BRENTWOOD SCHOOL DISTRICT

A Message from New Superintendent Dr. Amy Zielinski

Dear Brentwood Community,

As the new superintendent of the Brentwood School District, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 2024-25 school year!

This year, we will celebrate the grand reopening of Mark Twain Elementary School, which marks the completion of major construction and renovation projects at all five of our schools. These state-of-the-art facilities will provide our students with an outstanding environment for learning, growth and achievement, and we are deeply grateful for your support and patience throughout this process. Your commitment to our students, staff and schools has been instrumental in transforming the footprint of public education in our community.

We are also excited to introduce our new strategic plan, led by the collaborative efforts of our exceptional educators and a unified vision: Passion. Purpose. Pathways for Success. This plan will guide us in creating dynamic and engaging educational experiences for all students. Our mission is to inspire every learner, every day to thrive academically, socially and emotionally in a supportive and inclusive community.

Achieving our new vision and mission requires the collective efforts of our entire community. We believe that with the dedication of our teacher, support staff and administrators, and the invaluable support of our families and community members, we can make this vision and mission a lived experience for each and every one of our students.

As we begin a new school year, we do so with a renewed sense of enthusiasm and determination. Together, we will create a nurturing and inclusive environment where every student feels valued and empowered to succeed.

Thank you for your continued support of high-quality educational opportunities in our community. I am truly honored to lead this amazing district, and I look forward to a year filled with learning, growth and achievement for all students. Here's to a fantastic school year!

Sincerely,
Dr. Amy Zielinski
Superintendent of Schools

Mark Twain Community Open House is Saturday, Aug. 17

Join us for a momentous celebration as we unveil the newly renovated Mark Twain Elementary School during a special community open house event on Saturday, Aug. 17 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Students, staff, families and community members are invited to explore the new and improved learning spaces that honor the history of Mark Twain while embracing the future of education in our community.

“Opening a renovation project of this magnitude is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity,” said Dr. Amy Zielinski, new superintendent of schools. “This building will meet the needs of our students, families and community for generations to come, and we are excited to cut the ribbon, open the doors and welcome everyone to the new and improved Mark Twain.”

The original Mark Twain underwent extensive renovations during the 2023-24 school year, including a complete transformation of the existing structures and a new two-story addition. Highlights of the new addition include a state-of-the-art library media center, which also serves as an ICC 500 storm shelter, and a secure main entrance that meets the highest school safety and security standards.

The addition seamlessly connects to the school’s existing footprint, creating 12 total classrooms and dedicated spaces for art, music, physical education, counseling, intervention and special education services. These flexible, collaborative learning spaces are designed to engage students and support innovative instruction. The revitalized campus also features an outdoor learning garden, a reconfigured playground and additional parking.

This project was made possible by Prop E, a $29 million bond issue to enhance safety, accessibility and student learning at our two elementary schools and early childhood center. The building was designed by HTK Architects, managed by Navigate Building Solutions and completed by ICS Construction.

Experience the incredible transformation at Mark Twain Elementary School and help us celebrate the future of education in our community!

BHS Graduate Secures Job After Sheet Metal Camp

Trenton Mitchell, a 2024 graduate of Brentwood High School, recently completed the SMACNA St. Louis Heavy Metal Summer Experience Camp, earning a contract with Murphy Company, a premier national contractor specializing in designing, constructing and maintaining mechanical systems. Mitchell joins fellow BHS alumnus Nick Phillips, who secured employment through this program last year.

“Trenton is a glowing example of a responsible young man with the career-readiness skills to step into the industry and do great things,” said Dr. Edward Johnson, BHS principal. “His success is a direct reflection of our ability to find personalized learning experiences that help our students meet their future career goals.”

The Heavy Metal Summer Experience Camp offers high school students ages 17-19 a unique introduction to the sheet metal trade. The program provides hands-on training with state-of-the-art tools and equipment, as well as valuable insights from industry experts. Several students have transitioned from camp participants to full-time apprentices, bypassing the usual 300-person waitlist for entry into the trade.

Visit the SMACNA St. Louis website to learn more about the program.

Demolition Begins at Original McGrath Elementary School

The eagerly anticipated final phase of Prop E construction is now underway, marking a significant milestone in the transformation of the McGrath Elementary School and Brentwood Early Childhood Center (BECC) campus.

Demolition of the original McGrath building began on Monday, July 29. Three demolition excavators have already leveled the southwest portion of the building, including the kindergarten wing, staff workroom, and classrooms for grades 1-2. Heavy equipment operators are sorting debris into piles for recycling and disposal, while crews use a dust suppression system to keep the surrounding air clean.

“Our demolition contractor started its work at the beginning of June, focusing first on the interior,” said Andy Hartnett, director of facilities. “Now that building is coming down, you can really see the progress. It’s bittersweet for many of us who made memories in the original McGrath, but it’s exciting to see how this transformation will benefit our students and community.”

Prop E Phase III includes the demolition of the original McGrath building and sitework improvements to enhance outdoor learning, play and parking on the roughly 4.7-acre site.

A permanent playground designed for preschool students will be located in front of the BECC main entrance. Surrounding the playground will be a hard-surface play area, a learning garden and a pavilion for use by both preschool and elementary school students. The west side of the campus will feature two grass playfields and 31 additional parking spaces for visitors and staff.

All projects associated with the final phase of Prop E are scheduled to be completed by the end of 2024.

