

Brentwood Bound Ground Breaking

The City of Brentwood has fully funded its transformative Brentwood Bound Plan. The Brentwood Board of Aldermen on Nov. 18, 2019, authorized the sale of 2019 Series Certificates of Participation in the amount of $40.4 million. This amount, supported by an economic development sales tax, combines with $39.2 million in existing funding to cover the total anticipated cost of $79.6 million.

The Brentwood Bound Plan is a comprehensive solution to overcome flooding and public safety challenges presented by the Deer Creek channel and to improve the Manchester Road corridor within the City of Brentwood. Brentwood Bound includes three projects: Deer Creek Flood Mitigation, Manchester Road Improvements, and Deer Creek Greenway Connector.

The Brentwood Bound Plan is funded through a combination of grant funding, partnerships, funding from certificates of participation, and a one-half of one percent economic development sales tax.

Brentwood voters approved Proposition B, an economic development sales tax, in April 2019 by a 3-to-1 margin. The Board of Aldermen approved the collection of this tax, effective January 1, 2020.

Certificates of Participation (COPs) are an alternative to traditional bond funding that allows cities to acquire land, buildings and equipment through a lease-purchase agreement. Individuals, funds, banks and institutions from throughout the United States purchase the Certificates.

"We had many more orders than Certificates, further confirming the strength of the City of Brentwood and its strong AA- rating," said Jim Lahay of Stifel, a consultant for the City of Brentwood on this project.

Brentwood Bound Investment:

- Existing Funding (Certificates of Participation): $39.2 million
- Additional Funding (Supported by economic development sales tax): $40.4 million
- Additional Funding from Grants and Partnerships: $5 million
- Anticipated Total Project Cost: $79.6

Alderwoman Nancy Parker Tice Seeks Reelection

Since April I have had the privilege of serving as Alderwoman for Ward 1, and I have filed for reelection. I hope you will continue to trust me to be your representative at City Hall, and that you will vote for me on April 7, 2020.

In the eight months I have been in office, I have worked to quickly address citizen issues such as lateral sewer questions and adjustments to the city-wide lighting program to appease all neighbors, pushed the board to consider new ordinances for water run-off during new construction, and been a diligent voice monitoring the budgeting for the significant investment Brentwood is making in our community through Brentwood Bound. I serve on the Ways and Means and the Public Works Committees of the Board.

For those of you who I haven't had the pleasure to meet, I have lived on Parkridge Ave. for 22 years with my spouse Paul. We are raising our three sons here, and couldn't think of a better community in which to do that!

I have spent my adult life making communities and organizations stronger. I have undergraduate and MBA degrees from Washington University. After college I worked in Washington, DC for former Majority Leader Richard Gephardt where I worked with coalitions to negotiate legislation, solved constituent legislative problems, and developed a passion for working to make the community a better place for all. I brought that passion to St. Louis where I was in charge of governmental relations for Washington University School of Medicine for over a decade. In that role I worked to expand access to health care for children, oversaw successful passage of physician licensure and Medicaid rate increases at the state level, advocated issues such as expand medical research funding and Medicare payment policy at the federal level, and coordinated lobbying efforts for the School of Medicine. I also am an active volunteer. In 1995, I joined the board of Rainbow Village, eventually becoming Board Chair. I helped the organization grow from 13 to 88 homes in the community, providing homes for more than 300 individuals with developmental disabilities. My 24 years of service ended this year, and I was awarded the Humanitarian Award at the annual gala. I also serve on the board of NCCJ (formerly known as the National Conference for Community & Justice of Metropolitan St. Louis), which conducts diversity and inclusion training for individuals. I also became board chair of this organization at a critical time in the organization's history and helped it survive and thrive. I am a member of the Advisory Board of the Washington University Brown School of Social Work's Clark-Fox Policy Institute. And I ran the after-school math enrichment program, Equations, at my sons' grade school for eight years.

It has been my honor to serve as an Alderwoman for Ward 1, and I hope I can count on your support in April.

The 10 Most Important People to Watch in St. Louis Sports in 2020

Looking back on the last 12 months, one fact is quickly obvious: It's going to be hard to top what happened in sports in St. Louis in 2019 in the new year which began on Wednesday.

The Blues' winning their first Stanley Cup; the Cardinals reaching the NL Championship Series and the city being awarded a Major League Soccer expansion team were all major developments.

What will 2020 bring? Time will tell. The answers could well be determined by the fortunes of 10 people who made our annual New Year's list of the 10 most important people to watch in St. Louis sports in the coming year.

