

Pressing Cloth

P

A pressing cloth is a piece of fabric that is used to protect the fabric from shine caused by the iron. A pressing cloth should be used underneath fabric which has had fusible interfacing attached to avoid glue sticking to the ironing board. A pressing cloth above the fabric helps to avoid any impact from the iron. Pressing cloths can be fabric or teflon.

© Nigel Trout

www.sheillasewingschool.com