What types of candy can we expect to steal from our children's trick-or-treating bags this year?

A new study just might have the answer.

CandyStore.com, an online candy retailer specializing in wholesale and bulk orders, has once again attempted to determine the "most popular" Halloween candies by state, based largely on historical sales data from 15 years' worth of Halloweens. The site's analysts say they also consulted with "major" candy manufacturers and distributors to fine-tune the findings — some of which came as a surprise to CandyStore's own executives.

"It's insane that every single state is not Reese's Cups," said Ben George, the marketing director of CandyStore.com, in a statement shared with Nexstar. "That alone is shocking enough, but some of the actual favorites from each state defy rational taste bud-ology."

The results of the study suggest that parents of trick-or-treaters can expect to find plenty of Reese's Cups, Skittles and M&M's (the top-selling candies in the U.S., overall) to surreptitiously steal from their children when their little backs are turned.

But which candies, specifically, are the "most popular" in your neck of the woods? CandyStore has a state-by-state breakdown of top-purchased candies from its platform. Have a look at the chocolates, sweets and confections you can plan to pilfer from your little ones after they fall asleep on Oct. 31:

MISSION STATEMENT
The Missouri Senior Cameo Club is a non profit organization sponsoring an annual pageant for senior women which fosters their talent development, charitable giving, community service, and personal growth.

Missouri Senior Cameo Club

October 2022

The Lure of A Pageant

Each year thousands of American women of every age, race, and demographic enter a pageant. From toddlers to teens and from mothers to grandmothers, what is it that drives women to get coaching, special music, expensive gowns and costumes - not to mention entry fees - to put themselves under the scrutiny of judges and their peers? And for what? A crown or a trophy? A sash or just bragging rights?

"We dropped the 'beauty' word from most pageants," said Mary McIntosh, 2015 Ms. Missouri Senior. "Many of us who have entered multiple pageants realize that it is more than physical beauty that makes pageants appealing to women."

McIntosh, who has judged, coached and mentored other pageant participants believes that inner beauty and confidence are influencing factors in being successful in today's world of pageants. "I hadn't considered being in a pageant until my youngest daughter, Caitlin, entered Miss Teen All American." She coached her 14-year-old to a state fair second runner-up title. Along the way, she met several girls and women who were involved with the USA circuit. "My daughter went on to win Miss Teen Missouri and was the interview winner at Miss Teen USA, then became Miss Gateway St. Louis."

There are many organizations within the pageant system. For example, the Ms. Missouri Senior Pageant is the qualifier for the Ms. Senior America Pageant - but there are others.

United States of America Pageants is a large corporation with several subsets. United States of America's Teen is for young women 13 to 17 years of age. But there are also other divisions, such as United States of America's Miss (ages 18-28), United States of America's Ms. (29 years and over), United States of America's Mrs. (18+ and married). It's a corporation "designed to encourage women to strive to achieve their hopes, dreams, goals and aspirations, while making them feel confident and beautiful inside and out." According to their website, they believe the true definition of beauty is "the unique set of combinations that make you, YOU!"

Most pageants for women under 18 years old abandoned a swim-wear competition many years ago, but still have evening gowns, onstage questions and even fitness wear as part of their criteria. Some of these pageants are huge money-makers for the corporations that sponsor them.

Linda Franchini, who was the 2018 2nd runner up in the Ms. Missouri Senior Pageant is a very successful winner in many of the national systems. "It takes time and money to do this," said Franchini, who was recently named Ms. All American Classic Tourism. Each pageant comes with an entry fee, and Linda Franchini (blue dress) holds many pageant titles including Ms. All American Classic Tourism, All American Woman, Ms. Classic Renaissance, Ms. United Nations, Dream Girls Classic, Ms. Dream Girls Mother and Daughter supreme winner, and Beauties of America-50's winner.

Jefferson City resident Linda Franchini recently won Ms. All American Classic Tourism. She competed with her daughter, Anna, who was named Mrs. All American Tourism. Granddaughter, "Z" went along for the fun of it.

sometimes special gowns and costumes are required. "I have to say it's really fun to participate in these events. I love the sisterhood. I love getting ready. I love having a goal."

Just like any other competitive sport, there are various tournaments and competitions that are available to enter each year. "I play the flute for my talent and enjoy preparing for the pageants," said Franchini. "You get to know other participants when you compete regularly. It becomes like a game. Sometimes you win and sometimes you don't. But it's the participation that makes it fun, and each time you try, it makes you better."

