MISS BOYCE

MR. COLE

DEDICATION

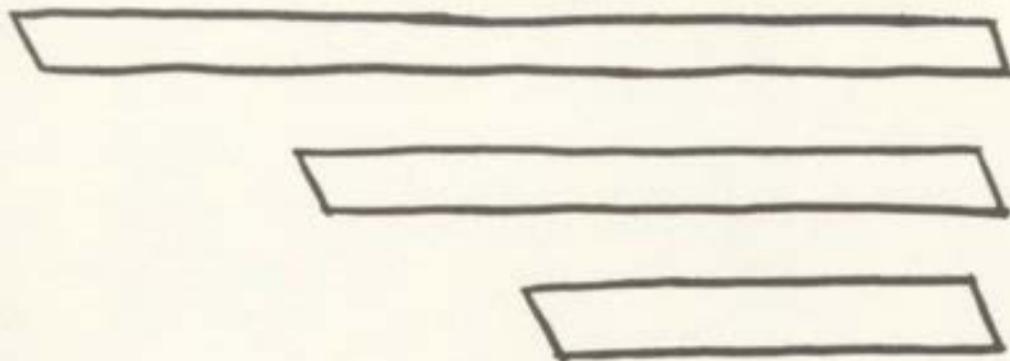

We, the Class of 1957, respectfully dedicate this yearbook to Miss Dora Boyce and Mr. Bradford Cole. In the years ahead we feel sure that the recollection of these two teachers will always be woven into the pattern of our memories. As Mr. Cole personifies the musical note that we have chosen as our theme, Miss Boyce, represents and has taught us the basic science on which not only our melodies but our workday pursuits are founded.

We wish to thank the members of the staff for their cooperation in preparing this yearbook. We would also like to thank Miss Mooney and Mrs. Kelly for their guidance and patience.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To The Class of 1957:

You are completing your high school education under a system of government which is based on the rights and dignity of each person as an individual. During your last year in school this has been in sharp contrast with conditions elsewhere in the world, and we hope that you will have a clearer appreciation of democracy as the best way of life so far devised.

The price of our freedom has not been cheap and to keep it will cost much in effort, interest and personal dedication. You must not fail.

Sincerely,
A. Herbert Campbell

CLASS

In the year 1953, one of the smallest classes to enter Hoosick Falls High School began its travel through four of its most memorable years. It was our class.

We were assigned to room 27 and our advisor was Mrs. Potts. At our first meeting we elected the following officers:

President	Paul Gahn
Vice-President	Robert DuRoss
Secretary	Richard Davis
Treasurer	Sally Andrew

Student Council members were, James Miner, Sandra Benson, Gayle Smith and Barbara Carr.

Our activities for the year included a hayride and the traditional freshman magazine drive. At the end of the year we had $24.25 in our treasury and as the picture in the Yearbook cost $25, Mrs. Potts lent us 75 cents.

Our Sophomore year advisors were Miss Law and Mr. Peckham and our homerooms were 21 and 11. Our officers were:

President	Judy Hyde
Vice-President	Shirley Granger
Secretary	Pat Smith
Treasurer	Sandra Benson

Student Council members this year were Marcia Brown, Sandy Benson, Joe Spiak and Jane Rudd.

We voted to pay $1 dues to put some money in our treasury and we had a food sale at Cuddihys, as we had to purchase roses for the seniors for Honor Society this year. We had two dances this year, one the Sadie Hawkins Dance for which we used records and the other a square dance with the Petersburg Dance Band supplying the music.

Our first Junior Class meeting was held in room 21, which again was one of our homerooms. The other room was 29, with Miss Hulihan and Mr. Peckham as class advisors. We elected the following people as officers:

HISTORY

President	William Haynes
Vice-President	Gail White
Secretary	Judy Hyde
Treasurer	Jane Rudd

Bob Knapp was elected President at the beginning of the year, but his family moved away shortly afterward so we elected Bill Haynes President and Gail White Vice-Pres.

Student Council members this year were Sally Andrew, Jane Rudd, Judy Hyde and Marcia Brown.

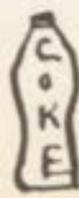

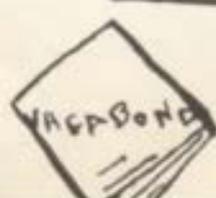

We held a food sale at Cuddihys and also invited Beas Wurm and her orchestra to play for our Harvest Dance. We elected a committee of representatives for our class rings and committees were appointed for the Junior Prom. The name of our Prom was "Stairway to Paradise" and we had Phil Foote and his orchestra from Albany supplying the music. We also conducted a paper drive and made approximately $60.