The list is presented in alphabetical order. It includes four holdovers from our list as we began 2019 – Jeff Albert, Matt Carpenter, Carlos Martinez and Alex Reyes. Gone from the list of a year ago are Doug Armstrong, Dexter Fowler, Paul Goldschmidt, Yadier Molina, Mike Shildt and Tom Stillman.

The 2020 list:

Jeff Albert – The Cardinals had a mostly sputtering offense in 2019, the first year Albert was the team's hitting coach. The Cardinals talked about how they knew the changes they wanted Albert to make would not be a quick fix but more of a long-term philosophical approach, which they emphasized this winter by changing hitting coaches and instructors throughout the organization to make the instructional changes a systemwide plan. Still, there would appear to be increased pressure on Albert if the offense at the major-league level struggles again this season. He will easily be the most scrutinized coach on the Cardinals' staff.

Harrison Bader – There is really only one question that Bader has to answer in 2020: Can he hit enough to remain the Cardinals' starting center fielder, or will he be limited to being an extra outfielder brought in primarily for defense? For Bader to become more effective on offense, he will have to stop chasing pitches out of the strike zone, draw more walks and make enough contact that he can get on base more consistently, where his speed also is an asset to his game. With so many young outfielders lined up hoping for more playing time (Dylan Carlson, Lane Thomas, Randy Arozarena, Tyler O'Neill) Bader is going to have a short window to show he can make the necessary changes if he wants to remain a regular.

Jordan Binnington – A year ago, the only people in the St. Louis area who knew much about Binnington were the Blues' most serious fans. That changed in a six-month period when the rookie goalie carried the team from last place in the NHL to their first Stanley Cup. Binnington and the team have gotten off to a strong start this season, but whether he can duplicate his performance from last year's playoff run when this year's postseason begins could be the biggest factor in determining how far the Blues can go in their bid to repeat as league champions.

Dylan Carlson - The most promising offensive prospect the Cardinals have developed since the late Oscar Taveras, the 21-year-old Carlson will become a starting outfielder sometime this season in St. Louis. How soon it happens will depend on his own performance, on how well the other young outfielders play and whether the Cardinals want to hold him back in the minors at the start of the season to limit his service time and gain an extra year of control over his contract. When he does arrive, Carlson will become a top-of-the-order hitter who will hit for average, power, run the bases well and play outstanding defense. If the Cardinals truly believe they need a left-handed hitter in their outfield, the switch-hitting Carlson could very well be their best option. Matt Carpenter – The pressure facing Carpenter this season might be the greatest it has ever been in his career. He is coming off arguably the worst season of his career, is beginning a new two-year contract that, along with the money the Cardinals still owe Dexter Fowler, is serving as an albatross around their collective necks in their ability to make roster moves. Carpenter will get a chance to begin the year as the starting third baseman, but the team – especially if the overall offense struggles again – can't afford to keep Carpenter in the lineup if he is not performing, despite the size of his contract. Tommy Edman proved last season he is an above-average third baseman and in effective hitter, which only adds to how Carpenter needs to perform if he wants to stay in the lineup.

Eli Drinkwitz – It didn't appear that Drinkwitz was Missouri's first choice to replace Barry Odom as the head football coach, but he certainly got a nice contract for someone with just one year of head coaching experience, at Appalachian State. Drinkwitz won 12 games there, and has experience as an offensive coordinator at North Carolina State and Boise State, but he is taking a big step up into big-boy football in the SEC. There will be a honeymoon period, and Drinkwitz has made a good initial impression with the fan base, but the only thing that really will matter going forward is if the Tigers can be more than the .500 team they have been in recent years. They need to routinely be able to win eight games a year if they want to fill the seats in their expanded stadium.

Jack Flaherty – There was no better pitcher in the second half of 2019 in the National League than Flaherty, who established himself as the Cardinals' ace and a legitimate Cy Young contender. Now he has to take the next step and do it for an entire season, learning to pitch more efficiently so he can pitch deeper into games. With so many questions surrounding what to expect from the Cardinals' offensively, they will need to ride their pitching and defense to be successful, and Flaherty has to prove he is capable of leading the staff and setting the tone for the other four starters.

Carlos Martinez – Will he be a starter in 2020 or find himself back in the bullpen? The Cardinals signed left-hander Kwang Hyun Kim out of Korea and said he will come to spring training ready to start, and hopefully Martinez will be well enough physically to compete with Kim for the only open spot in the rotation. Even if Martinez is healthy enough to start, the Cardinals still might decide they would be best served by keeping him in the closer role, especially for the first half of the season, until Jordan Hicks has recovered from last year's Tommy John surgery.

