This book contains the facts, who, where, when, but not the story of your family. A Genealogy is a living document. New information is always becoming available. If you can add to our history or have an anecdote to tell, then please share it and help make your story come alive. Even little things, like your cousin the fisherman who didn't eat fish, will make your story more personal. If you can add to your story, please contact me!

I have tried to make this document as correct as possible, but as you go back many generations there are occasionally ambiguities that make perfection impossible. Every fact presented is backed by a reliable source. Please let me know if you see anything that is wrong. As a side note names, spelling, dates and such are as they appear in the sources. Sometimes these do not agree with what is expected.

Introduction

The following pages list data for all known family members as of February 25, 2025.

Each immediate family is presented in their own section that contains a graphical family tree as well as a description with information about each referenced person and their children. The child section provides information about the children of the preceding couple. When a child has offspring of their own this is presented in a separate family section for that child. In this case a '+' is used to denote that an individual will appear later in the book as a parent with his/her own children and there is a link to the appropriate family reference number. For children with partners but no offspring the partner data is given with the reference family. Roman numerals, followed by a period, are used to indicate the birth order.

In the chapter titled "Family of the Starting Person" the ancestors of Emery Earl Cochrane are presented in a kind of enhanced Pedigree Chart which displays the graphic representation of their direct-line ancestors and the children of the couple. This chapter contains information about the couple whose ancestors are listed in the later chapters.

The chapter titled "Families of his Ancestors" provides details (as known as of the publication date) for the ancestors of Emery Earl Cochrane. There is a chapter for each generation. Relatives are listed in the order of the nearness of their relationship.

Sources for the information provided are given in endnotes.

This document reports the details of 221 individuals, of whom 107 are male and 113 are female. The sex of one individual is unknown. Of the 185 individuals with recorded birth and death dates, the average lifespan was 66.3 years. Of these, 98 males averaged 65.7 years, and 87 females averaged 67 years. Below is a letter which James wrote describing his experiences as a prisoner of war in the Civil War, after his capture by the Confederates during the battle of Atlanta, for a regimental history of the 97th Indiana:

At Home

March 23, 1890

My remembrance of prison life is so sad that I have tried to forget it. But there is something about it that will return to my mind. I was captured the 22d of July, 1864, at Atlanta, and hastened down that night to East Point, six miles from Atlanta; went into camp, stayed there all night and on the next morning. I think, we started for that "hell hole"-Andersonville. We marched to Jonesboro and there took the cars for Andersonville, and landed there the second day, I think in the evening, and was searched the second time, and then turned into that horrible place, without any shelter with the exception of the heavens. There were about 1,400 of us from Sherman's army. Well, they opened the gate and turned us in, like so many hogs into a slaughter pen, to make the best of it. So we went to work to see what disposition we could make of ourselves. So we found a place unoccupied, on the north side of that famous branch, that we read of in history. Here we sat down to consult what was best to do, and on examination what we had to improve our claims with, since the Rebels had taken everything from us, even down to our pocket knives; they even took my hat. There were eight of us that agreed to stay together; four of Company A, 97th Indiana-Greene Crawford, Bart Wiley, Elisha Abrams and myself. The other four were Atwater, of the 46th Ohio, Henry Kerts, of the 99th Indiana or 100th Indiana, and one of the 12th Indiana, and Wm. Ross, of Company G, 97th Indiana. Neither of us had any money or camp equipage except Henry Kerts and Atwater; Kerts had $5.00 and Atwater some pieces of old tent. So we invested the $5.00 in poles and a couple of forks and pegs to pin those old rags to the ground. Well, here was our outlay for living. The pole was seven feet long, and I suppose this was our chance for life. We had nothing to cook, nor nothing to cook with, so the thing was very evenly proportioned. So now we were in a state of dependent creatures, and a poor dependence it was. Those rags were our main dependence for shelter and to sleep on. So we made the best use of them we knew how. We were so thickly crowded we hardly had room to lie down. The suffering in that place was great. I saw men there so helpless, lying on the ground, and the lice and maggots had eaten their eyes out before death came. A man died just behind where our rags were staked down, and the maggots came through onto us pretty lively, and the stench was so bad it took a strong constitution to bear it. I have seen prisoners come in there in good health, who would give up, lie down, hide their faces, never look up or speak, and die! After serving one's country it was horrible to die in such a place. Our diseases were diarrhoea, scurvy, gangrene, and some kind of a fever they called "swamp fever"; we all had it, more or less. It was a sight to see the sick making their way to what the "Rebs" called "sick call." They crawled, hopped, went on all fours, were packed in blankets. I was there when that spring broke out. I have carried many a bucket of water from that blessed Providential spring. This spring broke out in August, 1864, after some heavy rains, and the south-east side of the stockade washed out at the same time. Our rations were simply a mixture of everything-rice, boiled in filthy water and shoveled into wagons and drawn inside; beans and mush the same way; flies, lice, maggots, were all eaten by the prisoners. When one was convicted of stealing, he was lashed with a strap. There were one-third of the prisoners in there that were crazy, and I think many that got out have never entirely recovered from the shock and suffering, and I think I tasted a little too much of the place to be my old self again. Sometime in October we were put upon cars and started hack toward Atlanta as we thought to be exchanged, but when we got to Macon, the cars halted awhile and then branched off to the southeast, which knocked the exchange idea out of us all. Here I lost all of our squad. Fortunately we had provided ourselves with some of that life-saving water in our little buckets and had managed to provide ourselves with a coffee pot. and had them both full of water and covered over with some old boot tops and tied down to make it go as far as possible. There was such a cry for water we concluded we would drink up what we had and get another supply, as the negroes were packing water to the famishing soldiers. We sent our bucket and coffee pot for water and that was the last, as the cars started and left all of our worldly goods behind. We suffered and mourned over these things, for though their real value was not 30 cents, they seemed worth millions to us. We were going where we knew not and didn't seem to care, as the prospect for exchange was all gone. When we got close to Savannah, Georgia, the guards told us we were going there to be exchanged. That enlivened us a little. Arrived there about daylight, stopped a short time, when the train pulled out over the swamps in the direction of Charleston. S. C., where we landed about 2 o'clock. Got off the cars, marched through the city and were placed in the State's prison under the fire of our own guns. We could see the shells burst and hear them crash through the buildings but none fell among us. We were there probably two weeks, when we were moved out and camped on the fairgrounds. A camp guard was put around us, and by this time we were in a pitiable condition, so much so that the more tender hearted of the people in Charleston undertook in part to alleviate our sufferings by bringing out provisions and clothing of all descriptions, such as they could spare. They would throw the grub and clothing over the guard line and run from the guards, but finally the guard would chase them and take it all away from them. I saw many a race with the guards and women. A great many tried to escape while here, but most all were brought back, some badly lacerated, being chased by bloodhounds through those swamps and greenbriers. One man was brought in who was out fourteen days, he said the last thing he tried to eat was a raw coon he caught in the swamp. He tore the hide off and swallowed some of it, but it would not stick. I was taken from hereto Florence. Here rations were a little scarcer but a little cleaner. The beans were buggy, the meal musty, rice filthy, and one pint a day of each issued to the man. At one time we had nothing for three days and nights when the commander of the prison suspected a tunnel was being dug. I saw men there who had gone to the branch for water and not able to get back, with lice gathered so thick about their heads and necks they could rake them off by handfuls. Men burrowed in the ground for sleeping apartments and at night their comrades would cover them over with warm sand, so they could sleep. I and my three comrades separated in one of those ground holes by the death of the three above named. This left me in a worse condition than ever if worse could be, but I tried to brace up. I knew my time was next in that family, though all loss was some gain toward my condition, as I now fell heir to the sand hole, and could turn over without calling to the others, so we could all turn at once. I started out to find another mate, and I had good luck as I found Owen Wright, of the 14th Indiana, an old acquaintance I had seen in Andersonville. I got with him and staid with him until I was paroled. I helped to eat some terrapin soup at Florence. I have seen men draw their rations of meal-eat it raw-throw it up, and a second man would grab up the best of it and eat it with more or less sand in it and make it stick. If meal was spilled in the sand, the men would grab it up and eat it, sand and all, more sand than meal. A bean or grain of rice was as carefully searched for out of the sand as a hen poorly fed would search for grains of wheat (when fed in chaff) for her chickens. There was more or less shooting of prisoners both at Andersonville and Florence. I saw several that were shot. I saw Barrett, who commanded at Florence, knock down the prisoners with his cane or club, which he always carried when inside the prison gate. Shooting in from the gate was his delight, as he seemed to have no pity for the Yankees. Florence seemed the worst "hell hole" of all, as we had that inhuman Barrett to contend with, the worst brute in human clothes I ever laid eyes on. The boys of my mess were all tottering under starvation when we got there and I saw I would have to give them up shortly, and that pained me very much, as we had been together in so many tight places, but this beat all places I had ever seen. The first to go down was poor Green W. Crawford, Company A, with diarrhoea and fever; next was Bart. Wiley, with same disease; next Elisha Abrams. By this time I had lost all trace of my Andersonville comrades. My clothing was all gone, worn out, and I was lucky enough to draw a pair of drawers from the sanitary and that was all the clothing I had with the exception of an old shirt and an old pair of shoes and an old cap that I traded a canteen for. I was paroled December 7th, 1864. I don't think I could have stood it one month longer. Note: Co A 97th Reg Vol Inf Civil War