Our Senior year our advisors were Mrs. Coburn and Mr. Eighmey, and as we were a small class of 33 we were all in one homeroom 15. Our class officers this year are:

President	Jane Rudd
Vice-President	Walter Earley
Secretary	Sandra Benson
Treasurer	Judy Hyde

Student Council members this year are, Jim Pratt, Marcia Brown, Ed Smith, Judy Hyde, and Maurice Andrew who is President.

At our first meeting we agreed to conduct a magazine sales campaign. We realized a profit of approximately $203. The Vagabond Staff was selected and at present is busy at work. The class is also busy preparing for a Senior Play. The Winter Ball was held December 29 with the music of Osmond Eldredge.

CLASS

We, the Class of 1957, being of sound mind do establish this document as our last will and testament.

To the Faculty we leave peace and quiet and the address of the nearest insane asylum.

To the Juniors we leave all the headaches and fun of preparing the Vagabond and of passing out senior pictures.

We leave our sister class, the Sophomores, looking forward to putting on the Junior Prom and receiving their class rings.

To the Freshmen, three more years of struggle with the hope that they make it.

Individually we bequeath:

Maurice G. Andrew leaves his desk, the first one in almost every class, to Jimmy Brown.

Sally Andrew leaves thankful that she got through chemistry.

Sandra Benson leaves her place as Captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders to Joyce Pine.

Marcia Brown leaves her cheerleading uniform to Judy Eldred.

Marjorie Decker leaves her place in Drivers Education to anyone who wants it.

Charles Dorr leaves his nose to Charlie Kokoras.

Joyce Dougherty leaves an empty seat in band to Duane Schneider.

Robert DuRoss leaves his seat on the Varsity bench to Jim Harter.

Walter Earley leaves his place on the football team to Everett Brock.

Nancy Evans leaves the poor teachers and the school to return to normalcy after four years of her.

Nicholas Flynn leaves last year's learner's permit.

WILL

- Elizabeth Green leaves her seat in Room 15 to her brother John.
- Joan Hawks leaves her senior seat to Florence Kane.
- William Haynes leaves his place in English to anybody who can spell.
- Helen Hewitt leaves her love of sports to her cousin, Louise Webster.
- Judy Hyde leaves her Varsity Cheerleading uniform to Carol Pierson.
- Gail Ingram leaves her seat in Drivers Ed. to any underclassman with an aptitude for driving.
- Kenny Knapp leaves Miss Mooney with one less bad boy in Study Hall.
- Joan Kovage leaves Mrs. Kelly without a talking partner.
- Charles Lohnes leaves his lock of bleached blond hair to Mr. Stritch.
- Donald Lohnes leaves his experience and knowledge gained with age to any eligible receiver.
- James Miner leaves his football jersey to Gene Roberson.
- Irving Moon leaves the Juniors nightmares of homework.
- Charles Noyes leaves his brother two more years to go.
- James Pratt leaves school wishing he was returning.
- Jane Rudd leaves her driving abilities to Ruth Mason.
- Edward Smith leaves his number 12 sneakers to Robert Pudvar.
- Gayle Smith leaves minus her crinoline.
- Patricia Smith leaves taking everything with her.
- Florence Stevens leaves her cousin Joan her ability to chew gum and get caught.
- Butch Von Haggin leaves????
- Gail White leaves Mrs. Kelly with no one to bother her all the time.

CLASS

One evening in 1987 I sat in my apartment exhausted from a rugged day's work at my desk as private secretary to the president of the General Electric, James Pratt. My head was spinning from the big business of the day but I thought perhaps a light and frivolous television program might relax me. I pressed the chairside button of my supersonic set and heard the peppy rhythms of a trio from the local chapter of "Today's Farmers" singing the song which is sweeping the grass-roots circuit, "Subsidies and Surpluses." The trio was composed of Maurice Andrew, Nick Flynn and Kenny Knapp.

The program was interrupted by the ringing of the doorbell. It was Gail White, Jane Rudd and "Fluff" Stevens. They explained that they had just come from the annual convention of the Business and Professional Women. Marcia Brown, the president, was doing a fine job of presiding over the convention. After exchange of greetings they told me they had been delegated to bring the news that I had just been named "Secretary of the Year." When I had recovered from the shock I got them some coke and we settled down to watch the program again.