Alex Pietrangelo – A strong start to the season, after playing such a big role in the Blues winning the Stanley Cup last year, has made Pietrangelo one of the early favorites to win the Norris Trophy as the best defenseman in the league. What will be more interesting, however, is to see how much Pietrangelo's success means when he becomes a free agent at the end of the season. The Blues' captain will be in line for a huge payday, and whether the Blues ownership can find a way to retain him and stay under the salary cap will be one of the biggest questions the Blues will have to answer this summer.

Alex Reyes – He might be the biggest wild-card among all of the pitchers on the Cardinals, or among all of those who will be competing for a job in spring training. Nobody has been through more than Reyes has the last three years, when injuries have made it impossible to predict what to expect, just a short while after he was among the best pitching prospects in the game. Now Reyes coming off three seasons in which he barely pitched because of injuries, which has taken a mental as well as the physical toll. If Reyes is able to rekindle his former skill set, he could provide a tremendous boost to the pitching staff as either a starter or a reliever.

Blood Drive to help those in need!!

On January 24th 2020 at the Brentwood Rec Center from 2 pm - 8 pm we will be hosting our 5th Community Blood Drive.

Each year 5 million pints of blood will be needed to help those in hospitals, accidents or with blood diseases to help their bodies recover and survive.

Those pints are truly needed or others will not make it. Right now the blood supply is in need of our help to be there for others. Our kids have personally benefiting from someone's earlier donation; and we do not know their name to say Thank You. But what we can do is ask our families and friends to take an hour and help restock the shelf with what is making the biggest difference in our child's life right now.

During my son, Chris, battle with cancer, it was platelets and blood donations that helped him fight so hard and gave us hope. What runs through our bodies is precious and needed by others to help them battle and get better. The supply of blood and platelets needs constant replacement because the daily demand is so high. So for this drive to be successful we need YOU!!

Who it helps: Whole blood is frequently given to trauma patients and people undergoing surgery.

Time it takes: About 1 hour Ideal blood types: All blood types

Whole Blood Donation

Whole blood is the most flexible type of donation. It can be transfused in its original form, or used to help multiple people when separated into its specific components of red cells, plasma and platelets. "Whole blood" is simply the blood that flows through your veins. It contains red cells, white cells, and platelets, suspended in plasma.

Why Should I Do It?

Whole blood is the most flexible type of donation. It can be transfused in its original form, or used to help multiple people when separated into its specific components of red cells, plasma and platelets. Every day, whole blood donations help save the lives of children and adults fighting to survive cancer, blood disorders, traumatic injuries and more.

The actual donation can be very quick, but you should plan on being with us for about an hour. You can donate whole blood as often as every 56 days.

Who Can Donate?

In most states, you must be 17 or older to donate whole blood. In states where 16 year old are eligible to donate, we require a signed parental consent form.

You must weigh at least 110 lbs.* and

Please share our request with your friends, neighbors, and social contacts. Together we can make a difference. be in good health — that means you feel well and can perform normal activities. If you have a chronic condition such as diabetes and you want to donate blood, it's important that you are being treated and the condition is under control. If you're not feeling well on the day of your donation, please contact us to reschedule.

Additional eligibility criteria apply, including certain medications, medical conditions, travel to certain countries, and personal history. You can browse the most common reasons people may not be able to give blood, or view our complete eligibility requirements.

Power Red Donation

During a Power Red donation, you give a concentrated dose of red cells, the part of your blood used every day for those needing transfusions as part of their care. This type of donation uses an automated process that separates your red blood cells from the other blood components, and then safely and comfortably returns your plasma and platelets to you.

With just a little extra time at your appointment, you can donate more red cells and increase your impact on patients in need. Why should you do it? You may already know about the ongoing need for blood and the importance of your blood donations. Whole blood donations contain red blood cells, platelets, plasma and white blood cells. Red blood cells are the most frequently used blood component and are needed by almost every type of patient requiring transfusion. If you meet certain criteria, Power Red allows you to safely donate two units of red cells during one appointment as an automated donation process. It is as safe as whole blood donation.

How is it different? During your Power Red, blood is drawn from one arm through an automated process. The machine separates and collects two units of red cells and then safely returns the remaining blood components, along with some saline, back to you through the same arm.

Save time and make your blood donation go further: If you are extremely busy, committed to donating blood and an eligible type O, A negative or B negative donor, Power Red may be ideal for you. Each procedure lets you give more of the product that is needed most by patients. Power Red (double red cell donation) takes approximately 30 minutes longer than a whole blood donation and you can donate approximately every four months.

