Nyjah Usselman grandson of Vivian and Dave Hernandez

"He was a man who walked straight and tall, was not afraid to allow his faith to show - - good man, one of character, truth, trustworthy - -." Jared listened as the Pastor continued the service for his Grandfather. Sometimes his mind would wonder far away for he had greater problems than being here today. In fact it was a toss up - - even though he loved his Grandfather - - well right now Jared had bigger problems - - back in the cities - - utter cayous.

"May he rest in peace," called Jared back to the final farewell - the service over - hugs, good byes, condolences, burial tomorrow in another community and now sitting in the lawyers office. Jared again fidgeting - "lets hurry and get this over."

"You as final relation to deceased were left all possessions - - lawyer took key from drawer handed it to Jared, shook his hand and said, "Peace, Jared. I'll be here if you need anything."

Driving to the farm, Jared decided he'd only stay for a moment - just enough time to say he looked around - - more important things were going on at his office in the city - problems - bills - - much more important things then spending his time on the farm.

Cell phone ringing affirmed more important things to do. Urgent - call immediately - - Guess this will be just a quick run thru to make sure water turned off - - electricity - -.

Standing at front door - locked - remembered lawyer handing him the key he reached into his pocket - not there - - oh well doesn't matter I'll come back later - turned to leave and thought. "I'll look in the window, at least I can say I saw the place."

Glancing thru the window - - "what's that? Can't be - - heart racing he looked again - - nothing. Jared, still shocked stood up straight - - now what? He knew what he saw - - all concerns about the city left him as he started looking for the key - - he knew he needed to get into the house. Better check the car one more time, maybe - - there sat the key just where he had placed it and because of thoughts being on the city problems, he had forgotten.

Heart beating faster, slowly he turned the key, not sure what do expect for he knew, when he looked in the window, that Grandfathers rocking chair was moving. Opening the door he was greeted with sunshine bouncing around caused from crystals hanging on the windows. The smell of Grandfather filled his nostrils with peace as he remembered all the youthful years he spent on the farm.

Looking around - the rocker - the one that moved as he looked in to the window sat very still - couldn't have moved for no one was there. Then he remembered stories Grandfather had told him, as a tiny child while sitting on Grandpas lap.

Sat down in the old wooden rocker, music and laughter filled his heart as he remembered Christmases, singing Christmas carols, the big huge tree Grandfather always made sure they had - - he could almost smell the tree now.

Time to go -- just before leaving he took one last look and said, "Grandfather, you may be gone but the lessons you taught me about life will forever remain in my heart - - thank you for reminding me one last time that the good things we do, out shine all the problems we have to face - -."

He locked the door, put the key in his pocket and drove away.

Mott Gallery Schedules Open House

September 12 is the date to mark on your calendar. It is the last Open House to honor Artists of the Month at the Mott Gallery of History & Art.

This month we honor Laurie and Rob Larson of Mott, who will exhibit their art until we close for the season. Laurie works with clay and pottery, while Rob's talent is in various types of woodwork. They both enjoy making useful, as well as showy pieces.
Some of their display items will be for sale to the public.

The Mott Gallery, located in the 1911 bank building, offers two floors of exhibits depicting the past life of our city and area.
This season more history of local train transportation has been included in the bank vault room.
A new display room on the upper floor now features beauticians and barbers who have served the community over the years.
The Military area honors our local heroes who served throughout the world for over a century to keep our country safe.

This museum has become an integral part of our community and has operated since 2003 with dedicated volunteers. If you haven't visited it, you will be pleasantly surprised at all there is to see and learn.

A special project is in the works, featuring photos of Mott dating back to 1904. Watch for details.

Expressions of HOPE

Reflections on the Words of Life

by Paul Ferrie, Pastor of Grace Reformed Church of the Lord Jesus, New Leipzig

We have been considering the subject of revival and have seen that some of its characteristics include conviction of sin, a hunger and thirst for righteousness, and a longing for God. Today let us take up one more aspect of revival. Whenever God sends revival, there is an impressive display of the power of the gospel.

Once people see that the gospel of salvation through Jesus Christ is the only way of salvation, they become very concerned to spread its message. They long for others to believe the gospel. They also gain great confidence in the power of the gospel to save souls and change lives. Indeed, the gospel is the only message God will bless to the saving of souls. The apostle Paul made one of the most instructive and encouraging statements about the gospel message when he said in Romans 1:16, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God to salvation for everyone who believes."