School Board Member Earns Distinguished Certification

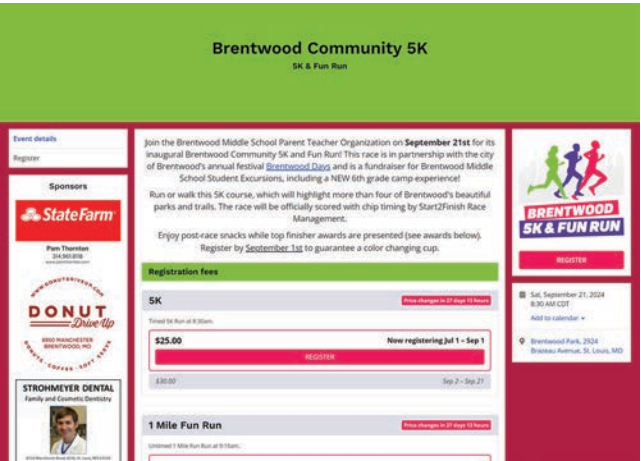

Brentwood School District Board of Education member Keith Rabenberg has achieved Distinguished Board Member Certification from the Missouri School Boards’ Association (MSBA). This prestigious honor recognizes his commitment to high-quality public education, which includes almost 30 years of volunteer service on the school board.

“Continuous learning and leadership are essential for making informed decisions that positively impact our schools,” said Lindsay Spencer, Board of Education president. “Keith’s experience and expertise are invaluable, and his commitment to professional development ensures that all students have the resources they need to succeed academically, socially and emotionally.”

MSBA’s certification program honors board members who exceed the 18.5 hours of training required by the Outstanding Schools Act of 1993. Distinguished Certification is the highest accolade, requiring Advanced and Master Certifications, 60 training credits and annual refresher training as mandated by law. Recipients must also demonstrate leadership, advocacy and presentation skills in various activities related to school board service.

Rabenberg was recognized for his dedication to educational leadership during the MSBA Summer Summit in Branson, Mo. on June 24.

ZZ TOP AT THE FACTORY

Rock and Roll Hall of Famers ZZ TOP will perform live in concert on Thursday, November 14 at The Factory at The District. Show time is 7:30 p.m. (doors open at 6:30 p.m.). Tickets are $129 and $59.50. Tickets go on sale this Friday, June 14 at 10 a.m. and can be purchased online at Ticketmaster and TheFactorySTL.com.

ZZ Top has been performing for well over half a century, delivering rock, blues and boogie on the road on the road and in the studio to millions of devoted fans. With iconography as distinctive as their sound, ZZ Top is virtually synonymous with beards, hotrods, spinning guitars, and that magic keychain, all of which transcend geography and language.

Since the founding of ZZ Top on the last day of 1969, they have gone on to become one of the top concert and recording attractions in the world, highlighted by a string of hit records including their 1973 breakthrough “La Grange” as well as “Sharp Dressed Man,” “Legs” and many more. Their album catalog including Tres Hombres, Deguello, Eliminator and others has sold more than 60 million units worldwide and their status as a top tier in-person attraction remains undiminished.

In 2021, ZZ TOP faced a significant loss with the passing of Dusty Hill. At his urging, Elwood Francis stepped up to fill the void, bringing exceptional musicianship and coincidental facial hair, making him a worthy successor to the legendary bassist. Fronted by the legendary Billy F Gibbons and underpinned by rhythmic force of Frank Beard (a/k/a “The Man With No Beard”) with Elwood on bass for the past few years, the group continues to redefine their sonic approach.

Located at 17105 North Outer 40 Road, just off Interstate 64/40 at the Boone’s Crossing exit, The Factory at The District is the newest addition to the vibrant entertainment scene in St. Louis, and offers complimentary, well-lit parking for all events. ## A Red Circle and the Governor’s Cuts

For the second year in a row, Missouri State Senator Angela Mosley (District 13) has championed a budget request on behalf of A Red Circle. The former Hathaway Hills Shopping Center (9300 Lewis & Clark Blvd.), purchased by A Red Circle in 2023, is within Senator Mosley’s district. A Red Circle has plans to revitalize the shopping center as the North County Community Nexus to provide much needed retail, social and community services for the surrounding community. Topping the list of priorities for the North County Community Nexus is the development of 10,000 square feet of space into a community grocery store – The People’s Harvest Grocery Store. The location is ideal for returning healthy food access to the surrounding communities – most of which are classified by the USDA as food deserts due to the lack of full-service grocery retail. This is the result of decades of systematic disinvestment in North St. Louis County.

The one-time state budget request of $1.9M represents approximately 15% of the total costs associated with renovating the space and opening the new grocery store. Additional funding is currently being gathered from a variety of funding sources. While the current administration views this as a local project that should rely on local funding, A Red Circle believes that all levels of government have a role to play in reinvesting in North St. Louis County. We know that access to healthy foods plays a critical role in the health and well-being of North St. Louis County residents. The development of the People’s Harvest Grocery Store represents not only an opportunity to invest in the health of our residents. It will also generate new employment opportunities and maintain tax dollars in our community rather than forcing residents to spend their money in other, better resourced communities. That translates into a stronger revenue base for the area and better services for residents.

We’re disappointed that the Governor doesn’t see the far-reaching impacts that something as simple as a one-time investment in healthy food access can have for not just our immediate community, but for the future of our state. All Missourians deserve access to healthy foods, regardless of where they live. It impacts quality of life and the ability of community members to live healthful, productive lives. That should be of the utmost importance to all of us. We appreciate Senator Mosley’s continued support of our work in North St. Louis County and the trust that the community has placed in us to help drive change.

