

My name is Ntarda Despoina and I was born in Athens in 1983.

After graduating from Larymna high school, I studied Economics at the National & Kapodistrian University of Athens obtaining a Master in Finance in 2005.

In 2006 I continued my studies in Architecture at Middlesex University of London obtaining my Bachelor degree in this field in 2009.

During my architectural studies, my innate artistic flair -shown at a very young age- fueled my inner desire to further develop my artistic voice and delve into the realm of artistic expression.

In 2014 I made the bold decision to dedicate myself to the art, thus immersing myself in the world of fine arts. This pivotal moment marked the beginning of my artistic journey and of an extraordinary path of self-discovery through artistic expression.

Today, I am a full time artist working mostly on commissioned art and I am glad to participate in art exhibitions and international art fairs.

"Art cultivates souls and stimulates minds,
thus serving as the ultimum
beacon of hope."
