SENIOR REAL ESTATE GUIDANCE

Meet Pamela Washbon

I specialize in guiding seniors and their families through thoughtful real estate decisions with patience, empathy, and integrity. Helping my own mother and her friends has shown me how important it is to have someone trustworthy who listens, explains each step clearly, and offers options without pressure. For many older adults, the right next chapter may mean downsizing, aging in place with proper support, or moving closer to family — and I meet them at whatever pace they're comfortable with. I can connect them with trusted appraisers, estate sale professionals, downsizing and organizing help, and moving assistance, all while ensuring they feel protected, respected, and never taken advantage of.
