About the Jacobus Vanderveer House

The Jacobus Vanderveer House served as headquarters for General Henry Knox during the winter of 1778-79 and is the only known building still standing associated with the Pluckemin Artillery Cantonment, the first cantonment in America to train officers in engineering and artillery. The Jacobus Vanderveer House interprets Dutch colonial life in America as well as the stay by General Knox and his family during the 1778-79 encampment. A National and New Jersey Historic Site, the Jacobus Vanderveer House is a true landmark offering an inside look at United States history and the lives of those who defined the Revolution. For more information about the Jacobus Vanderveer House & Museum, open house tours and a calendar of special events, visit www.jvanderveerhouse.org or call (908) 396-6053.

Weekend Journey Through the Past Tours and Activities

Somerset County's Annual Journey Through the Past is an initiative of the Somerset County Board of County Commissioners and the Somerset County Cultural & Heritage Commission in collaboration with many county-wide local historical organizations and commissions and other county organizations.
