

“When the time came to place my partner in assisted living/ memory care, I was already exhausted from being the primary caregiver and I knew that I needed help in navigating the overwhelming choices that needed to be made. I spent countless hours on my own poring through resources, scheduling tours to visit facilities, calling places that friends had recommended, and seeking help from agencies dedicated to placing seniors. It was too much. I was drowning in information. One of the agencies recommended I contact yet another placement service, and out of sheer desperation, I did. That was the best decision I could have ever made.

I met with Kevin Mullis of Mullis Senior Placement at my home and I knew immediately that Kevin was more than just a nice guy who was committed to finding a proper placement for my partner.

He was empathetic and kind. He knew the ins and outs of the industry he had been a part of since 2010 and was determined to help me narrow the choices based on my criteria. He set up appointments for tours, accompanied me and acted as intermediary with the staff at the places we visited. He went above and beyond what would be expected from a placement service. He found answers for my many questions and was constantly in contact with the staff. Ultimately I narrowed it down to two places. One of the assisted living places did not have immediate availability and the other one, fortunately, did and within the course of less than two weeks, a decision was made.

Kevin stood beside me through every step of the process, knowing I was an emotional wreck. Today, my partner is receiving 100% of the care that I had been seeking for him and I am finally able to breathe again. I will forever be indebted to Kevin Mullis for his exemplary display of compassion, knowledge and humanity.

He is, bar none, the best.”