Feel better: With all of your platelets and plasma returned to you along with some saline, you don't lose the liquid portion of your blood and may feel more hydrated after your donation.

Am I Eligible to Donate?

In addition to meeting other whole blood donor qualifications, you must also meet specific criteria for donating Power Red, especially for hemoglobin, weight and height. The thresholds for each vary by gender.

Power Red is for type O, A negative or B negative donors

Donation Frequency: Every 112 days, up to 3 times/year*; 2 times/year for male donors under age 18

You must be in good health and feeling well**

Male donors+ must be at least 17 years old in most states, at least 5'1" tall and weigh at least 130 lbs.

Female donors+ must be at least 19 years old, at least 5'5" tall and weigh at least 150 lbs.

Who it helps: Red cells from a Power Red donation are typically given to trauma patients, newborns and emergency transfusions during birth, people with sickle cell anemia, and anyone suffering blood loss.

Time it takes: About 1.5 hours

Ideal blood types: O positive, O negative, A negative, and B negative

Please go online at redcrossblood.org sponsor code: BWParksRec and make an appointment now to join our donation and begin our celebration as "A City of Warmth."

Ward 3

PARTIAL MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN REGULAR MEETING, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2019

Mayor David Dimmitt called the meeting to order at 7:00 PM.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mayor David Dimmitt.

Present: Mayor David Dimmitt, Alderman Thomas Kramer, Alderman Andy Leahy, Alderman Steve Lochmoeller, Alderwoman Kathy O'Neill, Alderwoman Nancy Parker Tice, Alderman David Plufka, Alderwoman Sunny Sims, Alderman Brandon Wegge

A quorum was present and Mayor David Dimmitt presided.

Staff: City Administrator Bola Akande, City Attorney Kevin O'Keefe, Parks and Recreation Director Eric Gruenenfelder, Planning and Development Director Lisa Koerkenmeier, Finance Director Karen Shaw, Deputy City Clerk Shelly Todd, Public Works Director Dan Gummersheimer, Police Chief Joe Spiess, Major Angela Hawkins, Fire Chief Terry Kurten, Communications Manager Janet Levy

ANNOUNCEMENTS, APPOINTMENTS, PROCLAMATIONS & RECOGNITIONS

Mayor Dimmit stated there are two openings on the Board of Adjustment. His rationale behind the appointments made before he was sworn in as the Mayor, heard a number of issues and complaints about residential housing. Starting in July he met with a number of residents and staff. Drove the neighborhoods looking at subject properties and the conclusion reached is that we have issues with runoff both existing and new construction. We have issues with sump pump discharge both new and existing. We have issues with the length of construction as how long it takes to finish building homes and an issue with variances being granted. Maybe exceptions are not under conditions that they need to be granted. I have been working with staff to look at some ordinances to address some of these issues as many of you know. Public Works is taking up some of these issues whether its sump pump or water runoff as well as how long it's taking to finish homes. As far as the variance issue is concerned, I wanted to bring a different view. I've identified two people, and we did not have a shortage of people apply for this. We had a number of terrific applicants but after reviewing, decided to go with Kristin McDaniel and Ronnie El-Hashim. As you know Kristin has been very involved in home construction issues around the neighborhood specifically in Ward 3. I've known Ronnie, she's a Yale law graduate and very capable of filling the position. They are my nominations and I would like a motion to approve those nominations.

Motion by Alderwoman Nancy Parker Tice to appoint Kristen McDaniels Board of Adjustment. She will fill the unexpired term of Greg Reynders. Ronni El-Hashem will fill the unexpired term of Bob Boley. Second by Alderwoman Kathy O'Neill. Final Resolution: Motion Passed

CITIZEN COMMENTS

Dan Millman with Millman Lumber located at 3021 South Brentwood Boulevard stated he's here as an Alderman from the City of Frontenac. Today Sam Page made the decision to appoint four (4) new library board trustees. We hope this will be a good move toward the future, but we need your help to continue to seek a transparent, predictable and accountable future for the use of all Prop L funded projects throughout St. Louis County. The City of Frontenac elected officials and residents like most Americans believe that libraries are an essential part of the fabric of our community. A library and its services in the community are not what the issue in Frontenac is about. We would welcome a typical library branch on the residential property the library purchased at the end of last year. Asked why you should care about this. After promising to be a good neighbor, the Library Director and Board President maintained that the library is going to do what they believe the Missouri statutes allow them to do anywhere they want in St. Louis County using St. Louis County taxpayer dollars. This is not just a Frontenac issue. The Library Board is not elected, and they are million in headquarters, fifty million total versus an average spend of five million dollars. That's ten branches that could be built and countless other services that could be used. The legal argument is about the powers bestowed on the library by Missouri statutes. The real question is about what is needed for the library board trustees to do what is right to assure collaboration with local municipalities on all library projects so the municipalities can assure public safety fiscal accountability and transparency for the benefit of all residents. The county executive has replaced the four out of the five library board trustees. Here tonight to ask that we can count on Brentwood support as we continue to seek transparency, improved oversight and predictable outcomes of County taxpayer Prop L funded projects as we continue to work with local and state reps and the new library board trustees.

