2019 Viognier

Vineyard

We were lucky enough to get Viognier from the same vineyard source as the 2018 vintage but the name still remains a secret. This vineyard sits in the foothills of the Blue Mountains at about 1150 feet in elevation.

Producing some of the best grapes in the Walla Walla Valley, we are thrilled to have this beauty back in our line up this year.

Winemaker Notes

"I was hoping to get Viognier again this year and the million dollar question was...could I get the same wonderful flavors but with a slightly bigger mouthfeel? I wanted a big, "phat" wine...yes...that is spelled correctly. Viognier can be done in a couple of different ways but I prefer this style. This wine is proof that you can ripen white grapes more than you think.~ Joshua Roznowski

Tasting Notes

Beautifully aromatic with notes of the tropics, this wine will instantly take you on an island adventure! Light gold in color, the nose translates brilliantly onto the palate with flavors of ripe bananas and pineapple balanced wonderfully with a hint of minerality. The lingering finish will have you planning your next vacay somewhere with an ocean view.