One of the most exciting parts of revival is seeing many souls come to Christ for salvation through the preaching of the gospel. I want to leave you with one such account which happened in the great revival that took place in our country in 1858. It started in New York City and spread through the whole country. This account describes what happened in a little town in New Hampshire which had the nickname of "Hell Corner" because of the lifestyle of the people who lived there. It is quoted from The Power of Prayer by Samuel Prime:

These families are distinguished for their profanity, wickedness, gambling, and almost every vice. They have no respect for religious institutions.... They are a reckless, hardened set of people. On a late occasion one of these men was at a neighbor's house, and while there indulged in the most horrid oaths. The woman of the house said to him, "If you don't stop swearing so, I am afraid the house will fall down over our heads."

"Well, I should think," said the man, "that you are getting very pious, from what you say."

"Well, I should think it time for some of us to be getting religious," said the woman.

"If you feel that way, suppose we have a prayer meeting in your house," said the man.

"Yes, we will have a prayer meeting, we will have a prayer meeting," chimed in many voices.

And a prayer meeting was agreed upon, and the time was fixed. They got a man to lead the meeting—the only man living in the neighborhood who had ever been a professor of religion. He was a notorious backslider, and of course answered their purposes all the better for that; for all this was meant as a burlesque [joke] upon prayer meetings.

The time came for the meeting, and all assembled. The backslider undertook to lead the meeting, but broke down in his prayer and could not go on. They undertook to sing and could not make anything at that. They determined not to give it up so. They appointed another prayer meeting on the next Sabbath at 5 o'clock PM. They sent to a deacon of a church living three miles off, saying that there was to be a prayer meeting at Hell Corner—the common name by which the place was known—on the next Sabbath afternoon, and wanted him to come down and conduct it. The good deacon did not dare to go. He thought it was either a hoax or a plan to mob him. He however spoke to a neighbor and asked, "Had I better go?"

"Go, by all means, and I will go with you," said the neighbor.

So on the next Sabbath afternoon they went to the prayer meeting at Hell Corner. All were assembled, preparing to give solemn and serious attention to the services.

"I had not been there but a few minutes," said the deacon, "before I felt that the Spirit of the Lord was there." Four or five of these hardened, wretched men were struck under conviction at this first meeting. Another meeting was held, and more were converted. These prayer meetings continued, and many of those who were convicted have since become converted and have become praying men and women. The work is going on with amazing power. At the last meeting heard from, more than one hundred were present.

Later accounts confirmed that these conversions were no mere passing fad of religion or emotion. Lives had been permanently changed by the power of the gospel. May all believers join me in praying that God will bring revival to our country.

Miracles Do Happen!

Many now have heard the tragic event that happened on August 10th. A very loving member of our Mott community, Sandra Berry, lost her entire home and all of her belongings to a fire. It was believed to be an electrical issue that started on or near the back deck of her house.

She was told by the fire inspector not to go inside as nothing was salvageable. That was very hard news to hear but even more heartbreaking was the fact that her beloved pets were also taken by that fire. Things can be replaced but the loyalty and love of your fur babies... well we cannot or do not even want to imagine. So our hearts are also broken.

Sandy has lived in our town 13 years now but some may not have gotten to know her as well as others. She dedicates, through her career, to care for some of our most vulnerable.

As a CNA for 29 years she has had the opportunity to help meet many the needs of loved ones, parents and grandparents. We first got the privilege of meeting Sandy at the Good Samaritan Society in Mott. We saw first hand the Integrity and love she gave to the residents. I've heard one say how blessed they were that she cared for their mom and that Sandy has a special place in their hearts that will not be forgotten. She is now employed at the Jacob Memorial Hospital Care Center. And no doubt being a blessing there as well.

Sandy is so very thankful for our fire department especially for the one firefighter that had to go to the hospital due to a heat related issue and thankfully was alright and was released that day.

So let us take the time now to Stop, Drop, and Roll Out the Red Carpets for our amazing Mott volunteer firefighters and our ambulance drivers who risk their own lives to save ours.

