ACT I

Intermission (15 minutes)

ACT II

Cast

Tyson Wright portrays Craig Shafer. His acting credits include The Waiting Game series of plays, The Daughters of Zelophehad, The Suffering of Job, Chaos in Coaltown, and other Wright Penn original stage plays.

L. Rochelle Turnage portrays Tina Shafer. She has been a professional actor, director, and teacher in the Richmond area for the past 25 years. She has worked with Virginia Rep., served as the assistant production manager for Richmond's Festival of the Arts at Dogwood Dell, and the Assistant producing Director for the African American Repertory Theatre, as well as many other roles in Richmond's theatre community. Rochelle currently serves as the artistic director for the Journey Theater Company with Richmond PRCF.

Lisa Wright portrays Ann. Her acting credits include The Waiting Game series of plays, The Daughters of Zelophehad, The Suffering of Job, and Chaos in Coaltown. She is a published author debuting her first book in 2023 entitled My Worship is For Real.

Toney Cobb portrays Jeff Williams. He has over 30 years of experience as an actor/director. He's performed with Firehouse Theatre, Swift Creek Mill Playhouse, among others. He is the Board President of the Richmond Community Theatre Guild.

Melissa Miles portrays Pam Williams. Her acting credits include The Waiting Game series of plays, The Daughters of Zelophehad, and our annual Christmas plays held at St. John's United Holy Church.

Delvin Young portrays Trent Maxwell and Eric Via. Delvin started his acting career 25 years ago at Norfolk State University. With roles such as Iago in Othello to The King in Cinderella he developed his skills so that he'd handle other roles and life. In Richmond, he worked with AART and now The Wright Penn Company.

Isaac Watson portrays Trevor Maxwell. He began his theatre career 20 years ago with the African American Repertory Theater. He then attended Virginia Commonwealth University where he starred in Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in The Sun. After three years at VCU, he decided to transfer to Hampton University. At Hampton, he took lead in several productions such as Dreamgirls, How I Learned to Drive, Joe Turner's Come and Gone and Through the Crack (a theatrical adaption starring film actress Aunjanue Ellis). After Hampton University, Isaac started to transition into film and television. However, his love and passion for theater was still present. After 11 years of being off stage Isaac is excited to get back to his roots. He now works with the Wright Penn Company and RLP Productions.

Khyea Skipwith portrays Carla Bardose. Khyea's theatrical credits include Virginia Commonwealth University's Diversity Theatre (2007-2009), The Waiting Game series of plays, and our annual Christmas productions held at St. John's United Holy Church.

Aaron Turnage portrays Lamont Shafer. Aaron has been an actor with Wright Penn from the inception of the organization. His credits include The Waiting Game series of plays, The Suffering of Job, and annual Christmas productions at St. John's United Holy Church.
