

So late!!!
Daily Freeman 10-6-82

Women's health

Two classes on Women's Health Care topics, part of a series of continuing education programs offered at Northern Dutchess Hospital, have been scheduled for October.

Classes are free, and have been specially designed for the general public.

"Fertility Awareness" (Natural Family Planning) will be offered Wednesday, Oct. 13, from 2 to 4 p.m.

"Infertility: Causes, Treatments, and Emotional Impact," will be offered Wednesday, Oct. 20 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Pat Camillo, RN, MS, will conduct the classes. Ms. Camillo completed her graduate studies at Strong Memorial Hospital, a part of the University of Rochester Medical Center, one of the few schools in the country which offer advanced certification in Womens Health Care.

She has more than 10 years nursing experience in obstetrics and gynecology.

Registration is limited. Those interested in attending are asked to call Mrs. McCarney, Nursing Office, 876-3001, ext. 267.

Health program focuses on women

RHINEBECK — Northern Dutchess Hospital has launched a new program designed to complement traditional health care for women.

Although obstetrical care is included, treatment of the total woman — including emotional needs, developmental concerns and overall health and well-being — is emphasized. Some of the services will include fertility awareness, counseling for infertility, nutritional education, and assistance in helping women through the transition of menopause and aging. Plans for support groups are underway.

Information can be obtained from Pat Camillo, who heads the program.

Women's health care classes slated for NDH

RHINEBECK — Northern Dutchess Hospital has scheduled two free classes on women's health care topics for this month as part of a series of continuing education programs.

Fertility Awareness (Natural Family Planning) will be offered Oct. 13 from 2-4 p.m.

"Infertility: Causes, Treatments and Emotional Impact" will be offered Oct. 20 from 2-4 p.m.

Teacher is staff member Pat Camillo, a nurse who recently completed her graduate studies at Strong Memorial Hospital, a part of the University of Rochester Medical Center. Her specialty is women's health care. She has more than 10 years nursing experience in obstetrics and gynecology.

To register for the classes, call 876-3001, ext. 267. (pm)

Women's health classes set

RHINEBECK — Two classes on women's health care topics will be held at Northern Dutchess Hospital, Route 9, from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesdays, Oct. 13 and 20.

Classes are free and have been designed for the general public.

The first class will be on "Fertility Awareness" (natural family planning) and the second program will cover "Infertility: Causes, Treatments and Emotional Impact."

Pat Camillo, R.N., will conduct the classes. Miss Camillo completed her graduate studies at Strong Memorial Hospital, part of the University of Rochester Medical Center.

Registration is limited. Further information is available from the hospital's nursing office.

Poughkeepsie Journal Sunday 10-10-82

Reg-Star 10-5-82