THE PERSUADERS

Mr. James Roberts

As usual, we've been sitting around the KLH stereo trying desperately to develop a unique and interesting first line, but as sometimes is the case, the strain of it all just knocks the creativity clear out of our consciences. We are now immersed in total concentration with one focal point in mind; and that is to dedicate this, our yearbook, the product of our living experience here at St. Peter's, to that person whom we, the class of '69, feel deserves this honor.

Through the years, the students have known this man without realizing how much influence he has had on their education. We could list his efforts and accomplishments, which have bettered our school, but we are not going to. He wouldn't want it that way.

In our type of communal living here at St. Peter's we feel especially close to this man, who commutes to meet eleven seniors sitting around a seminar table licking ice cream sticks and passing around cookies. Enter James Roberts, with a warm smile, a sincere "good morning", and "I have some very interesting things to show you today, which will be great fun. Now, if you'll just stay awake . . ."

We know a man; a man of patience, a man of love, a man of God.

Mr. Decker! If you'll stay awake!

Behind every man?
But of course.

The gesture conveys
the thought.

A blue-toned photograph of a city street grid seen through a window with a grid pattern. The image is dominated by shades of blue, with white highlights from the window's grid and the city's architecture. The perspective is from an elevated position, looking down at the street below. The grid pattern of the window is prominent in the foreground, creating a layered effect over the city street below. The city's buildings and streets are visible through the window, with some areas appearing more brightly lit than others. The overall mood is abstract and architectural.

I walk through the long schoolroom questioning;
A kind old nun in a white hood replies;
The children learn to cipher and to sing,
To study reading — books and history,
To cut and sew, be neat in everything
In the best modern way — the children's eyes
In momentary wonder stare upon Sixty year old smiling public man.

"Knowledge can be communicated, but not wisdom. One can find it, live it, be fortified by it, do wonders through it, but one cannot communicate and teach it . . . Everything that is thought and expressed in words is one-sided, only half the truth; it all lacks totality, completeness, unity . . . Words do not express thoughts very well. They always become a little different immediately they are expressed, a little distorted, a little foolish. And yet it also pleases me and seems right that what is of value and wisdom to one man seems nonsense to another . . . Therefore teachings are of no use to me; they have no hardness, no softness, no colors, no corners, no smell no taste — they have nothing but words. Perhaps that is what prevents you from finding peace, perhaps there are too many words, for even salvation and virtue."

H. Hesse

" 'I quite agree with you,' said the Frog, 'and the moral of that is — be what you would seem to be; or, if you'd like it put more simply, never imagine yourself not to be otherwise than what it might appear to others that what you were or might have been was not otherwise than what you had been which which would have appeared to them to be otherwise.' Pot power depends on the amount of ultraviolet radiation absorbed by the resin. The reason tropical grass is more persuasive than New Jersey Mauve is that tropical sunlight is richer in u.v. To upgrade marijuana of any quality, spread clean grass very thin on any smooth surface & expose it to u.v. light for 45 minutes or longer. (Any sunlamp is a perfect source of u.v. for this purpose.) While you're waiting, read Crawdaddy! the magazine of roll. Be advised.
