

God-Centered Job Preparation

What Leads You to Consider Leaving Your Current Position, if Applicable?

- Avoid leaving solely because of people.
 - Reflect on whether God is guiding you to move on.
 - Consider if the grace in your current role has diminished.
- Seek the Lord's guidance to understand if He is refining you and developing your character in your present position.
 - Embrace discomfort, as growth often comes from such challenges.

Are You Seeking a Job or a Career?

- Pursuing a career typically involves furthering education or additional training.
 - Options like becoming a doctor, lawyer, or teacher.
 - Identify your passions, which may extend beyond a job or career.
- Explore volunteering, taking classes, serving in church, or participating in mission trips.

Next Steps and Action Plan

- Ensure your resume is up to date.
- Consider if further education is necessary.
- Practice patience and gratitude for your current job's blessings, if applicable.

Reflect on Philippians 4:6-8:

- Do you feel peace in your job search? Peace often signifies you are on the right path.

How can you glorify God in your life?

Job Search Insights

- Strategically focus on jobs aligning with your strengths.
 - Be honest and tailor your skills to job descriptions.
- Utilize "functional" resumes and incorporate relevant keywords for better visibility.