Andy Truss, resident of 2825 Brazeau Avenue and property owner of 8722 Suburban tracks asked the Board of Aldermen to table Bill No. 6261. Stated the simplest solution would be to get the plastic company under contract and sold. That relieves us of any wrong doing. Purchase the plastic company first, and we'll keep the negotiations going on for a dollar amount-wise. Once that gets done then we can sell our property free and clear without the threat of anything.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR'S REPORT

Craig Schluter, Navigate Building Solutions stated we had the first construction bid package that was received, and the bids are $340,000 less than the engineer's estimate. Construction cost total spent to date is $0. Soft costs total spent since the last Board of Aldermen meeting is $191,471.96. There is an $200,000 expense for 2019 COP costs is not tracked in the total spent to date due to not coming out of the $40.4 mm construction net proceeds. Total spent to date is $4,417,031.98. Property acquisition costs total spent since the last Board of Aldermen meeting is $1,826,980. The majority is AA McGee's condemnation award along with commissioner fees, and Brentwood Industrial Holdings and BMC Development property acquisition deposits. Total spent to date is $10,201,919.09. Contingency funds spent to date is $0.

Request To Approve Police Department Canine Proposal

Police Chief Spiess stated we have a proposal on the agenda regarding a teen program this has been kicked around for a couple of years they shortly after I got here in Brentwood. It was resurrected recently by Alderwoman O'Neill few months ago made a request for consideration of a K9 program. Major Hawkins created a memo and passed it through the City Administrator. It went to committee and during the committee review of the program it was requested that we not spend any City funding on the program however, they supported it and approved forwarding to the Board for consideration.

answering to no one. They have an ongoing flow of Prop L County taxpayer funds to spend with no county or state oversight. There is no requirement for transparency and therefore no need to respond to local ordinances, building codes, tree preservation plans or even common-sense business practice.

The $32 million-dollar project plan in Frontenac is counter to the library's master plan. It does not call for the purchase of any land related to headquarters, much less a land purchase done through a third party worth six million dollars without an appraisal to build an eightytwo thousand square foot warehouse and office complex. The library doesn't follow any municipalities ordinances of building codes as they have informed Frontenac and the press.

Public Safety is not a concern of the library board. Flash flooding related to over building related to the relative the size of the property is not their concern. An ability to meet setback requirements not their concern. Adding a significant negative impact to what has been described as the State's most fourth dangerous intersection by volume of accidents not their concerns. The previous library board of trustees trivialized essential health and safety consideration. They treated their fiduciary duty as well as City ordinances and building codes with disdain. For example, the current headquarters branch less than a mile away from the proposed site is about ten thousand square feet under roof as compared to the proposed unbudgeted warehouse office complex at eighty-two thousand square feet. Once they build the new building, they're going to renovate the headquarters for an additional fifty-four thousand square feet at the headquarters site. That means it's eight times what they currently use.

The Library Board is proposing to spend thirty-two million dollars for a warehouse office complex which is 23% of the total Prop L budget for administration use. The Board of Trustees is proposing to spend thirty-two million in Frontenac plus an additional eighteen

Lighthouse for the Blind-St. Louis Has Best Financial Results Since 2012

Nonprofit agency also secures 20 new products for its liquid filling business and hired four new employees

Lighthouse for the Blind-Saint Louis (LHB), a not-for-profit manufacturing and packaging organization with a dedicated social service mission (http://www.lhbindustries.com), achieved its best financial results in 2019 since 2012.

The charitable business, also known as LHB Industries, Inc., ended 2019 with total revenue of approximately $27 million, an increase of 8.7% percent over 2018 year-end results.

LHB also secured 20 new products for its liquid filling business and hired four new employees in 2019. LHB currently employs 53 people who are legally blind and expects to hire additional blind and legally blind personnel to help support the new business.

LHB acquired SKILCRAFT® Pine Oil Disinfectant products and co-branded SKILCRAFT Diversey® floor care products through an award process with National Industries for the Blind, a government agency that employs people who are blind or have significant disabilities. The disinfectant and floor products are "sister products" that are produced on a brand new fill line located at the Lighthouse's Berkeley facility in St. Louis County.

