

Descendants of James Cochran

Generation 1

1. JAMES<sup>1</sup> COCHRAN was born on 19 Oct 1796 in Bedford, Middlesex, Massachusetts, USA. He died in 1879 in Greene County, IN. He married Rosemond Lester on 06 Apr 1829 in Greene County, IN. She was born about 1803 in Newberry, South Carolina. She died in 1879 in Greene County, IN.

James Cochran and Rosemond Lester had the following children:

- i. JOHN AMOS<sup>2</sup> COCHRAN (son of James Cochran and Rosemond Lester) was born on 10 Feb 1831 in Taylor Twp., Greene County, Indiana. He died on 18 Apr 1918 in Taylor Twp., Greene County, Indiana.

Notes for John Amos Cochran:

John Amos Cochran never married. He lived with James and Louisa at the old homestead. Family tradition has it that he and James never spoke to each other. Seems James could not forgive John Amos for not serving in the Civil War. This was extremely hard for James after his experiences in Andersonville and Florence, SC. Also, their brother Peter had died while serving in this war.

  - ii. JANE COCHRAN (daughter of James Cochran and Rosemond Lester) was born in Nov 1831 in Taylor Twp., Greene County, Indiana. She died on 05 May 1901 in Newbury, Grant, Indiana, USA (Age: 70). She married William Thomas Barker on 16 Dec 1847 in Greene Co., IN. He was born on 09 Mar 1825 in Indiana, USA. He died on 08 Apr 1869.
  - iii. PETER COCHRAN (son of James Cochran and Rosemond Lester) was born in 1833 in Taylor Twp., Greene County, Indiana. He died on 24 Jan 1863 in La Grange Fayette County Tennessee, USA.

Notes for Peter Cochran:

Peter Cochran never married. He served in the Civil War in the same unit as his brother James. IN January of 1863 while in camp at La Grange, Tennessee, he became ill with one of the camp diseases that were very prevalent and passed away. He was buried in the military cemetery there in La Grange. He was just thirty years old.

Below is a letter which James wrote describing his experiences as a prisoner of war in the Civil War, after his capture by the Confederates during the battle of Atlanta, for a regimental history of the 97th Indiana:

At Home
March 23, 1890

My remembrance of prison life is so sad that I have tried to forget it. Hut there is something about it that will return to my mind. I was captured the 22d of July, 1864, at Atlanta, and hastened down that night to East Point, six miles from Atlanta; went into camp, stayed there all night and on the next morning. I think, we started for that "hell hole"-Andersonville. We marched to Jonesboro and there took the cars for Andersonville, and landed there the second day, I think in the evening, and was searched the second time, and then turned into that horrible place, without any shelter with the exception of the heavens. There were about 1,400 of us from Sherman's army. Well, they opened the gate and turned us in, like so many hogs into a slaughter pen, to make the best of it. So we went to work to see what disposition we could make of ourselves. So we found a place unoccupied, on the north side of that famous branch, that we read of in history. Here we sat down to consult what was best to do, and on examination what we had to improve our claims with, since the Rebels had taken everything from us, even down to our pocket knives; they even took my hat.

