

Every sparrow knows that efficiency is the key to everything.

Case in point: washing the feeding station with a pressurized garden hose on the jet stream setting.

It is always a good idea to install a bathing station for these birds too.