Partners Launch “Go for the Gold. Be A Champion for Clean Air. Take Transit Everywhere.” Campaign as Summer Olympics Get Underway

Transportation-related emissions are one of the biggest contributors to air pollution. The Clean Air Partnership and Citizens for Modern Transit are therefore launching a “Go for the Gold. Be a Champion for Clean Air. Take Transit Everywhere.” campaign in conjunction with the 2024 Summer Olympics – as late July into August is traditionally known as the hottest stretch of summer and poses the greatest threat for poor air quality. This two-week-long effort will work to remind individuals to take MetroLink and MetroBus to get to school, work, sports and entertainment venues and everywhere else they need to go. Doing so will help reduce auto emissions and improve regional air quality conditions, while saving transit riders money on gasoline, parking fees and the maintenance costs associated with personal vehicle usage.

“The St. Louis region is no stranger to poor air quality conditions,” said Susannah Fuchs, Director of Clean Air for the American Lung Association in Missouri, which oversees the Clean Air Partnership. “There is a lot of work to be done to protect our local communities from the continued risks to public health resulting from elevated air pollution levels, particularly during the peak of summer when extreme weather conditions significantly impact daily air quality. It’s imperative that area residents stay informed about the quality of the air we breathe and continue to take voluntary steps to reduce emissions to help improve outcomes.”

Area residents can visit www.GoForTheGoldSTL.com to complete a pledge form acknowledging their commitment to take transit between July 26 thru Aug. 11, in addition to their consent to receive color-coded, daily air quality forecasts via email stating if the forecast for the following day is a GREEN (good), YELLOW (moderate), ORANGE (unhealthy for sensitive groups) or RED (unhealthy for everyone) air quality day. The first 150 to do so will receive a “Going for the Gold, 2024 Clean Air Champion” vinyl sticker and a $5 Metro Transit Day Pass good for unlimited rides on MetroLink or MetroBus for an entire day. The site also provides detailed information about available modes of public transit provided throughout the bi-state area by Metro Transit and the St. Clair County Transit District – and links to associated schedules, pricing, programs, incentives and more.

“We know that auto emissions play a drastic role in what the air quality is on any given day,” added Kimberly Cella, Executive Director for Citizens for Modern Transit. “As the summer heats up and the potential for poor air quality days to be forecast increases, we want people to take action with alternate modes of transportation.”

Those who track their transit trips by responding to campaign text messages from July 26 to Aug. 11 will also get a free, patriotic “Public Transit” t-shirt mailed to them, while supplies last. Each time respondents track their transit trips, their name will be entered into a drawing to win one of 10, September monthly Metro Transit passes up for grabs – valued at $78 each.

Street teams from partnering organizations behind the “Be A Champion for Clean Air. Take Transit There.” campaign will also be at select MetroLink and MetroBus stops the morning of Thursday, July 25, 2024. These representatives will be handing out campaign-themed lanyards and card holders with an educational insert encouraging people to scan a QR code to commit to “Going for the Gold” by taking transit and signing up to receive the daily air quality forecasts.

To learn more about the region’s air quality, public transportation options and campaign efforts, visit www.GoForTheGoldSTL.com.

Brentwood Days Armbands Now On Sale for Residents

City Museum Sets GUINNESS WORLD RECORDS™ Title for World’s Longest Shoelace

We’re knot joking, City Museum shoe-ts and scores its second GUINNESS WORLD RECORDS™ title of 2024.
The Shoelace Factory, inside City Museum, has created the World’s Longest Shoelace at 831.9 meters, or over one-half mile long.

Breaking a shoe-related record was a natural fit, as City Museum resides in the former Annex of the International Shoe Company building (1931) that was once part of St. Louis’ vibrant shoe manufacturing scene. In fact, there were so many shoes being made on Washington Avenue that it was known as “Shoe Street U.S.A.”

Additionally, Robert Wadlow, the Giant of Alton, Illinois, once walked the halls of the International Shoe Company as their spokesperson for promotional tours in exchange for free, custom-made shoes.

Today, The Shoelace Factory sits inside the second floor of City Museum using antique machinery to weave custom shoelaces for the hundreds of thousands of guests that travel the museum each year.

The world’s longest shoelace was woven on an antique textile machine from 1890 and took approximately 24-hours of weaving to complete. To finalize the shoelace, custom-made aglets were affixed to the ends of the lace, and then measured by a survey crew on the 150-year old Eads Bridge for verification.

Official World’s Longest Shoelace measurements:
2,729,360 feet, or
0.517 miles, or
831.911 meters

LAUMEIER PRESENTS METAMORPHOSIS (SOUND SCULPTURE) BY ARTIST MONIKA WEISS

WHO: Artist Monika Weiss (b. in Warsaw, Poland. Lives in New York City.)

WHAT: Metamorphosis (Sound Sculpture) is a sonic and sculptural installation dedicated to victims of gender-based violence perpetuated around the world. The sound sculpture will be accompanied in the fall by live performances with local vocalists.

WHEN: On view Aug. 24 – Dec. 14, 2024

WHERE: Laumeier Sculpture Park, 12580 Rott Road, St. Louis, on the Art Hike Trail.

WHY: Weiss creates sound sculpture and participatory vocal performances that evoke ancient rituals of lamentation. These poetic installations respond to forgotten, erased, or invisible collective traumas. The artist does not show trauma or violence directly in her work, instead, she presents us with a place for potential transformation.

