of almost 60 years, on a bed of cotton plush wearing her signature high heels.

Most people know that she was born and raised in a one room cabin in the Tennessee hills in a family that consisted of 12 children. She was always proud of her upbringing, even if her father was unable to read and write and continued to be close to her family over the years. She began by singing for her family when she helped her mother to take care of her siblings and she sang in her church starting at age 6 and at age 10 she was singing on local radio programs. She wrote most of the songs that she recorded and when she came to Nashville she also wrote songs for other performers.

She was a shining example of someone that did not let others dictate who she wanted to be and how she wanted to get there. And once that she achieved her fame and her fortune, she was proud to share what she had with others. Her Imagination Library project has mailed more than 270 million free books worldwide to children from birth to age 5, and it will continue operating through her Dollywood Foundation. Throughout her life, she contributed hundreds of millions of dollars to education, disaster relief, health care and community programs.

Most of us aren't lucky enough to have that kind of talent or make that kind of money, but we can all take a lesson from what she did in one way or another. She made a habit of not talking badly about anyone even when pressed. She once explained that while she had opinions on everything she did not feel the need to 'march in the streets for it' or 'insult other people for it' preferring to lead with a caring attitude. When other media outlets or 'shock jocks' tried to fabricate vulgar or insulting remarks attributed to her, she reacted with deep hurt and anger that anyone would think those words would come from her mouth, fiercely protecting her reputation for kindness. She believed her platform as an entertainer and philanthropist was meant to bring people together, not divide them.

Perhaps if a few other entertainers and public figures took a page from her playbook, there would be a bit less polarization of our country at this time. There are a lot of them out there expressing their opinions on every subject and while they are entitled to that opinion, sharing it with the general public especially through media outlets that attempt to get them to say things that are inflammatory can only make things worse instead of better. There have been interviews for sports figures where the reporter deliberately attempts to get them to say things that they may not want to say in public. Some have been brave enough to publicly state that they do not want to talk about those things, but some seem to be unable to change the subject before words were spoken.

So the point of this is to have all the opinions that you want, you have the right, but be careful about sharing them when you don't want to. Don't let other people force you into doing what you don't feel is right and do what is right even when others are telling you that you are wrong. You are the master of your own life and you shouldn't be paying attention to the whims of others who don't have the courage to do what you know you should do. We all need to respect ourselves and what we do and by doing what is right, we can look back on our lives and be proud and maybe make our families proud of us as well. God Bless you all.