The Miss America organization is by far, the largest pageant corporation in the United States. Within this system there are many local and state divisions to qualify for Miss America (ages 17-26) and Miss America's Outstanding Teen (ages 13-18). The Miss America Corporation boasts that it is scholarship-driven, and thousands of young women enter each year hoping to get their college tuition paid for. McIntosh and her daughter, Kerri, have served as administrators for the Miss Missouri America pageant, and she coached several young women who are now enjoying full college scholarships.

The Miss USA Corporation not only encompasses the Miss USA pageant, but also the Miss Teen USA and Miss Universe Pageant. A national franchise, corporations that manage the various state pageants earn

Mason Pointe Comes Alive With the Sound of Music

"We have lots of people come through here to entertain," said a 93-year-old resident of Mason Pointe in Town & Country, "but I liked your show the best, because you do songs we are familiar with!" High praise indeed, and one we like to hear. The Missouri Senior Cameo Club performed the full-hour show for an enthusiastic crowd on September 29. One of many Showcases the Cameo Club will perform this year, it was filled with fast-paced variety featuring poets, pianists, vocalists, and dancers. generous profits for their franchise holders as some of the entry fees can exceed $2,500 plus wardrobe expenses.

Mary McIntosh admits she never thought she would personally do a pageant. "I had fun training the girls and cheering them on," she says. It was her husband who told her about the Ms. Missouri Senior Pageant for women over 60. He said, "Let's do it," and she did. She loves to sing, and that was the part that really pulled her in. "It's kind of interesting how the tables were turned and both of my daughters helped train me." McIntosh won on her first try.

In 2015, Washington, MO resident Mary McIntosh became Ms. Missouri Senior America. She earned the title of Ms. Senior North America and Ms. Senior USA - Central in 2016.

The Missouri Senior Cameo Club sponsors the Ms. Missouri Senior Pageant, a celebration of women 60+ years old entering the age of elegance. It's not a franchise with profit as a goal - It's a nonprofit organization with a mission of sponsoring the annual pageant for senior women which fosters their talent development, charitable giving, community service, and personal growth. The state winner qualifies for the Ms. Senior America Pageant which happens each fall.

If you love the spirit of competition, the magic of walking in a gown, the excitement of showing off a talent and the dream of representing active Missouri senior women, this might be the pageant for you. Any woman 60-years-old or better is eligible to enter the pageant, which will be held on Sunday afternoon, April 30, 2023. # BRENTWOOD SCHOOL DISTRICT

October 2022 News

Brentwood Ranks Among the Best Districts in Missouri

The Brentwood School District ranks No. 5 among all public school districts in Missouri for academic excellence and No. 11 for the best places to teach in the state, according to the 2023 Niche K-12 School and District Rankings. The district earned an A+ overall rating, based on Niche's compilation of statistics and opinions from students and families.

Brentwood's schools also received top marks, with all K-12 buildings earning an A or better overall rating.

"Brentwood is committed to helping students succeed not only in academics, but also in life," said Superintendent Dr. Brian Lane. "Our teachers, support staff and administrators work hard each day to provide all students with the innovative instruction, personalized learning and social-emotional support they need to be successful."

Niche is a website that analyzes public data and reviews to produce comprehensive rankings, report cards and profiles of schools, universities and neighborhoods. The website ranks more than 10,000 school districts nationwide, based on rigorous analysis of key statistics from the U.S. Department of Education and millions of reviews from students and families.

Ranking factors include state test scores, college readiness, graduation rates, SAT and ACT scores, teacher quality, public school district ratings and more.

Brentwood High School Earns 2022 College Success Award

For the third time in four years, Brentwood High School has been recognized by GreatSchools as one of the top high schools in Missouri for preparing students to enroll and succeed in college.

The nonprofit website released its 2022 College Success Awards list on Sept. 22, and BHS was one of 78 high schools in the state and 1,742 nationwide to receive the honor. BHS also earned the award in 2019 and 2020.

"Brentwood High School teachers and staff work hard every day to provide students with personalized instruction, challenging curriculum and postsecondary opportunities," said Principal Dr. Ed Johnson. "We take great pride in the work we do to prepare our students for their futures, whatever path they choose."

The objective of the College Success Award is to recognize public high schools that have demonstrated successful track records of graduating students who enroll in two- or four-year colleges, are prepared for college-level coursework, and continue on to their second year. Award winners are determined by evaluating school-level data in the following categories:

- College Preparation, which includes the percentage of students from a four-year cohort who graduate from high school as well as measures of College Entrance Exam (ACT or SAT) performance.
- College Enrollment, which includes school-level metrics that vary by state. Some states report this data as "Percent Enrolled In Any Postsecondary Institution Within 12 Months After Graduation," others as "Percent Enrolled In Any Institution Of Higher Learning In The Last 0-16 Months."
- College Performance, which includes remediation and persistence metrics, which also vary in availability by state.