The outdoor installation will consist of two steel columns emitting sound, installed along the Park’s wooded Art Hike Trail. The columns, situated like beacons, will project the audio during selected times throughout the day beginning at sunrise and ending at sunset, marking the times of transition in the daily cycle while observing the changeability of our natural environment. Weiss’ residency at Laumeier will be accompanied in the fall by two live vocal performances with participation of local vocalists. Presentations include Orgē, a performance at the Stephen and Peter Sachs Museum, Missouri Botanical Garden and Metamorphosis (Performance in the Park), on the Art Hike Trail at Laumeier. The 35-minute musical composition will play daily at the following times: 7:30 a.m.; 10 a.m.; 12:30 p.m.; 3 p.m.; and 5:30 p.m.

Say Yes to Yogurt to Fill Nutritional Gaps in Teens’ Meals

While teens are known for their big appetites, you might feel like your teen is not receiving proper nutrition as fast food, sugary energy drinks and empty-calorie snacks edge out well-balanced meals. This feeling usually ramps up during the school year as early morning schedules can lead to skipping breakfast. The Dietary Guidelines for Americans confirms this parental intuition, noting that adolescents usually fall short in meeting their nutritional needs due to not eating enough dairy, grains, fruits and vegetables. Teens, for example, need three servings of dairy a day, but, oftentimes, do not meet this recommendation.

As your children navigate their teen years, evaluate your shopping patterns and make strategic changes to stock your refrigerator and pantry with more nutrient-dense foods to support their growing bodies. Adding dairy foods, such as milk, cheese and yogurt, to meals and snacks will elevate your family’s nutrition. These dairy foods, in particular, support bone health and development during the critical teen years.

Rely on yogurt to deliver key nutrients

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans reports female adolescents typically do not consume enough protein, iron, folate, vitamin B6, vitamin B12, phosphorus, magnesium, choline and fiber. Male adolescents also do not eat enough foods that are rich in phosphorus, magnesium, choline and fiber. This all comes at a time of tremendous growth and development.

Offering and cooking with yogurt can help fill these nutritional gaps in teens’ meals and snacks. Yogurt is an excellent source of bone-building calcium, protein, iodine, vitamin B12, riboflavin and selenium, as well as a reliable source of phosphorus, pantothenic acid and zinc. One cup of traditional yogurt delivers 8 to 14 grams of protein, while one cup of Greek yogurt provides 23 grams of protein. In general, eating 20 to 30 grams of protein per meal or snack will support muscle repair and growth, and promote a sense of fullness after eating. Yogurt is also a fermented food, offering a host of healthy bacteria that foster gut health and digestion.

The perfect complement to other nutrient-dense foods, yogurt provides a foundation for well-balanced meals and snacks that are both nutritious and flavorful. Research indicates that yogurt eaters have a higher intake of key nutrients, including potassium, calcium, magnesium, vitamin D, riboflavin and fiber, compared to those who do not eat yogurt.

“In addition to being a food rich in protein, calcium and vitamin B12, yogurt pairs well with fruits and vegetables, both of which are excellent sources of fiber,” said Maggie Cimarolli, Registered Dietitian with St. Louis District Dairy Council. “Other simple additions to yogurt can bump up the nutritional offerings even more. Sprinkling roasted pumpkin seeds on a yogurt-and-fruit parfait will add magnesium. Adding 2 to 3 tablespoons of Greek yogurt to choline-rich scrambled eggs will result in a creamier texture and add more protein. Another option is to serve plain yogurt and chives on top of a baked potato, a good source of fiber and vitamin B6. These are all great ways to strategically add those missing nutrients to a teen’s plate.”

Look to the dairy case to discover new varieties and flavors of yogurt. Involve your family in selecting new yogurt options and food pairings. The more you include your family in shopping and cooking, the more invested they become in the food served.

Ultimately, yogurt’s nutrition, versatility and portability make it an indispensable ingredient in the kitchen. “Yogurt can be that go-to food in your refrigerator,” Cimarolli said. “You can grab a container of yogurt on your way out the door, or you can swirl it into soup, blend it up in a smoothie, or stir it into batter for pancakes, muffins or quick breads. Plain yogurt is also an excellent base for dips and marinades. The options are endless when it comes to eating and cooking with yogurt.”

Greek Yogurt Pizza Dough

This easy-to-make pizza dough, made from common pantry staples, is ready in minutes. The addition of Greek yogurt and non-fat dry milk powder add moisture to the dough. The yogurt also reacts with the baking soda in the self-rising flour, which leavens the crust. This crust is an excellent source of calcium and potassium, and the addition of vegetable toppings will add more nutrients and fiber to each serving. The recipe yields two 10-inch pizzas.

Servings per 10-inch pizza: 4 (2 slices)

Prep time: 20 minutes

Ingredients

- 2 cups self-rising flour
- 1 tablespoon non-fat dry milk powder

- 1 cup Greek yogurt
- 1-2 tablespoons of water, as needed
- 2/3 cup pizza sauce, divided
- 2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese, divided
- Toppings of choice

Instructions

1. Preheat oven to 425°F.
2. In a large mixing bowl, combine the flour and non-fat dry milk powder.
3. Add the Greek yogurt to the flour mixture. Stir the mixture with a fork until a shaggy dough forms. You may need to add 1 to 2 tablespoons of water to bring dough together. Add ½ tablespoon of water at a time until dough forms a ball. Place dough on a floured work surface and knead until it becomes smooth and elastic (about 6 to 8 minutes). Alternatively, you can use a stand mixer with a dough hook attachment to knead the dough.
4. Divide the dough into two balls. Place one ball on a floured work surface. Using a rolling pin, roll out the dough until it is about 10 inches in diameter.
5. Transfer dough to a pizza pan or baking sheet.
6. Spread 1/3 cup of the sauce on top of the dough, leaving a half inch border around the edge. Add 1 cup mozzarella cheese and toppings.
7. Bake in the oven for 12-13 minutes or until cheese melts and begins to brown.
8. While pizza is baking, roll out the remaining pizza dough. Repeat steps 6 and 7.

