BIO

Riley Greenstein is a performer, songwriter, creative director, and community activist. The stories they tell are those of queer love, mental health, and shameless sentimentality. As co-founder and former guitarist of alternative rock band The Dead Friends Club, they have played at Boston Dyke March, Midway Cafe, Club Passim, and more. Riley formerly served as the Marketing & Communications Manager at Company One Theatre, where they were honored to use their skills to build community at the intersection of art and social change.
