

Cutting Mat

A plastic mat with measuring marks used with a rotary cutter. The mat is self-healing in that the marks left by the cutter will close up.

Place the cutting mat on a table and place your fabric on top. Carefully check that your fabric is straight and then using a straight ruler make the cut you need. A mat and rotary cutter are used in quilting to cut out the shapes but are useful for general sewing and dress making.