Note: You can bake this pizza on a baking stone. Place baking stone in oven, and then preheat oven to 450 °F. Bake each pizza for 8 minutes.

Brady Hansen Achieves Eagle Scout Ranking

Brady Giuseppe Hansen has been enrolled in Scouting since the first grade as a Tiger Scout with Pack 656 at Mark Twain Elementary. Ten years later he achieved the highest rank of Eagle Scout on March 27th 2024 at the age of 15 in Troop 361 at Saint Mary Magdalen. Over that time frame in Boy Scouts, the following achievements should be noted.

Brady has participated in over 30 service hours related to scouting. He also assists with many other volunteer organizations outside of Scouting. Not included in that total are St. Patrick Day Parade, St. Louis Honor Flight, Queeny Park Equestrian, National Honor Society, Brentwood High School Mental Awareness Club, Brentwood High School Chicken Coop, Brentwood Student Council, and conservation minded activities like Stream Clean, controlled burns, and Leave No Trace. A few years back Brady notified Brentwood City Council about a particular ADA ramp access needed in the community which was resolved in a recent municipal improvement project.

He has hiked over 130 miles and camped 82 nights with Scouting, most recently going to Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico to hike 65 miles with the troop over 9 days. Other troop activities include visiting Shiloh National Battlefield, Lincoln Historical Sites, USS Razorback, Bill Clinton Presidential Library, Fort Leonard Wood military base, S-F Scout Ranch, Beaumont Scout Ranch, Lewallen Scout Ranch, float trips, jamborees, and many more.

Over the last 6 years he has earned 35 merit badges, rank of Brotherhood Honor in Order of the Arrow and participated on the ceremonial team. Has earned special awards like Mile Swim, World Conservation, Camping Gold and the religious award of Ad Altere Dei.

His Leadership roles in the troop included Senior Patrol Leader, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader, Patrol Leader, Assistant Patrol Leader, and Troop Historian plus rebuilding the troop canoe and equipment trailers.

Brady’s service project was to build picnic tables/benches for Cold-water Gaming & Outing Preserve. This project comprised of over 200 managed man hours, sourcing donated materials and labor, and public presentations.

Currently Brady is starting his Junior year at Brentwood High School and pursuing engineering related courses for higher education.

We are so proud of his achievements and know he will continue to make differences in everyone’s lives.

Peanut Butter and Jelly Bars

Yield: 3 dozen

This recipe from Martha Bakes turns a childhood classic into a tasty bar treat that’s sure to satisfy both kids and adults. Quicker and easier to make than traditional cookies, simply mix the batter and pour into a pan. Then layer strawberry jam (or any other flavor jam), add some more dollops of batter, top with chopped peanuts, and bake. When the Peanut Butter and Jelly Bars are done, simply cut into squares and serve.

Ingredients

- 1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter, room temperature, plus more for pan
- 3 cups all-purpose flour, plus more for pan
- 1 ½ cups sugar
- 2 large eggs
- 2 ½ cups smooth peanut butter
- 1 ½ teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1 ½ cups strawberry jam, or other flavor
- 2/3 cup salted peanuts, roughly chopped

Directions

Preheat oven and prepare pan:

Heat oven to 350°F. Grease a 9-by-13-inch pan with butter, and line the bottom with parchment paper. Grease the parchment, and coat inside of pan with flour; set aside. Add a few swipes of butter to the pan before adding the parchment to hold the parchment in place.

Mix moist ingredients with sugar:

Place butter and sugar in the bowl of an electric mixer fitted with the paddle attachment. Beat on medium-high speed until fluffy, about 2 minutes. On medium speed, add eggs and peanut butter; beat until combined, about 2 minutes.

Add dry ingredients and vanilla:

Whisk together salt, baking powder, and flour. Add to bowl of mixer on low speed; combine. Add vanilla.

Layer peanut-butter mixture and jam in pan:

Transfer two-thirds of mixture to prepared pan; spread evenly with offset spatula. Using offset spatula, spread jam on top of peanut-butter mixture. Dollop remaining third of peanut-butter mixture on top of jam. Sprinkle with peanuts.

Bake and serve:

Bake until golden, about 45 minutes. Transfer to a wire rack to cool; cut into about thirty-six 1 1/2-by-2-inch pieces. Use a long serrated knife to easily cut your cooled cookie bars.

RESTAURANT REVIEWS

Central Illinois’ Dining Excellence

On a recent visit to Bloomington/Normal, Illinois we had lunch with our family at the Destihl Restaurant and brew works. Destihl has something for everyone from gourmet to the most finicky family member. With five pages of menus, plus a list of daily specials, I would usually expect to get a choice of a lot of frozen food items heated in a microwave. That is not the case at Destihl. Someone in the kitchen definitely knows what they are doing. In addition to that, the combinations of proteins, vegetables, pasta, grains and spices are, at times unusual, and always amazing.