John Thompson, president of Lighthouse for the Blind-Saint Louis, said, "We are extremely proud of the financial results for the year 2019, and very excited about the addition of the Pine Oil Disinfectant products and Diversey floor products."

Thompson added, "We believe this acquisition will increase LHB revenues and employment by expanding operations; provide more jobs for people who are blind or legally blind; and increase revenue to support our 'See the Future' programs for people who are legally blind in Missouri and southwestern Illinois."

All 16 of LHB's 'See the Future' programs are financed by revenues that the Lighthouse generates by manufacturing, packaging, selling and distributing its products to businesses, consumers and government agencies.

The LHB programs provide assistance in technology adaptations; skills development for activities of daily living; career development for professionals working in vision specialties; scholarships to attend educational and recreational camps; adult assistance with low vision aids; and a mobile low vision clinic.

"These programs share common goals to provide children and young adults who are blind or visually impaired with opportunities to learn about teamwork, gain self-confidence, build friendships and develop communication and socialization skills," said Thompson.

"We strive to help all of our program participants - and our in-plant employees - become independent and productive members of society," Thompson said.

LHB's brands are SKILCRAFT®, Emergency Ready®, Tear Mender®, RapidFix®, Badge Magic® and Cosbond®

In addition to these top quality products, LHB's two manufacturing, assembly, warehousing and distribution plants in St. Louis County produce medical kits; catheters; aerosol and liquid paints; aerosol and liquid cleaners; adhesives; eco-friendly products; and others for business, consumer and government customers nationwide.

Thompson said, "LHB is an excellent example of a not-for-profit entity functioning like a for-profit company to preserve and advance a meaningful social services mission."

"We are very proud of our skilled employees in our production plants, and we are proud of our mission-specific staff members who develop, sustain and provide our service programs for the blind community in Missouri and Illinois."

MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN ANNOUNCES ORIGAMI IN THE GARDEN Daytime exhibit will be open April-October

WHAT: Origami in the Garden

WHEN: April 25-October 11

WHERE: Missouri Botanical Garden, 4344 Shaw Blvd., south St. Louis COST: Included with Garden admission, free for members INFO: mobot.org/origami

A monumental sculpture exhibit will be on display at the Missouri Botanical Garden in 2020 when Origami in the Garden opens this spring.

Origamiinthegarden is a custom traveling sculpture exhibition created by Santa Fe artists Jennifer and Kevin Box that captures the delicate nature of this paper art form in museum-quality metals. The exhibition features Kevin Box's own larger-than-life compositions as well as collaborations with world-renowned origami artists Te Jui Fu, Beth Johnson, Michael G. LaFosse and Robert J. Lang.

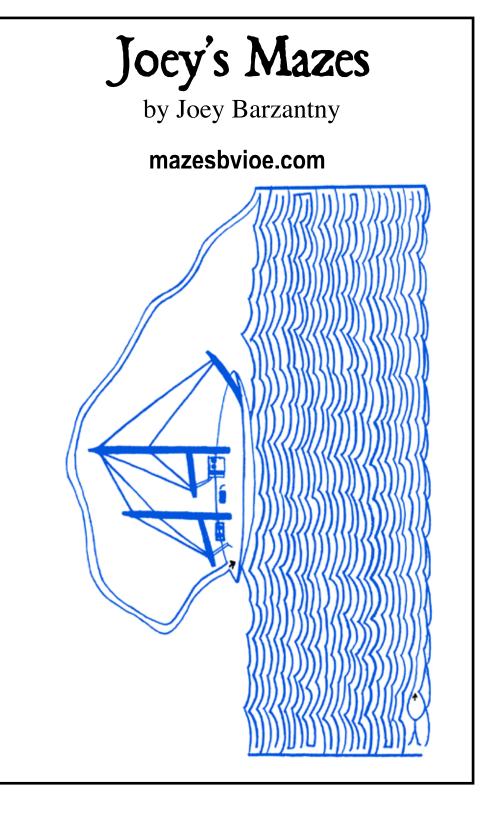

The monumental show has more than 20 large-scale sculptures that include flying birds, emerging butterflies, floating boats and soaring paper airplanes that will be placed throughout the Garden's iconic locations. The crown jewel of the exhibition is Master Peace, a 25-foot sculpture of 1,000 stainless steel origami peace cranes.