Sandy is very hard-working and dependable but we would describe her as a giver. Out of the very few things that managed to survive the fire was a guitar and when she was given a bed by someone, she with tears of gratitude in her eyes gave them that guitar!

Jesus said those that give all they have, are the ones that give the most. We have truly seen that kind of giving in her heart.

But the truly miraculous thing we just have to share with you was that the other precious item that survived the fire was her Bible.

And to those that believe, will not be surprised that the cover was burnt and drastically warped but when she opened the pages, not one word was destroyed. All pages were there and completely preserved!

So we helped her memorialize it behind glass. She smiled and stated "Well, You can't judge a book by its cover." Amen to that!

So for the care and the help she has given to others we feel and would be honored to lift her up in this time of great need.

We have opened a savings fund at the Commercial Bank of Mott for those who are willing.

We also extend a gracious "Thank You" to those who've already offered items and resources. And to the Ray Kilzer family for the use of their house in town.

She is so very humbly thankful.

May you all be blessed with a double portion.

Just tired of it all
By Kathy Craig-Harteis

How often these days do you hear folks say they're just tired of it all?

There are so many things that would be better if they were as if they once were.

Some people may deem themselves as sophisticated when in reality they are just lax in judgement and moral character.

We have come to a way of life that just turns away and accepts what is going on around us.

We are all tired of being given conflicting information on the virus. We are all tired of the violence and the turmoil in our world.

Here's the deal. No one deserves more than any one else. If you want something, work for it. Don't sit back and expect to receive because you have been downtrodden or told you'll never amount to anything. Your life is yours to shape.

Like so many others I have lost faith in our leaders. I can't help but feel we are being manipulated. Yet, I continue to live my life as I have always lived it. By faith. Even so, some days I wonder what we'll face next.

Admittedly, I live a comfortable life. Yet, there are days that I stress about things out of my control. I know I can't fix everything that goes wrong. I can't control how people act or what they say.

Everyone has choices to make. Be it our leaders, family members or friends and general population, we are in control of just one person. Each of us are only responsible for our own actions.

Recently I've been going through the process of getting a passport. Once I sent in the documents I received a second request. I had to provide a certified copy of my first marriage license. I had to prove how I became a Craig. It made me wonder how so many fly in and out of so many countries for no good. If a lil old lady from North Dakota is so scrutinized, how are so many criminals running around at will?

Maybe it's because I have a bad tooth and my face is swollen that I'm a bit crabby. Even so, what I'm most tired of is listening to the people who blame someone else for problems they likely created for themselves. It's time to step up and try to solve the problems instead of

Dakota Gardener: Help Your Lawn Recover From Drought

A horticulturist offers tips on helping strengthen your lawn before winter.

By: Tom Kalb, Horticulturist
NDSU Extension

This summer has been very stressful for lawns. The historic drought of 2021 turned many of our lawns brown and crispy.

That's in the past. Temperatures have cooled off recently and we finally are getting some rain. This opens an opportunity for us to strengthen our lawns before winter.

Start by fertilizing your lawn. The fertilizer will thicken your turf and strengthen its root system this fall.

Applying a lawn fertilizer with potash in it is especially important this year. This is the third number listed on the bag. For example, a 30-0-10 fertilizer contains 30% nitrogen, 0% phosphate and 10% potash. This potash will help our lawns recover from the stresses of this summer's drought and the upcoming winter's cold temperatures.

Let's aim to apply the fertilizer near Labor Day. Irrigate the lawn after fertilizing.

Many of our lawns are full of weeds now. These weeds kept growing this summer while our lawn grasses turned brown and went dormant.

The key to killing a weed is to get the herbicide down into its roots.

As the nights get longer and the temperatures cool off, weeds will start moving their nutrients down into their roots to prepare for winter.

This movement down into roots makes fall the most effective season to kill hard-to-control perennial weeds such as thistle, field bindweed, clover and dandelion.

When you spray a perennial weed this fall, the plant will remove the herbicide naturally down into its roots along with its nutrients.

The first step is to get the herbicide absorbed by the leaves of the weed. That's why herbicide sprays are more effective than granular (usually weed-and-feed) products. Herbicide granules sometimes drop off weed leaves before they are absorbed.

Let's aim for weed control operations sometime in mid- to late September.

