Vini di Riserva

Reserve Wine

Chianti Classico Riserva, Tuscany, Italy • 81

A classic Tuscan red built on Sangiovese. Medium-bodied with bright cherry, dried herbs, and leather. Firm tannins carry through to a savoury finish with earthy notes and hints of spice.

Barolo Ellena Giuseppe Piedmont, Italy • 96

Nebbiolo at its most iconic. Aromas of roses and truffle open into flavours of dark cherry, dried herbs, and liquorice. Structured with firm tannins and a long, complex finish.

Montigoli Amarone della Valpolicella, Veneto, Italy • 110

A deeply expressive Amarone layered with dark chocolate, balsamic warmth, oak and cherry. Silky and rich, it lingers with ripe red fruit, soft vanilla, and a gentle, woody finish.

Arnione Bolgheri Superiore, Tuscany, Italy • 250

A modern super Tuscan blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. Full-bodied with ripe blackcurrant, blackberry, espresso and tobacco. Velvety tannins frame a powerful, lingering finish.

Champagne

Moët & Chandon Champagne, France • 150

One of the world’s most recognized Champagnes. Crisp citrus and green apples meet brioche and almond on a creamy mousse, with a fresh and balanced finish.

In many Italian, Spanish and Portugese appellations, ‘Reserve’ or ‘Riserva’ designations indicate wines that meet specific ageing requirements, often resulting in greated complexity and depth. Elsewhere, the term may reflect a winemaker’s selection of their finest or most carefully crafted wines.