The remediation metrics capture the percentage of students needing remediation for college either for two-year or four-year institutions. Measures of college persistence are for the percentage of students returning for a second year at both two-year and four-year institutions.

"At Brentwood High School, we make it a priority to embed college and career readiness into our curriculum at each grade level," said College and Career Counselor Emily Diaz. "As early as freshman year, our students are introduced to a variety of postsecondary options and how they can best prepare for the pathway of their choice. We are proud of our college and career culture, but the most rewarding part is when our students find success in life after high school."

McGrath Elementary School Principal Announces Retirement

After 27 years in public education, McGrath Elementary School Principal Dr. Cindy Neu will retire at the end of the 2022-23 school year.

"My experiences have been phenomenal with our wonderful staff, delightful children and amazing community," said Dr. Neu. "While change is tough, it is time to slow things down, spend more time with my family, and seek other adventures I have been itching to try."

Dr. Neu began her career in the Webster Groves School District as a sixth grade communication arts and world cultures teacher. After 10 years in the classroom, she transitioned to an administrative role as the district's science and social studies curriculum coordinator.

Five years later, she was named the assistant principal at Avery Elementary School, earning Assistant Principal of the Year honors from the St. Louis Suburban Region of the Missouri Association of Elementary School Principals in 2013.

Later that year, Dr. Neu moved 1.7 miles down the road to McGrath, where she has served as the school's principal for the last 10 years.

"Dr. Neu is a tremendous leader," said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Brian Lane. "Her energy and passion for helping students, engaging families and supporting staff have made a lasting impression on our entire school community."

Brentwood School District Statement on the Proposed Green Street Development Project

The Brentwood School District shares the City of Brentwood's excitement regarding the Brentwood Bound development project proposed by Green Street Real Estate Ventures. This $400 million mixed-use, multi-phased project would transform 40 acres along Manchester Road by adding 23 new commercial and residential properties over the next decade.

To help jump-start this project, the city is considering economic development incentives, often referred to as tax abatements, to reduce or eliminate the amount of property taxes paid by the developer on new construction and major development improvements. The developer has proposed a 90% abatement of property taxes for the first 10 years of the project, which includes 477 non-age-restricted apartments and 13 townhomes.

What does this mean for the Brentwood School District?

A school district carries the greatest financial burden when property taxes are used to fund economic development incentives. Approximately 93% of the Brentwood School District's revenue is generated from local taxes, and the primary way to increase our tax revenue without increasing the burden on residents is through property taxes on new construction.

According to the developer's projections, this project would generate $51.6 million in new revenue for the Brentwood School District over a 25-year period. However, these figures are contingent on the successful completion of all three phases of the project and a 90% abatement of property taxes until the year 2036. In addition, the 490 tax-abated residential units would increase our enrollment without providing enough money to educate each new student annually for 10 years.

Our community has always been a strong supporter of public education and the Brentwood School District. It recognizes the value of high-quality teachers and staff, small class sizes and personalized learning experiences for all students. Using property taxes to fund economic development incentives would impact all of these qualities that make our district such a great place for students to learn and grow.

We want to see our community thrive without compromising the high-quality education our community has come to expect from the Brentwood School District. We encourage the City of Brentwood to continue negotiations with Green Street Real Estate Ventures, and we welcome the opportunity to be engaged throughout the process so that our students have a voice in the future of their education.

Celebrate Spooky Season at Sophia M. Sachs Butterfly House

Butterfly House offers October events for families and adults

Whether you’re looking for fall family fun or a unique night out, the Sophia M. Sachs Butterfly House has you covered this October.

All October long, the Butterfly House will transform into the BOOterfly House, where you can encounter bewitching bugs, butterflies, and plants. Meet new scorpion friends in the Creepy Crawly Cave, be bewildered by “botanicals gone mad” in the Tropical Conservatory, and spy on spectacular spiders.

BOOterfly House will feature daily story time with the Muffet family each morning at 11 a.m. Throughout the month, guests may even get to witness a predator feeding of a tarantula or scorpion at the newly expanded Entomology Lab.

BOOterfly House runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday. All events are included with general admission.

Grown-ups looking for a wicked good time won’t want to miss Wicked Wings and Wine. The 21+ event is a chance to sample local brews and wines while learning about owl butterflies. Meet other animal friends from the World Bird Sanctuary. Take a stroll through the torch-lit Native Butterfly Garden. Dare to try chocolate chirp cookies or mango mealworm chutney, compliments of the Bug Chef! Other light appetizers will also be provided.

