To Whom It May Concern:

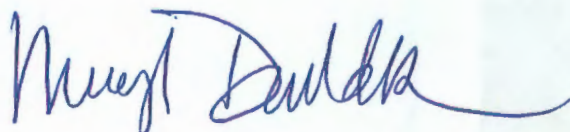

Alexi Krapivka was most courteous and diligent not only in my search for an apartment, but during the signing of the lease and even after settling into my new home.

His thorough understanding of the apartment itself, the building and the neighborhood allowed for me to make a commitment to a property without feeling "oversold".

I would not hesitate in recommending his services to anyone in need of a real estate broker; most importantly, I feel that Alexi Krapivka is truly in the upper echelon of expertise in his field.

Do not hesitate to contact me if you have further questions.

Yours truly,