Spot treatments are best to minimize the exposure of yourself and your landscape plants to toxic chemicals. Read the label of the herbicide carefully and follow its instructions.

If the drought created some bare spots in your lawn, now is a great time to sow seed and repair the damage. Now through mid-September is the best time to sow grass seed. The ground is warm, and the seed will germinate quickly.

Rake out the dead patches, sow the grass seed and lightly rake the seed into the soil.

Keep the soil moist with frequent, light waterings for two to three weeks until the seeds germinate and become established. Try to water at least once every day for a few minutes to keep the seed bed moist and to help the seedlings grow.

Another way to improve your lawn this fall is to aerate it. September is the best month to aerate your lawn.

A core aeration will open air pockets in the soil, encouraging more roots to grow. Remove cores as deeply as possible, taking a few passes over the lawn. Best results are attained when the soil is slightly moist.

You can aerate, sow and fertilize on the same day, if you want.

Thank goodness for the rains we are receiving now. Let's take advantage of this cooler, wetter weather to help our lawns recover from drought and prepare for winter.

Trouble at the Border. . .

by geno sloan

How many borders does the average American cross? Many people never leave our country. Here is something I have learned about borders. Travelers to Canada or Mexico cross those two borders. There were a few questions involved with my Canadian crossings, but an American traveler has no stop at all when walking or driving into Mexico – at least not the many times I traveled there in past years. The problem was coming back to the United States. At that time, U S Border Patrol guards were very careful to check our bags, ask many questions (mostly about drugs) and make us wait a while.

One winter in Arizona I attended a lecture given by U.S. Border Patrol agents. They went into detail about their work, which was mainly hunting down drug dealers who had sneaked across the southern border. At that time there were very few immigrants attempting to get into the U.S. and yet the Patrols were overwhelmed and having a difficult time keeping our borders secure. What is happening at that border now? It must be so much worse. Why can't we keep our border safe?

I do not know about European or far eastern borders as I haven't traveled there. My husband and I lived in South America for several years. We went through considerable questioning and bag searches when entering Colombia. There were also many vaccinations, visas, passports and other papers to be checked. It took an hour or two - if I was lucky - each time I returned after coming home for visits. Colombia had very secure borders.

While living there, my mom visited, and we took her with us on a group tour to Venezuela. Our bus was primarily full of American tourists when we arrived at that country's border. First, their guards boarded the bus, walked up and down to check us out. Then we waited in the bus – for almost an hour. We were then all taken out of the bus to stand by the side of the road – in the tropical sun – for over an hour. Several people fainted and were brought water and chairs. The rest of us just waited. It was only then that the border guards decided to look at our visas, which took another hour. Finally, we were admitted to their country for a weekend tour. The return crossing took about half that time, but it was not pleasant. Venezuela had very secure borders.

On one occasion we flew to Ecuador for a week. Going through Customs in that country was also quite lengthy, with strange looks, searches through our documents, luggage and pockets as well. Ecuador custom guards were more pleasant, but the point is that all these countries had very secure and well-guarded borders, both coming and going. No one was allowed to simply walk across the border and expect to be free to roam the country. Border guards were all well-armed. There was no doubt that they were willing and able to use those arms.

Now, back to the southern border of the United States. We have always been the "Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave", but our borders NEED to be secure.

School Supply Drive to Area Schools

Consolidated and Gate City Bank employees delivered school supplies and snacks from our 2021 school supply drive to area schools and agencies in August prior to schools starting. Thirty-three schools or agencies throughout southwestern North Dakota benefited from this year's drive. School social workers or councilors distributed supplies directly to individuals.

Businesses that contribute to this year's drive were: Gate City Bank, Badlands Big Sticks, American Bank Center, Harlow's Bus Service, Dakota West Credit Union and Wal-Mart. Individual supporters, too numerous to list all names, supplied the majority of supplies.

Lindsay Stieg of Dickinson and Sheila Walter of South Heart were the winners of an Apple iPad and $150 Visa Gift Card from the Back-to-school Supply Drive drawing held on Monday, August 9, 2021.

Jill Engraf Rites Held

Service of Remembrance for Jill Engraf was held on Tuesday, August 24, 2021 at 1:00 p.m. at Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church in New England, ND. Rev. Mike Pretzer officiated.

