NEWS RELEASE

Pheasants Forever & Quail Forever hire Farm Bill Wildlife Biologist to help Southern Missouri Landowners.

Nate Case will serve Howell, Texas, and Wright counties.

Houston, MO—May 16, 2024—Pheasants Forever and Quail Forever are excited to share that Nate Case was hired for the Houston, MO. Farm Bill Wildlife Biologist I position. He started his new position on May 6th.

The Farm Bill Wildlife Biologists on the Missouri team are partnership positions supported by the Natural Resources Conservation Service, the Missouri Department of Conservation, and the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation. Case will be a valuable resource for private landowners in Howell, Texas, and Wright counties. His role will involve assisting landowners with wildlife management planning and securing funds to implement those plans.

“Nate is a great addition to the Missouri Team,” said Missouri Farm Bill Manager, Haley Lockard. “He brings a background in timber and grazing land management that will be of great value to the landowners around Houston.”

Case grew up in Salem, Missouri, where he was heavily involved in 4-H and FFA. He then went to the College of the Ozarks, graduating with a Bachelor's in Conservation and Wildlife Management in 2023. His wife, daughter, and he recently moved back to Salem to their family farm.

"I'm extremely excited to be a part of the team," said Nate Case. "I am also glad to be working with landowners, many of whom I grew up around and learned from myself."