Another highlight is "Painted Ponies," the first collaboration between Kevin Box and Chinese origami artist Te Jui Fu. The ponies display the colorful papers that are often used in origami, as well as another Japanese paper-folding technique called "kirigami," which means "cutting paper." Here, scissors are used to make four cuts in the paper square to more easily achieve the details of the pony's legs and ears. The symbol on the back of the large pony is a collaborative signature. The Chinese character of Te Jui's last name, Fu, means "teacher," and the box that encloses the character represents Kevin's last name.

The traveling exhibit has made previous appearances at other botanical gardens throughout the U.S., including Morton Arboretum in Chicago and Naples Botanical Garden. Kevin Box said "the natural and yet scientific setting of a botanical garden makes it the ideal setting for the exhibit that brings together art, science and nature to entertain, educate and inspire our senses in an outdoor setting."

"Botanical gardens are the most beautiful living, outdoor museums of the world," he said. "There is no better place for the exhibition of a sculptural art form like origami, that originates from paper and the plants that form it."

Origamiinthegarden makes its St. Louis debut on the weekend of Chinese Culture Days at the Garden, April 25-26, and will be on display through October 11.

Brentwood School District

January 2020 News

Brentwood Middle School Serves Community through Service Learning Projects

Brentwood Middle School students participated in two service learning opportunities on their last day of school before winter break. Every student had the chance to participate in both activities. They packaged 403 pounds of ingredients and supplies into 48 complete meals that were delivered to Operation Food Search, an organization that distributes food to community partners in Missouri and Illinois. Students assembled ingredients for meals suggested by Operation Food Search that included Cajun Beans and Rice, Tuna Noodle Bake, Spaghetti Dinner, Chili Night, Chicken and Biscuit Bake, and Mexican Enchiladas.

The second service project was assembling care kits for people who are experiencing homelessness. Donations from Enterprise Bank and Trust, Brentwood School District families, Brentwood Dental Group, Sams, and Walgreens, along with items purchased by the school were assembled into 90 care kits containing socks, hats, gloves, water bottles, granola bars, crackers and cheese, wipes, tissues, toothbrushes, toothpaste, bandages, chapstick, lotion, and combs. Students colored notes of encouragement to include in each care package. These were delivered to Peter and Paul Community Services shelter in Soulard, which provides housing and supportive services to people who are homeless.

Operation Food Search (OFS), a nonprofit hunger relief organization, recently celebrated its 40-year partnership with Schnuck Markets, Inc. The event included Schnucks' corporate teams volunteering at the agency to pack boxes of food donations. Thanksgiving meal kits for area families were created and then distributed to OFS's community partner agencies. All of the packed food products were purchased and delivered by Schnucks.

During this 40-year partnership that began before OFS was incorporated, Schnucks has donated more than $160 million worth of product. Schnucks' participation accounts for 53% of OFS's distribution during 2019.

"We truly value our ongoing relationship with Schnucks," said OFS's Executive Director Kristen Wild. "They enable us to feed those who would go without, and we are forever grateful for this partnership that has continued to thrive over the past four decades."

* MILITARY POLICY CHANGE

The U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) recently finalized an update to its DoD-wide installation security policy and is in the process of no longer accepting noncompliant marked cards across all of its facilities and installations. This means the military is in the process of no longer accepting driver licenses or nondriver identification cards marked as being noncompliant with REAL ID for the purposes of accessing a military base. This policy change impacts DoD installations in all states, not just Missouri.

Prior to October 1, 2020, military bases will accept licenses and ID cards marked as being REAL ID-compliant or Missouri licenses and ID cards issued prior to March 25, 2019, which have no REAL ID marking, compliant or noncompliant. In Missouri, a license or ID card that is noncompliant with REAL ID will have "Not for REAL ID Purposes" in the upper right-hand corner. Anyone attempting to access a military base with a Missouri-issued license or ID card marked as "Not for REAL ID Purposes" may be denied entry.

To ensure you have the proper identification, you should contact the military base you plan to visit in advance to obtain information regarding identification requirements.

Trailblazers Christmas Caroling Event

The Father/son Club called the Trailblazers met for their fourth session on Sunday, December 15th. Despite the inclement weather which would cause consecutive schoolday closings, the Trailblazers met anyway! The club is meant to help encourage friendship among fathers of younger boys as well as to help them increase their promotion of virtuous habits for their sons. The boys received a talk on generosity this month.

The activity for December was, naturally, a Christmas-caroling event, first for neighbors on Essex Avenue, then to the St. Agnes nursing home on Manchester. The residents were delighted with the hallway caroling, even if many of us were not entirely in tune! The residents provided an abundance of cookies for the boys at the end of the event that snowy Sunday afternoon.