Wicked Wings and Wine takes place from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Friday, October 14.

As Halloween approaches, be sure to come out to the Butterfly House for the family-friendly Bug Ball. Bug Ball is an opportunity for your whole family to celebrate Halloween among insects, spiders, and other multi-legged friends! Observe our amazing owl butterflies, which are only active during dusk and dawn. Kids can play glow games, create crafts, decorate pumpkins, and visit our hand-painted treat houses. Guests can also enjoy a spooktacular snack buffet. Families will end the night dancing to their favorite monster jams.

Bug Ball will take place from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 29.

Wicked Wings and Wine and Bug Ball both require advanced purchase of tickets. For more information about fall events, event partners, and to purchase tickets visit butterflyhouse.org.

Cardinal Ritter Senior Services’ Apartment Community Celebrates 30th Anniversary

Cardinal Ritter Senior Services (CRSS) – one of South County’s largest independent and assisted living nonprofit communities – recently celebrated the 30th anniversary of its Holy Infant Apartments’ community. Located at 7663 Watson Rd. in Shrewsbury, Mo., the complex features 51 one-bedroom and one-efficiency apartments with six accessible for those with mobility, hearing, or vision disabilities.

Holy Infant Apartments is one of 10 affordable HUD total apartment communities throughout the St. Louis Metropolitan area. Cardinal Ritter Senior Services has 625 apartments located in Bridgeton, Dardenne Prairie, Jennings, North County, South St. Louis City, and Warrenton.

Holy Infant Apartments offers a variety of amenities for senior adults including social and recreational activities both on-site and off-premises, a resident check each morning, and religious services. Apartment residents have access to many social services ranging from Meals on Wheels and money management assistance to long-term care and social security benefits. The apartments feature fully equipped kitchens, large bathrooms with safety bars, and utilities excluding cable, telephone, and internet.

“Our affordable apartments are the ideal space for independent seniors who require limited support,” said Cardinal Ritter Senior Services’ CEO Chris Baechle. “We are proud of Holy Infant Apartments, which provides cost-effective privacy and care that complement an active older adult’s lifestyle, and how it has continued to meet the needs of older adults for the past three decades.”

Founded in 1961, Cardinal Ritter Senior Services (CRSS) creates communities that promote the dignity of human life and reflect the spirit of Jesus Christ. The community’s nearly 7,000 seniors – with 72% of the 2,500 directly served lacking adequate resources – benefit from housing options including independent or assisted living, memory care, affordable apartments, and skilled nursing communities. In addition to its main Shrewsbury campus located at 7601 Watson Rd., the nonprofit has a robust social services department. For more information about CRSS, call (314) 961-8000

THE ART OF STORYTELLING FOR DIRECTORS AND ACTORS WORKSHOP A one-day event to help local entertainment professionals and enthusiasts succeed.

An intensely unique full day workshop, “The Art of Storytelling,” sponsored and hosted by Cinema St. Louis is being held Saturday, October 22, 2022 from 9:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. at Centene Center for the Arts located at 3547 Olive Street. The event is limited to 36 attendees who will be challenged and inspired in their craft/passion as a director or actor. The workshop features local guest speakers, Deborah Barylski (who won an Emmy for casting “arrested development”), Peter Carlos (award-winning filmmaker and Lindenwood film professor), and Jessica Ambuehl (award-winning actress, producer, and coach).

The event will address both roles in production (directors and actors) individually as well as cohesively in the storytelling process. The day will be filled with networking, group speaking sessions, intimate breakout sessions, and followed by a time of Q&A.

Barylski added, “Our goal is for participating actors and directors to leave with a better understanding of and respect for the processes of each other, hopefully leading to easier and more productive shoots.”

Barylski will speak about the casting process using actual clips of TV shows she has cast, discuss the relationship between casting director and director, and focus on audition techniques using cold reading to illustrate how each scene plugs into the story of the script. Carlos will discuss the relationship between actor and director, talk about the importance of understanding an actor’s process to easily elicit performances and build trust, and highlight techniques for troubleshooting director/actor challenges on the set. Ambuehl will share how to get an agent, how to stay prepared, and how to be proactive in creating additional industry opportunities.

“Cinema St. Louis is excited to partner in presenting this workshop,” added Bree Maniscalco, Cinema St. Louis Executive Director. “The filmmaking scene in St. Louis is rich in talent and passion and through workshops such as this, participants will gain helpful resources to act as a catalyst in their storytelling journey.”