Jill Annette Engraf, 54, Reeder, died from injuries sustained in a tragic vehicle accident on August 15th, 2021, at Sanford Medical Center in Bismarck, North Dakota with family by her side.

Jill was born on November 17th, 1966 in Dickinson, ND, at St. Joseph's hospital to Gene and Marilyn (Hjemvik) Engraf. She attended New England High School where she participated in choir and band. Jill graduated high school in 1985 and moved to Grand Forks, ND where she attended the University of North Dakota. In the early 1990s, Jill packed up and ventured out to Colorado where she followed her dreams of singing and playing music in many different bands including most recently, a Scorpions cover band called BlakOut. Jill was incredibly talented and loved to perform. She formed many special friendships with her bandmates, all of whom she cherished. Jill received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Metro State University in Denver, CO. In October of 2001, Jill married Tim Gardiner in Wheat Ridge, Colorado. In 2007, Jill and Tim moved to Evans, Colorado where Jill worked for Angels Care Home Health. They worked the Engraf ranch with help from Jeff's daughter Robyn and many generous neighbors up until her untimely death.

Jill was a devoted friend to all that knew her. She loved animals, especially her favorite dogs Skip, Oakley and Junior, and of course her cats. Spot, the horse, also had a special place in her heart. She wasn't afraid of hard work and getting her hands dirty. If a job needed to be completed, Jill would do it. She was an amazing cook. She enjoyed tending to her garden and harvesting the fruits of her labor. Jill made the best homemade salsa in the world.

Although Jill left us much too soon, the impact that she made on our lives is immeasurable.

Roger Walter Rites Held

Roger Walter, 76, of Bowman, ND, went to be with his Lord and Savior early Wednesday morning, August 18th, after a brief battle with cancer. Mass of Christian Burial was on Monday, August 23, 2021, at 10:00 a.m. at St. Charles Catholic Church in Bowman. Father Jared Wolf celebrated Mass with a burial that followed at St. Josephat Cemetery in rural Belfield, ND. There was a Rosary and Vigil Service for Roger on Sunday, August 22, 2021, at St. Charles Catholic Church at 7:00 p.m. Visitation for Roger was on Sunday from 12-5 p.m. at Krebsbach/Kulseth Funeral Home Chapel and at St. Charles Catholic Church from 6-9 p.m.

Roger was born February 16, 1945, to Beatrice (Kuntz) and Valentine Walter in Dickinson, North Dakota. He was the youngest of four brothers and grew up working hard on his family's farm. Roger attended school in South Heart and graduated in 1963. He then attended college at the National School of Business in Rapid City, SD, where he earned a degree in Business Management. In his younger years, Roger played with old-time music bands throughout the area when he met the love of his life, Teresa (Terry) Ewoniuk. In 1966, they were married at St. Demetrius Ukrainian Catholic Church near Belfield, ND; this past June, they celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

Their first home was in Rapid City, where Roger was in management training for K-Mart. They moved to Clinton, IA, where their daughter, Laura, was born. The next transfer was to Aberdeen, SD, where their son, Patrick, was born. After moving to LaCrosse and Green Bay, WI, Roger took a permanent position as Operations Manager for K-Mart in Rapid City. During that move, Bobby was born in Dickinson. Employment with Barber Transportation (1974-1982) brought the family to Bowman, where they fell in love with the community and remained for life. In 1986, Roger began employment with Northwest Tire, eventually retiring after 25 years of dedicated service.

St. Charles Catholic Church was near and dear to his heart. Roger felt blessed to be a Eucharistic Minister, especially bringing Jesus to those that were homebound. In addition, Roger gave back to the community, spending countless hours volunteering in multiple organizations. Being a strong voice who spoke with his heart, he was a natural for leadership roles. Roger was the Charter President of the Bowman Lions Club, and continued serving this organization until his last days. He was a Pack Master for the Boy Scouts of America, Grand Knight for the Knights of Columbus, and President of the Bowman Hospital Board.

Roger had many skills, interests, and hobbies that were guided by companionship, charity, and competition. With Roger missing from the table, card games just won't be the same. His work-ethic was second to none. Being a jack-of-all trades, he enjoyed making birdhouses and getting involved in any construction project that incorporated labor. His children always felt Labor Day was a day to work, not rest from work. He enjoyed fishing, golfing, and relaxing at Hart Ranch when time allowed. He busied himself with taking care of the Lion's Park, driving cars for the local dealership, and working for the Bowman County Weed Board.

