

Construction

Construction refers to the number, positioning and type of seams, linings and interlinings - as well as cut and style of the garment. Each element plays a significant role in the draped appearance of the garment.

