Liberation of political heroes

These are some of things a leader should do to show he's/she's liberated.

1. Don't collaborate with imperialism
2. Fight for people's freedom
3. Follow the constitution
4. Base your point in facts.
5. Don't fear pointing out some characters destroying government progress.
6. Fight against corruption, let the people have equal shares.
7. Support African (positive) culture, let not people alienate what they need for survival.
8. Empower civilians to utilise their resources well
9. Fight against forceful land alienation, let people be safe in hands of freedom fighter.
10. When your aired ideas are ignored, seek a backup from the people.
11. Discourage modern colonisation.

Forms of modern colonisation

a. Some religious practices

**Baptism

The secret behind the English baptismal names remain unbelievable. Its yet to be proven whether it's a must for we (black)to have the same name. Isn't this colonisation? If not so, why can't the whites be baptized in african names?

**Corrupt interpretation

It is becoming a business unit. The church. The church should be a place where moral teaching should be key, educative advises and cultural training. But , its becoming the best corrupt unit in Africa. I fully support the regulations imposed to filter this.

b. Some adapted foreign culture

**Beauty therapy

The most golden colour is now becoming a mess to most Africans. The effect of alienation and betrayal is becoming more real day by day. Why can't people accept this colour. I think this "decency" behaviour is purely a result of corrupted Africans minds which must be liberated .

**Dressing

This was always a task to be addressed by the church, but its no more considered. The African designs are very precious, we must dress with respect to our culture. This is a sign of bringing the basis Africanhood .

c. Alienation of African culture

**Farming

From a Zimbabwean group, "Africa can feed itself" . I fully support this, immediately after colonisation, we let our farms go, we then started benefiting the white products, why can't we prioritise farming the way government puts a consideration on the education . I really know we are loosing what is treasurable going through a white circumcision by the name of education without jobs. This is a call to the Kenyan government, . His excellency Dr William Ruto, continue doing much on agriculture.

**Domestication

Agriculture can't be abandoned, that's what we will eat, use and depend on. We can serve the people while they have food, but not making government a food donor. Ever

**Domestication

Agriculture can't be abandoned, that's what we will eat, use and depend on. We can serve the people while they have food, but not making government a food donor. Every African must be stable in terms of basic needs.

d. Change in african systems of farming.

**Use of artificial fertilizers

Initially, africans used manure from animal dropping. This has never caused scorching to the seedlings, but look at the effects of using these chemicals. Our bodies are becoming weak and weak. Our shambas drying out to their fullest. There's acidic rains, i think we must style up . We are more than that. Let's backup our systems of farming.

**Over reliance on donation foods

A very assumed key point, in africa. The only dependent population must be the young and fairly the aged. But if we stand on our own and commit ourselves in producing foods to adequacy, we will cater population growth. There will be no need to

**Over reliance on donation foods

A very assumed key point, in africa. The only dependent population must be the young and fairly the aged. But if we stand on our own and commit ourselves in producing foods to adequacy, we will cater population growth. There will be no need to balance population, we will feed the weak and the refugees. And after liberation of Africa. There we will end the norm of refugees. Politics must be for leaders not politicians.

e. Some forms of education

**Emphasis on foreign language

I wonder how education is always written in English. Why can't we follow the treads of Tanzania and Senegal, lets cut off yhe alienation of our culture. We have national languages like Swahili, let our children study Swahili. Let the whites learn Swahili. We must keep the balance of languages. We can't use alien languages and we have ours. We must know what to do. Here is liberation, support it.

**National language

**National language

National language must be a local language, a language that everyone can try to speak a few sentences. We can't use foreign language to dominant citizens. We must know what we want if we want what we know. Lets break the corruption of our brains. We are worth something more than intimidation.

** Foreign Scholarship

Africa was once very strong in education, we had areas like Timbuktu and Mali, serious building like pyramids. What makes us prioritise the echoes of our initial skills, why can't we get free african skill sharing and have interafrican scholarships, lets liberate out. We are running away from the better picture of ourselves.

**Music

A key part we can't leave, when Swahili language is supported by Tanzanian government, you can see they do so good in bongo music, a call to Africa, our identity is our language, we need to do things in our home style.

f. Government foreign coalitions

** Foreign investors

Everywhere in Africa, the majority citizens cry, we need jobs. But the real serious investors are foreigners, why can't our governments use it's people to build progress. Aren't we specialised enough to handle investments in our land? Let this be a call to everyone, we have enough than needed to do what we need. Let's take dominion and dominate our land.

** Overtaxing

A government tha doesn't support it's people, must never take tax. This is a fact. You can't suck civilians who get no support from the government, if really taxation is country building, what is that built.

** Contracts from abroad

We have Africans who knows how to construct storey buildings, steel bridges and any kind of infrastructure. Wht do we go for foreigners. Does this mean african education doesn't produce skilled personnel? The why? We have to be our development managers. We have all skills