Forest ReLeaf Plants 1,000 Trees Statewide in Partnership with Spire

Forest ReLeaf of Missouri and Spire will plant 1,000 native trees throughout Missouri this October to provide environmental benefits, help residents save money and energy and help with recovery after recent tornadoes and severe storms.

Together, Forest ReLeaf, Spire, Heartlands Tree Alliance, and the Missouri Department of Conservation are committed to growing Missouri's tree canopy. These 1,000 trees will be planted in parks, public street corridors and neighborhoods to contribute to cleaning the air and water supply, supporting safe, walkable communities, and improving quality of life for residents and wildlife.

"We know trees create green infrastructure that improves our health and happiness," says Forest ReLeaf of Missouri's Executive Director, Meridith Perkins. "Spire's continued partnership has grown Forest ReLeaf's capacity to share the essential benefits of trees to more people and communities across the state."

Trees help save energy year-round. Trees planted near homes and businesses can:

Reduce the usage of air conditioning by 30% (USDA Forest Service)

Save 20% to 50% in heating costs, saving $100 to $250 every year (U.S. Department of Energy)

Add 10% to a home's value (USDA Forest Service)

Before planting, take a few steps to ensure the tree's long-term health, resiliency, and survivability. Call Missouri OneCall System (811) to check the location of underground utilities at least three working days before you plan to plant. This will keep you safe while you're digging and allow your trees to thrive.

"From providing homes to wildlife to improving our air quality, the impact trees have on our daily lives is significant," said President of Spire Missouri Scott Carter. "By planting them we can show our commitment to sustainability right here in our own backyard. As an energy provider, it's important to us to preserve our environment for future generations. This partnership with Forest ReLeaf of Missouri allows us to do just that."

With the holidays coming up, is your corporate team looking for ways to give back to your community? Here are two easy ways your group can support the Home Sweet Home mission from the comfort of your personal office space.

1. Host a Drive - Collection drives are a fun way to gather lots of our most-needed household items! Your volunteer group could host a pillow drive, a kitchen utensil drive, or even a small appliance drive.

2. Dresser Builds - Your volunteer group can purchase IKEA dressers and build them offsite. It's a great teamwork activity, and our client families always appreciate the opportunity to bring new furniture home with them.

Responsible Recycling: Stick with the Six

Know what to put in the recycling bin and what to leave out of the recycling bin.

DO Add to the Recycling Bin:

- Paper
- Flattened Cardboard
- Plastic Bottles and Containers
- Glass Bottles and Jars
- Metal Food and Beverage Cans
- Food and Beverage Cartons

Keep these items loose (not bagged), clean and dry. Place these in your recycling container; do NOT place recyclable items in a trash bag or plastic bag.

RECYCLING TIPS

Labels may remain on cans and bottles.

Glass is usually broken during collection or transit, so the lids may be on or off the bottles.

Metal lids may remain with metal cans or be separated, since magnets collect the steel products.

Recycling centers prefer that you leave the plastic cap on a plastic bottle so that the caps do not fall out of the conveyor system.

Medication Disposal

Deposit acceptable items directly into the medication disposal drop box located inside the Police Department lobby. Medication drop-off hours are 8 am to 4 pm Monday through Friday.

Pictorial St. Louis A Topographical Survey Drawn in Perspective A.D. 1875

This is a reprint of the 1971 version of the original book. The book was painstakingly scanned from the original in my collection. Each page is reproduced in high resolution and coil bound so the pages lay flat while viewing. Printed on 12" x 18" high quality acid free paper. A nice edition to your historical book collection. Perfect coffee table book as people are attracted by the cover art.

PICTORIAL ST. LOUIS: The Great Metropolis of the Mississippi Valley A Topographical Survey, Drawn From Perspective 1875.

Illustrations by Camille N. Dry and designed & edited by Rich. J. Compton.

Over 220 pages of illustrations and descriptions of life in St. Louis in the late 1800's. The preliminary drawings for this work were made early in the spring of 1874. After a careful consideration of the subject, it was determined to locate the point of view so that the city would be seen from the southeast, believing that to be the most advantageous in all respects. Accordingly, the point of site was established on the Illinois side of the river, looking to the northwest, and at sufficient altitude to overlook the roofs of ordinary houses into the streets.

A careful perspective, which required a surface of three hundred square feet, was then erected from a correct survey of the city, extending northward from Arsenal Island to the Water Works, a distance of about ten miles, on the river front; and from the Insane Asylum on the southwest to the Cemeteries on the northwest.