If you want to learn more about upcoming activities (January is dedicated to building cars for an epic Trailblazer Rally Car event in February), please visit the Wespine website at wespine.org.

Origins Of Cashew Chicken

As Sue and I have dined around the world, I often try to figure out the ingredients and origin of different food items. One of the oldest styles of cuisine is Chinese and the variations of Chinese cuisine seem to be endless.

Chinese cuisine as we now know it evolved gradually over the centuries as new food sources and techniques were introduced, discovered, or invented. The first Chinese styles of cooking were described as Northern, or Southern styles. Both were based on starches. The North was primarily flour based noodles etc. The South was based on the use of rice.

Chop sticks were not initially used as eating utensils. They were used to stir foods as they were being prepared and to stir the cooking fire. The wok was limited (to drying grains) and its present use (to stir-fry, as well as boiling, steaming, roasting, and deep-frying) did not develop until the Ming dynasty.

The "Silk Road" through Central Asia brought exotic foodstuffs that greatly enlarged the potential for Chinese cuisines.

In summary, Chinese cuisine may be described as The East is sweet, the South's salty, the West is sour, and the North is spicy hot.

An unusual exception to this brief history of Chinese cooking is one of my favorite items, Cashew Chicken. The origin of Cashew Chicken can be found in Springfield, MO! In fact, restaurants in Hong Kong now feature "Springfield Cashew Chicken"!

David Leong immigrated to the US in 1940. He cooked his way through the eastern and southern United States and settled in Springfield, MO as a cook in a couple of well know supper Clubs.

In 1963 he opened his own restaurant, Leong's Tea House. It is here that he invented Cashew Chicken. Most Chinese dishes feature boiled or stir fried chicken, but Chef Leong decided to cater to the Ozark areas desire for fried chicken and chicken fried steak. He decided to coat his chicken pieces with batter and deep fry them. He served them over rice with an oyster sauce, chopped green onions, and cashews. Cashew Chicken was an instant success. (By the way, oyster sauce is not made from oysters. It is made from a plant similar to an eggplant)

After more than thirty years Leong's Tea room evolved into Leong's Asian Diner. Other must try items on Leong's menu include Crab Rangoon and Egg Rolls with a taste of peanut butter.

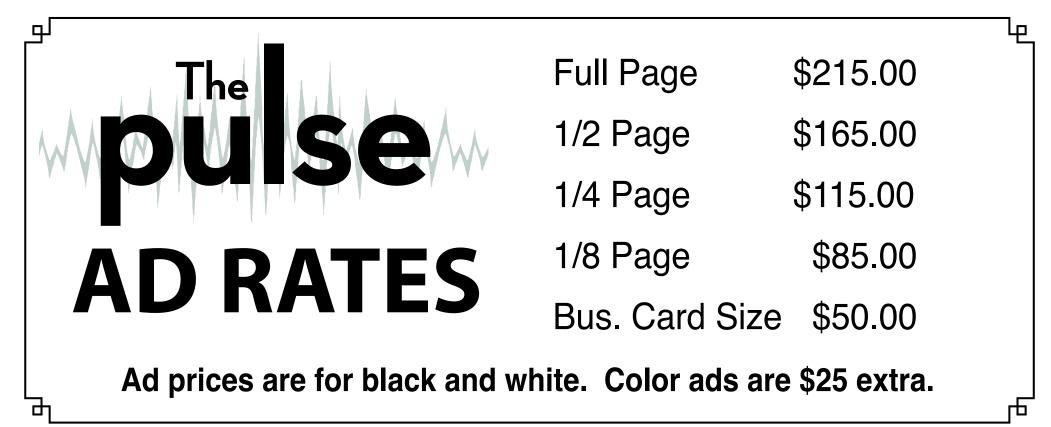

Springfield, MO now has more than seventy Chinese restaurants featuring Cashew chicken and almost every other restaurant in Springfield features their own version of Cashew Chicken.

The Fried and Frozen Food truck offers Cashew Chicken Tacos. The Farmers Gastropub serves Cashew Chicken with Cheddar Grits. Lindberg's Tavern offers a Canadian style Cashew Chicken Poutine; battered chicken breast on a bed of French fries, topped with cashews, green onions, cheese curds and oyster sauce. Silver Dollar City amusement park even offers a Cashew Chicken Waffle Cone; tempura battered chicken with the regular accompaniments served in a fortune cookie waffle cone!

Cashew Chicken is here to stay and it started in Springfield, MO!

Leong's Asian Diner is open seven days a week at 1540 W. Republic Rd. the phone # is 417-887-7500 and their website is leongsasiandiner.com