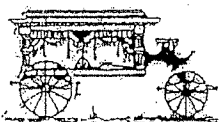

Roger was a skillful self-taught piano player, who learned by ear, and those that were privileged to listen couldn't help but dance or sing along. Although of German decent, Roger was passionate and happy to be involved with his wife's Ukrainian heritage. In 2006, Roger and Teresa were chosen to be Malanka, representing North Dakota Ukrainians at the Canadian National Ukrainian Festival in Dauphin, Manitoba.

Roger was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, uncle, son, brother, and friend. Roger is survived by his wife Terry, children Laura (Gary), Patrick (Marla), and Bobby (Andrea); grandchildren Ashlyn, Ian, Jessica, Jada, Darien, Jaelyn, Alyssa, Joshua and Halle; and brothers Clifford (Eleanor) and Donald. He is also survived by numerous nieces and nephews. Roger was preceded in death by his parents, brother Simon, sister-in-laws Anna, Catherine, and Mabel, in-laws Matt and Pearl Ewoniuk; and brother-in-law Fred Ewoniuk.

In lieu of flowers, memorials are suggested to: St. Charles Catholic Church, the Bowman Ambulance Squad, God's Child Project, or a charity of choice

PEACE

by Pastor Ray Sherwood
Bowman United Methodist Church, Bowman, ND

I would like to start off with this passage of scripture found in John 14:27 as Jesus speaks these words, "Peace I leave you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your heart be troubled and do not be afraid." (NIV)

This past Sunday we had Syd and Andrea Sparks with us, and they shared about their ministry at Musana Camps in Uganda. It was amazing to hear their story during Sunday School and our Praise & Worship service.

Syd shared this passage of scripture with our congregation this past Sunday and for some reason it just has not left me. Perhaps it is because of all that has happened in our country over the last 2 weeks with Afghanistan, the delta variant, politics, etc.

The peace people so desperately seek and want doesn't seem to be happening. Syd made a comment that really struck me...I have read this passage many times but never thought of this comment that he made: Jesus said that He does not give us peace the way the world gives us peace. The world only gives us peace with conditions!

My mind just exploded as I thought about that comment... the world only gives us peace with conditions! That is so true as we think about all the political talk about peace accords, and they all come with conditions. If you will do this, then we can have peace or if you don't do this, we will have war!

There is no peace in our world today and though we want peace we will never attain it as our world stands today!

When we think about where our world is we see hate, despair, disagreements, discouragements, and so much more! Our lives seem to be turning upside down as food, gas, utility bills, taxes, etc. seem to be rising. For some reason many of us put our hope in what the government can do for us, like stimulus checks, instead of putting our hope in what God can and will do for us!

I will be quite honest with you...I don't have all the answers and neither do you but as born-again believers we do know Someone who does have the answers...God!

If you are looking for peace in this world, you are looking in the wrong place...the only peace that we can have in a world that is crumbling around us is in Christ. Paul writes these words in Philippians 4:7, "And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus." Hear these words in the Good News for Modern Man bible, "And God's peace, which is far beyond human understanding, will keep your hearts and minds safe, in Christ Jesus."

We cannot and never will be able to understand the peace that God gives to us when everything around us is falling apart...but He does! I have seen men and women who have seen such devastation and hurt in their lives continue to have God's peace. I read recently about some missionaries in Afghanistan who gave their lives for the cause of Christ. To have the courage and boldness to stand against those who demand you bow to their religion and to have peace in the knowledge that though this life is over the next life is beginning and will last for eternity.

What is this peace I am talking about? It is not just a psychological state of mind, but it is an inner tranquility that is based on peace with God. The knowledge that our sins are forgiven and the peace it gives to us!

This peace is the opposite of anxiety as we have that calmness of spirit when we know that all our cares are committed to God in prayer, and we worry about them no more. 1 Peter 5:7 says, "Cast all your anxiety on him because he cares for you."

God then tells us that He will guard our hearts and minds. That is something spectacular that God Himself will guard our hearts and minds. The Creator of all things looks down at us and tells us He will protect us and that, folks, gives me peace!! If we look at this from a military perspective, it might portray a sentry standing guard over us. This sentry is God protecting those who are in Christ Jesus, and it extends to the core of our beings and to our deepest purposes.