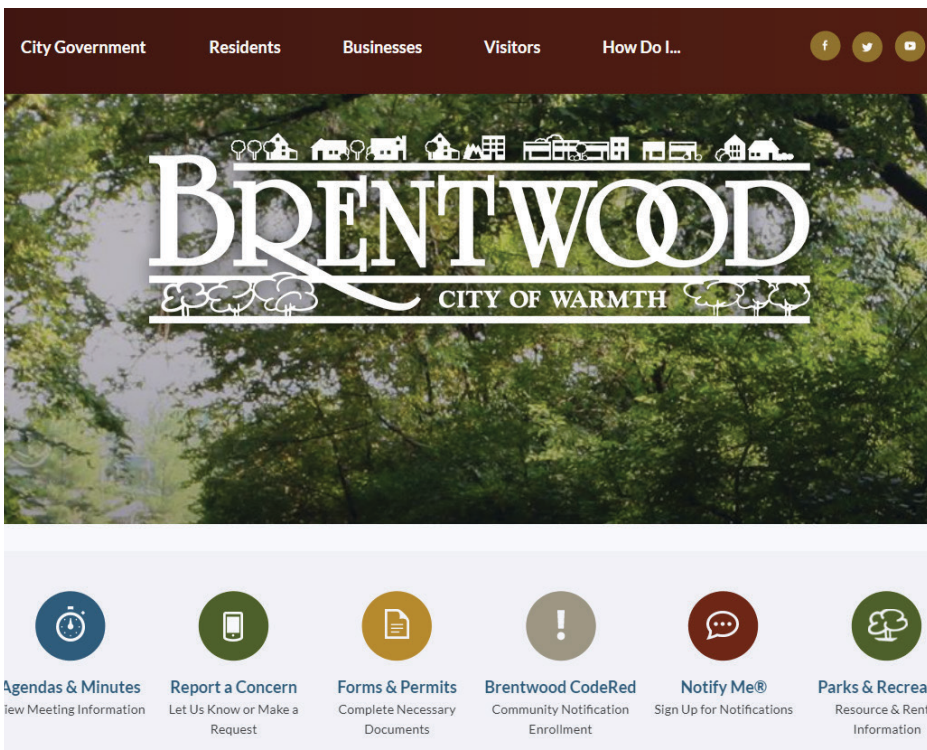

Every foot of the vast territory within these limits has been carefully examined and topographically drawn in perspective, by Mr. C. N. Dry and his assistants, and the faithfulness and accuracy with which this work has been done an examination of the pages will attest. Absolute truth and accuracy in the representation of the territory has been the standard and in no cases have additions or alterations been made unless the same were actually in course of construction. In a few cases, important public and private edifices that are not yet finished are shown completed, and as they will appear when done.

All the buildings within the limits of the survey in July, 1875, are shown; and a very large number of those executed or commenced since that date have been also introduced, the pages having been constantly corrected up to the last possible moment before publication.

This book is available from Gene-Del Printing for $75.00. Please call Keith at 314.962.4750 or email him at keith@genedel.com. You may also stop by our office at 9019 Manchester, 63144 in Brentwood to view the book.

Cyber Security: Protecting Our Increasingly Digital Life

By: West Community Credit Union

We are constantly connected. Even while we're "of-line" on vacation, or away from our computer or mobile devices, chances are we're still connected in one way or another.

More and more, the Internet touches almost all aspects of our daily lives.

Don't believe it? Think of the systems that help to keep the lights on, the water running, and transportation moving. Or the devices that track your sleep and exercise, point you to an open parking spot, or control the thermostat at your home. All these and more depend on digital networks to function.

As we enjoy the convenience of these changes, we must consider the new risks they bring as well. Just as we lock our doors to protect our valuables, we must also take steps to protect our devices and information from virtual threats by properly securing everything that is connected to the Internet.

During National Cyber Security Awareness Month, we encourage you to remember a few important steps to help secure your valuable information and then practice them all year long!

Keep a clean machine. Like your smartphone or PC, keep any device that connects to the Internet free from viruses and malware. Download software updates regularly on the device itself, as well as for the apps you use, since they often contain fixes to protect against malicious activity.

Set strong passwords. Setting passwords that are long, unique, and hard to guess is one of the most important things you can do to protect your online accounts. Changing passwords regularly and using different passwords for different accounts goes a long way to protecting your online information.

When in doubt, throw it out. Links in emails, tweets, posts, and online advertisements are often how cyber criminals compromise your computer or mobile device. If it looks suspicious, it's best to delete it, even if you know the source.

Avoid shopping on public Wi-Fis. It may be convenient when you're away from home and on the go, but not as secure as a password protected Wi-Fi or your home network. Save your online shopping, banking, or sensitive transactions for a secure connection, preferably when you're back at your house.

