

B

Backstitch

A back stitch is typically used at the beginning and end of a row of hand stitching to ensure that the stitches remain in place. The stitch is formed by stitching back over the last stitch.