There were eight of us that agreed to stay together; four of Company A, 97th Indiana-Greene Crawford, Bart Wiley, Elisha Abrams and myself. The other four were Atwater, of the 46th Ohio, Henry Kerts, of the 99th Indiana or 100th Indiana, and one of the 12th Indiana, and Wm. Ross, of Company G, 97th Indiana. Neither of us had any money or camp equipage except Henry Kerts and Atwater; Kerts had $5.00 and Atwater some pieces of old tent. So we invested the $5.00 in poles and a couple of forks and pegs to pin those old rags to the ground. Well, here was our outlay for living. The pole was seven feet long, and I suppose this was our chance for life. We had nothing to cook, nor nothing to cook with, so the thing was very evenly proportioned. So now we were in a state of dependent creatures, and a poor dependence it was. Those rags were our main dependence for shelter and to sleep on. So we made the best use of them we knew how. We were so thickly crowded we hardly had room to lie down. The suffering in that place was great. I saw men there so helpless, lying on the ground, and the lice and maggots had eaten their eyes out before death came. A man died just behind where our rags were staked down, and the maggots came through onto us pretty lively, and the stench was so bad it took a strong constitution to bear it. I have seen prisoners come in there in good health, who would give up, lie down, hide their faces, never look up or speak, and die! After serving one's country it was horrible to die in such a place. Our diseases were diarrhoea, scurvy, gangrene, and some kind of a fever they called "swamp fever"; we all had it, more or less. It was a sight to see the sick making their way to what the "Rebs" called "sick call." They crawled, hopped, went on all fours, were packed in blankets. I was there when that spring broke out. I have carried many a bucket of water from that blessed Providential spring. This spring broke out in August, 1864, after some heavy rains, and the south-east side of the stockade washed out at the same time. Our rations were simply a mixture of everything-rice, boiled in filthy water and shoveled into wagons and drawn inside; beans and mush the same way; flies, lice, maggots, were all eaten by the prisoners. When one was convicted of stealing, he was lashed with a strap. There were one-third of the prisoners in there that were crazy, and I think many that got out have never entirely recovered from the shock and suffering, and I think I tasted a little too much of the place to be my old self again. Sometime in October we were put upon cars and started hack toward Atlanta as we thought to be exchanged, but when we got to Macon, the cars halted awhile and then branched off to the southeast, which knocked the exchange idea out of us all. Here I lost all of our squad. Fortunately we had provided ourselves with some of that life-saving water in our little buckets and had managed to provide ourselves with a coffee pot. and had them both full of water and covered over with some old boot tops and tied down to make it go as far as possible. There was such a cry for water we concluded we would drink up what we had and get another supply, as the negroes were packing water to the famishing soldiers. We sent our bucket and coffee pot for water and that was the last, as the cars started and left all of our worldly goods behind. We suffered and mourned over these things, for though their real value was not 30 cents, they seemed worth millions to us. We were going where we knew not and didn't seem to care, as the prospect for exchange was all gone. When we got close to Savannah, Georgia, the guards told us we were going there to be exchanged. That enlivened us a little. Arrived there about daylight, stopped a short time, when the train pulled out over the swamps in the direction of Charleston. S. C., where we landed about 2 o'clock. Got off the cars, marched through the city and were placed in the State's prison under the fire of our own guns. We could see the shells burst and hear them crash through the buildings but none fell among us. We were there probably two weeks, when we were moved out and camped on the fairgrounds. A camp guard was put around us, and by this time we were in a pitiable condition, so much so that the more tender hearted of the people in Charleston undertook in part to alleviate our sufferings by bringing out provisions and clothing of all descriptions, such as they could spare. They would throw the grub and clothing over the guard line and run from the guards, but finally the guard would chase them and take it all away from them. I saw many a race with the guards and women. A great many tried to escape while here, but most all were brought back, some badly lacerated, being chased by bloodhounds through those swamps and greenbriers. One man was brought in who was out fourteen days, he said the last thing he tried to eat was a raw coon he caught in the swamp. He tore the hide off and swallowed some of it, but it would not stick. I was taken from hereto Florence. Here rations were a little scarcer but a little cleaner. The beans were buggy, the meal musty, rice filthy, and one pint a day of each issued to the man. At one time we had nothing for three days and nights when the commander of the prison suspected a tunnel was being dug. I saw men there who had gone to the branch for water and not able to get back, with lice gathered so thick about their heads and necks they could rake them off by handfuls. Men burrowed in the ground for sleeping apartments and at night their comrades would cover them over with warm sand, so they could sleep. I and my three comrades separated in one of those ground holes by the death of the three above named. This left me in a worse condition than ever if worse could be, but I tried to brace up. I knew my time was next in that family, though all loss was some gain toward my condition, as I now fell heir to the sand hole, and could turn over without calling to the others, so we could all turn at once. I started out to find another mate, and I had good luck as I found Owen Wright, of the 14th Indiana, an old acquaintance I had seen in Andersonville. I got with him and staid with him until I was paroled. I helped to eat some terrapin soup at Florence. I have seen men draw their rations of meal-eat it raw-throw it up, and a second man would grab up the best of it and eat it with more or less sand in it and make it stick. If meal was spilled in the sand, the men would grab it up and eat it, sand and all, more sand than meal. A bean or grain of rice was as carefully searched for out of the sand as a hen poorly fed would search for grains of wheat (when fed in chaff) for her chickens. There was more or less shooting of prisoners both at Andersonville and Florence. I saw several that were shot. I saw Barrett, who commanded at Florence, knock down the prisoners with his cane or club, which he always carried when inside the prison gate. Shooting in from the gate was his delight, as he seemed to have no pity for the Yankees. Florence seemed the worst "hell hole" of all, as we had that inhuman Barrett to contend with, the worst brute in human clothes I ever laid eyes on. The boys of my mess were all tottering under starvation when we got there and I saw I would have to give them up shortly, and that pained me very much, as we had been together in so many tight places, but this beat all places I had ever seen. The first to go down was poor Green W. Crawford, Company A, with diarrhoea and fever; next was Bart. Wiley, with same disease; next Elisha Abrams. By this time I had lost all trace of my Andersonville comrades. My clothing was all gone, worn out, and I was lucky enough to draw a pair of drawers from the sanitary and that was all the clothing I had with the exception of an old shirt and an old pair of shoes and an old cap that I traded a canteen for. I was paroled December 7th, 1864. I don't think I could have stood it one month longer. Note: Co A 97th Reg Vol Inf Civil War