Monitor your credit score. The credit union offers free credit file monitoring access in both Online and Mobile Banking services. With protective measures in place, such as free daily refreshed credit scores, monthly credit reports and alerts, helping to stop fraud just got a whole lot easier. You can even initiate disputes directly from the app. Visit our website for the complete suite of benefits.

You work hard for your money, and you know it makes sense to protect it and save it. For more information on protecting your identity, contact Member Services with West Community Credit Union at 636.720.2495 or visit us online at westcommunitycu.org.

Road Trip Eats, How We Roll

When we are on the road recording for our radio and TV show, we try to include local dining items to include in our stories. I will not say that we concentrate on healthy eating, but we try to do our best. I will say that Alka-Seltzer and Imodium are regularly included in our go-bag.

On our recent trip to Medicine Lodge, KS for their rodeo and pow wow, we stopped in Branson on the way out and back to break up the drive.

We ate at the Level 2 Steak House in the Branson Hilton. We looked at the on-line menu and saw steaks were priced from $52 and up. The restaurant was so dark, I had to use my video light to read the menu. The steaks on the menu started at $58 and up. The waiter said they had not had time to update their website.

Sue had as seafood pasta and I had tenderloin tips with mushrooms and grilled artichoke hearts served in a red wine sauce. Both were much more reasonably priced. A wedge salad and Italian bread with an olive tapanade were good accompaniments.

An appetizer of deep-fried deviled eggs was the best part of the meal. The white portion of the egg was breaded and fried and then stuffed with the yolk paste. This will be an item for my home kitchen. They had a large, well rounded wine list, but the price point on all items left us with only drinking water for our meal.

Lunch the next day was aboard the Show boat Branson Belle. Roast beef, chicken, green beans, red-skinned mashed potatoes; the list went on and on. Sue decided on gooey butter cake for dessert. The show was just as good as the meal. We highly recommend a visit to the Branson Belle.

The next night we had carne asada street tacos at Pancho Villa's. They were excellent and very affordable.

We arrived in Medicine Lodge, KS just in time for their bean feed dinner at the Stockade. Home-made ham and beans, cornbread. And iced tea, Yum!

The next morning began with a church basement breakfast of pancakes, sausage and eggs with steaming hot coffee. Lunch was a great cheeseburger at Raykie's, and dinner was brats and pulled pork sandwiches at the Working Ranch Rodeo.

The next day we had an early lunch at the Cancun Mexican restaurant in Medicine Lodge. The shrimp tacos were delicious.

While visiting the home of Carry Nation, we were treated to home made sugar cookies in the shape of her axe. Later that day we had Navajo Tacos at the pow wow. They were Indian fry bread topped with a perfectly spiced mixture of taco ingredients.

As I filled up with gas for our trip home, I saw an interesting sign for beer cheese breakfast pizza, but we didn't have time to wait for it to be prepared.

We stopped again in Branson to see the Grand Country Theater Show. Lunch was at Mr G's Pizza and Pub. It is a block off of Main St. in Old Town, but it is not crowded with tourists. It was great, reasonably priced and with quick, pleasant service.

We also ate dinner at the Grand Country Buffet. The selection was great. Lots of comfort food made it feel like we were at Grandma's house for dinner. I had a country fried steak with green beans and Sue had fried catfish. It was all good.

The amazing thing about this trip is that we each lost two pounds. Now, the trick is to keep them off before we leave for St. Genevieve, MO to visit the first city to be named a National Park and to dine at what USA Today says is "America's Best Winery restaurant" at Chaumette Winery.

ELECTION DAY FOOD DRIVE

On Tuesday November 8th; St Louis County will be hosting the election for state and national offices, five constitutional amendments and judges. St Louis County Election rules allows voters to vote at ANY authorized polling place. The Brentwood Rec Center and McKnight Crossing Church will be active polling places and at these locations we will be collecting canned goods and donations to help families in our area in need. We ask that when you come vote to bring one, two or three cans to help others. We will be there to see to it that your kindness reaches those in need. Even if you choose not to vote you can still drop off your donation curb side.

If you wish to see a sample ballot go to: "<https://stlouiscvotes.maps.arcgis.com/apps/instant/lookup/index.html>?"

This is an opportunity to do something nice to help others while also participating in making our government work.

Your donation will be shared with

McKnight Crossing Christians Who Care - The food pantry serves those living within zip codes 63119, 63143, 63144, and 63117.

St Mary Magdalen CARE - (Christian Action Really Evident) mission includes aiding people in need, those in emergency situations, those with financial difficulties, and the aging adult community. We work to provide events and services to our seniors all year long, as well as people of all ages in our community. We meet monthly from September to June on the first Monday of each month. Scheduled events occur all year long and meeting needs whenever we hear about them.