John Nichols Hasler

John Nichols Hasler was born December 12, 1854, near Scotland, Indiana, where he was reared and spent his entire life. He departed this life on April 6, 1930, aged seventy-five years, four months and six days. He was united in marriage to Julia LESTER October 20, 1877. To this union eight children were born, namely: Mrs. Luck COCHRANE, of Bloomfield; Bert, Aden, and Clina, of Newberry; Mrs. Pierce MCNEELY, of Denver, Colorado, and Carlos, of Loogootee; Mina and Runes preceded him in infancy. He leaves to mourn their loss a wife, six children, thirteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren; two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Margaret COX, of Scotland; Mrs. Joseph LEDGERWOOD, of Odon, and Obe, of Scotland, and a host of relatives and friends.

Mr. Hasler was reared by Christian parents. He was sprinkled in infancy, and grew to manhood and had never made any confession of Christianity until recently. He saw his mistake of life and made his confession to Christ. He prayed much in his sickness and asked others to pray, and he said he was ready to go home. He suffered much, but died peacefully. Our dear old, father was taken away, how we miss him we never can tell, but with him all is well; for in that home far in the sky, he waits to join us by and by.

We wish to thank everyone who in any way assisted us through the sickness and death of our dear husband and father; the singers, Rev and Sister DAVIS, for their special song; Rev. MCBRIDE for his consoling words; the ones who gave floral offerings; Mr. SAPPENFIELD for his courtesies and all friends for their extended sympathy in our bereavement for the death of our dear husband and father.

Below is a letter which James wrote describing his experiences as a prisoner of war in the Civil War, after his capture by the Confederates during the battle of Atlanta, for a regimental history of the 97th Indiana:

At Home

March 23, 1890

My remembrance of prison life is so sad that I have tried to forget it. But there is something about it that will return to my mind. I was captured the 22d of July, 1864, at Atlanta, and hastened down that night to East Point, six miles from Atlanta; went into camp, stayed there all night and on the next morning. I think, we started for that "hell hole"-Andersonville. We marched to Jonesboro and there took the cars for Andersonville, and landed there the second day, I think in the evening, and was searched the second time, and then turned into that horrible place, without any shelter with the exception of the heavens. There were about 1,400 of us from Sherman's army. Well, they opened the gate and turned us in, like so many hogs into a slaughter pen, to make the best of it. So we went to work to see what disposition we could make of ourselves. So we found a place unoccupied, on the north side of that famous branch, that we read of in history. Here we sat down to consult what was best to do, and on examination what we had to improve our claims with, since the Rebels had taken everything from us, even down to our pocket knives; they even took my hat. There were eight of us that agreed to stay together; four of Company A, 97th Indiana-Greene Crawford, Bart Wiley, Elisha Abrams and myself. The other four were Atwater, of the 46th Ohio, Henry Kerts, of the 99th Indiana or 100th Indiana, and one of the 12th Indiana, and Wm. Ross, of Company G, 97th Indiana. Neither of us had any money or camp equipage except Henry Kerts and Atwater; Kerts had $5.00 and Atwater some pieces of old tent. So we invested the $5.00 in poles and a couple of forks and pegs to pin those old rags to the ground. Well, here was our outlay for living. The pole was seven feet long, and I suppose this was our chance for life. We had nothing to cook, nor nothing to cook with, so the thing was very evenly proportioned. So now we were in a state of dependent creatures, and a poor dependence it was.

Those rags were our main dependence for shelter and to sleep on. So we made the best use of them we knew how. We were so thickly crowded we hardly had room to lie down. The suffering in that place was great. I saw men there so helpless, lying on the ground, and the lice and maggots had eaten their eyes out before death came. A man died just behind where our rags were staked down, and the maggots came through onto us pretty lively, and the stench was so bad it took a strong constitution to bear it. I have seen prisoners come in there in good health, who would give up, lie down, hide their faces, never look up or speak, and die! After serving one's country it was horrible to die in such a place. Our diseases were diarrhoea, scurvy, gangrene, and some kind of a fever they called "swamp fever"; we all had it, more or less. It was a sight to see the sick making their way to what the "Rebs" called "sick call." They crawled, hopped, went on all fours, were packed in blankets. I was there when that spring broke out. I have carried many a bucket of water from that blessed Providential spring. This spring broke out in August, 1864, after some heavy rains, and the south-east side of the stockade washed out at the same time. Our rations were simply a mixture of everything-rice, boiled in filthy water and shoveled into wagons and drawn inside; beans and mush the same way; flies, lice, maggots, were all eaten by the prisoners. When one was convicted of stealing, he was lashed with a strap. There were one-third of the prisoners in there that were crazy, and I think many that got out have never entirely recovered from the shock and suffering, and I think I tasted a little too much of the place to be my old self again. Sometime in October we were put upon cars and started hack toward Atlanta as we thought to be exchanged, but when we got to Macon, the cars halted awhile and then branched off to the southeast, which knocked the exchange idea out of us all. Here I lost all of our squad. Fortunately we had provided ourselves with some of that life-saving water in our little buckets and had managed to provide ourselves with a coffee pot. and had them both full of water and covered over with some old boot tops and tied down to make it go as far as possible. There was such a cry for water we concluded we would drink up what we had and get another supply, as the negroes were packing water to the famishing soldiers. We sent our bucket and coffee pot for water and that was the last, as the cars started and left all of our worldly goods behind. We suffered and mourned over these things, for though their real value was not 30 cents, they seemed worth millions to us. We were going where we knew not and didn't seem to care, as the prospect for exchange was all gone. When we got close to Savannah, Georgia, the guards told us we were going there to be exchanged. That enlivened us a little. Arrived there about daylight, stopped a short time, when the train pulled out over the swamps in the direction of Charleston. S. C., where we landed about 2 o'clock. Got off the cars, marched through the city and were placed in the State's prison under the fire of our own guns. We could see the shells burst and hear them crash through the buildings but none fell among us. We were there probably two weeks, when we were moved out and camped on the fairgrounds. A camp guard was put around us, and by this time we were in a pitiable condition, so much so that the more tender hearted of the people in Charleston undertook in part to alleviate our sufferings by bringing out provisions and clothing of all descriptions, such as they could spare. They would throw the grub and clothing over the guard line and run from the guards, but finally the guard would chase them and take it all away from them. I saw many a race with the guards and women. A great many tried to escape while here, but most all were brought back, some badly lacerated, being chased by bloodhounds through those swamps and greenbriers. One man was brought in who was out fourteen days, he said the last thing he tried to eat was a raw coon he caught in the swamp. He tore the hide off and swallowed some of it, but it would not stick. I was taken from hereto Florence. Here rations were a little scarcer but a little cleaner. The beans were buggy, the meal musty, rice filthy, and one pint a day of each issued to the man. At one time we had nothing for three days and nights when the commander of the prison suspected a tunnel was being dug. I saw men there who had gone to the branch for water and not able to get back, with lice gathered so thick about their heads and necks they could rake them off by handfuls. Men burrowed in the ground for sleeping apartments and at night their comrades would cover them over with warm sand, so they could sleep. I and my three comrades separated in one of those ground holes by the death of the three above named. This left me in a worse condition than ever if worse could be, but I tried to brace up. I knew my time was next in that family, though all loss was some gain toward my condition, as I now fell heir to the sand hole, and could turn over without calling to the others, so we could all turn at once. I started out to find another mate, and I had good luck as I found Owen Wright, of the 14th Indiana, an old acquaintance I had seen in Andersonville. I got with him and staid with him until I was paroled. I helped to eat some terrapin soup at Florence. I have seen men draw their rations of meal-eat it raw-throw it up, and a second man would grab up the best of it and eat it with more or less sand in it and make it stick. If meal was spilled in the sand, the men would grab it up and eat it, sand and all, more sand than meal. A bean or grain of rice was as carefully searched for out of the sand as a hen poorly fed would search for grains of wheat (when fed in chaff) for her chickens. There was more or less shooting of prisoners both at Andersonville and Florence. I saw several that were shot. I saw Barrett, who commanded at Florence, knock down the prisoners with his cane or club, which he always carried when inside the prison gate. Shooting in from the gate was his delight, as he seemed to have no pity for the Yankees. Florence seemed the worst "hell hole" of all, as we had that inhuman Barrett to contend with, the worst brute in human clothes I ever laid eyes on. The boys of my mess were all tottering under starvation when we got there and I saw I would have to give them up shortly, and that pained me very much, as we had been together in so many tight places, but this beat all places I had ever seen. The first to go down was poor Green W. Crawford, Company A, with diarrhoea and fever; next was Bart. Wiley, with same disease; next Elisha Abrams. By this time I had lost all trace of my Andersonville comrades. My clothing was all gone, worn out, and I was lucky enough to draw a pair of drawers from the sanitary and that was all the clothing I had with the exception of an old shirt and an old pair of shoes and an old cap that I traded a canteen for. I was paroled

