

TAGLINES

Seventy-five percent of the fashion supply chain ends up in landfills. C2A is a start-up and part of the “slow fashion” movement. It advocates thoughtful, sustainable, ethical fashion, and the end of season-to-season mindless consumption.

Boys learn a lot from sports — including that aggression, domination, and fighting to the finish is celebrated. For girls, perfectionism can make athletes into stars, but it can also open them up to exploitation, abuse. TeamUp helps school coaches teach other things too.

TAGLINES

Acorn is a new national network of autism therapy centers. This tagline sets the stage for a competitive stance against existing providers, Acorn's thought leadership, and a unique understanding of – and connection with — children with autism.

Wellspring helps some of society's most vulnerable people identify the root causes of their troubles, provides integrated wraparound resources, equips them with new skills, and supports them on the path to independence. "Better begins here."

Cobham Advanced Electronic Solutions is an aerospace and defense contractor that works in the harshest environments, from no-oxygen Mars missions to the crushing pressure of the ocean deeps, from G-Force acceleration to weightlessness in space.

Let's go there.