Destihl has a large number of craft beers, spirits and a very imaginative collection of craft cocktails. Again, there is something for everyone’s taste.

Our party of five was quickly seated and our server was pleasant and efficient. We started with a shareable platter of humus. It was obviously homemade and was served with warm pita bread and a and it was cooked to perfection.

When our meals came to the table, I was impressed with the size of our servings. No one will leave Destihl hungry! Sue’s son ordered blackened salmon. The presentation included mixed field greens and shave smoked salmon this meal. It was huge! It was also delicious.

For those with a sweet tooth, our daughter-in law and I were compelled to split an order of blueberry bread pudding and vanilla ice cream. A steaming cup of black coffee topped it off. Destihl has a large patio area, a comfortable bar area with an industrial décor as well as plenty of table and booth seating areas.

We can’t wait to go back to Destihl to try more of there unique menu items. Please go to their website, www.destihl-restaurantandbrewworks.com and see what I mean. Destihl is located at 318 South Towanda Ave., Normal, IL 61761. Phone 309-862-2337

Yeva’s story: How Ranken Jordan helped a refugee family from Ukraine after a tragic car accident

8-year-old Yeva Kapusterynska and her parents moved to the U.S. seeking safety from war-torn Ukraine. When the family was hit by a drunk driver in Kansas, pediatric complex care hospital Ranken Jordan Pediatric Bridge Hospital came to their aid.

Maryland Heights, Mo. (July 1, 2024) - When the war in Ukraine started, Yevgeniy and Inna Kapusterynska, along with their daughter Yeva, knew they needed to leave their hometown of Odesa to find safety.

They contacted Welcome.US, an initiative that helps Americans support refugees looking to move to America. The organization matched the family with Joe Wiegman of Oxford, Kansas, who would become their host father and offer the family a place to stay while they adjusted to life in the U.S.

The family arrived in the U.S. in September 2023 and quickly started settling in. Yeva got to go to school for the first time since the COVID-19 pandemic and the war, and Inna and Yevgeniy had just bought a new car.

But then the unthinkable happened Dec. 2, 2024: Yeva, Inna, Yevgeniy and Joe were traveling on the highway in their new car when a drunk driver came across the median and hit them. All four sustained serious injuries.

“I had a fractured pubic bone, my husband broke both his legs and a rib,” Inna said. “But my daughter suffered the most. She had a brain and back injury and she could not breathe on her own.”

After she was stabilized in the ICU, Yeva needed a specialized medical facility to address her unusual combination of severe injuries, but there were no hospitals in Kansas that could meet her medical, rehabilitation, psychological, and family support needs. There are very few hospitals in the U.S. for children with complex medical needs. Insurance issues also created additional hurdles. But then the family heard about Ranken Jordan Pediatric Bridge Hospital in St. Louis, the only hospital of its kind in Missouri and one of only a select few in the country. The hospital specializes in caring for children and their families with the most complex conditions, illnesses and injuries.

Ranken Jordan said Yeva could attend at no charge to the family.

“We heard Yeva’s story and we knew she was the perfect candidate for our hospital,” said Nick Holekamp, MD, Chief Medical Officer for Ranken Jordan Pediatric Bridge Hospital. “We helped the family sort out the financial aspects and we worked with Kansas Medicaid to ensure Yeva and her family didn’t have to pay a dime.”

On the day they arrived, they met Dr. Eugene Evra, one of Ranken Jordan’s rehabilitation specialists, who was raised by his Ukrainian parents in western Russia. For the first time in the Kapusterynskas’ long ordeal, their care team was being led by a specialist who could communicate with them in their native language.

Yeva spent five months at Ranken Jordan and no longer needs feeding or breathing tubes. She speeds around in her power wheelchair and she is starting to speak again after not being able to talk since the accident.

Yeva was discharged from Ranken Jordan in May 2024 and is now back with her parents. The family has temporarily relocated to St. Louis while Yeva undergoes outpatient rehabilitation therapy at Ranken Jordan. Their plan is to return to their new family and community in Oxford, Kansas.

“Having Yeva back at home has been wonderful,” Inna said. “Our story is very difficult to talk about and things have been hard. I take care of Yeva full-time now and my husband is still rehabilitating from his injuries from the accident, so he cannot work right now. But we are very grateful for Ranken Jordan and all of the people we have met in St. Louis and helped us while we’ve been here.”

Dr. Holekamp added that caring for the whole family, not just the child, is crucial for all of Ranken Jordan’s patients. The hospital team helped Inna and Yevgeniy in other ways, such as arranging Ubers when they needed a ride and flying out Joe Wiegman, the family’s host father, from Kansas so he could visit the family.

“I cannot fathom what it’s been like for the Kapusterynskas but my hope is our team at Ranken Jordan has been a bright light for a family who has endured so much,” Holekamp said. “Yeva’s story is a powerful example of the importance of caring for the whole family, not just the patient. St. Louis is lucky to have a hospital like Ranken Jordan because it allows us to care not only for children in our local community but for children in the midwest and around the world.”

MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN IS OFFERING ART PROGRAM DURING THURSDAY EVENING HOURS

The Nature Speaks series will foster connection with nature through art

The Missouri Botanical Garden will host a new art series focused on connecting visitors with nature during its extended evening hours on Thursdays.

The series, Nature Speaks, aims to connect the community to nature through experiences. Featured events will provide opportunities to engage with nature through the written word, artistic creations, music, movement, and discovery. The series is designed with a focus on each person’s connection with the natural world.