Just as we settled back, on came the commercial. Commercial did I say? It was none other than Butch Von Hagain and Don Lohnes, Butch in his Game Warden uniform and Don wearing that of a State Trooper. They had a spot announcement asking for cooperation in observing speed and game laws during the coming Russian Elk season.

The next number turned out to be a quartet of nurses from The Hoosick Falls Memorial Health Center, Gail Ingram, Pat Smith, Sally Andrew and Helen Hewitt singing "Needles and Pins."

Between numbers I had a chance to tell the girls that I had seen Billy Haynes recently. He is a public accountant and was in the office to direct an audit of our accounts.

While we were chatting another commercial came on. We watched intently as we were expecting anything now. It advertised "Melton Drip" refrigerators and featured Dub Miner as a refrigerator technician who chilled us with his description of the Melton's thawing powers. I wondered what Irving Moon, one of our engineers who had come up through the apprentice course, would think of this product. Irving, of course, can talk nothing but General Electric.

PROPHECY

The next number, a lively rock-n-roll tune called "Nuts and Bolts", reminded us that Ed Smith, Walt Earley, and Humphrey Dorr were all successful engineers who had collaborated on a new one-story skyscraper - horizontal - that was shocking New Yorkers. The blue prints had been prepared by our old school mate, Walt Sachau.

The next "commercial" presented a dignified woman in a smart, tailored suit who, to our amazement, turned out to be Gayle Smith, Principal of Hoosick Falls Central School, making an appeal for candidates in her profession. She told of the fine new building which they had just moved into and presented two members of the teaching staff, Nancy Evans and Joan Kovage, Physical Education teachers, who presented their pupils in a trampoline demonstration.

A lively musical number was next - a march "The Army Engineers." We wondered whether Bob DuRoos or Charlie Lohnes had inspired this as they were both in there drilling.

After this number, a cart of gleaming trophies was wheeled out on the stage followed by two striking looking women whom we recognized as Sandy Benson and Marjorie Decker. They received the Betty Crocker Award for their recipes submitted in the annual contest. Sandy is married and the mother of seven and Marjorie, also married, was announced as "Homemaker and Secretary." The awards were presented by Joyce Dougherty, now Dean of Women at Syracuse University, who was accompanied by her private secretary, Joan Hawks.

As the empty trophy cart was wheeled off the stage we recognized Charlie Noyes. He must be working as a stage hand in the TV Studio. When Charlie had disappeared "silently" behind the curtain a brisk girl in an Air Force Uniform came out bearing a poster urging girls to join up. It was none other than Betty Green.

Who else could we see? This had to be "curtains!" Our class had realized their ambition. 1957 had made history-or at least entertainment.

The Junior Class started the year by electing Student Council members and monitors. The Student Council Representatives were Carol Pierson, Margaret Light, Lewis Watt, and Donald Fairbanks. The monitors were Donald Tate, Joyce Pine, Donald Fairbanks, and Helen Bromirski. We ordered our class rings in late October and we expect them in January. In November we held a record hop with a disc jockey present, and made a considerable profit. The big event of the year will be the Junior Prom in June. Our advisors this year are Mrs. Von Haggin and Miss Boyce.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The election of Class officers took place at our first meeting. At our second meeting we discussed plans for a record hop and forthcoming dues. The Record Hop was held early in February to raise money for our Yearbook picture and to pay for the roses given to the Seniors on National Honor Society Day. Our class advisors were Mr. Stritch, Miss Mooney, and Miss Hulihan. Student Council Representatives were Louise Webster, Susan Shaw, Gary Bouplon, Norma Fowler, Lorraine Knapp and David Mason.

So far this year the Freshman Class has held a very successful dance in December. It was something new for the school, featuring the W.T.R.Y. disc jockey Paul James and his "flat friends." The current freshman class is a very large one, having about seventy students. Our class sponsors are Miss McFall, Mr. Peckham and Mr. Kramer. Student Council members are Gene Roberson, Van Miles, Pat Griswold, and Linda Piritz.

The 1956 baseball season did not show up well on the scoreboard even though there was a balance of good material among the new recruits as well as old-timers.

FOOTBALL TEAM

First Row: Dennis Bornt, Manager, Tony McShane, Gene Roberson, Paul Bachorz, Van Miles, Lawrence Ludwig.

The 1956 football team had a good season under its new leader, Coach Gilchrist. This year saw all the games played under lights with good support from the band and student body.

The team worked hard for first place in the Saratoga County League, but did not quite make it. They won for us 3 games and lost 2.

The Junior Varsity opened the season by winning seven straight games. They have worked hard and have showed good sportsmanship for our school. We hope to hear more of some of these fine players.
