

Bath Bombs, Salts & Steamers

Both of our boys have Autism which means that smells and textures have always been an issue when trying out bath bombs and bath salts. Something that fizzes too much or smells too strong can set off some serious sensory overload which can be followed by behaviours.

Additionally, they've inherited eczema from both sides of the family, so natural bath products are all their skin can handle. We've factored all the above and created a very special type of bath bomb, salts and steamers catering to our son's specific sensory diets and highly sensitive skin. You'll find the sensory products under "Sammy's Series"

Other Bath Bombs, salts and steamers are available with natural products and scents to create a more relaxing and chemical-free experience.