December 7th, 1864. I don't think I could have stood it one month longer. Note: Co A 97th Reg Vol Inf Civil War

John Nichols Hasler was born December 12, 1854, near Scotland, Indiana, where he was reared and spent his entire life. He departed this life on April 6, 1930, aged seventy-five years, four months and six days. He was united in marriage to Julia LESTER October 20, 1877. To this union eight children were born, namely: Mrs. Luck COCHRANE, of Bloomfield; Bert, Aden, and Clina, of Newberry; Mrs. Pierce MCNEELY, of Denver, Colorado, and Carlos, of Loogootee; Mina and Runes preceded him in infancy. He leaves to mourn their loss a wife, six children, thirteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren; two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Margaret COX, of Scotland; Mrs. Joseph LEDGERWOOD, of Odon, and Obe, of Scotland, and a host of relatives and friends.

Mr. Hasler was reared by Christian parents. He was sprinkled in infancy, and grew to manhood and had never made any confession of Christianity until recently. He saw his mistake of life and made his confession to Christ. He prayed much in his sickness and asked others to pray, and he said he was ready to go home. He suffered much, but died peacefully. Our dear old, father was taken away, how we miss him we never can tell, but with him all is well; for in that home far in the sky, he waits to join us by and by.

We wish to thank everyone who in any way assisted us through the sickness and death of our dear husband and father; the singers, Rev and Sister DAVIS, for their special song; Rev. MCBRIDE for his consoling words; the ones who gave floral offerings; Mr. SAPPENFIELD for his courtesies and all friends for their extended sympathy in our bereavement for the death of our dear husband and father.

History

Purchase & Planning

Worthington was settled in 1803 by several New England families from the Farmington River Valley of Connecticut and Massachusetts, under the leadership of pioneer businessman James Kilbourne. In 1802, Kilbourne organized a group of men to form the Scioto Company and headed west from Granby, Connecticut, to explore and find land to create a new community. With help from his friend, Thomas Worthington, Kilbourne purchased 16,000 acres of land on behalf of the Scioto Company for $1.25 an acre. When Kilbourne returned to New England, he planned the layout for the village. He platted a New England-type village of 164 lots around a central public square, which was designated for religious and educational purposes, as well as a spot for community gatherings.

Settlement

In September 1803, the same year Ohio became a state, eleven families left their Connecticut homes and traveled by wagon train to their new home in Ohio. It took six weeks for the families to travel the 600 miles to their new homes, arriving in October of 1803. They named their new village Worthington in honor of Thomas Worthington, one of Ohio's first senators and a future governor, for his assistance in locating the tract of land that would become Worthington.

Incorporation

The pioneer village prospered, forming an Episcopal congregation and a Masonic Lodge in 1804, as well as acquiring a post office in 1805, an academy in 1808 and a newspaper and manufacturing company in 1811. The 1830 census recorded 910 persons in Sharon Township - approximately one-third in the village and two-thirds on surrounding farms. In 1835, the Ohio legislature incorporated Worthington as a village, with an elected village council and mayor. The village retained a stable population with little growth and served as the market center for surrounding farms for the remainder of the 19th century.

