PLEASE CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING:

A cat can live for a long time – 10, 15, even 20 years. We try to place cats in "forever" homes.

We see cats surrendered for various reasons. Often the adopters were not prepared to cover the cost of vetting or training required for their new pet.

Older cats are harder to rehome than kittens, placing an extra burden on rescuers.

We look at the age, characteristics & habits, as well as the commitment the adopter is able & willing to place on their adopted cat. We try to match the cat's temperament & potential needs to the adopter's ability to provide for the cat.

During your cat's life, which of the following would be a reasonable situation to cause you to give up your cat? There are no right or wrong answers.

☐ Moving to another state/country

☐ Getting married or divorced

☐ Having a baby

☐ Scratching on furniture or possessions

☐ Too expensive

☐ cat is elderly

☐ cat's health (arthritis/diabetes/cancer/etc)

☐ Not housetrained

☐ Moving in with parents or friends

☐ Moving into a new "no pet" apartment or house

☐ Children won't take care of cat

☐ cat doesn't like new puppy/kitten

☐ Other: _____

☐ None of the above

Please use this space to tell us about yourself and share any additional information you feel is important :
