

Cross Grain

When fabric is cut in a shop, it is cut on the cross grain. The cross grain are the threads running the width of the fabric - from one selvedge to the other.