Even in these troublesome times we have hope in Christ, we have strength in Christ, and we have peace in Christ. Don't allow the world to overwhelm you with waves of worry, but instead cling to the hope and peace we have in Him.

Let me encourage you with these two passages of scripture found in Hebrews 6:19 says, "We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure..." and John 14:27b, "...do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid."

Thoughts

by June Schmidt
Mott, ND

I had a few thoughts in my head this week but the one that came to the front was what my Dad always said. We are Americans. It seems to me that there are a few people that may have forgotten what that is.

My Dad was an Army Veteran and my Mom was an Emigrant. There was never a day that my Dad forgot that he served his Country and he taught me from the time I was small to respect the Flag and respect what it stands for. I knew how to say the Pledge of Allegiance before I began school at the age of 6. My Mother spoke very little English when she came to this Country, although she spoke several languages. She learned to recite the Pledge at the same time that I did while she was studying to take her Citizenship test. One of the proudest moments of her life was the day she became a Citizen of this country.

So what does it mean to be an American? Well, to me what it means is that we have freedom. The right to agree or disagree with each other and our Government and the right to be whatever and whomever we wish to be. Have we forgotten those basic rights? Most of all, have we forgotten how and why we got those rights in the first place?

America was born as a Country because we refused to obey the rules of the King and give our hard earned money and labor to England. It was decided by a group of farmers that just because England gave us permission to settle in the New World, they did not have the right to tell us how to live our lives and certainly did not have any right to tax us to pay for all the expenses of the Royalty. Those same farmers then took up arms and fought for the right to be free. 'We hold these Truths to be Self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness' So these farmers broke away from England, took up arms and defended their right to be free.

Since that time America has stood as the Bastion of Freedom for the world. Our soldiers fought in two World Wars and numerous other conflicts to defend our right and the rights of others for Freedom. Our doors were and still are open to those that come to our Country to escape tyranny and persecution. We have not always done the 'right thing' for our people, but we keep trying again and again and maybe one day we will get it right for everyone. Until then our Flag still signifies Freedom for the world to see.

So what hurts me is when people disrespect that Flag. We ask our Soldiers to shed blood for that Flag and when they fall, they are covered in that Flag when they are laid to rest. So when I see those that excel in a sport or music or an actor or any other personage decide that they are better than what that Flag stands for, that is just not right to me. I am certainly not saying that people cannot disagree with each other or disagree with the state of the country, since we have that right by their sacrifice. There are many forms of protest without disrespect and by all means find one that speaks for you and do what you need to do. Freedom is not free if by exercising your rights you disrespect another person's rights. Have we not learned from history? Or are we too busy listening to Social Media to find out the truth for ourselves?

Until we get it right and everyone shares in freedom, I ask you to stop and think of the men and women that have served and still serve our country by their choice to defend our rights and freedom. Give thanks for them and say a prayer that they come home to their families. And if they fall while doing their

Cloud Seeding Operations Summary For Aug. 23-29, 2021

BISMARCK, N.D. - A continuation of rain and cooler than normal weather occurred in southwestern North Dakota mid to late last week. One-half to one inch rainfall reports and high temperatures in the 70s were recorded.

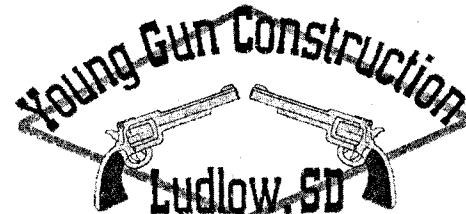

In the District 1 operations area, which includes Bowman and part of Slope Counties, three operational flights took place last week. There were hail suppression flights on August 26 and 27.

Southwestern North Dakota could see isolated strong to severe thunderstorms early this week as weather disturbances cut through the upper-level ridge. High temperatures will warm back up into the 80s for the remainder of the cloud seeding program.

Radar facilities in Bowman operate around the clock during the NDCMP. Radar images can be viewed on the Atmospheric Resource Board's web site at <http://www.dwr.nd.gov/arb>. The NDCMP will conclude operations for the season on August 31.