Programming will take place during the Garden’s extended hours on Thursday evenings. The Garden is open until 8 p.m. on Thursdays through September. Last entry is at 7:30. All Nature Speaks events are included with general admission. More details on Nature Speaks programming by week is as follow:

Thursday, August 15, 2024 - Nature Speaks Through History

Black Americans have long created their own cultural blueprint for how gardens and nature can be used as a means of remembrance, inspiration, and creativity. In this conversation, horticulturist, historian, and author Abra Lee will lead a journey back in time to discuss historic legacies and give insight into some extraordinary Black Americans and the plants they used to bring joy into their lives. Join author, historian, and horticulturist Abra Lee for this free lecture exploring the stories of extraordinary Black American horticulturists whose exceptional careers in the plant world have remained largely unknown or overlooked.

This lecture will take place from 6 to 7 p.m. in Farr Auditorium.

Thursday, August 22, 2024 - Nature Speaks Through Art History and Open Studio

Justice Henderson, Saint Louis Art Museum the 2023-2025 Romare Bearden Graduate Museum Fellow, will talk about two 19th century artists — Robert Duncanson and Edward Bannister. Both were Black artists who focused nature landscapes during the 19th Century. Henderson holds a dual master’s degree from the Art Institute of Chicago in arts administration and policy and modern and contemporary art history, theory, and criticism. The talk will take place from 6 to 6:30 p.m. in Farr Auditorium.

After the lecture, participants will be given the opportunity to create art in an Open Studio – creating art in varied modalities.

America’s Center Nominated for Best U.S. Convention Center

Explore St. Louis is honored to announce America’s Center’s nomination for the 2024 Skift Meetings Awards in the category of Best Convention Center. Along with five other finalists, America’s Center was among nearly 130 submissions. The official award winner will be announced in August.

Skift Meetings Awards recognizes and celebrates the business events industry’s most respected and innovative suppliers, who are setting the standard for excellence through their unique understanding of planner needs, consistent delivery of exceptional service and extraordinary offerings. The nomination reflects the St. Louis region’s continued strength as a leading market for conventions. In March of this year, data reported by Knowland highlighted St. Louis as a national leader in meetings and events growth, up 24.3% in contrast with a national industry-wide decline of 8.1%.

The AC Next Gen project, through which the America’s Center Convention Complex is doubling its number of loading docks, adding an outdoor gathering space and a new 72,000 square foot exhibit hall, further positions the America’s Center as an industry-leading location for hosting events and conferences.

“We’re thrilled to be recognized,” said Brian Hall, chief marketing officer of Explore St. Louis. “The AC Next Gen project has been expanding and updating America’s Center so that even more conventions and meetings will be hosted right here in St. Louis. Every conference we host brings in hotel bookings, support for local restaurants and increased additional cash flow for the region.”

Pictorial St. Louis A Topographical Survey Drawn in Perspective A.D. 1875

This is a reprint of the 1971 version of the original book. The book was painstakingly scanned from the original in my collection. Each page is reproduced in high resolution and coil bound so the pages lay flat while viewing. Printed on 12” x 18” high quality acid free paper. A nice edition to your historical book collection. Perfect coffee table book as people are attracted by the cover art.

PICTORIAL ST. LOUIS: The Great Metropolis of the Mississippi Valley A Topographical Survey, Drawn From Perspective 1875.

Illustrations by Camille N. Dry and designed & edited by Rich. J. Compton.

Over 220 pages of illustrations and descriptions of life in St. Louis in the late 1800’s. The preliminary drawings for this work were made early in the spring of 1874. After a careful consideration of the subject, it was determined to locate the point of view so that the city would be seen from the southeast, believing that to be the most advantageous in all respects. Accordingly, the point of site was established on the Illinois side of the river, looking to the northwest, and at sufficient altitude to overlook the roofs of ordinary houses into the streets.

A careful perspective, which required a surface of three hundred square feet, was then erected from a correct survey of the city, extending northward from Arsenal Island to the Water Works, a distance of about ten miles, on the river front; and from the Insane Asylum on the southwest to the Cemeteries on the northwest.

Every foot of the vast territory within these limits has been carefully examined and topographically drawn in perspective, by Mr. C. N. Dry and his assistants, and the faithfulness and accuracy with which this work has been done an examination of the pages will attest. Absolute truth and accuracy in the representation of the territory has been the standard and in no cases have additions or alterations been made unless the same were actually in course of construction. In a few cases, important public and private edifices that are not yet finished are shown completed, and as they will appear when done.

All the buildings within the limits of the survey in July, 1875, are shown; and a very large number of those executed or commenced since that date have been also introduced, the pages having been constantly corrected up to the last possible moment before publication.

This book is available from Gene-Del Printing for $75.00. Please call Keith at 314.962.4750 or email him at keith@genedel.com. You may also stop by our office at 9019 Manchester, 63144 in Brentwood to view the book.

6 Things That Should Be Part of Your Retirement Plan

By: West Community Credit Union

It takes more than a commitment to your 401(k) to build a financially solid retirement. Along with how much you save, you need to be strategic about the what, when and where of saving. In order to minimize the risks associated with the unknown, you need to make sure your retirement plan includes these six basic building blocks:

1. Guaranteed Income

Guaranteed lifetime income can come from three sources: a pension, Social Security and an income annuity. When you have a foundation built on one or more of these sources of guaranteed income, you'll sleep better at night knowing these will keep paying no matter how long you live.