Extracted from the account of John Dillon. History of Indiana, 1859 pp492-494 and "Pigeon Roost Massacre" by Lizzie D. Coleman 1904. As printed in "The Collings, Richeys and The Pigeon Roost Massacre" compiled by Constance A. Hackman, Leona M. Lawson and Kenneth Scott. Used by permission of Constance Hackman and Alice Scott. In the afternoon of the third of September, 1812, Elias Payne and a man whose name was Coffman were hunting for "bee trees" in the woods about two miles north of the Pigeon Roost settlement and were surprised and killed by a party of Indians. This party of Indians, which consisted of ten or twelve warriors, nearly all of whom were Shawnee, then attacked the Pigeon Roost settlement about sunset and, in the space of about one hour, they killed one man, five women and sixteen children. "Jeremiah Payne (who lived near the fort at Vienna, but seven miles north from Pigeon Roost) was warned of danger when his cows, bellowing very loud, came running to the house with spears and arrows stuck in their sides. Taking his wife and only child, Lewis, to the fort at Vienna, the father started on foot to warn his only brother, Elias (who lived five miles away), of their threatened trouble. He ran in a "turkey trot", as he called it - but too late. He found that the Indians had been before him and already done their deadly work. The wife and seven children of his brother had been massacred - parts of their bodies cut into strips and strung around trees...." "Another unprotected woman, Mrs. Richard Collings, and her seven children (Mr. Collings being away in the service of the government), are soon in the thralldom of the savage mob in their own home. Their lives are soon taken." "Going southwest from here, they met Mrs. Rachel Collings (wife of Henry) who had just returned home from Payne's where she had been to get spools for warping. Words are inadequate for describing the barbarity of results here. Mrs. Collings was pregnant at the time and after having been made the victim of the Indian mob, the child was taken from the womb and scalped. Afterwards they found the body of the baby laid on the bosom of the woman. The incentive to such a diabolical deed was the five-dollar British reward offered for each scalp." They next approached the home of William E. "Longknife" Collings. "In the Collings home on this memorable afternoon was the aged father William, Lydia and Captain Norris, an old Indian fighter, who had engaged in the battle of Tippecanoe and was here now to warn the settlers of their threatened danger." He "had come to confer with them concerning the need of a fort." "The Captain and Collings had been talking but a short time, perhaps no more than an hour." "...Captain Norris espied the Indians approaching." Collings said they should go into the cabin and fight and he handed one gun to Captain Norris. Norris had been severely wounded at the battle of Tippecanoe and couldn't easily handle the heavy gun. After some discussion they decide to try and hold off the Indians and try to escape after dark. While William was shooting, daughter Lydia was molding bullets in the cabin. "William E. Collings, espying a big Indian standing in the doorway (at Henry Collings house)....takes aim, fires, and the force of the murdering foe is reduced." "One Indian assumes the appearance of a woman, having decked himself in Mrs. Henry Collings' shawl, and while thus plotting he falls a victim at the hand of the matchless marksman." "In the meantime John , aged thirteen, had caught a horse and was ready to go after the cows when he saw an Indian approaching. Dropping the rein, he fled, but was pursued. He realized that the savage was gaining on him when he heard the report of his father's rifle;... glancing back he saw the savage fall with the blood streaming from his breast. Now he knew that he was saved and quickly made his way to the house." When darkness fell, they knew the Indians would fire the house so they made their way from the house to the corn field nearby. As William passed the corn crib, an Indian, hiding behind it, fired. "Collings raised his gun to return the shot when he found that the savage, in missing his aim, had broken the lock of his wonderful gun. "He called for Norris to send back the other gun but Norris either couldn't hear or didn't hear the request and Collings was left alone to meet the enemy. "When they came too near he would raise his flintlock and pretend that he would fire and thus frightened them." They knew his abilities with a rifle so for "Collings, the useless gun was his salvation." By "early next morning he was sheltered at his son Zebulon's blockhouse about five miles south of Pigeon Roost. Captain Norris and the children also made it to the blockhouse safely. "Henry Collings, who was at work in the field, was wounded in the head by an unexpected missile. He cautiously made his way to an old shed and concealed himself under a pile of flax. Here he was found a day or two later" He told the others that "I went to jump the fence and Little Kill Buck shot me." Henry died of the wounds received that day. About sundown, Jane Collings Biggs had taken her children, one just a baby, with her to bring up their cow. Returning to edge of the woods, she saw Indians surrounding her house. Jane hastily retreated into the woods to hide and save her children. The Indians fired the cabin and took to the woods hunting for the occupants. Jane could hear the footsteps and voices of the Indians. In the midst of this danger the baby began to cry and Jane reportedly covered its mouth to prevent it from giving away their position. [Many reports of the day, as well as later ones, reported that the baby had smothered and died. Direct descendants of Jane Collings

Biggs have reported that this report was in error.] After the Indians had passed by, Jane and her children turned their footsteps to her father's house for help. Leaving the children hidden near the road, she went to the house and found the door partially open. Smelling gunpowder she hurried back to road with her children and started for the blockhouse at her brother Zebulon's five miles away. She and the children arrived safely at the blockhouse in the morning. How she escaped the Indians at her father's house remains a mystery. Dr. John Richey and Sichey Collings were the first couple married in Scott Co. in 1810. They lived in the area of the settlement to the southwest. Dr. John was working in the field when he heard shots and saw smoke rising from the homes of the settlement. Realizing what was happening, he took Sichey upon his back and fled through the cornfield. They hid in the woods until dark and then laboriously made their way to Zebulon's blockhouse the following morning. Sichey delivered their first child shortly after the massacre. "... the Indians managed to steal and carry away captive a little girl, Ginsey McCoy, three years of age. She was a relative of Mrs. Jeremiah Payne and at the time was making her home with Mrs. Payne. Some fifteen years later she was reported seen with the Indians along the Kankakee River. These Indians migrated to Kansas where Rev. Isaac McCoy, uncle of Ginsey, doing missionary work there among the Indians, found the lost child. Through the years she remembered her name, but now was the wife of an Indian chief with a family. Rev. McCoy persuaded her to return on a visit to Indiana..." "Not being contented away from her family, she returned to her tribe and children and spent the remainder of her life with them." "After the time of the Pigeon Roost Massacre, many of the settlers on the northern and western frontiers of Clark, Jefferson, Harrison and Knox counties lived in a state of alarm until the close of the war in 1815." Mr. Zebulon Collings, who had the blockhouse within five or six miles of the Pigeon Roost settlement says: "The manner in which I used to work in those perilous times was as follows: On all occasions I carried my rifle, tomahawk, and butcher knife, with a loaded pistol in my belt. When I went to plow, I laid my gun on the plowed ground and stuck up a stick by it for a mark so I could get to it quickly in case it was wanted. I had two good dogs. I took one into the house, leaving the other out. The one outside was expected to give the alarm, which would cause the one inside to bark. I would then be awakened, and my guns were always loaded. I kept my horses in a stable close to the house, which had a porthole so that I could shoot to the stable door. During the two years, I never went from home with any certainty of returning - not knowing the minute I might receive a ball from an unknown hand; but in the midst of all these dangers, God, who never sleeps nor slumbers, has kept me." In 1904 the State of Indiana erected a monument as a lasting memorial to the massacred pioneers.

