What to expect (days are different for everybody)

- Immediately after - shape may appear uneven due to swelling
- Day 1 - 3 eyebrows will appear darker and thicker
- Day 4 - 7 eyebrows will be dry and itchy. Do not scratch, rub or pick at it. They might start to scab/crack or flake off. Eyebrows will look patchy and uneven during healing process. It is absolutely normal. Please DON'T PANIC.
- Day 7 - 10 scabs should be all gone (some can take up to 14 days)
- Sometimes eyebrows will appear as if there is no color. The remaining color has absorbed under the layer of skin and in the following week it will resurface as skin cells repair.
- Week 3 - 4 eyebrows will appear true color. Eyebrow might still look patchy or uneven shape. Some rare cases pigment doesn't retain well. (in this case please visit www.AdvanceMicroblading.com and look for question #21 in FAQ
- Week 4 - 6 come back for a touch up. Any small corrections can be made at this visit.

Please Note:

Subjective effect on different individuals, e.g. skin types that affect the attachment of color: Most clients will need two sessions, some will only need one and some will need a third touchup to complete the look at an extra charge.