Notes for Louisa A Hambright:

Louisa HAMBRIGHT was born near Knoxville, Tennessee, July 25, 1838, and departed this life August 31, 1924, aged eighty-six years, one month and six days. In 1860 she was united in marriage to George STORMER, who shortly after their marriage enlisted in the service of the Civil War, and died in 1863. In 1865 she came to Greene County, where she lived until her death. In 1869 she was again united in marriage. This time to James COCHRANE, of near Scotland, who died on July 18, 1905. To this union were born five children, two of whom, Lucy and Peter, preceded their mother in death several years ago. The surviving children are: Charley, of Hudson, Colorado; Luke, of Scotland, and Mrs. Nettie TOWNSEND, of Newberry. She is also survived by, a grandson, W. L. COCHRANE, of Medelia, Minnesota, whom she reared, and two sisters, also survive, namely, Mrs. Sarah KELLY, of Knoxville, Tennessee, and Mrs. Missouri TOWNSEND, of near Scotland. In 1892 she was converted and joined the United Brethren church under the ministry of Rev. Oscar SMITHER. Grandma has gone, but never will her memory fade. Sweet thoughts of her will ever linger with us, and we will try to meet her on that other shore. The funeral services were held on Wednesday, September 3, at Simpson Chapel, conducted by Rev. McMURTY. Interment in the cemetery nearby. - CEMETERIES OF EASTERN GREENE COUNTY, INDIANA, 1994, G.C.H.S., Taylor Township, Section 14 T6N R5W, Simpson Chapel Cemetery, Page 215, Column 3: Cochran, Louise, w/o James, 25 July 1838-31 Aug 1924; COCHRAN, James, CO A 97TH REG IND VOL INF., 22 Feb 1835-19 Jul 1905; COCHRAN, Charles, 14 Jul 1880-18 Jul 1935, Redman Lodge; Burial: Simpson Chapel

She died on 13 May 1956 in Scotland, Greene County, Indiana, United States of America. She married Obediah Tilman A Howard Barker (son of Sarah Barker) on 14 Apr 1878 in Greene Co., IN. He was born on 24 Sep 1847 in Taylor Township, Greene, Indiana, USA. He died on 06 Dec 1925 in Taylor Twp., Greene Co., IN.

Notes for Obediah Tilman A Howard Barker:

Obediah Tilman A. Howard BARKER, son of Obediah and Sarah BARKER, was born in Taylor Township, near Scotland, Indiana, September 24, 1847, and departed this life on December 6, 1925, aged seventy-eight years, two months and twelve days. His entire life was spent in the township where he was born. He departed this life just three-fourths of a mile west of where first he saw the light of day. His father died when he was only eighteen months old, leaving his mother with six children to support. When only a lad of sixteen he was left at the old home to assume the responsibility of the home and the care of his aged mother, his only brother, John having enlisted to give his life to his country. He was devoted to his mother and until his death could not speak too highly of her, always telling of the great influence which she had on his life. He cared for her until her death, which occurred on April 6, 1890. On April 14, 1878, he was united in marriage to Mary BARKER. To this union were born ten children, five boys and five girls, all of whom are living. Obe BARKER, of Chicago; John BARKER, of Newberry; William BARKER, of Indianapolis; Margaret BARKER of Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Josephine ROSENBURY, of Lawrence County; and Mrs. Julia Anderson, Wilbert BARKER, Elza BARKER, and Mrs. Mildred YORK, of Taylor Township, and Alice, who is still at home. In the year 1888, he was converted and joined the United Brethern church at the old BRUSH school house, under the pastorate of Oscar SMITH. About five years later, plans were completed for the building of a Bethany church and he was chosen as one of the trustees, which position he served faithfully until he was called to his reward. About the year 1895 the building was completed and the class transferred. Tilman, as he was commonly called, was a man of high ideals and principles, always trying to do unto others, as he would have them do unto him. Ever ready to recognize the superiority of his Creator and his God. The mountains of difficulty would fade away into insignificance as he marched steadily toward them with a stern and steadfast faith. His good advice and councilship will always be cherished in the heart of his children. Politically he as a Republican, being deeply interested in Governmental affairs and taking a decided stand on the side which he believed to be right of all questions. He believed the right of franchise to be a privilege and an opportunity rather than something to be neglected. He leaves to mourn their loss a companion, the ten children, twenty grandchildren, an aged sister, Mrs. Elizabeth ANDERSON, of Poplar Bluff, MO., and a host of other relatives and friends. The funeral was conducted at Bethany Church in Taylor Township, Wednesday, December 9. The services were in charge of Rev. J. W. McMURTY, of Dale, assisted by Rev. G. C BOND, the pastor of the church. Interment in the cemetery at Scotland.