COWLEY COUNTY. 473 JOHN A. COCHRAN, a well-known resident and agriculturist of Liberty township, Cowley county, left Illinois October 7, 1869, with the intention of effecting a location in the valley of the Walnut River, in Kansas, probably in what is now Cowley county. Mrs. Cochran did not wish to go so far to the West on account of the Indian troubles, and they settled in Cherokee county. The land on which they found a home, with other tracts in that vicinity, became a bone of contention between the railroad managements and the government. For the sake of peace and quiet Mr. Cochran sold out, and bought, in July, 1878, his present property in Liberty township, the west half of the northwest quarter of section 9, and the west half of the southwest quarter of section 4, township 33, range 6, east. At the time of its purchase from the agent, Mr. Truesdale, it was but little improved, with the exception of a house, 12 feet square, into which Mr. Cochran moved his family the following April. This building is now used as a stable, the present fine, six-room house having been constructed in 1888. Many substantial and valuable improvements have been made on the place. There is a five-acre orchard, which is doing well. Mr. Cochran is quite extensively interested in

Shorthorn cattle, and in Poland- China hogs. He is quite a general farmer, and, cultivates oats, corn, cane, and alfalfa. By his close attention to timber culture, he had changed very materially the appearance of what was a prairie farm. He has been successful, has preserved good health, and is highly pleased with the results of his labors in Cowley county. For seven years Mr. Cochran has served as assessor of Liberty township. Mr. Cochran was born February 14 1830, in Crawford county, Illinois, and when still a small boy was taken by his parents, John and Elizabeth (Seaton) Cochran, to Greene county, Indiana. John Cochran, who was a tanner and shoemaker by trade, was a native of Massachusetts, where he was born about the year 1790. He went to Ohio about 1812, and with three of his brothers served in the second war with England. His father was a Scotchman, who served in the Revolutionary War. Elizabeth Seaton was of German descent, and was born in Pennsylvania. She married John Cochran in Indiana, and with him moved to the vicinity of Vincennes. He died in Christian county, Illinois, in 1866. He was an old-line Whig, and for fifteen years was justice of the peace. Mrs. Elizabeth (Seaton) Cochran died in 1833, having become the mother of five boys: H. Seaton; Elzy and Sydney, both dead; John A., whose name introduces this biographical sketch; and W. H.. H. Seaton, the eldest, resides in Washington, but formerly lived in Barber county, Kansas, from which county he was twice elected representative in the state legislature. W. H. lives near Caldwell, Sumner county, Kansas. in his youth, John A. Cochran learned the blacksmith's trade, but farming has been his main business in life. He had a public school education, and removed to Illinois when he was twenty-five years of age. Mr. Cochran en-listed in the Union army, August 11, 1862 becoming a member of Company F 116th Reg., 111. Vol. Inf. He entered as a private, and secured promotion to the rank of orderly sergeant, and that of first lieutenant, by his soldierly qualities, and by faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him. The regiment was attached to the 1st Brigade of the 2d Division of the 15th Army Corps, and his sensations on entering his first battle at Chick-asaw Bayou are still keen and fresh recollections with Mr. Cochran. Participating in the various events and incidents of the famous "March to the Sea," the closing battle of his military experience was at Fort McAllister. With his regiment he marched north through the Carolinas, and was mustered out at Washington District of Columbia, returning to Springfield, Illinois, for his pay. Mr. Cochran went to his home in McLean county, in that state, and gladly resumed the labors of a peaceful life, which he had abandoned at the call of his imperiled country. Before the war, Mr. Cochran was married, in Illinois, to Lizzie Jordan, who was born in Indiana, and who died in November, 1899, when about sixty -three years old. To this union were born six children: Alfred P.; James A.; Jennie Lynn; Nellie; John W.; and Julia (deceased). Alfred P. Cochran owns the farm north of his fathers, in section 4, and was married to a Miss Castor, by whom he has had six children: Floyd; Grace; Forrest; Fred (deceased); Frank, and Finas. James A. lives with his father; he was married to Hattie Olington, and they have two children Fannie E. and Margaret O. Jennie Lynn married Ed. Nicholson, and has her home near Elkhart, Illinois; they have two children, Nellie and Myrtle. Nellie married Newton J. Julian, and resides near Blackwell, Oklahoma; she is the mother of three children: Laird, Eunice and Clara. John W. was married to Eliza Thompson, who formerly lived in Liberty township, Cowley county, and is a resident of Guthrie, Oklahoma; they have two daughters living, Ethel and Edith Elizabeth, and lost a son, Arthur. Mr. Cochran cast his first presidential vote for John C. Fremont, and for many years was an active Republican. When the People's party was organized in Cowley county, he united with it, and among other honors received its nomination to the office of probate judge. He has served as trustee of the township, and was identified, with the Grange and the Farmers' Alliance. He is a member of the Dexter Post, Grand Army of the Republic. The Cochran family has ever been devoted to the Union, and has made a record of which it may be justly proud. The grandfather was in the Revolutionary War, the father and three brothers served in the War of 1812; John A. and three brothers were in the Civil War, where he was promoted to be a lieutenant, just before he was mustered out. Three sons of H. Seaton Cochran were also soldiers in the Civil War; and the oldest of these, together with his son, was a member of the "Rough Riders," a unique organization of the Spanish-American War. 'The family is a notable one. The venerable years of John A. Cochran, and his honorable character, and strict integrity, have placed him high in public esteem. He has a host of friends, who recognize his worth, and his right to a prominent place in any record intended to commemorate the leading men of the community.