2. Investments for Growth

Be sure to have a mix of assets—fixed income and equities—in an allocation based on your own personal risk tolerance. With a diversified portfolio, you can reduce your risk of losing everything if a particular type of investment does poorly.

3. Taxable and Non-Taxable Accounts

Having both types of accounts is important for two reasons. First, you don't know what the tax rate will be by the time you retire, so it may be in your best interest to pay taxes today on at least some of your retirement savings by contributing to a Roth IRA, for example, in addition to your pretax 401(k) contributions. Second, depending on how far away you are from retirement, you don't know what your income or your tax bracket will be once you get there. By having different types of accounts, you can make withdrawals in retirement in a way that maximizes tax efficiency.

4. Cash Reserves

To help avoid having to take a loss should there be a downturn in the market, make sure you have cash available—which could include a savings account or life insurance cash value—to cover an emergency or to make planned purchases.

5. A Plan for Long-Term Care

Because these costs are not typically covered by Medicare or health insurance, a chronic illness or disabling injury can have a devastating impact on retirement income. By proactively planning for the possibility of long-term care, you'll have time to explore the options for preserving your quality of life and your assets.

6. An Intentional Strategy to Leave a Legacy

Many people feel guilty about spending money in retirement because they want to make sure there's something to leave behind to their family. As a result, they never quite give themselves permission to enjoy themselves. By making legacy planning an intentional part of your financial strategy, you can be absolved of that guilt and live the lifestyle you envisioned in retirement.

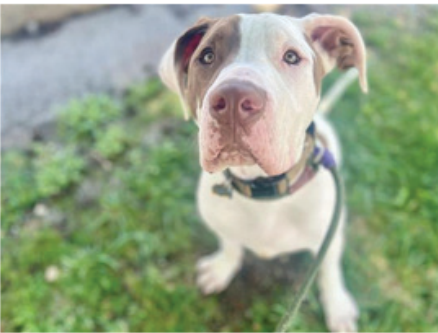

With increasingly complex financial markets and longer life expectancy, working with an investment professional is more important than ever. Take the burden out of financial planning and schedule a consultation with the credit union's Investment Services. Call 636.720.2400 or visit westcommunitycu.org to get started today!

Brentwood Library Board Celebrates Purchase of New Library Property

“We are so excited about the new location and all the possibilities for our library,” said Gina. “We know it’ll be a long renovation period, but we hope to be in our new home by early 2026.”

The board is working with Arcturis Design Collaborative to finalize the design plans for the building and property. Navigate Building Solutions (which has worked with the City of Brentwood and the Brentwood School District) will help facilitate and coordinate the process.

“To quote some long ago band, ‘What a long strange trip it’s been!’” Ed commented. “The current board and past boards have been working on this concept for several years. It’s exciting to be one big step closer.”

Treasurer Jeanette, aka “the money lady”, was quick to adjust the thermostat settings as we took possession. “Every little bit helps. We do our best to practice fiscal responsibility for our patrons and Brentwood taxpayers.”

Abraham Ruppel, our secretary’s son and one of our bright young patrons, was quick to locate the HVAC equipment. “Found another one.” he called out. That’s him in the photo.

The board is enthused about moving the process along. We will keep the citizens of Brentwood and all of our library patrons updated as we progress. Be on the look-out for some fun events at the new location. We’re planning a parking lot party on the National Night Out in October.

Hope you’ll join us. Stay tuned for more details.

As always, please feel free to ask questions or submit comments to Gina at the current library location or at our monthly board meetings. We also want to remind you that the library will continue in its current location until we move to our new address.

LAKE OF THE WOODS FOREST PRESERVE

Lake of the Woods Forest Preserve is a popular site located in a rolling wooded area near Mahomet, Illinois. This beautiful preserve occupies almost 900 acres along the corridor of the Sangamon River. If you are looking for a nearby place for a weekend drive take a look here.

Lake of the Woods Covered Bridge was built over the Sangamon River in 1965. The bridge is 140 feet long and 32 feet wide and is made of southern pine and douglas fir.

Museum of the Grand Prairie – Two floors of 19th and early 20th century life depict architecture, agriculture, trades and occupations, as well as, decorative arts and childhood and domestic life.

Mabery Gelvin Botanical Garden – This beautiful site is often used for weddings and it covers eight acres. Take a walk through the wildflowers:

Prairie Dock, Cup Plant, Cream Gentian, Compass Plant, Wild Quinine, Gray-headed Coneflower, White Wild Indigo, Wild Bergamot, Purple Coneflower, Rattlesnake Master, Big Bluestem, Indian Grass, Prairie Blazing Star, Sneezeweed, Tall Coreopsis, and New England Aster.

Pavilions of all sizes are available for rent. We attended our granddaughters wedding reception in one of the covered pavilions that held 200.

Activities to do include hiking trails, paddle boat and kayak rentals. The bride and groom provided games to entertain the guests (corn hole and badminton.)

Be sure to stop by the HI-Tower and Carillon, located on a grassy hill in the southeast side of the park just off Lake of the Woods Road. The 16-square foot 100 feet high was designed after bell towers in Europe. The sixth floor is an observation deck. The carillon chimes on the hour between 9 am and 5 pm and music plays at 15 minutes before and after each hour.

There is no fee to enter the Lake of the Woods Forest Preserve. It is open 7am to sundown.

Other Activities include a 9-hole Par 3 and 18-hole regulation golf course.

If you are a hiker or biker there are plenty of trails available.
