

Journal #5: Freedom (Think/Write/Share)

What are the first words that come to mind when you think of the word, freedom? What is freedom to you?

Directions: Write at least four compound sentences about freedom.

Remember compound sentences contain two independent clauses. These clauses are separated either by a comma and coordinating conjunction (for, and, nor, but, or, yet, and so) or by a semicolon.

Study the examples:

1. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. delivered fiery speeches, and he often alluded to biblical stories since he was a minister.
2. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. delivered fiery speeches; he often alluded to biblical stories since he was a minister.
3. We are intelligent, and we will do well on our exams.
4. Her sister studies hard, so she gets good grades.
5. Toni Morrison was an award-winning writer; she was honored with the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1993.