John Alexander Cochran was born in Blandford, Hampten County, MA on 18 Aug 1794 and moved to IN with his parents, Amos Glass and Mehitable (Fuller) Cochran. John's name is on a list of citizens of the Indiana Territory. The list was a "memorial to Congress," according to the Cochran genealogy book. He married twice, first to Elizabeth Seaton on 21 Nov 1819 in Knox County, IN (7 children) and then to Betsy Ovemanon 6 Sept 1835 in Greene County, IN (6 children). Early history of Taylor Township says that there were several Cochrans who were early settlers: William, Henry, Nathaniel, and James. This would have been about 1821. In 1835, a John Cochran is noted to have been Justice of the Peace and thus member of the Board of Commissioners for Greene County. (Believe this was Taylor Township.) The Cochrans are noted to have owned a mill in Scotland Village of Taylor Township. A note in Baber's "Early History of Greene County, IN" implies that the mill was not in business long. Do not know if this John Cochran was one of the operators of the mill. John Alexander Cochran died in Mount Auburn, in Christian County, IL. Family history says he was buried at or near a farm where the family lived. Sources: Jack Baber, "Early History of Greene County," First published in 1875. This group is the general governing body of the Co. The same book says, "In the year 1827 three Cochran brothers, together with Col Lewis' family came down the Ohio River from Evansville, Indiana where the Cochran family had settled after migrating from Mass. They entered the Mississippi River at Cairo, Ill and thence on to Baton Rouge, La and settled in Ouachita, La. Then in 1831 they went overland to Salem, Tx, already an important settlement on the Sabine River to settle in the Bevil District. Henry Cochran was single, but his two brothers, Nathaniel and Joseph, were companied by their families. Joseph Sidney Cochran was married to Elizabeth Lewis, one of Col Samuel S. Lewis' daughters. Col Lewis settled in Zavalla, Tx, but the 3 Cochran's each preempted a league of land (4,428 acres) in what was then a part of the Mexican Province of Texas and later became Newton Co." On 1850 census Joseph's occupation is farmer and he owns property worth $2000. Joseph's wife Elizabeth Lewis was the daughter of Col. Samuel S. Lewis and she was the great great granddaughter of General Andrew Lewis of the Revolutionary War. Newton County Texas has seen a number of JAILS since becoming the county seat. The first official jailhouse was a log structure built in 1857 by J. S. Cochran for $780. It was located across the square on the west side where the Phillips 66 gas station now stands. It was unique in that it had three log walls. The inner and outer walls were horizontal dovetailed logs while the center wall had logs running vertically. In 1874 a two-story framed jail was erected on the square's east side near the present Newton County Historical Marker. In 1898 a brick jail with a hangman's gallows in the center of its stairwell was built in the area between the existing courthouse and the water tower. Sheriff Dave Humphreys was killed in it in 1932. That jail was razed in 1935 and replaced by a jail attached to the courthouse. - From newton county historical marker at the jail.....

{Biography by: Terry Lee Cochran} Newton County was originally part of the Spanish "Atascosito District" and under Mexican rule it became "Liberty District." In 1835, the present county was part of what was known as "Municipality of Bevil" or Bevil's District. After Texas's independence, the district was divided into Liberty, Jefferson and Jasper counties. At that time Jasper county included the land between the Neches and the Sabine rivers, but in 1846 Jasper county was cut in half, and Newton county was created from the eastern half. - m X. Henry C Cochran was born in Worthington on April 08, 1808.^[737] He died in Belgrade Newton County Texas, USA, in April 1850 at the age of 41.^[335, 737, 738] Henry C was buried in Old Belgrade Cemetery Belgrade Newton County Texas.^[738]

As written in long-hand by my great, great Aunt Bess in a letter to my Mother, Betty Smith Trotti, in 1969. Henry and Martha were married on April 9, 1837 at Old Salem, Texas. Henry Cochran was granted a League of Land on March 22, 1838--Abstract #54, The Henry Cochran survey in Newton County, Texas. They were both loyal to "The Republic of Texas" during her struggle for Independence and helped to build the State after Texas annexation to The United States in 1846. He was a building contractor and farmer and she was a teacher.dawntrottihall

In Glimpses of Newton Co it says, "In the year 1832 three Cochran brothers, together with Col Lewis' family came down the Ohio River from Evansville, Indiana where the Cochran family had settled after migrating from Mass. They entered the Mississippi River at Cairo, Ill and thence on to Baton Rouge, La and Alexandria, La. Then they went overland to Salem, Tx, already an important settlement on the Sabine River. Henry Cochran was single, but his two brothers, Nathaniel and Joseph, were companied by their families. Joseph Sidney Cochran was married to Elizabeth Lewis, one of Col Samuel S. Lewis' daughters. Col Lewis settled in Zavalla,

Tx, but the 3 Cochran's each preempted a league of land in what was then a part of the Mexican Province of Texas and later became Newton Co. At Salem, Henry met Martha Percival, a school teacher from South Sandwich, MA. Henry Cochran and Martha Percival were married April 9, 1837 at the Suddeth home in Salem, Jasper County. Children with Martha Percival: Abigail Percival Cochran b. 1838 Mahatable Cochran b. 1839 Sarah Cochran b. 1845. Henry and Martha later moved to Newton County onto Henry's league of land. Here their three daughters were born, Abigail Percival in 1838; Mahatable in 1839; and Sarah in 1845. While living here Henry died, leaving no will, so probate court divided the Henry Cochran league among the widow and three daughters, giving Martha one-half and the girls the other half. The court also appointed an old family friend, George Swift, as guardian of the girls. Newton County was originally part of the Spanish "Atascosito District" and under Mexican rule it became "Liberty District." In 1835, the present county was part of what was known as "Municipality of Bevil" or Bevil's District. After Texas's independence, the district was divided into Liberty, Jefferson and Jasper counties. At that time Jasper county included the land between the Neches and the Sabine rivers, but in 1846 Jasper county was cut in half, and Newton county was created from the eastern half. Henry COCHRAN In the May installment of "Early Families of Jasper County" it mentions Henry Cochran. He was young, of good family, a skilled carpenter and builder, and moderately well-educated. He was a good citizen to have in any community. information about the matter, Henry Cochran may have been the first of several Cochran brothers or relatives who came to Texas near the end of the colonial period, but he is the only one of them whose name is included in the Mexican Census of 1835. Because he died before the first United States census was made in Texas in 1850, there is no record of where he was born, but he probably came from one of the Midwestern states - Illinois, Indiana, or Ohio. In 1837, he was living in the home of Col. Samuel S. Lewis while engaged in a building project on that gentleman's plantation, and this may or may not indicate a former acquaintance. Henry Cochran's grant of land adjoins Stephen H. Everitt on the southeast and lies today across the county line between the communities of Bon Ami and Bleakwood, but he seems to have lived in or near Belgrade rather than on his land. He was the first coroner for Jasper County, so far as there is any record (1841), and was elected to that same office in Newton County after it as organized, an office he held until his death in 1849. Callaway, John Farrar