St. Vincent de Paul helps those within our parish boundaries, which means Brentwood, Rock Hill, and parts of Webster Groves and Maplewood. We do need food right now since we are somewhat depleted. Monetary contributions are also needed. With the cold weather we are helping with quite a few utility bills. As far as food, when we have a surplus we share with Immaculate Conception and Webster Rock Hill Ministries food pantries. The members of this organization are actively involved with helping the needy of our parish community. The members help with job assistance, food, and utilities. Financial support comes from donations of those who wish to help those in less fortunate situations. Meetings are held every Monday at 7:00 p.m. in the rectory meeting room.

To best help these organizations we are looking for canned chicken and tuna, chili, ravioli, canned beans (especially baked beans, chili beans and great northern), canned fruit, canned tomatoes and spaghetti sauce. Non-food items would be sugar, vegetable oil, toilet paper, and paper towels or cash donations so that we may help others in need. Whether it is one can or one dollar your help in this drive will be used to make someone else's life a little better. You are the biggest piece to the Election Day Food Drive so we ask for your help in meeting the current needs of families within our community.

Kindly share the article with your friends and neighbors and ask them to get involved

Thank YOU for Caring for Others. See you at the polls; please come vote!"

Stan the Man Marquette

Swedish Phone Booth

After spending a couple days in Abilene, KS we spent the night in the small charming town of Marquette. Our lodging was at the 1905 Preston House B&B. The house has (5 Bedrooms/2 Baths), a large kitchen, a diningroom, 2 living rooms and large porches up and down stairs; two floors with bedrooms on the main level, as well as, upstairs. The house can also be rented for Quilting clubs and classes. We met up with our hosts, Stan and Michele Strohe at their Smoky Valley Distillery. The young couple left their careers as medical equipment distributor and retired teacher to move to this small town of 500. We got a tour of town on Stan's golf cart...seems like people there like to use them instead of driving a vehicle.

Marquette is also the home of historic Kansas Motorcycle Museum. You can't miss it since there is a full size motorcycle mural on the side of the brick building. There are over 100 motorcycles displayed. The museum is primarily run by volunteers. It was founded in 2003 by motorcycle racer "Stan the Man Engdahl." He was a local racing legend 1940's – 1990's and five time National Racing Champion. FREE admission, donations accepted.

We left Marquette and drove to the Swedish town of Lindsborg. We discovered the Spanish had come here to find the "lost cities of gold." The land is flat except for one hill that was topped with a stone "castle-like fortress." It was named Coronado Heights for the explorer who did not find gold. A couple miles down the road was a preserved earthen home, one of the first existing prairie dwellings known as the Hoglund Dugout. In 1871 the family of Gustaf and Maria Hoglund lived here with their eight children. Later he built a frame house over the dugout. The dugout was about 6 ft. x 12 ft. They used their wagon as a roof; they all lived in the dugout for two years. Along the drive into Lindsborg we saw an old wooden homestead sitting in the field.

Lindsborg is known as Little Sweden USA. Our first stop after we checked into our hotel and had dinner was at the Hemslojd Gift Shop. We were told it would be easy to find since there was a giant Swedish Dala horse in front of the shop. The Dala Horse is hand carved and hand painted in a variety of bright colors and hand painted with the familiar Scandinavian lettering. We bought a small red and white horse ornament to hang on our Christmas tree this year. Skills on how to create and paint them have been passed down for generations and is considered a living folk tradition of Sweden.

Lindsborg is a very attractive small town with brick streets and a beautiful Queen Anne Victorian B&B.

There are several quaint shops on the main street. Small World Gallery has hand-made jewelry and paintings. Lester Raymer's Red Barn Studio is filled with several mediums of art. It is also an artist-in-residence place.

The next day we headed for McPherson. We photographed about six or seven murals that were painted on buildings, including a giant Coca Cola sign on the side of the Opera House. I wanted to check out the bronze statue near the limestone courthouse of General McPherson. I was named after my paternal grandmother Susannah McPherson, but through my research I discovered we weren't related to the general. The Opera House opened in 1889, and renovated in 2010. Entertainment now includes live bands, movies and local community theater.

We visited the McPherson Museum and Arts Foundation and saw Mammoth bones and other fossils. There is a photo wall devoted to the famous Globe Refiners Basketball Team. Besides the history of the winning team and their story of winning the first gold medal in their sport at the 1936 Games in Berlin USA Olympic basketball team. At the Community Building there are life-size bronze statues of the team.
