Gilmartin Celebrates Big Primary Win in District 14

Former Hightstown Councilwoman Skye Gilmartin celebrated an overwhelming primary victory on Tuesday, as she and Adam Elias easily turned back an off-the-line challenge by a margin of over five to one in New Jersey's 14th Legislative District!

"Thank you so much to everyone who voted for me, everyone who reminded someone else to vote, and a special thank you to everyone who shared words of encouragement and prayers", said Gilmartin.

The 14th Legislative District is one considered vital to Republican efforts to change the balance of power in the NJ State Legislature.

Gilmartin concluded, "I will fight for Parental Sovereignty and for curriculums that educate, not indoctrinate, for transparency in elections and fiscal responsibility. I will stand with Law Enforcement, and I will advocate for seniors, Veterans, and those struggling with mental illness and addiction. Now, we must turn our attention to the bigger battle of the General Election where we're going to 'Flip the 14th' and turn New Jersey RED!"