In 1800 he was selected as one of the original representatives to the North Carolina House of Commons, representing Ashe County, was elected senator in 1803, and served several senate terms thereafter. He also served Ashe County as a justice of the peace. He followed his father and brother James to Knox County, Tennessee in 1811, and the 1812 tax rolls attributed 160 acres and one slave to him; by 1826 he owned 160 acres and seven slaves. His participation in the War of 1812 is unclear—he may have been in charge of shipping provisions down the Tennessee River—but after the war he was known as "Major Callaway." He was elected sheriff of Knox County in 1814 and served successive terms until 1826, when he was appointed U.S. Marshal for the Eastern District of Tennessee, a position he occupied until about 1830. His mother, who died in 1823, lived with him for her last few years. In 1827 he moved to the Sweetwater Valley in Monroe County, Tennessee, south of present Philadelphia, and there built the first brick house in the area. In 1842, at age 69, John moved to the part of Van Buren County, Missouri, that is now Cass County, with most of his children and their families, sister-in-law Rebecca Hodges and her husband, and brother James and some of his children. He lived there another six years, until his death at his home near present Peculiar, Missouri. His estate included 330 acres and about $7,000 in personalty, including eighteen slaves. He was active in the Baptist Church. He and Sarah had fourteen children, of whom eleven reached adulthood.

John was in the North Carolina Legislature. (See historical sketches of N C by John H Wheller, pgs 27 and 28, ch. 4). He moved to Knox County, TN about 1811. He was Major in the year 1812. In 1814 he was elected sheriff of Knox County, TN. He served 12 years. Made U. S. Marshall. He went to Missouri bringing large number of slaves. His family consisted of 8 children.

Major John was stricken with apoplexy and died Oct 29, 1848 in Cass County, MO. As was the custom in those days, the family had a burying ground near the home. He was buried in the same cemetery as other members of his family. His wife, Sarah Hardin Callaway died while on a visit to her son, William Sanders Callaway in TN.

After many years, the old farm of Major John passed into the hands of strangers and it is a regrettable fact the cemetery was not preserved. In time the owner of this farm removed all of the tombstones. Many were piled up, and others were taken to the farm home and used for a walk. Among the may used was the one of Major John Callaway. A great-granddaughter- Katherine Callaway Anderson, procured the stone and took it to Clinton, MO and placed it in the Englewood Cemetery on the plot of James H Callaway, father of Jerry Callaway and his half sister Mrs. Anderson. On this stone is the following inscription: Major John Callaway, died Oct. 29, 1848, being 75 years, 8 months, 19 days old.

Although she had been in a feeble condition for many months the announcement of the sudden death of Mrs. Elizabeth HASLER last Saturday afternoon came as a surprise to the community. She was one of the pioneer citizens of Greene county and commanded the highest respect of all who formed her acquaintance. Her maiden name was STUCKIE and she was born at Aarmuhlen, Switzerland, August 27, 1822; died at Bloomfield, May 11, 1907; Aged eighty-four years, eight months and fourteen days. Upwards of twenty-seven years ago, her husband passed away. On the first day of September, 1822, she received the ordinance of baptism and when still quite young she united with the German Evangelical church, and to the end of her life remained a steadfast and devoted Christian. Her last illness was long and painful but she bore it with patience, her faith in the Master being such that she believed all things work out for good to them that love the Lord." He was married to Susanna STUCKY, Dec. 25, 1849, and to this union seven children were born, five of whom, John, Obediah, Abraham, Maggie and Mrs. Caroline LEDGERWOOD, are still living. His companion and two daughters preceded him to the better land. He leaves, in addition to those already named, a brother, Uncle Fred Hasler, of Newberry, twenty-one grandchildren, twenty great-grandchildren to mourn their loss.

Mr. Hasler was formerly a member of the German Lutheran church, but later united with the M. E. church at Scotland under the pastorate of Rev. George ASBURY. He was a good father, a kind husband, and a faithful christian. During his last illness, though many times suffering intense agony, he was ever patient and uncomplaining. Realizing that his end was near he expressed himself that all was well and that "it was all right."

Funeral services were conducted at the Scotland M. E. church Saturday by his former pastor, Re. J. H. ALLEN, of Merom, Ind. Burial in Scotland cemetery. The bereaved family desire to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy in those dark hours. --- J. H. A. May 4, 1909.

Although she had been in a feeble condition for many months the announcement of the sudden death of Mrs. Elizabeth HASLER last Saturday afternoon came as a surprise to the community. She was one of the pioneer citizens of Greene county and commanded the highest respect of all who formed her acquaintance. Her maiden name was STUCKIE and she was born at Aarmuhlen, Switzerland, August 27, 1822; died at Bloomfield, May 11, 1907; Aged eighty-four years, eight months and fourteen days. At the age of eleven she, with her parents, three brothers and three sisters came to America and settled in Ohio. There they resided for some time. Their next move was to Richland county, Illinois. In 1845 she was united in marriage to Peter HASLER and they moved to this county, which continued to be her home till death, a period of more than sixty years. To this union were born fourteen children, ten of whom-four sons and six daughters-are still living while three sons and one daughter preceded their mother in death. Upwards of twenty-seven years ago, her husband passed away. On the first day of September, 1822, she received the ordinance of baptism and when still quite young she united with the German Evangelical church, and to the end of her life remained a steadfast and devoted Christian. Her last illness was long and painful but she bore it with patience, her faith in the Master being such that she believed all things work out for good to them that love the Lord." She is survived by ten children, thirty-three grand children and fourteen great grand children, besides a host of other relatives and friends. The funeral services were held from the residence on South Franklin street Monday morning at 9:30, conducted by the Rev. W. H. WYLIE, and the remains were taken to Taylor township and laid to rest in the German cemetery. - The Death Records of Greene County, Indiana, Book H-6, Page 23, lists Elizabeth HASLER's father as Nickles STUCKIE Cemeteries of Eastern Greene County, Indiana, 1994, G.C.H.S., Page 195, DUTCH/HASLER CEMETERY lists her as Elizabeth STUCKY HASLER.
