Fueling the Fire

Module 5 Worksheet

Instead of a list of activities, I want you to take aside 30 minutes today to reflect on your business using the following prompts.

- What ways can you raise your vibration on a daily basis to attract new and exciting opportunities?
- Is there a way you can change your language in your head, in your convesations with others and online to harness the law of attraction?
- In what ways can you embrace a growth mindset in your business?
- What expectations do you have of yourself and your business in terms of "success"? Are they reasonable?
- What ways has the Universe supported you in your business? (you can usually figure this out when you say, "thank goodness I met this person" or "I'm so glad that opportunity didn't come to fruition because this wouldn't have happened!")
